THE CIVIL COURT MANUAL (IMPERIAL ACTS).

THE ACTING JUDGES ACT (XVI OF 1867).¹

Short title given, Act 14 of 1897.

[1st March, 1867.

An Act to authorize the making of acting appointments to certain Judicial Offices.

WHEREAS the Governor-General of India in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, is empowered by divers enactments to appoint the Judges of certain Courts in British India :
Preamble.
And whereas it has been doubted whether he or it is empowered to appoint persons to act temporarily as such Judges, and it is expedient to remove such doubts ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. In every case in which the Governor-General of India in Council, or the Local Government, as the case may be, has power under any Act or Regulation to appoint a Judge of any Court in British India, such power shall be taken to include the power to appoint any person capable of being appointed a permanent Judge of such Court, to act as Judge of the same court for such time as the Governor-General of India in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, shall direct. Every person so appointed to act temporarily as a Judge of any such Court shall have the powers and perform the duties which he would have had and been liable to perform in case he had been duly appointed a permanent Judge of the same Court.

Certain enactments to be construed as if they contained a clause like section 1 of this Act.

2. Every such Act and Regulation shall be construed as if it contained a special clause to the purport or effect of the first section of this Act.

THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL'S ACT (III OF 1913).

S. 50 (2) am., Act X of 1914.
S. 50 (2) rep. in pt., Act V of 1917, Sch.
Am. by Act XXI of 1922.

PREFATORY NOTE.—The jurisdiction of the Court to compel due administration of the estate of deceased persons has existed from a very early period. It seems to have been of gradual growth, and founded rather on the necessity of supplying the defects of the Courts of common law and the ecclesiastical courts, than on execution of trusts cognizable in equity alone. (Ency. of Laws of England, Vol. I, p. 176.)

been declare, by notification under s. 3 (a) of the Scheduled Districts Act (XIV of 1874), to be in force in the following Scheduled Districts, namely :—The Districts Hazaribagh, Lohardaga and Manbhum, and Pargana Dhalbhum and the Kolhan in the District of Singbhum—see Gazette of India, 1881, Pt. I, p. 504.

In ancient times, when a man died without making any disposition of such of his goods as were testable, it is said that the king, who is paterfamilias, and has the supreme care to provide for all his subjects, used to seize the goods of the intestate, to the intent that they should be preserved and disposed for the burial of the deceased, the payment of his debts, to advance his wife and children, if he had any, and if not, those of his blood. This prerogative the king continued to exercise for some time by his own Ministers of Justice, and probably in the County Court, where matters of all kinds were determined, and it was granted as a franchise to many lords of manors, and others, who had, until the passing of the Court of Probate Act, a prescriptive right to grant administration to their intestate tenants and suitors in their own Courts Baron and other Courts. Afterwards the Crown, in favour of the Church, invested the prelates with this branch of the prerogative; for it was said, none could be found more fit to have such care and charge of the transitory goods of the deceased than the Ordinary, who all his life had the cure and charge of his soul. (Williams on Executors 11th Edn. 312, 313).

The flagrant abuses of this power by the ecclesiastical courts occasioned the Legislature to interpose, in order to prevent the Ordinaries from keeping any longer the administration in their own hands, or those of their immediate dependents and therefore S. 31, Edn. III, St. 1, was passed.

The term "Administration" applied broadly denotes the management of an estate by a person appointed by authority of law to take charge thereof in place of the proper owner. (Ame. Cyc. Vol. 1. — "Title, Administration" Popular Ed. Book I, p. 796.)

Referring to the origin of the office of Administrator-General in British India, Mr. Kenny in his book on Administration Practice in British India says:—"The office of the Administrator-General in this country grew out of the Mercantile and Trading Community in Bengal, whose interest were safeguarded by the Charter establishing the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, dated the 26th March, 1774. Its functions have been developed, and regulated on lines which experience has shown to be necessary; and it is an illustration of the adoption, and modification, to suit local circumstances, of those principles which underlie the law of trusts, and the law affecting the administration of the estates, of deceased persons".

The earliest office out of which the office of the Administrator-General was developed is that of the Ecclesiastical Registrar in Bengal. The first Parliamentary statute which dealt with the powers of Ecclesiastical Registrar in Bengal and the other provinces to obtain administration to estates was 39 and 40 Geo. III, Cap. 79. In order to understand the position of the Registrar under this statute, attention may be directed to Sec. XXI of the Act which reads as follows:—"And whereas great inconveniences have arisen from the practice of granting Letters of Administration by the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William aforesaid in cases where the next-of-kin or any of the creditors of the deceased do not apply for the same, to persons calling themselves friends of the deceased. Be it therefore further enacted that from and after the first day of March which will be in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and one, whenever any British subject shall die intestate within either of the presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George or Bombay, or the territories subordinate to either of the said Presidencies or to become subordinate thereto, and on return of the citation to be issued from the proper Ecclesiastical Court, no next-of-kin or creditors shall appear and make out their claim to the administration of the effect of the intestate deceased to the satisfaction of the said Court, it shall and may be lawful for the Registrar of such Court, and he is hereby required and directed to grant such letters of administration and colligenda as to such Court shall seem meet, by virtue whereof such Registrar shall collect the assets of the deceased and shall bring them for safe custody into such Court and account for them regularly in like manner as is now by law provided in cases where assets are vested in the hands of any officer of the Court under or by virtue of the equitable jurisdiction of any such Court."

It was not long before it became necessary to further develop the law on the subject. To this end Stat. 55, Geo. III, Cap. 84, was enacted.

The Registrar under the old Act, had not by any means such a monopoly of administration of estates as was at one time considered to be the case: but private administrators were not by any means subject to similar restrictions in regard to the question of the method of keeping and filing their accounts, etc. The precautions, however, above referred to prove to be quite inadequate.

Gross irregularities and abuses were discovered in respect of estates under the charge of certain persons who held the office of Ecclesiastical Registrar, with the result that an order was passed by the Supreme Court on the 8th March 1848, appointing a Committee to enquire into the working of that office. The Committee so appointed, duly enquired into the working of the office, and presented their report on the 29th January, 1849. Among other things it proved the Registrars had abused their powers: that they had employed the monies in their hands in trade and that heavy losses had been incurred.

The Government of India, in view of the disclosures above alluded to, considered it advisable to take steps to protect the interests of the beneficiaries and next of kin of persons dying intestate as well as those who left wills, and after some consideration it was resolved that a public official should be appointed, who would protect the property of persons dying in cases where no steps were taken by the next of kin (if any) or where the next of kin were resident out of British India. It was also considered advisable to give such official power to deal with the estates of persons who had left wills where either the beneficiaries under the will were resident out of British India, or where they, or the executors named, took no steps to protect the estate. After carefully considering the position of matters the Government of India passed Act VII of 1849, which may be termed the first Administrator-General's Act in British India.

The next was Act II of 1850 (passed on 11th January, 1850) by which the Act of 1849 was extended to Madras and Bombay. It was provided that the rate of commission charged was not to be the same : that the Administrators-General of these two provinces were not to cease to hold the office of Ecclesiastical Registrar : and by Sec. 4 of the Act the Administrator-General was strictly prohibited from trading, etc. This Act remained in force until the year 1855 when a further Act was passed (Act VIII of 1855), which repealed both the last mentioned Acts.

This Act (VIII of 1855) remained in force until the year 1867, when Act XXVI of 1867 was passed as a repealing and re-enacting Code relating to the subject.

Act II of 1874, which was the Act in force, until it was repealed and re-enacted by the present Act was presented to the Legislative Council on the 27th January, 1874. It recited that having regard to the fact of certain amendments, and also to the fact that the Act of 1867 had already been amended by Act XIX of 1867 and Act V of 1870, it was thought advisable to repeal the then existing Acts and re-enact them, so as to have the law conveniently within the compass of one Act. The Act again came up for discussion on 10th February, 1874, when it was discussed and finally received the assent of the Governor-General.

In 1913 it was thought expedient to consolidate Act II of 1874 and its several amending enactments, and also to make certain amendments in the law relating to the powers and duties of the Administrator-General, and this was effected by the Act which is now in force, Act III of 1913. (See Preface to Kinney's Administration Practice in India ; Statement of Objects and Reasons ; Report of Select Committee and Proceedings in Council).

PREFATORY NOTE.—In a country like India where agriculture is the main source of income for the vast majority of the people, and the income from which source contributed by far the largest portion of the revenues of the state, the progress of agriculture is one of the main concerns of Government.

The poverty of the people engaged in agriculture necessitates the advance of loans by the Government to the raiyats engaged in the cultivation of land, for necessary agricultural purposes, as for instance, for purchase of seed and ploughing cattle in proper seasons, and for obtaining other agricultural implements.

The legislature has therefore provided for the granting of such loans on moderate and reasonable rates of interest and for their recovery at small instalments, spread over a number of years. But for such help, these poor raiyats, many of them illiterate, would fall into the hands of greedy and usurious money-lenders. This Act as well as the Northern India Takkavi Act were passed for the purpose of giving relief to agriculturists by grant of loans from Government funds for purposes connected with cultivation.

THE AGRICULTURISTS' LOANS ACT (XII OF 1884).

[24th July, 1884.]

An Act to amend and provide for the extension of the Northern India Takkavi Act, 1879.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Northern India Takkavi Act, 1879, and provide for its extension to any part of British India; it is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. (1) This Act may be called THE AGRICULTURISTS' LOANS ACT, 1884; and

Short title.

Commencement.

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of August, 1884.

Local extent.

2. (1) This section and section 3 extend to the whole of British India.

(2) The rest of this Act extends in the first instance only to the territories respectively administered by the Governor of Bombay in Council, the Lieutenant-Governors of the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab, and the Chief Commissioners of Oudh, the Central Provinces, Assam and Ajmere.

(3) But any other Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, extend the rest of this Act to the whole or any part of the territories under its administration.¹

3. (1) On and from the day on which this Act comes into force, the Northern India Takkavi Act, 1879, and sections 4 and 5 of the Bombay Revenue Jurisdiction Act, 1880, shall, except as regards the recovery of advances made before this Act comes into force and of the interest thereon, be repealed.

Repeal of Act X of 1879, and sections 4 and 5 of Act XV of 1880.

(2) All rules made under those Acts shall be deemed to be made under this Act.

4. (1) The Local Government² [or in a Province for which there is a Board of Revenue, or Financial Commissioner, such Board or Financial Commissioner subject to the control of the Local Government] may, from time to time, [* * *]³ make rules as to loans to be made to owners and occupiers of arable land for the relief of distress, the purchase of seed or cattle, or any other purpose not specified in the Land Improvement Loans Act, 1883, but connected with agricultural objects.

Power for Local Government to make rules.

¹Sec. 2 (3).—¹ The Act has been declared in force in the whole of Upper Burma (except the Shan States) by the Burma Laws Act, 1898 (XIII of 1898). Bur. Code, S. 2 of the Act was previously declared in force by notification under S. 5 of the Scheduled Districts Act, 1874 (XIV of 1874), see Burma Gazette, 1896, Pt. I, p. 112, and under that section, ss. 4, 5 and 6 of the Act were extended there, see ibid., p. 121.

It has been declared in force in the Angul District by notification under S. 3 (2) of the Angul District Regulations, 1894 (Ben. Code), see Calcutta Gazette, 1896, Pt. I, p. 1231.

²Sec. 4.—² Inserted by Act IV of 1914, S. 4 (1).

(2) All such rules shall be published in the local official Gazette.

5. Every loan made in accordance with such rules, all interest (if any) chargeable thereon, and costs (if any) incurred in making or recovering the same, shall, when they become due, be recoverable from the person to whom the loan was made, or from any person who has become surety for the repayment thereof, as if they were arrears of land-revenue or costs incurred in recovering the same due by the person to whom the loan was made or by his surety.

Recovery of loans.

6. When a loan is made under this Act to the members of a village community or to any other persons on such terms that all of them are jointly and severally bound to the Government for the payment of the whole amount payable in respect thereof, and a statement showing the portion of that amount which as among themselves each is bound to contribute is entered upon the order granting the loan and is signed, marked, or sealed by each of them or his agent duly authorized in this behalf and by the officer making the order, that statement shall be conclusive evidence of the portion of that amount which as among themselves each of those persons is bound to contribute.

THE INDIAN ARBITRATION ACT (IX OF 1899).

S. 3 rep. in pt., Act 7 of 1913.

S. 23 (as to Lower Burma) am, Act 6 of 1900, S. 47.

S. 4 (b) am. (in U. P.) U. P. Act I of 1912.

Application restricted in (Punjab) Pun. Act I of 1911.

S. 2—Am, Act XXXVIII of 1920.

S. 23 (1) Am. Act XI of 1923.

PREFATORY NOTE.—THE INDIAN ARBITRATION ACT has been drawn on the lines of the English Arbitration Act of 1889 and was the outcome of certain representations received from the Chambers of Commerce at Rangoon, Karachi and Cawnpore. The proposal thus made was circulated for opinion and elicited very general support from all including the Bengal. Madras and Bombay Chambers of Commerce, the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, and the British Indian Association. The case for legislation was based upon the inadequacy of the then existing Law. The provisions on the subject which prior to the present Act were to be found in the Contract and Specific Relief Acts amounted to this, that if a person who had contracted to refer to arbitration any dispute that might arise between him and another, refuses to do so, his contract will be a bar to his afterwards bringing a suit in respect of the matter which he originally agreed so to refer. These provisions were, however, of a negative kind and ineffective in practice, for the recalcitrant party has, as a rule, only to remain inactive in order to be beyond the reach of the other party. The Code of Civil Procedure no doubt aimed at what was required, but the sections in point were defective in that (1) they were held to apply only to disputes which had arisen at the time of the agreement to refer, and not to dispute which might arise in the future and (2) they required the agreement to refer either to name the particular arbitrator or to leave the Court to appoint one. The first of these defects had been to some extent removed by a Full Bench ruling of the Bombay High Court delivered just before the passing of the present Act in the case of Fazulbhoy Merhal Chinoy v. The Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company, Ltd. (20 B. 232), in which it was held that the Code applied to future disputes also, but the second defect remained, with the result, that the case of an agreement to refer, for example, to the arbitration of a person to be nominated by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, was apparently unprovided for. Moreover it was then uncertain whether the other High Courts would follow the Bombay Judges, who had expressed that the provisions of Chapter XXXVII of the Code required revision in view of the many conflicting decisions found regarding them in the Law Reports. To remedy these defects the present Act was passed.

THE INDIAN ARBITRATION ACT (IX OF 1899).

[3rd March, 1899.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Arbitration.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to arbitration by agreement without the intervention of a Court of Justice ; it is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called THE INDIAN ARBITRATION ACT, 1899.

(2) It extent to the whole of British India ; and

(3) It shall come into force on the first day of July, 1899.

2. Subject to the provisions of section 23, this Act shall apply only in cases where, if the subject-matter submitted to arbitration were the subject of a suit, the suit could, whether with leave or otherwise, be instituted in a Presidency-town :

Application.

Provided that the Local Government, [* *]1 may, by notification in the local official Gazette, declare this Act applicable in any other local area as if it were a Presidency-town.

3. The last thirty-seven words of Section 21 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, and Exclusion of certain enactments in certain cases where Act applies.

Sections 523 to 526 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall not apply to any submission or arbitration to which the provisions of the Act for the time being apply.

Provided that nothing in this Act shall affect any arbitration pending in a Presidency-town at the commencement of this Act or in any local area at the date of the application thereto of this Act as aforesaid, but shall apply to every arbitration commenced after the commencement of this Act or the date of the application thereof, as the case may be, under any agreement or order previously made :

Sec. 1.—SCOPE OF THE ACT—General.—The Act is an independent enactment, and has no connection with rules relating to appeals under C. P. Code. 2 Bur. L. J. 193 : 76 I. C. 525 (2) : 1 Rang. 661. See also 12 Bom. L. R. 852 ; 43 B. 809. 50 I. C. 411. This is an amending Act and must be construed strictly. 50 I. C. 411 : 21 Bom. L. R. 308 : 43 B. 809. The Act does not limit the number of arbitrators nor does it prevent the parties to alter the number by common consent. 43 All. 456 : 19 A. L. J. 348 : 62 I. C. 426. Even Arbitration Courts must act according to the principles of natural justice and not deliberately refuse a hearing or take evidence from one side behind the back of the other. Prima facie the duties of an umpire are the same as those of the arbitrators. The umpire must here the evidence if application is made to him to do so by either party notwithstanding that the same evidence had already been adduced before the arbitrators. 64 I. C. 706. Arbitrators are not bound by strict rules of evidence and in commercial causes are entitled to act on evidence which would satisfy a reasonable and impartial merchant. 49 I. C. 135 : 12 S. An application to Court to appoint fresh arbitrators amounts to an abandonment of the previous proceedings. 46 B. 854 : 24 Bom. L. R. 361. The provisions of the C. P. C. as to joinder of claims cannot be strictly applied to arbitration proceedings. 9 I. C. 712 : 4 S. L. R. 196.

Sec. 2.—¹ The words “with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council” were omitted by Act XXXVIII of 1920, Pt. I.

APPLICABILITY OF THE ACT.—The Act does not apply to arbitrations in the course of litigation. 49 Cal. 608. Sec. 3.—² The proviso repealed by Act VII of 1913.

Definitions.

4. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) “the Court” means, in the Presidency-towns, the High Court, and, elsewhere, the Court of the District Judge; and

(b) “submission” means a written agreement to submit present or future differences to arbitration, whether an arbitrator is named therein or not.

Submission to be irrevocable except by leave of Court.

5. A submission, unless a different intention is expressed therein, shall be irrevocable, except by leave of the Court.

Sec. 4 (a) and (b).—The Dt. Court is specially described as the Arbitration Court under the Act. 52 I. C. 139; 13 S. L. R. 23. A submission is a written agreement signed by both parties to submit differences to arbitration; and this agreement may be collected from a series of documents even though connected by parol evidence. 42 All. 525; 59 I. C. 75; 18 A. L. J. 652. The requirements of S. 4 are duly complied with, if the submission is in writing and is binding on both the parties as their agreement or as the equivalent in law to an agreement between them. Their actual signatures are not essential. 49 I. C. 135; 12 S. L. R. 55. See also 19 I. C. 925; 6 S. L. R. 278. But see 53 Cal. 65; 95 I. C. 21; A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 936 what it is held that an agreement to arbitrate should be signed by the parties or their agents. The existence of a “dispute” is essential to the validity of a reference to arbitration under the terms of a contract. A dispute involved the assertion of a right by one party and its denial by the other. 64 I. C. 798; 33 C. L. J. 545. See also 47 Cal. 799; 46 Cal. 534; 54 Ind. Cas. 285; 23 C. W. N. 704. Only matters in dispute between the parties to a litigation which affect private rights can be referred to arbitration. 72 I. C. 1016; 1923 Nag. 112. Withholding of payment is a ‘dispute’ between the parties. 46 Cal. 534; 54 I. C. 285; 23 C. W. N. 304. What amounts to submission to arbitration. See 33 C. 1237; 10 C. W. N. 814; 33 C. 1169. See also 6 S. L. R. 278; 4 S. L. R. 14. The definition of submission in S. 4 covers what is ordinarily termed an arbitration clause as well as what is commonly called a reference. 35 I. C. 536; 10 S. L. R. 1. See also, 71 I. C. 817. Where an association, at the instance of and on a claim by the members against another member, lays the matter before arbitrators and the latter member in his own hand and over his signature sent an answer to the claim, the document constituted a written agreement to submit their difference to arbitrators within Sec. 4 (b). 43 All. 348; 61 I. C. 269; 19 A. L. J. 132. A policy of marine insurance provided, “all disputes must be referred to in England for settlement and no legal proceedings shall be taken to enforce any claim except in England where the under-writers are domiciled and carry on business.” Held, that the clause amounted to a submission to arbitration. 26 Bom. L. R. 224; 80 I. C. 523; 1924 Bom. 381. A clause in a Bill of lading that all disputes shall be settled by the British Consul at the port of destination is similar to a submission to arbitration. 15 S. L. R. 88. The petition of compromise in a suit for accounts amounts to a submission to arbitration within the meaning of S. 4. 71 I. C. 817.

WHAT ARE NOT ‘SUBMISSION’ TO ARBITRATION.—A document embodying the terms of an agreement to refer to arbitration, which is not signed by or on behalf of both parties is not a submission as defined in S. 4. 19 I. C. 925; 6 S. L. R. 278. Writing amounting to a bond does not amount to a submission to arbitration. 16 I. C. 861; 6 S. L. R. 89. The words “office dhara” (office terms) do not constitute a written agreement to submit differences to arbitration. They are used merely as symbols to denote that such an agreement had been made and the use of such symbols does not justify the Court in accepting oral evidence of the agreement. 19 I. C. 925; 6 S. L. R. 278.

Who may submit (i) infant (14 C. L. J. 188); (ii) guardian (Ibid.); (iii) father, manager of Hindu family (24 Ind. Cas. 863; 10 N. L. R. 74); (iv) mother of minors (29 Ind. Cas. 800; 8 Bur. L. T. 122). What matters may be referred to arbitration. See 24 Ind. Cas. 264; 5 S. L. R. 4. Construction of references to arbitration to be liberal. 15 Ind. Cas. 321. Reference to arbitration and proceedings thereon, how far affected by rules of special bodies or corporations. 42 C. 1140; 19 C. W. N. 820; 20 C. W. N. 365. See also 47 Cal. 849; 61 I. C. 380; 25 C. W. N. 62; 46 C. 534; 54 I. C. 285; 23 C. W. N. 704. Effect of award on oral submission. 33 B. 69; 10 Bom. L. R. 366. Where it was shown that disputes arising between vendor and vendee were agreed to be referred to arbitrators one appointed by each party. Held, the submission was binding on them. 42 All. 525; 59 I. C. 75; 18 A. L. J. 652.

LEGALITY AND BINDING NATURE OF AWARD.—Opportunity to prove to be given to the parties. 65 I. C. 497; 1922 Lah. 149. Sec. 5.—SCOPE OF SECTION.—Once a valid submission has been made it is irrevocable with-

6. A submission, unless a different intention is expressed therein, shall be deemed to include the provisions set forth in the First Schedule, in so far as they are applicable to the reference under submission.

Provisions implied in submissions.

Reference to arbitrator to be appointed by third person.

7. The parties to a submission may agree that the reference shall be to an arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed by a person designated therein.

Such person may be designated either by name or as the holder for the time being of any office or appointment.

Illustration.

The parties to a submission may agree that any dispute arising between them in respect of the subject-matter of the submission shall be referred to an arbitrator to be appointed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, or, as the case may be, to an arbitrator to be appointed by the President for the time being of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

Power for the Court in certain cases to appoint an arbitrator, umpire or third arbitrator.

8. (1) In any of the following cases :

out the leave of the Court under S. 5 and if the arbitrator refuses or neglects to act, the procedure under S. 8 of the Act should be followed. 44 I. C. 360 : 11 S. L. R. 101 : 20 I. C. 504 : 7 S. L. R. 1.

POWERS OF ARBITRATOR.—An arbitrator has jurisdiction to inquire and decide whether a party to the submission has signed it or whether the signature is that of a partnership and if so, who the individual partners are. 11 I. C. 274 (S.).

PROCEDURE.—The ordinary rule is to refer to a single arbitrator. An intention to refer to more than one arbitrator must be plain and clear. 12 I. C. 662 : 5 S. L. R. 97. An order refusing to set aside an award based purely on evidence recorded by Court itself is not bad in law. 11 I. C. 274 (S.). Grounds justifying revocation. 14 C. L. J. 188 : 15 Ind. WHAT ARE PROPER GROUNDS.—Good grounds for revocation (i) Collusion (29 A. 13 : 3 A. L. J. 613 : (1906) A. W. N. 253); (ii) Partiality (29 C. 278 : 6 C. W. N. 235); (iii) Indebtedness of arbitrator to one of the parties (29 C. 278 : 3 C. W. N. 361 : 25 C. 141); (iv) Unreasonable delay (17 C. 200); (v) Neglect of arbitrator (11 S. L. R. 101 : 44 I. C. 360).

WHAT ARE NOT PROPER GROUNDS.—(i) Excess of authority by arbitrator not proper ground. 15 Bom. L. R. 19 (P. C.) : 13 M. L. T. 11 : A. L. J. 42 : (1913) M. W. N. 64 : 17 C. W. N. 269. POWER OF ARBITRATOR.—Once the arbitrator has parted with the award he is functus officio and he cannot exercise the power given to him by S. 7 ; none the less the Court is able to remit to him if satisfied that an honest mistake has been made. 1923 A. 31.

Sec. 8.—Scope of section. 43 B. 809. Act does not limit number of arbitrators. 43 A. 456.

APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—Section is not applicable where a different course is provided by contract. 44 M. 406 : 40 M. L. J. 166. Nor to the case of independent appointments of two arbitrators. 50 I. C. 411 : 21 Bom. L. R. 308 : 43 B. 809. Not to independent appointment of second arbitrator. 1924 S. 29. The question whether S. 8 or S. 9 applies to a case where the reference provides for a single arbitrator or where the question is with reference to the appointment of an Umpire or a third arbitrator depends not upon whether one arbitrator ultimately acts or two but whether the submission provides for the appointment of one arbitrator by the concurrence of both the parties or of two arbitrators one by each party independently of the other. Where the proposal to refer disputes to arbitration and the nomination of first arbitrator were abandoned owing to the assurance of one party to come to an amicable settlement, and as the latter proved futile, there was fresh nomination of an arbitrator. Held, that the nomination was not in the place of first arbitrator but an independent one and S. 8 did not apply. A. I. R. 1924 S. 29. When according to the agreement an arbitrator has been nominated and the same is communicated to the other party in clear and unequivocal language, it ipso facto confers authority to arbi-

(a) where a submission provides that the reference shall be to a single arbitrator, and all the parties do not, after differences have arisen, concur in the appointment of an arbitrator ;

(b) if an appointed arbitrator neglects or refuses to act, or is incapable of acting, or dies, or is removed, and the submission does not show that it was intended that the vacancy should not be supplied, and the parties do not supply the vacancy ;

(c) where the parties or two arbitrators are at liberty to appoint an umpire or third arbitrator and do not appoint him ;

(d) where an appointed umpire or third arbitrator refuses to act, or is incapable of acting, or dies, or is removed, and the submission does not show that it was intended that the vacancy should not be supplied, and the parties or arbitrators do not supply the vacancy ;

and party may serve the other parties or the arbitrators, as the case may be, with a written notice to concur in appointing an arbitrator, umpire or third arbitrator.

(2) If the appointment is not made within seven clear days after the service of the notice, the Court may, on application by the party who gives the notice, and after giving the other party an opportunity of being heard, appoint an arbitrator, umpire or third arbitrator, who shall have the like power to act in the reference and make an award as if he had been appointed by consent of all parties.

9. Where a submission provides that the reference shall be to two arbitrators, one to be appointed by each party, then, unless a different intention is expressed therein,—

(a) if either of the appointed arbitrators refuses to act, or is incapable of acting, or dies, or is removed, the party who appointed him may appoint a new arbitrator in his place ;

(b) if, on such a reference, one party fails to appoint an arbitrator, either originally or by way of substitution as aforesaid, for seven clear days after the other party, having appointed his arbitrator, has served the party making default with a written notice to make the appointment, the party who has appointed an arbitrator may appoint that arbitrator to act as sole arbitrator in the reference, and his award shall be binding on both parties as if he had been appointed by consent :

trate. If he refuses to act and the submission does not show that it was intended, the vacancy should not be supplied. S. 8 provides for the appointment of another but the right of the party to nominate is exhausted. 76 I. C. 261 : 1925 Sind 12. The Court has no power to appoint new arbitrators in place of those who declined to proceed further in a case submitted to them, when the number of arbitrators is more than two. 50 I. C. 411 : 21 Bom. L. R. 308. Any vacancy is to be filled up by original appointer as mentioned in S. 9. 50 I. C. 411 : 21 Bom. L. R. 308. An application to the Court to act as an arbitrator is not one to make a reference. The award of the Court is a decree and no objection can be raised except by way of appeal. 26 I. C. 355 (M.). Effect of omission by arbitrator to fix time and place of hearing. 13 C. W. N. 63 : 1 I. C. 371. Effect of absence of one arbitrator in violating award. 30 I. C. 384.

OTHER IRREGULARITIES.—13 C.W.N. 297 : 1 I. C. 371 : 36 C. 388.

SECS. 8 AND 9 : DIFFERENCE BETWEEN.—Under S. 8 an application must be made to the Court and the Court appoints an arbitrator while under S. 9 appointment may be made by a party, whether originally or by way of substitution. 100 I. C. 890 : A.I.R. 1927 Sind 177.

Sec. 9.—APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—Section applies only where a different intention is not expressed in the submission. 7 S.L.R. 1 : 20 I. C. 504. S. 9 does not apply where the parties by their contract provide that a different course should be adopted if one of the parties fails to nominate an arbitrator as provided in the contract. 40 M. L. J. 166 : 62 I. C. 205 : 14 L. W. 42 : 44 M. 406 see also 100 I. C. 890 : A. I. R. 1927 Sind 177. Official Receiver is not a "party" within this section. 95 I. C. 750 : 19 S.L.R. 24 : A. I. R. 1926 Sind 209. Where the agreement between the parties contained a term that on the default of either party to appoint an arbitrator in time, the chairman of the Trade Association was to appoint one on behalf of the defaulter, held, that Sec. 9 (b) would not apply and an award made by one arbitrator alone, who was appointed by one of the parties was without jurisdiction. 49 I. A. 366 : 70 I. C. 777 : 50 C. 1 : 44 M. L. J. 758 : 27 C. W. N. 660 : 1922 P. C. 374 (P. C.). Where in pursuance of an agreement, both parties appoint an arbitrator each, it is not necessary that there should be a reference in writing or that they should accept the appointment formally in writing. The fact that arbitrators peruse relevant papers in the absence of parties does not amount to misconduct. They are judges of law and fact and an erroneous decision on a point of law will not justify interference. 76 I. C. 36 : 1924 S. 91.

Provided that the Court may set aside any appointment made in pursuance of clause (b) of this section.

10. The arbitrators or umpire acting under a submission shall, unless a different intention is expressed herein,—

- (a) have power to administer oaths to the parties and witnesses appearing ;
- (b) have power to state a special case for the opinion of the Court on any question of law involved ; and

Sec. 10.—POWER OF COURT.—Civil Courts have no power to issue a summons or commission to a witness to give evidence in a private arbitration. Consent of parties cannot confer this power. 47 B. 250 : 24 Bom. L. R. 853. Where questions of fact under the Arbitration Act as to the conduct of arbitrators or the umpire, the procedure adopted and the instructions and so forth are raised, the Court should have evidence properly brought before it. 64 I. C. 706 (All.).

As to powers of arbitrators, see 12 Bom. L. R. 352 : 8 I. C. 171 : 10 Bom. L. R. 351. The opinion of the Court is not binding on the arbitrators, nor can it operate as res judicata. 19 S. L. R. 1 : A. I. R. 1925 Sind 293. An umpire has discretion to state a special case for the opinion of the Court and if he refuses and decides the point himself, his refusal does not amount to misconduct. 27 C. W. N. 494 : 39 M. L. T. 563. An umpire is not entitled to award interest on the damages awarded by him and if he does so, the award should be returned to him for re-consideration. 27 C. W. N. 494. If the arbitrators have authority to make a partition, they have authority to determine everything incidental or consequential with reference to the mode in which the partition is to be effected and the rights of the female members of the family cannot be disregarded. 10 O. L. J. 226 : 73 I. C. 39 (2) : A. I. R. 1924 Oudh 54. An arbitrator has a wide discretion in the conduct of the proceedings. His award will not be set aside merely because his opinion differs from that of the Court. But where there are irregularities which affect the decision, it will be remitted to him for a fresh decision. In arbitration proceedings, both sides have to be heard in the presence of the other. 66 I. C. 389 : 34 C. L. J. 39. Arbitrators do not exceed their authority when they allow interest after the date of the award. 27 C. W. N. 933 : 1924 Cal. 524. The question whether arbitrator acts within his jurisdiction or not depends solely upon the clause of reference and is to be decided by the Court. 47 Bom. 578 : 44 M. L. J. 706 : 25 Bom. L. R. 588 : 50 I. A. 324 : 1923 P. C. 66 (P. C.). The arbitrators have authority to make a decree for such damages as might have been ascertained by the Court. 27 C. W. N. 933 : 1924 Cal. 524. Arbitrators should give notice of their intention to proceed ex parte if one of the parties should not appear. Ibid. An arbitrator should not examine a party or his witness in the absence of the other, and failure so to do, is an irregularity which necessitates the remitting back of the proceedings to him for fresh consideration. 66 I. C. 389 : 34 C. L. J. 39.

FORM OF OATH.—See 2 L. W. 320 : 29 I. C. 49 : 17 M. L. T. 241.

PROCEDURE.—Where an umpire is appointed owing to disagreement he must re-hear the evidence if applied to, and failure to do so would be misconduct ; but if no application is made to that effect, he can proceed with the case and decide it on the evidence already produced. 63 I. C. 141 : 15 S. L. R. 68. An award of an umpire without hearing parties is against principles of equity and justice. Award of costs, without mentioning the amount, is bad for uncertainty, and the umpire can award costs only for the reference and award. The costs of obtaining an order from the Court is at the discretion of the Court. 12 I. C. 637 : 5 S. L. R. 89. The party who makes an objection must prove that he objected at the time to the umpire's proceedings in making final award without hearing his witnesses. He cannot, in law, be allowed to question the regularity, subsequently if there was any decision upon merits. 64 I. C. 706 (All.).

Sec. 10, cl. (b).—It does not amount to misconduct on the part of an umpire to proceed with questions of law disregarding the directions of the Court to reserve them. 39 M. L. T. 563 ; the umpire is not bound in law to state a case to the Court on questions of law at the direction of a judge (Ibid.) It amounts to misconduct on the part of an umpire to take independent legal opinion on the question in dispute. 39 M. L. T. 563.

EFFECT AND NATURE OF ORDER UNDER S. 10 (b).—Where arbitrators state a case for the opinion of the Court, the order thereon is not necessarily binding on them, as they still remain the final judges of the fact and law. Nor can such order amount to a judgment or operate as res judicata. Distinction between the English and Indian Acts pointed out. 79 I. C. 986 : 1925 S. 83.

AMBIGUITY IN AWARD.—In the case of a reference to arbitration the umpire is functus officio after he has published his umpirage or award and the document must speak for itself. Where an ambiguity in the award is patent it would not be competent to the court to launch into an inquiry to ascertain which of the two possible interpretations of the document the court should accept. 29 Bom. L. R. 660 : 104 I. C. 94 : A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 428.

INTERFERENCE WITH AWARDS.—It is necessary that Courts should be very cautious in interfering with awards and the grounds on which the Court will remit the matter for reconsideration are :—(1) that the award is bad on the face of it, (2) that there has been misconduct on the part of the arbitrator, (3) that there has been an admitted mistake and the arbitrator asks that the matter may be remitted to him, (4) where additional evidence has been discovered after the making of the award. 69 I. C. 995 : 49 Cal. 646 : 1922 Cal. 447. Mere errors in law unless distinctly appearing on the face of the award or from any document accompanying or forming part of the award are not sufficient ground for remitting an award. 69 I. C. 995 : 49 Cal. 646 : 1922 Cal. 447. The decision of the arbitrators is final. If there is, on the face of the award, a patent inconsistency such as a flat contradiction in measurement, or a mistake of arithmetical calculation the Court to which application is made can send the award back to the arbitrators to correct it before a decree is passed in accordance with it. But anything of this kind cannot be done in execution proceedings. 21 A. L. J. 541 : 74 I. C. 817 : 45 A. 628 : 1924 A. 62. Award beyond reference but with consent of parties is valid—Arithmetical error does not vitiate award. 18 A. L. J. 241 : 58 I. G. 585 (2) : 42 A. 277. Award as to divisions of testator's property is not invalid by reason of the pendency of probate proceedings. 25 Bom. L. R. 437 : 73 I. C. 415 : 1923 Bom. 365.

Secs. 10 to 15. FILING AWARD OF OTHERS THAN ARBITRATOR OR UMPIRE.—Where by an association contract the arbitrator's award was made subject to the decision of the committee in appeal and in the particular case the committee reversed the arbitrators' award and their decision was sought to be filed in court; Held, that the award of the committee is not within the terms of the Arbitration Act and cannot be filed under it. 31 C. W. N. 446 : 102 I. C. 395 : A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 391. But see 31 C. W. N. 730 : A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 647.

Per Pearson, J.—Ss. 10 to 15 of the Act are general sections applying to all awards under the Act whether the provisions of the first schedule are applicable to the particular arbitration, whether they are excluded by the expressed intention of the parties or not. (Ibid.)

Unless therefore the meaning of the word 'umpire' itself in the Act can be enlarged beyond its ordinary meaning, there is no recognition to be found in the Act for an award by a tribunal superior to the umpire. It would be impossible to hold that 'umpire' meant 'umpire or any higher domestic tribunal upon which, the parties may agree' (Ibid.).

AGAINST WHOM AWARD CAN BE EXECUTED.—An award obtained against a firm cannot be executed against a party who is alleged to have been a partner in the firm but who was not served either with the notice of arbitration or the filing of the award. 29 Bom. L. R. 660 : 104 I. C. 94 : A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 428.

Sec. 11. SCOPE OF SECTION.—See 76 I. C. 1007.

PER C. C. Ghose, J.—"There is nothing to prevent the parties from agreeing to a submission containing in it a further submission to arbitration. No doubt in S. 11 of the Arbitration Act there is not to be found any reference to arbitration by a committee; but it does not matter in the slightest whether the committee is described as a committee of appeal or whether they are described as a fresh set of arbitrators. The contract contains as it were two submissions or a submission within a submission." 31 C. W. N. 730 : 103 I. C. 648 : A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 647. But see 31 C. W. N. 446 : 102 I. C. 395 : A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 391.

ESSENTIALS.—An award under S. 11 must be in writing and signed. 3 Bur. L. J. 102 : 82 I. C. 802 : 1924 R. 319. See also 7 M. L. T. 355 : 5 I. C. 374. Where a third arbitrator resigned because there was a majority against his view and did not sign the award; held, that did not affect the validity of the award. 76 I. C. 1007 : 1923 Lah. 411. Where the arbitrators take a reasonable fee for their services before entering upon their duties with a view to avoid the necessity of suing the parties in Court, their conduct in so doing, does not amount to misconduct and does not vitiate the award. 17 L. W. 648 : 75 I. C. 850 : 1924 Mad. 274. An application to file in Court, a compromise, settling the differences independently of arbitrators appointed, and signed by the parties and arbitrators, cannot be granted inasmuch as such a deed does not amount to an award. 48 P. L. R. 1915 : 28 I. C. 298 : 238 P. W. R. 1915.

NOTICE.—Where an arbitrator proceeds ex parte he should give notice to the parties before he so proceeds; otherwise his award is liable to be set aside. 60 I. C. 987 : 47 Cal. 951. See also 47 C. 29. Failure to give notice of filing an award does not by itself vitiate award. 95 I. C. 378 : A. I. R. 1926 Sind 242. Award—Legality of—Ministerial Act—Notice to parties—No necessity for. 17 L. W. 648 : 75 I. C. 850 : 1924 Mad. 274.

AWARD WHEN ENFORCEABLE.—An award becomes enforceable as soon as it is filed in Court and no notice filing need be given to the parties by the arbitrator. 60 I. C. 987 : 47 Cal. 951. See also 5 R. 171 : A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 197. The filing of an award is an act to be done at the instance of an arbitrator, and when it is filed the result is not that there is a suit in which a decree has been passed, but that there is an award enforceable as if it were a decree. 40 Cal. 219 : 18 I. C. 978 : 17 C. W. N. 395.

PROCEDURE.—The provisions of the Act and the requirements of the rules and orders of the High Court must be complied with before the Registrar can file the award and that it is only when the award is legally and properly filed that it will be executable as a decree. 5 R. 171 : 102 I. C. 800 : A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 197. The procedure laid down by the Act seems to be that the various stages to be found in Ss. 11 to 15 are to be followed in the same chronological order as the numerical order of the sections and that an application to set aside is not as a rule within the jurisdiction of the Court, until some application or attempt has been made to file the award or some other similar step is taken to enforce it. A. I. R. 1923 All. 31. There are express provi-

(2) The arbitrators or umpire shall, at the request of any party to the submission or any person claiming under him, and upon payment of the fees and charges due in respect of the arbitration and award, and of the costs and charges of filing the award, cause the award, or a signed copy of it, to be filed in the Court; and notice of the filing shall be given to the parties by the arbitrators or umpire.

(3) Where the arbitrators or umpire state a special case under section 10, clause (b), the Court shall deliver its opinion thereon, and such opinion shall be added to, and shall form part of, the award.

Power for Court to enlarge time for making award.

12. The time for making an award may, from time to time, be enlarged by order of the Court, whether the time for making the award has expired or not.

Power to remit award.

sions to be found in S. 11 of the Act as to what is to be done by an arbitrator, if he has made his award. When the question, when an arbitrator in India becomes functus officio comes to be decided, the line will have to be drawn somewhere in the procedure which is laid down in S. 11 for getting the award into Court. It is difficult to hold that an arbitrator if functus officio, while there are still express statutory duties laid upon him by the Act. 1923 A. 31. A rule framed by the Court under, but not in accordance with, the Arbitration Act will not be given effect to. 40 Cal. 219 : 18 I.C. 978 : 17 C.W.N. 395.

FILING OF THE AWARD.—Any one of the arbitrators can legally file the award, the filing being a purely ministerial act. 29 I. C. 602 : 8 S. L. R. 302. Irregularities in filing can be rectified by court in exercise of its inherent jurisdiction. 5 R. 171 : 102 I. C. 800 : A.I.R. 1927 Rang. 197.

APPOINTMENT WHEN COMPLETE.—The appointment of a certain person as arbitrator is not complete, until such person has accepted the reference and consented to act. 29 I. C. 602 : 8 S. L. R. 302.

POWER OF ARBITRATORS—When a party to arbitration is a firm, the arbitrators can decide whether a person is a partner of the firm, but their decision is open to correction by the Court. 19 I. C. 363 : 6 S. L. R. 127. If the arbitrators had powers under the C.P. Code, personal service on the person might make him personally liable. Where some persons admit liability as members of the firm while others deny their partnership, the arbitrators may determine liability of the firm leaving the personal liability to be determined in execution or by appropriate suit. Denial of partnership raises a question outside the award. Ibid.

APPEAL.—An order refusing to set aside an award is a judgment within Letters Patent and is appealable. There is no right of appeal against such an order under S. 104, C.P.C., which has no application to the filing of an award under S. 11, Cl. (2) of the Arbitration Act. 46 I.C. 687 : 45 Cal. 502. No appeal lies unless it is given by law. There can be no appeal from an order setting aside an award. 5 Bur. L. T. 155 : 6 L. B. R. 88.

Sec. 12. POWER OF COURT TO EXTEND TIME.—Under S. 12 of the Arbitration Act, the Court has power to extend the time though the time for making the award is over. The Appellate Court can extend the time under O. 41 : R. 33 of

C.P. Code. 54 I.C. 660 : 40 Cal. 1059. See also 19 I. C. 374 : 6 S.L.R. 146 : A. I. R. 1926 Sind 8 : 27 L. W. 51 : (1928) M. W. N. 107 : A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 69 : 54 M. L. J. 49 (F. B.) (18 I. A. 55 Dist.) Power of extending time rests with the Court and not with the arbitrators themselves. 16 L. W. 657 : 70 I. C. 353 : 1923 M. 222. The Court can extend time for making the award under S. 12. 16 I. C. 861 : 6 S. L. R. 89. Before extending the time under S. 12 the Court is bound to consider whether the case is a fit one for the grant of the indulgence asked for and is not confined merely to the consideration of the question whether or not, the arbitrator had been diligent. 22 I. C. 16 : 8 S. L. R. 269. See also 78 I. C. 521. An umpire has to make his award within a month of his appointment and when time is not extended and the award is not made within such time, his award is worthless. 64 I. C. 706 (All.) Appeal against order refusing extension of time, 46 C. 1059.

Sec. 13.—AWARD WHEN CAN BE REMITTED.—When the award is set aside for legal and not moral misconduct, it can be remitted to the same arbitrator for further consideration. 25 I. C. 391 : 41 Cal. 313. See also 66 I. C. 389 : 34 C. L. J. 39. Ordinarily an Appellate Court will not interfere with the discretion of the first Court in declining to remit an award, but the Appellate Court will interfere where no grounds have been shown. 70 I. C. 353 : 16 L. W. 657 : 1923 Mad. 222. Where an arbitration is made without the intervention of a Court and an application is made to file the award, then if the award is good in part, the Court cannot remit to the arbitrator for amendment or declare valid the part to which no exception is taken even if it is separable from the bad part. 4 Pat. L. J. 669 : 74 I. C. 649 : 1923 P. 470. In the absence of anything to show that the umpire was prejudiced or was otherwise unfitted to hear and determine the case, the Court ought to remit to award to the arbitrators. 70 I. C. 353 : 16 L. W. 657 : 1923 Mad. 222.

AWARD WHEN CANNOT BE REMITTED.—When the misconduct is one justifying the removal of the arbitrator, the Court will not remit the award but will set it aside. 66 I. C. 349 : 34 C. L. J. 39. Order by a Court to arbitrators to make an award anew, is equal to refusal to file an award and is not appealable either under the C.P. Code or the Arbitration Act. 2 Bur. L. J. 193 : 76 I. C. 525 (2) : 1 R. 661 : 1924 Rang. 47.

(2) Where an award is remitted under sub-section (1) the arbitrators or umpire shall, unless the court otherwise directs, make a fresh award within three months after the date of the order remitting the award.

14. Where an arbitrator or umpire has misconducted himself, or an arbitration or award has been improperly procured, the Court may set aside the award.

Sec. 14. SCOPE OF SEC. See 195 L. R. 360—WHAT AMOUNTS TO 'MISCONDUCT'.—The failure on the part of an arbitrator to give a reasonable opportunity to one of the parties to appear before him amount to misconduct. Misconduct does not necessarily involve any moral turpitude, dishonesty, partiality or bias on the part of the arbitrator. 76 I. C. 275; 1924 S. 132. An arbitrator who does not give a party an opportunity to put his case before him and does not decide all points of dispute, is guilty of legal misconduct. 25 I. C. 391; 41 Cal. 313. The failure of an arbitrator to sign the award is legal flaw, but when his refusal to sign was at the instance of one of the parties though he had agreed to the award, that party cannot take advantage of the flaw. 20 A. L. J. 392; L. R. 3 A. 299; 66 I. C. 499; 1922 All. 233 (b). Arbitrators not acting together—Award not legal. 10 O. L. J. 29; 74 I. C. 299; 26 O. C. 350; 1923 Oudh 181. When the arbitration was to consist of five members but those who actually took part were three, the decision was not binding. 2 Bur. L. J. 229; 1924 R. 153. Where a reference to arbitration by four named persons without the intervention of Court provides for a decision by all the arbitrators and not merely by a majority of them, the refusal of any of the arbitrators to take part in the arbitration invalidates the award. 8 O L. J. 585; 65 I. C. 339; 1922 Oudh 108. Award is vitiated by the legal misconduct of the umpire, if he proceeds with the reference without giving any notice to the parties of the enquiry by him. 70 I. C. 353; 16 L. W. 657; 1923 Mad. 232. An award given in the absence of one of the parties and without any notice as to the time or the place where the arbitrators would sit to decide the dispute is illegal. 65 I. C. 577; L. R. 3 A. 81. See also 95 I. C. 378; A. I. R. 1926 Sind 242. Irregularities in procedure which amount to no proper hearing of the matters in dispute may amount to misconduct enough to vitiate the award. 66 I. C. 349; 34 C. L. J. 39. An award passed on reference by a guardian and based on information received in the absence of the parties or on the arbitrator's own knowledge of the facts in regard to the matters in issue between the parties would be invalid. 44 M. L. J. 263; 73 I. C. 470; 17 L. W. 71; 1923 Mad. 301. But parties who are sui juris may agree to a reference that the arbitrator shall decide the dispute on his own knowledge or that there is no need for him to take any evidence; and they will be bound by such a reference and no legal misconduct can be imputed to the arbitrator, if he based his award on such materials. (Ibid.) See also 42 All. 185. Any objection to an award on the ground of misconduct or irregularity on the part of the arbitrator ought no doubt to be taken by motion to set aside the award; but where it is alleged that an arbitrator has acted wholly without jurisdiction, his award can be questioned in a suit brought, for that purpose. 49 I. A. 366; 10 L. W. 537;

50 C. 1; 32 M. L. T. 19; 39 C. L. J. 336; 44 M. L. J. 75; (1923) M. W. N. 372; 27 C. W. N. 660; 70 I. C. 777; 1923 P. C. 374 (P.C.) Where an award by arbitrators is based on grounds, some of which did not justify the exercise of their jurisdiction, and the Court cannot hold with certainty that the arbitrators were exclusively within their jurisdiction the award is null and void. 66 I. C. 342; 34 C. L. J. 253.

AWARD WHEN CAN BE SET ASIDE.—A party to an arbitration can get an ex parte award passed against him set aside by a Court if he shows sufficient cause for non-appearance. 27 I. C. 135; 4 S. L. R. 110. See also 29 Bom. L. R. 1087. If one party declines to appear before the arbitrator they may proceed against him ex parte. The award so made is a valid award and could not be set aside. 12 I. C. 167; 5 S. L. R. 7 (Note). The arbitration court has exclusive jurisdiction to adjudicate on matters arising under S. 14. 76 I. C. 953. Where an agreement to refer to arbitration is impeached, an injunction may be issued to restrain arbitration proceedings. But when the agreement is not impeached and a suit covering the matter referred to arbitration is pending, injunction ought not to be issued. 9 I. C. 707; 8 S. L. R. 187. Under the Act, there must be a submission on matters in difference and a reference. Failure to pay claims is itself a "matter in difference." A general reference to arbitration is enough to bind the parties and it need not state the exact points for determination. 12 I. C. 147; 5 S. L. R. 7 (Note). The principles under which the validity of an arbitration should be judged are more rigid than those which apply to a case of family agreement. Where the parties to it were under a misapprehension as to their legal position and right, the award is bad. 2 Pat. 554; 73 I. C. 542; 1924 P. 49. Where a party wishes to show that the umpire had gone contrary to the established principles of justice and refused him hearing, the onus is upon him to call evidence to establish the fact in answer to the application to file the umpire's award. 64 I. C. 706 (All.). In case of an agreement to allow the disputes to be third by another tribunal, the Court will take into consideration all those grounds as in a case of submission to arbitration. 15 S. L. R. 88. Setting aside award for patent error of law, see 1924 S. 75. An agreement that neither party shall take objection to the award or file an appeal cannot control the unrestricted discretion vested in a Court by statute to set aside the award when it is sought to be filed. The question is not whether a party shall be compelled to carry out the terms of the contract but whether the Court would be exercising a proper discretion in conferring on the award the efficacy of its own decree. 42 I. C. 706; 11 S. L. R. 43. A person dissatisfied with an award, made without the intervention of a court of justice, is entitled to bring an action to set it aside on the ground that no contract providing for a reference to arbitration was made or that the contract if made was cancelled before the reference in favour of the arbitrator had been executed. 81 I. C. 782 : 1924 S. 25. It is not open to a party to move a Court to set aside an award only on some of his objections and to reserve other objections falling within the scope of S. 14 for a separate suit. The principle of constructive res judicata in S. 11, Expl. IV, C.P. Code, will apply. 76 I. C. 953. There is no appeal against an order refusing to set aside an award. 17 I. C. 902 : 5 Bur. L. T. 155 : 6 L. B. R. 88. No appeal lies against the decree passed in accordance with an award on the ground that arbitrator was guilty of misconduct or failed to carry out certain things while performing his duty. 19 I. C. 405 (Cal.).

SEPARATE SUIT WHEN CAN LIE.—Where an award is challenged on the ground that there was no submission to arbitration by the parties, the remedy lies in a regular suit and not in an application under S. 14. 69 I. C. 568 : 47 C. 806. Award is no bar to a suit if suit is not stayed under para. 18 C. P. C. 2nd Sch. or S. 19 of this Act. See 95 I. C. 481 : A. I. R. 1926 Sind 86. When an award under the Act has been made and filed, a party affected thereby can maintain a suit to impeach it on grounds not included within S. 14. 31 C. L. J. 283 : 56 I. C. 541 : 24 C. W. N. 454. Especially when a ground of attack goes to the root of the matter a suit is maintainable for the investigation and determination of the controversy according to the procedure prescribed by law. 31 C. L. J. 283 : 56 I. C. 541 : 24 C. W. N. 454. See also 4 Lah. L. J. 12 : 1922 Lah. 26. Decision beyond terms—Objection disallowed by Court—Revision lies to High Court. 73 I. C. 558 : 1923 Lah. 194 (1). Decision of arbitrator on broad principles cannot be impeached. 2 Lah. 114 : 61 I. C. 628 : 3 Lah. L. J. 394.

Sec. 15. SCOPE OF SECTION.—The fact that an award has been enforced by execution under S. 15 is not a bar to a suit to have it declared void and for consequential relief. S. 15 does not enact that award when filed is to be deemed a decree of Court, but only that it is to be enforceable as if it were a decree. 18 L. W. 537 : 49 I. A. 366 : 50 C. 1 : 32 M. L. T. 19 : 32 C. L. J. 336 : 44 M. L. J. 758 : 27 C. W. N. 660 : 70 I. C. 777 : (1923) M. W. N. 372 : 1922 P. C. 374 (P. C.). When the legislature provided under S. 15 that an award on being filed was enforceable as if it were a decree of Court, its intention was that all the provisions of the C.P. Code applicable to the execution of decree should apply to an award so filed. 27 C. W. N. 666 : 1924 Cal. 117. S. 15 makes an award directly enforceable as a decree of Court, and therefore an application to execute the award is not an application in execution of an order within S. 22 of the Dek. Agri. R. Act 60 I. C. 942 : 14 S. L. R. 217. Though the filing of an award is the act of the arbitrators, the award does not become enforceable as if it were a decree of the Court immediately on presentation to the Court. 66 I. C. 796 : 1922 S. 6. See also 31 C. W. N. 1097 : 134 I. C. 808 : A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 853.

ENFORCEMENT OF AWARD.—Order of 'Court on an award declaring shares only, though actual partition was to be effected appointing a Commissioner for partition does not mean enforcement. 19 I. C. 374 : 6 S. L. R. 146. Award is not a decree of the court but by virtue of S. 15 is enforceable as if it were a decree. So that an award against a firm cannot be executed in the manner provided by O. 21, R. 50, C. P. Code. 29 Bom. L. R. 660 : 104 I. C. 94 : A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 428.

Limitation. For purposes of execution of an award filed in court it is governed by the period of limitation prescribed for execution of decrees by that court. 31 C. W. N. 1097 : 104 I. C. 808 : A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 853. So, award filed in a High Court is governed by Art. 183, Lim. Act. (Ibid.)

NATURE OF PROCEEDING.—A proceeding under the Act is not a suit and does not end in a decree. The Act does not provide for the Court making an order filing or refusing to file an award. The award is filed by the arbitrators under S. 11 and unless it is remitted to them under S. 13 (1) or set aside under S. 14, it becomes enforceable as if it were a decree of Court. The order of a Court in whatever terms it may be expressed under the Act is one setting aside or refusing to set aside an award. 10 I. C. 211 : 5 S. L. R. 61. Provisions of C. P. Code, if apply. 77 I. C. 868 : 1924 C. 117.

STAY OF EXECUTION.—Stay of execution of award cannot be ordered. 12 Bom. L. R. 860 : 8 I. C. 179. (See also notes under S. 19 infra.)

FILING OF AWARD.—(i) Procedure for filing award. 15 C. L. J. 110 : 13 C. W. N. 63. (ii) Effect of filing award. 40 C. 219. (iii) Effect of not filing award. 5 I. C. 425. Cost of filing award is in discretion of Court. 27 I. C. 526 : 8 S. L. R. 136.

APPEAL.—No appeal lies against an order under the Arbitration Act as the orders are neither decrees nor appealable orders under Ss. 104 and 146 of the C. P. Code. There can be only a revision under S. 115 of the C. P. Code. 10 I. C. 211 : 5 S. L. R. 61. A decree upon an award stands precisely in the same position with regard to its execution as any other decree of Court. A fresh suit does not lie on the same cause of action. 1922 Cal. 73 (21 W. R. 248 foll.).

Sec. 17.—Costs incurred before umpire or arbitrator are not to be regarded as costs incurred in court. Costs in S. 17 refers to costs incurred in court where there is no valid reference or valid award court has no jurisdiction to award costs. (1928) M.W.N. 228 · A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 370 : 54 M.L.J. 580

Sec. 19. APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—Where a contract contains a clause for arbitration in case of disputes and a party thereto brought a suit to impeach the clause, Held, that as the object of the suit was to impeach the validity of the clause and not in respect of any matter agreed to be referred to arbitration, S. 19 does not apply. 61 I. C. 141 : 14 S.L.R. 23. See also 58 I.C. 799 (S.)

MEANING OF TERMS.—The words "a submission to which this Act applies" in S. 19 provide for the case where a suit is filed in an upcountry Court in an area to which the Act has not been applied though part of the cause of action has arisen in a Presidency town. That Court has power to stay the suit, if the suit could with leave or otherwise have been filed in a Presidency town. 31 Bom. 236, diss. 22 Bom. L. R. 242 : 57 I. C. 997 : 45 B. I. The expression "after appearance" in S. 19 is merely directory and the section is intended to prevent a party from filing an application after he has attained to the jurisdiction of the Court. 48 I.C. 434 : 12 S.L.R. 34. An appearance for the purpose of making a stay application may be treated as an appearance in the suit. (Ibid.)

"STEP IN PROCEEDINGS," WHAT IS.—An oral application for time to file a written statement by defendant's counsel in answer to a Court's question is taking a step in the proceedings within the meaning of S. 19. 23 C. W. N. 771 : 81 I.C. 846 : 1924 Cal 789. Any application to the Court, even one for time is a "step in the proceedings" within S. 19. 40 I. C. 81 : 10 S. L. R. 190.

BURDEN OF PROOF.—Where parties have agreed to refer disputes to arbitration there is a prima facie duty cast on Courts, when a suit is filed in connection with a dispute, to act on such agreement and to stay the suit and the onus is on the plaintiff to show why he should not be bound by the agreement. 75 I.C. 1041 : 1924 S. 49. See also 47 Cal. 849 : 61 Ind. Cas. 380 : 25 C. W. N. 62 : 56 Ind. Cas. 76 : 13 S. L. R. 201 : 53 Ind. Cas. 790 (S.). See also 48 I. C. 434 : 12 S. L. R. 34. Where a defendant does not plead at the early stages of a trial a subsisting agreement to refer to arbitration but submits to the jurisdiction of the Court and allows the trial to proceed, he cannot afterwards raise the plea. 20 A. L. J. 975 : L. R. 4 A. 22 : 71 I. C. 144 : 1923 A. 139.

COURT EMPOWERED TO STAY.—It is the Arbitration Court as defined in S. 4 (a) of the Act that is vested with the jurisdiction to stay suits under S. 19. 52 I. C. 130 : 13 S.L.R. 8 (31 Bom. 236 Ref.) See also 70 Ind. Cas. 864 : 15 S.L.R. 5 : 1923 Sind 25. "Court" in S. 19 of the Act is the one in which the proceedings or other attempts to bring a suit are in fact instituted. 43 All. 553 : 63 I. C. 813 : 19 A. L. J. 495. As to the Court to which application under the section is to be made, see 52 Ind. Cas. 139 : 13 S. L. R. 23.

STAY.—The Court is vested with a discretion either to stay or not to stay the suit ; but the discretion must be guided by judicial principles. 75 I. C. 1041 : 1924 S. 49 : 43 C. L. J. 297 : 94 I. C. 182 : A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 722. An arbitration proceeding is to be stayed when a plff. impeaches a contract on equitable grounds. 55 I. C. 817 : 31 C. L. J. 158. 23 C. W. N. 534, foll. See also 1923 Sind 25. A stay of suit can be made under S. 19 only if the suit was instituted in respect of a matter agreed to be referred 66 I. C. 741 : 34 C. 173. See also 107 I. C. 220. As to what must be proved by an applicant before granting his application for stay of suit, see 107 I. C. 434 : A.I.R. 1928 Sind 94. Where legal proceedings were for a long time threatened against a person in respect of a contract which provided for all settlement of disputes by arbitration, and when instituted that person applied for a stay of suit pending arbitration he can claim it as a matter of right. His failure to object to the litigation is no ground for refusing stay. 45 M. L. J. 653 : 33 M. L. T. 103 (H. C.) : (1923) M. W. N. 772 : 47 Mad. 164 : 1924 Mad. 336. Stay of suit pending arbitration—Discretion of Court—Charges of fraud. 22 A. L. J. 1031. An order staying a suit is a permanent one unless otherwise provided in the order itself and an order staying suit where the subject-matter was referred to arbitration and a decree was passed in terms of the award is sufficient to finally dispose of the suit. 43 A. 270 : 19 A. L. J. 19 : 59 I.C. 784 : 2 U. P. L. R. (All.) 387. See also 61 Ind. Cas. 380 : 25 C. W. N. 62 : 47 Cal. 849. The case would be different if by a reference and award before the suit the rights and before filing a written statement or taking any other steps in the proceedings, apply to the Court to stay the proceedings; and the Court, if satisfied that there is no liabilities of the parties had been determined at the date of the suit. 56 I.C. 160 : 13 S.L.R. 193. Where a contract provides for reference to arbitration and a suit is filed on the basis of the contract the award made on such arbitration though commenced before the suit, is ineffective unless it is stayed pending arbitration. If the Court refuses to stay or the deft. abstains from asking for it, the decision of the Court alone binds the parties and not the award. 60 I. C. 895 : 47 Cal. 752. See also 52 Ind. Cas. 130 : 13 S. L. R. 8. If no stay of the suit is obtained, an award made after suit is filed is invalid. An order for stay of the suit is good although made after the award. It is the Court in which the suit is filed which has power to stay the suit under S. 19. 52 I.C. 130 : 13 S.L.R. 8. Suit filed before arbitration began—Award come to during suit—Stay of suit not obtained—Award is not invalid but remains suspended, till stay application is disposed of. 1924 S. 146. Institution of suit after reference to arbitration by one of the parties and omission on the part of the other to apply for stay of suit amounts to waiver of right to arbitration. L. R. 3 A. 96; 44 A. 292 : 20 A. L. J. 128 : 65 I.C. 795 : 1922 A. 48 : 52 Ind. Cas. 130. Provision for reference to two arbitrators—one arbitrator to be named by each party—no provision in case of the refusal by a party to nominate—Suit by party who has not nominated—Stay of suit can be granted. 107 I.C. 434 : A. I. R. 1928 Sind 94.

EVIDENCE.—Before an order staying proceedings, can be made, it must be proved that there is a valid submission, that there is no sufficient reason why the matter should not be referred according to the submission and that the applicant was and is ready to do all things necessary to the proper conduct of the arbitration. 66 I.C. 951 : 47 Cal. 1020. Where one of the parties to a reference files a suit in respect of the same subject matter the proceedings in the suit cannot be stayed under S. 19 of the Arbitration Act but can be stayed under S. 151 of C. P. Code if it be necessary for the ends of justice. The Court should either adjourn the trial of the suit until an award is complete or insist on the plff. obtaining leave of the Court to revoke the reference. 35 I. C. 536 : 10 S. L. R. 61.

POWER OF COURTS.—Whether the parties to a suit refer their disputes to arbitration, the Court has under S. 19 power to stay the suit absolutely and such stay is final and sufficient to dispose of the suit. 43 All. 553 : 63 I.C. 813 : 19 A. L. J. 495. In a suit for breach of a contract the matters were referred to arbitration and the suit was stayed under S. 19. On objection being raised that an alleged custom was inconsistent with the contract and that the arbitrators cannot go into the question, held, that the arbitrator had the power. 58 I. C. 506 (S.) Under S. 19 the Court can stay a suit where there is an agreement between the parties to refer a matter to three arbitrators, as a submission providing for a reference to three arbitrators is not outside the scope of the Act. 22 Bom. L. R. 842 : 57 I. C. 997 : 45 B. 1. The Court should exercise its discretion refusing to stay a suit in a sparing and cautious manner. 47 I. C. 783 : 12 S. L. R. 41.

It is largely in the discretion of the Court to make an order staying proceedings in such a matter and when the discretion has been exercised, the Appellate Court will interfere only when a strong case is made out. 60 I. C. 951 : 47 Cal. 1020. A suit is not barred by a reference to arbitration made before, but the award in which is delivered after the suit. 56 I. C. 150 : 13 S. L. R. 193. Arbitrators can decide questions of law and the occurrence of a difficult or complicated question of law is not a sufficient ground to take the matter out of the arbitrator's hands. 56 I. C. 76 : 12 S. L. R. 201 ; or for refusing stay; 48 I. C. 434 : 12 S. L. R. 34. So long as the authority delegated to an arbitrator is not revoked he has the power to make an award and there would be no impropriety of conduct on his part in proceeding with the reference after a suit is filed unless he has notice that there has been an application for leave to revoke the authority conferred on him to some competent Court. 35 I. C. 536 : 10 S. L. R. 1. Though it appears desirable to have the matter tried in Court the proper course is not to ignore the arbitration but to direct the deft. to take necessary steps to revoke the submission. 35 I.C. 536 : 10 S.L.R. 1. See also 11 I.C. 274 (S.). It is highly improper for a party to sign a submission to arbitration and then allow the arbitrators to proceed ex parte; if the party objects to the jurisdiction of the arbitrators, the proper procedure is for him to make protest and go on with the case 11 I. C. 274 (S.). A suit by an Official Receiver of the property of an Insolvent guarantee broker against the employer for the balance of the guarantee deposit after setting off the amount of damages settled in insolvency proceedings as due to the employer cannot be referred to arbitration under S. 19 without the leave of the Court under the Prov. Ins. Act. 27 I. C. 138 : 8 S. L. R. 60. An arbitration clause in a contract does not oust the jurisdiction of the Court in case of its breach. 20 I. C. 504 : 7 S. L. R. 1. Where an action has been commenced upon a contract which contains a provision for reference to arbitration then even if a reference to arbitration has taken place before the suit is instituted and if no application is made to stay the suit pending the arbitration, the award is of no effect. 38 C. L. J. 67.

MISCELLANEOUS.—A decision of a Judge as an arbitrator with the consent of the parties is binding on the parties as if it were an award of an arbitrator, even though the Judge, as such, had no jurisdiction over the matter in controversy. But this doctrine cannot apply where the Judge was chosen as arbitrator not voluntarily but under great judicial pressure. 15 C. L. J. 142 : 13 I. C. 898 : 16 C. W. N. 444. An agreement to refer to arbitration is not bad merely for the reason that it included disputes other than that before the Court, if there was a distinct clause to the effect that the arbitrators would only report to the Court their decision on the subject-matter of the suit. 76 I. C. 1007 : 1923 Lah. 411. Where there were a number of matters in difference between the plaintiffs and the various defendants to the suit, it can hardly be suggested that the submission to arbitration is sufficient reason why the matter should not be referred in accordance with the submission and that the applicant was, at the time when the proceedings were commenced, and still remains, ready and willing to do all things necessary to the proper conduct of the arbitration, may make an order staying the proceedings.

Power for High Court to make rules. 20. The High Court may make rules consistent with this Act as to—

- (a) the filing of awards and all proceedings consequent thereon or incidental thereto ;
- (b) the filing and hearing of special cases and all proceedings consequent thereon or incidental thereto ;
- (c) the transfer to Presidency Courts of Small Causes for execution of awards filed, where the sum awarded does not exceed two thousand rupees ;
- (d) the staying of any suit or proceeding in contravention of a submission to arbitration ; and,
- (e) generally, all proceedings in Court under this Act.

21. In section 21 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, after the words " Code of Civil Procedure" the words and figures " and the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899," shall be inserted, and for the words " a controversy " the words " present or future differences " shall be substituted.

Crown to be bound. 22. The provisions of this Act shall be binding on the Crown.

23. (1) This Act shall apply within the local limits of the ordinary civil jurisdiction of the [High Court of Judicature at Rangoon] in cases where, if the subject-matter submitted to arbitration were the subject of a suit, the suit could, whether with leave or otherwise, be instituted within those local limits.

bad on the ground that it does not refer to arbitration all the matters that may be in dispute between the parties. 2 Pat. 777 : 1923 Pat. 225 : 76 I. C. 2 : 2 P. L. R. 76 : 1924 P. 33. Sch. II, para. 1, C. P. Code, in terms provides that where all the parties interested agree that any matter in difference between them shall be referred to arbitration they may apply to the Court for a reference. (Ibid.) It may well be that some of the parties are interested in certain of the matters in dispute only, whilst others are interested in other matters and there is no reason why all the parties interested in one or other of the matters in difference between them should not agree to refer their disputes if there are other matters still to be determined in the suit. (Ibid.) If that part of the award which deals with the matters outside the reference can be separated from the other part, without affecting the decision on the matters referred, the Court may in such a case modify or correct the award. (Ibid.) Where a private information got by an arbitrator was, in the presence of the parties, communicated to the other arbitrators, an award by them is not invalid. Courts proceed very warily in allowing revision in awards. 14 L. W. 394 : 65 I. C. 676 : 41 M. L. J. 276 : (1921) M. W. N. 509. of the arbitration unless there are specific provisions in the submission permitting him to do so. 64 I. C. 706 : 3 U. P. L. R. (All.) 60. When a Court is asked to file an award, it is not sitting as a Court of appeal from the arbitrators ; but the Court can certainly decide if the award sought to be filed is the production of a tribunal duly constituted under the terms of a contract binding on both parties. 44 A. 481 : 20 A. THE BANKERS' BOOKS EVIDENCE ACT (XVIII OF 1891).

PREFATORY NOTE.—The Hon'ble Sir Alexander Miller in presenting the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Law of Evidence with respect to Bankers' Books said:—

"The Select Committee have made several considerable changes in detail, but none which, I think, affects the principle of Bill. The alterations are briefly these. Instead of the elaborate machinery proposed in the Bill in which it is to be proved by a system of affidavits that the books were examined and the extracts verified, we propose to introduce a system of certified copies, exactly analogous to that in the present law in respect to certified copies of public documents and we do not propose to permit any evidence to be given otherwise than by the production of the books themselves, or by the certified copies. We were asked to extend the Act to all kinds of mercantile concerns but that was not desirable. We have omitted all reference to Government Savings Banks and to the Post Office, because we think that the books of these bodies are "public documents" within the meaning of the Evidence Act. We have, however, introduced a clause enabling the Local Government in any case to extend the provisions of the Act to the books of any company which keeps a regular set of books analogous to the recognized bankers' books and to which the Local Government consider it desirable to extend them. We have also introduced provisions enabling the bank, if it thinks fit, to offer to produce certified copies instead of allowing its books to be examined. We thought there might be very good reasons for this course, and that in the interest of the bank or its clients the clause which proposed to enable any party to obtain authority to look through the books of the bank may offer to give copies of the necessary certificates. There is one point in connection with this matter, which is, that we propose in that case, that the bank should have to certify that it has given all the relevant entries. One of the District Judges has made a note to the effect that it is impossible for a bank to judge what entries are or are not relevant. The answer is that the bank is not bound to take advantage of this provision. If for the purpose of concealing the accounts it chooses to take advantage of it and does not insert all relevant entries, it must act on its own responsibility and at its own risk.

We have inserted no clauses with reference to the payment of any fee to a bank for the supply of certified copies, but we have given a discretionary power to the Court, where the matter comes before it, to award costs to or against the bank as it may think just; and the reason is that we think that in most cases it would be more beneficial to the bank to give these certificates free of costs than to have their books produced, and possibly detained for days, or even weeks, for purposes of legal proceedings but if in any case the bank does not choose to grant these certified copies without payment, the party will have it in his own power either to pay what the bank asks, or to go before the Court and get an order. Probably in many cases an agreement with the bank would be come to in preference to going before the Court, but if the matter does go before the Court, then we give the Court complete power to make any order which it thinks proper as to costs for or against the bank.

The Bill does not contain any express power to the Court to require the production of the books instead of acting on the certified copies.

I think the power is given incidentally, because we say that these certified copies shall be received as prima facie evidence of the existence of the entries and also that no officer of a bank shall in proceedings to which the bank is not a party be compelled to produce the books without special order; but I am not quite sure that it may not be desirable to insert a clause to the effect that notwithstanding anything in the Act the Court may order the production of the books themselves whenever it thinks this necessary." (See Proceedings in Council, Fort St. George Gazette, 6th October 1891, Supp. pp. 1-2.)

The Statement of Objects and Reasons attached to the Amending Bill of 1900 says:—

"It is some time since the Imperial Parliament recognized the great inconvenience which is caused to bankers from their being required to produce their books in Courts of Justice. In the first place, these books are usually of great size and weight, and, in the second place, they are required for entering the daily transactions of the bank. Facilities were provided for proving the contents of bankers' books by means of certified copies, and in the year 1891 an Act was passed for British India upon the same lines. Unfortunately the definition of a company adopted in the Act was too narrow. It failed to provide for banking companies carrying on business in the country but registered or incorporated in the United Kingdom, and in a criminal case which was recently tried in Calcutta it was discovered that the entries in the books of the Delhi and London Bank could not be proved by copies. My learned friend the Advocate-General immediately called attention to this defect in the law and suggested the draft of a Bill for removing it. I now beg to leave to introduce a Bill widening the definition of the company adopted in the Act of 1891.

"I may say that the Bengal Chamber of Commerce has asked us to consider the question of extending the definition so as to include all foreign banks in India; but, after carefully considering the question, the Government of India came to the conclusion that it would be better to leave these foreign banks to be admitted in particular cases one by one under the power of notification given by section 3 of the Act of 1891". (See Proceedings in Council, Fort St. George Gazette, 20th July, 1900).

Amended by Act I of 1893.

Amended by Act XII of 1900.

Declared in force—in the Santhal parganas.

LOCAL EXTENT OF THE OPERATION OF THE ACT.—The Act has been extended by notification under S. 5 of the Scheduled Districts Act XIV of 1874 to British Baluchistan, see Gazette of India, 1896, Pt. II, p. 1004. It was declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shan States) by the Burma Laws Act XIII of 1898. It has been declared in force in the Santhal Parganas by S. 3 of Santhal Parganas Settlement Regulation III of 1872 as amended by the Santhal Parganas Justice and Laws Regulation III of 1899. THE INDIAN BAR COUNCILS ACT (XXXVIII OF 1926).

[9th September, 1926.]

PREFATORY NOTE.—The necessity for, and the circumstances under which this Act is passed is thus explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons:—The recommendations of the Indian Bar Committee in regard to the constitution of Bar Councils and their functions were as follows:—

1. An all-India Bar or Council is impracticable. Statutory Bar Councils should, however, be established at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, Patna and Rangoon, but provision should be made permitting the constitution of councils at Lahore, Nagpur, Karachi and Lucknow later on. (Paragraphs 48 and 55.)

2. The Council should consist of 15 members, four of whom should be nominated by the High Court, including, where possible, the Advocate-General or the Government Advocate and the Government Pleader. The remaining eleven, of whom six should be advocates of at least 10 years' standing, should be elected by advocates of the High Court, provided that in Calcutta and Bombay the High Courts should determine how many of the eleven should be advocates entitled to practise on the original side. The nominated members should ordinarily be advocates, but it should be left to the High Courts to nominate Judges past and present. (Paragraphs 57 and 58.)

3. The first Councils should hold office for 3 years, the term of office of subsequent Councils being determined by rules to be framed by the Councils themselves. (Paragraph 57.)

4. A Bar Council should have power to make rules subject to the approval of the High Court in respect of the following matters:—

to who could order production of books—see 32 C. 498.

See 6. —On this section, see 5 Bom. L. R. 865 as to when order under the section can be made without notice. As to when order for inspection can be given, see 20 M. 189 (196): No revision from order under the section, P. L. R. (1900), p. 237.

(a) the qualifications, admission and certificates of proper persons to be advocates of the High Court,

(b) the powers and duties of advocates,

(c) the conduct of any examination which may be prescribed by it and the fees to be paid for appearing at the same,

(d) legal education including the delivery of lectures to students and the fees to be chargeable therefor,

(e) matters relating to the discipline and professional conduct of advocates,

(f) procedure and practice in cases falling within the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Council,

(g) the method of holding elections of members of the Council and all matters incidental thereto.

(h) the meetings of the Council, the quorum necessary for the transaction of business, the election of a President or other officer and the appointment of committees for special purposes,

(i) the period for which a Council, after the first Council, should hold office and the filling of vacancies occurring between elections,

(j) the terms on which advocates of another High Court may be permitted to appear occasionally in the High Court to which the Council is attached, and

(k) any other matter prescribed by the High Court. (Paragraph 59.)

5. The rules regulating the election of the first Council and the filling of vacancies before rules are made by the Council should be made by the High Court, and it should be provided that no rules shall be made affecting the special provisions suggested for the original sides of the Calcutta and Bombay High Courts so long as those provisions remain in force. (Paragraph 59.)

6. A Bar Council should have power either of its own motion or on complaint or on a reference by the High Court to inquire into all matters of the kind referred to in sections 12 and 13 of the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879, breaches of rules and other improper conduct in which an advocate of the Court is concerned, and make a report to the High Court with a recommendation as to the action, if any, to be taken by the Court.

A Bar Council should also be entitled to be heard in any matter relating to the admission of an advocate or in support of any report made by it to the Court. (Paragraph 60.)

7. The existing disciplinary jurisdiction of the High Court should be maintained, but the Court should be bound before taking disciplinary action against an advocate, except in regard to contempt of Court and the like, to refer the case to the Bar Council for inquiry and report. On receipt of a report from the Bar Council the Court should be empowered itself to make or require the Council to make further inquiry. At the request of a Bar Council or on its own motion a High Court should be authorised to order an inquiry to be held by a local Court. (Paragraph 61.)

8. Provision should be made for procuring with the sanction of the Court the attendance of witnesses and production of documents required by the Council for an inquiry, and witnesses should receive the same protection as when they give evidence before a Court. (Paragraph 61.)

(The paragraphs referred to are paragraphs in the Report.)

The Government of India consulted Local Governments and High Courts upon these recommendations. In certain respect it appeared necessary to amplify them and in some respects to modify them in the light of the views urged by the authorities consulted. It is intended that these recommendations with the amplifications and modifications should be given effect to by or under the Bill.

2. The Bill is intended also to carry out as far as possible the following miscellaneous recommendations of the Committee :—

(a) The ideal to be kept in view should be the disappearance of different grades of legal practitioners so that ultimately there may be a single grade entitled to appear in all Courts. At present the largest degree of unification possible should be effected. (Paragraphs 11 and 17.)

(b) In all High Courts a single grade of practitioners entitled to plead should be enrolled, to be called advocates (not barristers), the grade of High Court Vakils or Pleaders being abolished, and when special conditions are maintained for admission to plead on the original side the only distinction should be within that grade which shall consist of advocates entitled to appear on the original side and advocates not so entitled. (Paragraph 19.)

(c) Advocates of one High Court should be entitled to practise in another High Court subject to conditions to be imposed by the Bar Council of the latter Court or by the Court where there is no Bar Council. (Paragraph 20.)

(d) Where there is a compulsory dual agency system at present it should be allowed to continue. (Paragraph 26.)

(e) The High Courts should retain their power to fix the amount payable by a party in respect of the fees of an adversary's legal practitioner. (Paragraph 61.)

(f) Partnerships between legal practitioners should be permitted wherever all classes of legal practitioners are entitled to act as well as to appear and plead. (Paragraph 69.)

(g) The High Courts, where this is not now permitted, should consider the advisability of allowing Indian barristers applying for enrolment as advocates to read with an approved Indian practitioner instead of reading in chambers in England, at least when it is shewn that the individual cannot obtain entry in suitable chambers in England. (Paragraph 68.)

3. Incidentally it is intended that the provisions of the Bill and the rules which may be made under it shall, in regard to advocates entitled as of right to practise in the High Courts, replace the relevant provisions of the Legal Practitioners Act, the Bombay Pleaders Act and the Letters Patent of the various High Courts of Judicature as well as the rules made under those provisions. In regard to certain matters for which provision has not been made in the Bill it has, however, been necessary to retain the residuary powers of the High Courts of Judicature under their Letters Patent.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Committee in paragraph 56 of their Report the enrolment and control of legal practitioners other than Advocates is left to the High Courts under the legal Practitioners Act and the Bombay Pleaders Act as amended by the Bill.

4. The principal modifications of the Committee's recommendations which are contained in the Bill are as follows:—

(a) the constitution of the Bar Councils differs slightly from the recommendations in that the Advocate General must be a member and the number of members to be elected is ten, instead of eleven;

(b) the rules regarding all elections of the Councils instead of only the election of the first Councils are to be made by the High Courts, the powers of the Councils in this respect being restricted to the making of bye-laws in regard to matters not provided for by the rules made by the High Courts. For the making of these bye-laws, however, the approval of the High Court will not be required;

(c) power is given to the Councils, with the sanction of the High Court, to prescribe fees to be payable to the Councils in respect of admission and enrolment and of the issue of certificates; and

(d) the powers of the Councils to hold inquiries into complaints of unprofessional conduct are restricted to cases referred to the Council by the High Court, and the inquiries are to be held by a Tribunal consisting of members of the Council appointed for the purposes of the inquiry by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge of the High Court. The High Court is, however, required to refer all complaints of unprofessional conduct which it does not dismiss either to the Bar Council or to a subordinate Court for inquiry. Instead of requiring the sanction of the Court for compelling the attendance of witnesses in each case a Tribunal is given power to enforce such attendance. A Tribunal is also given power to administer oaths to witnesses, and the protection of the witnesses who give evidence, which was recommended by the Committee, is secured by applying the provisions of section 132 of the Indian Evidence Act to proceedings before a Tribunal. On the other hand, rules governing the procedure of a Tribunal are to be prescribed by the High Courts instead of by the Councils with the approval of the High Court. (Statement of Objects and Reasons).—[Gazette of India, dated 2nd January, 1927, Part V, pages 6, 7 and the Report of the Bar Committee.]

When the Bill was referred to a Select Committee, several other alterations and amendments were made, with reference to which they said:—

"We have made a large number of alterations in the Bill, but we have not radically altered its scope in view of the fact that, although many of the opinions received are in favour of the conferment of much wider powers upon Bar Councils, many others, including some of great weight, reveal considerable opposition to the innovations already proposed. In these circumstances, we think it would be unwise to depart from the present scheme of the Bill as a more or less tentative measure which is intended to be the first step towards the unification and eventual autonomy of the legal profession. With these preliminary remarks we now proceed to refer in detail to the more important amendments which we have made.

Clause 1.—We wish to record a suggestion that the Local Government of the United Provinces and the Chief Judge of the Chief Court of the Oudh might well be consulted as to the desirability of applying the provisions of the Act to that Court.

Clause 4.—We think it desirable to indicate clearly that Judges of the High Court may be represented on the Bar Council, and have provided that two out of the four persons nominated by the Court may be Judges.

Sub-clause (3) of this clause was intended to provide for the representation on the Bar Council of advocates entitled to practise on the Original Side of the two High Courts to which it refers and more especially for the representation of the barrister element among them, an element which will no doubt tend to diminish with the course of time. We have accordingly provided definitely that at least one half of the representation of Original Side advocates on the Bar Councils of these two High Courts shall be Barristers.

We think it is essential, in view of the status of the Advocates-General in the presidency towns, that they should be made ex-officio Chairmen of the Bar Councils to which they respectively belong.

Clause 6.—The matters to be dealt with by rules made under this clause are, we think, matters which should ordinarily be dealt with by the Bar Councils themselves. We have accordingly provided that the rules should be made only in the first instance by the High Court and thereafter by the Bar Council with the previous sanction of the High Court. This involves the omission of sub-clause (c) of clause 7, which in the Bill as introduced was not altogether consistent with the provisions of clause 6.

Clause 8.—We have, in the first place, omitted the last part of the proviso to sub-clause (1) of this clause, as we are of opinion that it would not be possible to hold that a person appearing, pleading or acting on his own behalf or by his recognized agent could be held to be "practising".

We are also of opinion that the objection to sub-clause (2) which has been raised by several High Courts, namely, that the preparation and maintenance of the roll of advocates should be entrusted to the High Court instead of to the Bar Council, is well founded. We have accordingly provided for the maintenance of the roll by the High Court and for the maintenance of a copy of it by the Bar Council, principally in order that the election roll of persons entitled to elect members to the Bar Council may be kept up to date. In order to enable this to be done we lay upon the High Court the duty of furnishing a copy of the roll to the Bar Council and of communicating to it all alterations and additions as they are made.

Objection has been taken to the provision for the imposition of a fee in respect of enrolment of persons who are advocates, vakils or pleaders of the High Court at the time when the provisions of the Act come into force in respect thereof. We think that, if only for the purpose of starting the Bar Council in funds, some nominal fee should be payable by such persons and we have fixed this at the sum of Rs. 10. In cases of new entrants the fee payable will be that prescribed by rules made by the Bar Council under the next following clause. We desire to point out that persons who have once been enrolled in a High Court as advocates, vakils or pleaders will not, in view of the provisions of Article 30 in Schedule I to the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, be required to pay stamp duty again in respect of their enrolment under this Act.

We have added to this clause two sub-clauses providing respectively for the seniority of advocates inter se and their respective rights of pre-audience. Sub-clause (4) as drafted by us enables the High Court in individual cases to grant precedence to an advocate out of the order of his seniority. We think a provision of this kind might be used to the advantage not only of a rising and successful, but also of a senior and less successful, advocate.

Finally, in view of some of the opinions received, we consider it desirable to point out that clause 1 (3) of the Bill is designed to enable the various provisions of the Bill to be brought into force on different dates and thus to prevent the possibility of any period intervening between the operation of the prohibition contained in sub-clause (1) of clause 8 and the preparation of the new roll.

Clause 9.—Objections were raised to the provisions of sub-clause (4) of this clause in the Bill as introduced which was intended merely to preserve the existing powers of the Chartered High Courts under their Letters Patent to regulate the numbers of admissions and to refuse admission to individuals at their discretion. As, however, no High Court has, we believe, attempted to restrict in any way the numbers of new entrants, we think a provision enabling them to do so is unnecessary. But we do consider it essential that the High Court should have power to refuse admission to any person otherwise qualified if it considers that he would be on other grounds an undesirable addition to the Bar, and have made provision accordingly by means of a proviso to sub-clause (1).

We have added a new sub-clause (4) to this clause to meet a criticism advanced by the High Court of Judicature at Bombay that under the Bill as introduced, the powers of the High Court in respect of admissions to the Original Side were not sufficiently defined. The new sub-clause is intended to make it clear that the powers of the High Courts at Calcutta and Bombay to regulate absolutely the qualifications for admission to practise on the Original Side will remain unimpaired.

Clause 10.—It has been pointed out that the expression "unprofessional conduct" does not cover the whole range of cases in which it may be necessary to take disciplinary action against advocates, and we have made some drafting alterations in this clause to meet this point.

Some misunderstanding appears to have arisen as to the object of providing for a reference of cases of misconduct to Subordinate Courts. Such a provision is necessary as a Tribunal of the Bar Council will not in all cases be in a position to inquire satisfactorily into matters which have occurred in the mofussil. We think that the allocation of inquiries between Subordinate Courts and the Bar Council must be left to the discretion of the High Court, but we have provided that the High Courts shall be bound to consult the Bar Council in any case before referring it to such a Court; and we have further provided that Courts to which such reference may be made shall be the Courts of District Judges.

We have omitted the punishment of fine for which the Bill originally provided.

Clause 12.—The alterations which we have made in this clause provide, firstly, that the Advocate-General shall have notice of, and shall be entitled to appear at the hearing of, every case before the High Court, whether the inquiry has been made by a Tribunal of the Bar Council or by a District Court, and, secondly, that the High Court shall have the power to review its orders. This power will enable it to accept a belated apology, if it thinks fit, and remit or reduce the punishment.

Clause 13.—We have added a proviso to sub-clause (1) to give effect to a suggestion made by the High Court of Judicature at Bombay that the Tribunal should not have unrestricted power to enforce the attendance of judicial officers, a power which might result in dislocation of judicial business and inconvenience to the public. We, therefore, require the Tribunal to obtain the previous sanction of the High Court or of the Local Government, as the case may be, before issuing a summons to the presiding officer of any Court.

We have further thought it advisable to make definite provision as to the manner in which Tribunals may be enabled to utilise the powers conferred by this section.

Clause 14.—We think the provisions of the Bill as introduced were somewhat too stringent in refusing to allow an advocate of one High Court to appear before another unless rules had been made by the latter Court or by the Bar Council, where such exists, regulating the conditions of such appearances. We think it reasonable to give advocates the right of appearing in another High Court unconditionally unless conditions are imposed by such rules, and we have re-drafted the clause accordingly. We have also made an addition to sub-clause (1) to provide for certain cases which have been brought to our notice in which legal practitioners are at present entitled to appear before certain public officers or bodies not legally authorised to take evidence.

Clause 15.—We have given effect to a suggestion that provision should be made for rules to regulate the investment and general management of the funds of the Bar Council. We have also added a clause which will enable rules to be made in respect of other matters which experience may reveal as requiring regulation.

Clause 17.—We have inserted this clause in the usual form to provide indemnity for bona fide action taken by Bar Councils and Committees, Tribunals and members of Bar Councils."—[Gazette of India, dated 21st August, 1926, Pt. V, pp. 119-121.]

10. (1) The High Court may, in the manner herein-after provided, reprimand, suspend or remove from practice any advocate of the High Court whom it finds guilty of professional or other misconduct.

(2) Upon receipt of a complaint made to it by any Court or by the Bar Council or by any other person that any such advocate has been guilty of misconduct, the High Court shall, if it does not summarily reject the complaint, refer the case for inquiry either to the Bar Council or, after consultation with the Bar Council, to the Court of a District Judge (hereinafter referred to as a District Court) and may of its own motion so refer any case in which it has otherwise reason to believe that any such advocate has been so guilty.

(2) The Tribunal shall consist of not less than three and not more than five members of the Bar Council appointed for the purpose of the inquiry by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge of the High Court, and one of the members so appointed shall be appointed to be the President of the Tribunal.

(2) The finding of a Tribunal on an inquiry referred to the Bar Council under section 10 shall be forwarded to the High Court through the Bar Council, and the finding of a District Court on such an inquiry shall be forwarded direct to the High Court which shall cause a copy thereof to be sent to the Bar Council.

(3) On receipt of the finding, the High Court shall fix a date for the hearing of the case and shall cause notice of the day so fixed to be given to the Advocate concerned and to the Bar Council and to the Advocate-General, and shall afford the advocate concerned and the Bar Council and the Advocate-General an opportunity of being heard before orders are passed in the case.

(4) The High Court may thereafter either pass such final orders in the case as it thinks fit or refer it back for further inquiry to the Tribunal through the Bar Council or to the District Court, as the case may be, and, upon receipt of the finding after such further inquiry, deal with the case in the manner provided in sub-section (3) and pass final orders thereon.

(5) In passing final orders the High Court may pass such order as regards the payment of the costs of the inquiry and of the hearing in the High Court as it thinks fit.

(7) When any advocate is reprimanded or suspended under this Act, a record of the punishment shall be entered against his name in the roll of advocates of the High Court, and when an advocate is removed from practice his name shall forthwith be struck off the roll; and the certificate of any advocate so suspended or removed shall be recalled.

13. (1) For the purposes of any such inquiry as aforesaid, a Tribunal or a District Court shall have the same powers as are vested in a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, in respect of the following matters, namely :—

Powers of the Tribunal and Courts in inquiries.

- (a) enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath,
- (b) compelling the production of documents, and
- (c) issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses :

Provided that the Tribunal shall not have power to require the attendance of the presiding officer of any Court save with the previous sanction of the High Court or, in the case of an officer of a Criminal or Revenue Court, of the Local Government.

(2) Every such inquiry shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding within the meaning of sections 193 and 228 of the Indian Penal Code ; and a Tribunal shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for the purposes of sections 480, 482 and 485 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

(3) For the purpose of enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath or of compelling the production of documents or of issuing commissions—

(a) the local limits of the jurisdiction of a Tribunal shall be those of the jurisdiction of the High Court by which the Tribunal has been constituted ; and

(b) a Tribunal may send to any Civil Court having jurisdiction in the place where the Tribunal is sitting any summons or other process for the attendance of a witness or the production of a document required by the Tribunal, or any commission which it desires to issue, and the Civil Court shall serve such process or issue such commission, as the case may be, and may enforce any such process as if it were a process for attendance or production before itself.

(4) Proceedings before a Tribunal or a District Court in any such inquiry shall be deemed to be civil proceedings for the purposes of section 132 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, and the provisions of that section shall apply accordingly.

Miscellaneous.

Right of advocates to practise.

14. (1) An advocate shall be entitled as of right to practise—

(a) subject to the provisions of sub-section (4) of section 9, in the High Court of which he is an advocate, and

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit or in any way affect the power of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal or of the High Court of Judicature at Bombay to make rules determining the persons who shall be entitled respectively to plead and to act in the High Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction.

15. A Bar Council may, with the previous sanction of the High Court for which it is constituted, make rules consistent with this Act to provide for and regulate any of the following matters, namely :—

(b) the conditions subject to which advocates of other High Courts may be permitted to practise in the High Court ;

General power of Bar Councils to make rules.

Publication of rules.

19. (1) When sections 8 to 16 come into force in respect of any High Court, any enactment mentioned in the first column of the Schedule which is in force in any province in which the High Court exercises jurisdiction shall, for the purpose of its application to that province, be amended to the extent and in the manner specified in the second column of the Schedule.

Amendment of enactments, etc.

(2) When sections 8 to 16 come into force in respect of any High Court of Judicature established by Letters Patent, this Act shall have effect in respect of such Court notwithstanding anything contained in such Letters Patent, and such Letters Patent shall, in so far as they are inconsistent with this Act or any rules made thereunder, be deemed to have been repealed.

(3) When sections 8 to 16 come into force in respect of the High Court of Judicature at Bombay, the Bombay Pleaders' Act, 1920, except section 7 thereof, shall cease to apply to or in respect of any person enrolled as an advocate of the High Court under this Act, and nothing in that Act shall be deemed to authorize the admission or enrolment of any person as a vakil or pleader of the High Court.

(4) When this Act has come into force in respect of any High Court, any provision of any other enactment or any order, scheme, rule, form or bye-law made thereunder, which was before that date applicable to advocates, vakils or pleaders entitled to practise in such High Court shall, unless such a construction is repugnant to the context or to any provision made by or under this Act, be construed as applying to advocates of the High Court enrolled under this Act.

Every consignee of goods named in a bill of lading, and every endorsee of a bill of lading to whom the property in the goods therein mentioned shall pass, upon or by reason of such consignment or endorsement shall have transferred to and vested in him all rights of suit, and be subject to the same liabilities in respect of such goods as if the contract contained in the bill of lading had been made with himself.

2. Nothing herein contained shall prejudice or affect any right of stoppage in transitu, or any right to claim freight against the original shipper or owner, or any liability of the consignee or endorsee by reason or in consequence of his being such consignee or endorsee, or of his receipt of the goods by reason or in consequence of such consignment or endorsement.

3. Every bill of lading in the hands of a consignee or endorsee for valuable consideration, representing goods to have been shipped on board a vessel, shall be conclusive evidence of such shipment as against the master or other person signing the same, notwithstanding that such goods or some part thereof may not have been so shipped, unless such holder of the bill of lading shall have had actual notice at the time of receiving the same that the goods had not in fact been laden on board :

Provided that the master or other person so signing may exonerate himself, in respect of such misrepresentation, by showing that it was caused without any default on his part, and wholly by the fraud of the shipper, or of the holder or some person under whom the holder claims.

PREFATORY NOTE.—The following is the statement of objects and reasons appended to the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Bill :—It is proposed by this Act (1) to establish a system of voluntary registration of births and deaths for the benefit of such classes of the community as would be likely to avail themselves of registration, (2) to establish general registry offices for keeping registers of the births and deaths so registered and of marriages registered under Act III of 1872 or the Indian Christian Marriage Act (XV of 1872), and (3) to provide a machinery for giving evidential value to certain existing registers of births, baptisms, deaths, burials and marriages, which have been kept under no law. The subject of the registration of births and deaths among Europeans in India had been frequently long under the consideration of the Government, whose attention had moreover been frequently directed to it by memorials from various Christian religious bodies, urging very strongly the need for legislation. The Indian Statute book contained at that time no general law for

Secs. 1-3.—The object of a bill of lading is to provide for the rights and liabilities of the parties in reference to the contract to carry, and it is not concerned with liabilities to contribution in general average. The question whether an exemption clause covers the liability to contribution in general average in a case of proper jettison depends on the intention of the parties. If the ship-owner wishes to relieve himself, he must do so in clear words. 78 I. C. 972. Where a bill of lading contains the usual exemption clause as regards the liability for acts of God King's enemies and the perils of the sea, in a suit by the consignee for damages for loss of goods, etc., the defendant ship-owner must plead and prove "perils of the sea" if that is his defence. If he makes out a prima facie case plaintiff can rebut it by proving negligence on the part of the defendant. 47 Mad. 610 : 20 L. W. 91 : 80 I. C. 154 : (1924) M. W. N. 648 : 47 M. L. The general rule as to burden of proof is that it is on the plaintiff to prove by evidence aliunde that articles bearing particular marks are actually handed over to the shipping Company. Ibid. On this section see also 92 I. the registration of births and deaths. There were, indeed, enactments which provided for the registration of births and deaths within certain specified areas, principally municipalities and cantonments, but, in the first place, these enactments were strictly local in their nature, leaving the greater portion of the country unprovided for, and in the next place, their provisions being directed primarily to statistical purposes were not of such a nature as to make the registers of births and deaths kept under them of value for purposes of evidence. As to the numerous registers of baptisms and burials which were kept by ministers of religion in all parts of the country, it was doubtful how far they could be relied on for giving accurately the requisite particulars as to births and deaths, and most of them were, moreover, inadmissible in evidence. Such being the state of the law and considering the importance of the subject generally and having regard to the fact that references were frequently made to the Secretary of State for India and to the Government of India for proof of age or of death in connections with questions involving large individual interest, such as rights to property, the Government of India was of opinion that it was expedient to enact a permissible law under which full facilities for registering births and deaths should be given to persons valuing unimpeachable evidence of these events. As to the second object of the Bill, it was obvious that no system of registration of births and deaths could be complete or of practical value unless it provided for the establishment, at certain centres of general offices where the information registered at the various local offices should be collected and so arranged as to be readily available for public reference. In this connection the attention of the Government of India has been directed to the unsatisfactory nature of the system of registration of marriages under the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872 and Act III of 1872. Documentary evidence of all marriages under the former Act was, by the provisions of the Act or the orders thereunder, sent to the Secretary to the Local Government, who was also empowered to grant certified copies which were receivable in evidence. It would seem, therefore, at first sight that nothing further was required. But, as a matter of fact, not only were no arrangements made for maintaining an index to the marriages, the records of which were retained in the local Secretariate, but the greater portion of the marriage records which were received in the local Secretariate had, under section 81 of the Act and the orders in force, to be sent on in original to the Government of India in the Home Department for transmission to the Secretary of State; so that the greater number of the marriage records which reached the local Secretariate did not remain there for purposes of reference, and such as did remain were, owing to the absence of an index, practically valueless. As to Act III of 1872, this Act made no provisions for the marriages solemnized under it being reported to any central authority. The marriage certificate books for which it provided were retained by the Registrar, who was not even required to index them. Their value as records of the marriages to which they referred was accordingly much diminished. The Government of India had, therefore, availed themselves of the opportunity of the proposed legislation for the registration of births and deaths to remove those defects in the marriages registration-law by providing for general registry offices for keeping registers not only for the births and deaths which may be registered under the proposed law, but also of marriages which may be registered under Act III of 1872 or the Christian Marriage Act, 1872. CARRIAGE OF GOODS BY SEA ACT (XXVI OF 1925).

[The 21st September, 1925.

An Act to amend the law with respect to the carriage of goods by sea.

WHEREAS at the International Conference on Maritime Law held at Brussels in October, 1922, the delegates at the Conference, including the delegates representing His Majesty, agreed unanimously to recommend their respective Governments to adopt as the basis of a convention a draft convention for the unification of certain rules relating to bills of lading ;

And whereas at a meeting held at Brussels in October, 1923, the rules contained in the said draft convention were amended by the Committee appointed by the said Conference ;

And whereas provision has been made by the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act, 1924, that the said rules as so amended and as set out with modifications in the schedule shall, subject to the provisions of that Act, have the force of law with a view to establishing the responsibilities, liabilities, rights and immunities attaching to carriers under bills of lading ;

And whereas it is expedient that like provision should be made in British India ; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

1. (1) This Act may be called THE INDIAN CARRIAGE OF GOODS BY SEA ACT, 1925.

Short title and extent.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

2. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the rules set out in the schedule (hereinafter referred to as "the rules") shall have effect in relation to and in connection with the carriage of goods by sea in ships carrying goods from any port in British India to any other port whether in or outside British India.

Application of rules.

Absolute warranty of seaworthiness not to be implied in contracts to which rules apply.

3. There shall not be implied in any contract for the carriage of goods by sea to which the rules apply any absolute undertaking by the carrier of the goods to provide a seaworthy ship.

4. Every bill of lading, or similar document of title, issued in British India which contains or is evidence of any contract to which the rules apply, shall contain an express statement that it is to have effect subject to the provisions of the said rules as applied by this Act.

Statement as to application of Rules to be included in bills of lading.

² For rules for the guidance of Commissioners appointed under Chapter V, framed with regard to the powers conferred by these clauses, see Gazette of India, 1890 and 1892, Pt. I, pp. 745 and 123, respectively.

Sec. 37.—³ Repealed by Act IX of 1911.

Modification of Article VI of Rules in relation to goods carried in sailing ships and by prescribed routes.

5. Article VI of the Rules shall, in relation to—
(a) the carriage of goods by sea in sailing ships carrying goods from any port in British India to any other port whether in or outside British India, and

(b) the carriage of goods by sea in ships carrying goods from a port in British India notified in this behalf in the Gazette of India by the Governor-General in Council to a port in Ceylon specified in the said notification, have effect as though the said Article referred to goods of any class instead of to particular goods and as though the proviso to the second paragraph of the said Article were omitted.

6. Where under the custom of any trade the weight of any bulk cargo inserted in the bill of lading is a weight ascertained or accepted by a third party other than the carrier or the shipper and the fact that the weight is so ascertained or accepted is stated in the bill of lading, then, notwithstanding anything in the rules, the bill of lading shall not be deemed to be prima facie evidence against the carrier of the receipt of goods of the weight so inserted in the bill of lading, and the accuracy thereof at the time of shipment shall not be deemed to have been guaranteed by the shipper.

7. (1) Nothing in this Act shall affect the operation of sections four hundred and forty-six to four hundred and fifty, both inclusive, five hundred and two, and five hundred and three of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, as amended by any subsequent enactments, or the operation of any other enactment for the time being in force limiting the liability of the owners of seagoing vessels.

(2) The rules shall not by virtue of this Act apply to any contract for the carriage of goods by sea before such day, not being earlier than the first day of January 1926, as the Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint, nor to any bill of lading or similar document of title issued, whether before or after such day as aforesaid, in pursuance of any such contract as aforesaid.

SCHEDULE.

In these rules the following expressions have the meanings hereby assigned to them respectively that is to say—

(a) "Carrier" includes the owner or the charterer who enters into a contract of carriage with a shipper;

(b) "Contract of carriage" applies only to contracts of carriage covered by a bill of lading or any similar document of title, in so far as such document relates to the carriage of goods by sea, including any bill of lading or any similar document as aforesaid issued under or pursuant to a charterparty from the moment at which such bill of lading or similar document of title regulates the relations between carrier and a holder of the same;

(c) "Goods" includes goods, wares, merchandises, and articles of every kind whatsoever, except live animals and cargo which by the contract of carriage is stated as being carried on deck and is so carried;

(d) "ship" means any vessel used for the carriage of goods by sea;

(e) "Carriage of goods" covers the period from the time when the goods are loaded on to the time when they are discharged from the ship.

ARTICLE II.

Risks.

Subject to the provisions of Article VI, under every contract of carriage of goods by sea the carrier, in relation to the loading, handling, stowage, carriage, custody, care, and discharge of such goods, shall be subject to the responsibilities and liabilities, and entitled to the rights and immunities hereinafter set forth.

ARTICLE III.

Responsibilities and Liabilities.

1. The carrier shall be bound, before and at the beginning of the voyage, to exercise due diligence to—

(a) Make the ship seaworthy ;
 (b) Properly man, equip, and supply the ship ;
 (c) Make the holds, refrigerating and cool chambers, and all other parts of the ship in which goods are carried, fit and safe for their reception, carriage and preservation.

2. Subject to the provisions of Article IV, the carrier shall properly and carefully load, handle, stow, carry, keep, care for and discharge the goods carried.

3. After receiving the goods into his charge, the carrier, or the master or agent of the carrier, shall, on demand of the shipper issue to the shipper a bill of lading showing among other things—

(a) The leading marks necessary for identification of the goods as the same are furnished in writing by the shipper before the loading of such goods starts, provided such marks are stamped or otherwise shown clearly upon the goods if uncovered, or no the cases or coverings in which such goods are contained, in such a manner as should ordinarily remain legible until the end of the voyage :

(b) Either the number of packages or pieces, or the quantity, or weight, as the case may be, as furnished in writing by the shipper ;

(c) The apparent order and condition of the goods :

Provided that no carrier, master or agent of the carrier, shall be bound to state or show in the bill of lading any marks, number, quantity, or weight which he has reasonable grounds for suspecting not accurately to represent the goods actually received, or which he has had no reasonable means of checking.

4. Such a bill of lading shall be prima facie evidence of the receipt by the carrier of the goods as therein described in accordance with paragraph 3 (a), (b) and (c).

5. The shipper shall be deemed to have guaranteed to the carrier the accuracy at the time of shipment of the marks, number, quantity and weight, as furnished by him, and the shipper shall indemnify the carrier against all loss, damages and expenses arising or resulting from inaccuracies in such particulars. The right of the carrier to such indemnity shall in no way limit his responsibility and liability under the contract of carriage to any person other than the shipper.

6. Unless notice of loss or damage and the general nature of such loss or damage be given in writing to the carrier or his agent at the port of discharge before or at the time of the removal of the goods into the custody of the person entitled to delivery thereof under the contract of carriage, or, if the loss or damage be not apparent, within three days, such removal shall be prima facie evidence of the delivery by the carrier of the goods as described in the bill of lading.

The notice in writing need not be given if the state of the goods has at the time of their receipt been the subject of joint survey or inspection.

In any event the carrier and the ship shall be discharged from all liability in respect of loss or damage unless suit is brought within one year after delivery of the goods or the date when the goods should have been delivered.

In the case of any actual or apprehended loss or damage the carrier and the receiver shall give all reasonable facilities to each other for inspecting and tallying the goods.

7. After the goods are loaded the bill of lading to be issued by the carrier, master or agent of the carrier, to the shipper shall, if the shipper so demands, be a " shipped " bill of lading, provided that if the shipper shall have previously taken up any document of title to such goods, he shall surrender the same as against the issue of the " shipped " bill of lading, but at the option of the carrier, such document of title may be noted at the port of shipment by the carrier, master or agent with the name or names of the ship or ships upon which the goods have been shipped and the date or dates of shipment, and when so noted the same shall for the purpose of this Article be deemed to constitute a " shipped " bill of lading.

8. Any clause, covenant or agreement in a contract of a carriage relieving the carrier or the ship from liability for loss or damage to or in connexion with goods arising from negligence, fault or failure in the duties and obligations provided in this Article or lessening such liability otherwise than as provided in these rules, shall be null and void and of no effect.

A benefit of insurance or similar clause shall be deemed to be a clause relieving the carrier from liability.

ARTICLE IV.

Rights and Immunities.

1. Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be liable for loss or damage arising or resulting from unseaworthiness unless caused by want of due diligence on the part of the carrier to make the ship seaworthy, and to secure that the ship is properly manned equipped and supplied, and to make the holds, refrigerating and cool chambers and all other parts of the ship in which goods are carried fit and safe for their reception, carriage and preservation in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 1 of Article III.

Whenever loss or damage had resulted from unseaworthiness, the burden of proving the exercise of due diligence shall be on the carrier or other person claiming exemption under this section.

2. Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible for loss or damage arising or resulting from—

(a) act, neglect, or default of the master, mariner, pilot, or the servants of the carrier in the navigation or in the management of the ship ;

(b) fire, unless caused by the actual fault or privity of the carrier;

(c) perils, dangers and accidents of the sea or other navigable waters ;

 (g) arrest or restraint of princes, rulers or people, or seizure under legal process;
 (h) quarantine restriction;
 (i) act or omission of the shipper or owner of the goods, his agent, or representative;
 (j) strikes or lock-outs or stoppage, or restraint of labour from whatever cause, whether partial or general;
 (k) riots and civil commotions;
 (l) saving or attempting to save life or property at sea;
 (m) wastage in bulk or weight or any other loss or damage arising from inherent defect, quality, or vice of the goods;
 (n) insufficiency of packing;
 (o) insufficiency or inadequacy of marks;
 (p) latent defects not discoverable by due diligence;
 (q) any other cause arising without the actual fault or privity of the carrier, or without the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier, but the burden of proof shall be on the person claiming the benefit of this exception to show that neither the actual fault or privity of the carrier nor the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier contributed to the loss or damage.

3. The shipper shall not be responsible for loss or damage sustained by the carrier or the ship arising or resulting from any cause without the act, fault or neglect of the shipper his agents or his servants.

4. Any deviation in saving or attempting to save life or property at sea, or any reasonable deviation shall not be deemed to be an infringement or breach of these rules or of the contract of carriage and the carrier shall not be liable for any loss or damage resulting therefrom.

5. Neither the carrier nor the ship shall in any event be or become liable for any loss or damage to or in connexion with goods in an amount exceeding 100*l.* per package or unit, or the equivalent of that sum in other currency unless the nature and value of such goods have been declared by the shipper before shipment and inserted in the bill of lading.

This declaration if embodied in the bill of lading shall be prima facie evidence, but shall not be binding or conclusive on the carrier.

By agreement between the carrier, master or agent of the carrier and the shipper another maximum amount than that mentioned in this paragraph may be fixed, provided that such maximum shall not be less than the figure above named.

Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible in any event for loss or damage to or in connexion with goods if the nature or value thereof has been knowingly mis-stated by the shipper in the bill of lading.

If any such goods shipped with such knowledge and consent shall become a danger to the ship or cargo, they may in like manner be landed at any place or destroyed or rendered innocuous by the carrier without liability on the part of the carrier except to general average, if any.

ARTICLE V.

Surrender of Rights and Immunities, and Increase of Responsibilities and Liabilities.

A carrier shall be at liberty to surrender in whole or in part all or any of his rights and immunities or to increase any of his responsibilities and liabilities under the rules contained in any of these Articles, provided such surrender or increase shall be embodied in the bill of lading issued to the shipper.

The provisions of these rules shall not be applicable to charterparties, but if bills of lading are issued in the case of a ship under a charterparty they shall comply with the terms of these rules. Nothing in these rules shall be held to prevent the insertion in a bill of lading of any lawful provision regarding general average.

ARTICLE VI.

Special Conditions.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding Articles, a carrier, master or agent of the carrier, and a shipper shall in regard to any particular goods be at liberty to enter into any agreement in any terms as to the responsibility and liability of the carrier for such goods, and as to the rights and immunities of the carrier in respect of such goods, or his obligation as to seaworthiness, so far as this stipulation is not contrary to public policy, or the care or diligence of his servants or agents in regard to the loading, handling, stowage, carriage, custody, care, and discharge of the goods carried by sea, provided that in this case no bill of lading has been or shall be issued and that the terms agreed shall be embodied in a receipt which shall be a non-negotiable document and shall be marked as such.

Any agreement so entered into shall have full legal effect:

Provided that this Article shall not apply to ordinary commercial shipments made in the ordinary course of trade, but only to other shipments where the character or condition of the property to be carried or the circumstances, terms and conditions under which the carriage is to be performed, are such as reasonably to justify a special agreement.

ARTICLE VII.

Limitations on the Application of the Rules.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent a carrier or a shipper from entering into any agreement stipulation, condition, reservation or exemption as to the responsibility and liability of the carrier or the ship for the loss or damage to or in connexion with the custody and care and handling of goods prior to the loading on and subsequent to the discharge from the ship on which the goods are carried by sea.

ARTICLE VIII.

Limitation of Liability.

The provisions of these Rules shall not affect the rights and obligations of the carrier under any statute for the time being in force relating to the limitation of the liability of owners of sea-going vessels.

ARTICLE IX.

The monetary units mentioned in these Rules are to be taken to be gold value.

THE CARRIERS ACT (III OF 1865).

EFFECT OF SUBSEQUENT LEGISLATION.—Repealed in part by Act IX of 1890.

Section 2 repealed in part by Act X of 1914.

Repealed (as to carriers by rail), Act by IV of 1879.

Amended by Act X of 1899, S. 2; Amended by Act XIII of 1921.

Declared in force—

throughout British India except as regards the Scheduled Districts Act XV of 1874, S. 3; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, S. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, S. 3; in Upper Burma (except the Shan States), Act XIII of 1898, S. 4.

PREFATORY NOTE : DEFINITION AND KINDS OF CARRIERS.—A carrier is one who undertakes the transportation of persons or moveable property, and the authorities, both elementary and judicial, recognize two kinds of classes of carriers, vis., 'private carriers' and 'common carriers'. While a common carrier has been defined as one who holds himself out to the public to carry persons or freight for hire, the term did not, at the common law, embrace a carrier of passengers, and is commonly confined to carriers of goods, as distinguished from common carriers of passengers. (See the definition in S. 2). A private carrier is one who, without being engaged in such business as a public employment, undertakes to deliver goods in a particular case for hire or reward. A common carrier differs from a private carrier in two important respects : (1) In respect of duty, he being obliged by law to undertake the charge of transportation, which no other person, without a special agreement, is. (2) In respect of risk, the former being regarded by the law as an insurer, the latter being liable like ordinary bailees.

APPLICABILITY OF LAW OF BAILMENTS.—(1) TO CARRIAGE OF GOODS.—The rules of liability applicable to private carriers of goods are those which are in general applicable to ordinary bailees, and the law as to common carriers of goods is a branch of the law covering the subject of bailments. That is, the carrier of goods is a bailee, and, aside from any considerations of public policy which effect the liability of a carrier conducting a public employment, his duties and liabilities are in general those of an ordinary bailee; but these considerations of public policy have led to the recognition by the Courts, from an early period in the history of the common law, of rules respecting the duty of the common carrier as to serving the public, and as to liability for goods entrusted to his care which do not apply to private carriers of goods.

(2) TO CARRIAGE OF PASSENGERS.—A carrier of passengers is not, as to the person of the passenger, a bailee, and in this respect the law of carriers of passengers is not a part of the subject of bailments; but inasmuch as those who hold themselves out as prosecuting the business of carrying passengers for hire are regarded as undertaking a public duty, they are properly classed in this respect with public carriers of goods, and it is proper to treat them under the general heading of "Carriers". Moreover public carriers of passengers are deemed common carriers as to the baggage accepted by them for transportation as a part of the business of transporting passengers.

WHO ARE COMMON CARRIERS OF GOODS.—A common carrier has been defined as "one who undertakes for hire or reward, to transport the goods of such as choose to employ him from place to place."

RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES OF COMMON CARRIERS.—"A common carrier must carry all goods that are tendered to him for carrying without insisting upon and unreasonable condition, provided they are of the description which he professes to carry, [Garton v. Bristol and Exeter Railway, (1861) 1 B. and S. 162; Great Western Railway v. Sutton, (1868) L.R. 4 H.L. 226], he has accommodation for the goods [Jackson v. Rogers, (1863) 2 Show 327], and reasonable payment of their carriage is offered [Wyld v. Pickford, (1841) 8 Mec. and W. 443; 58 B.R. 773], and the sender is ready and willing to pay it (Bullen and Leake, 3rd Ed., p. 277), and also provided that the goods are brought neither too late for the journey by which they are to go [see Pickford v. Grand Junction Railway, (1844) 12 Mec. and W. 766], nor too long a time before the journey is to begin [Lane v. Cotton, (1701)

1 Raym. (Ld.), at p. 652; see Great Western Railway v. Bunch, (1888) 13 App. Cas. 31]. But the carrier may apparently refuse to take goods which will subject him to exceptional danger [Edwards v. Sherratt, (1801) 1 East 604, per Hale, C.J., Morse v. Slue, (1672) 1 Vent. 238]. Unless otherwise agreed, he must deliver within a reasonable time, having regard to the circumstances of the case (Taylor v. Great Northern Railway, (1866) L.R. 1 C.P. 385; Hales v. London and North Western Railway, (1863) 4 B and S. 661) and by the route which he professes to be his route [Foster v. G.W.Ry., (1904) 2 K.B. 306 distinguishing Mallet v. G.E.Ry., (1899) 1 Q.B. 309, See Ency. of Laws of England, Vol. II, p. 580]. The liability of a common carrier was the subject of a decision in a recent case before the Privy Council. It was held that a carrier is liable for injury arising from negligence in the execution of his contract to carry, unless he has effectively stipulated that he shall be free from such liability. If the contract is one which deprives the passenger of the benefit of a duty or care which he is prima facie entitled to expect that the Railway Company has accepted, the latter must discharge the burden of proving that the passenger assented to the special terms imposed. This he may show to have been done either in person or through the agency of another. Such agency will be held to have been established when he is shown to have authorised antecedently or by way of ratification the making of the contract under circumstances in which he must be taken to have left everything to his agent. In such a case, it is sufficient to prove that he has been content to accept the risk of allowing terms to be made without taking the trouble to learn what was being agreed to. In such cases the Railway Company may infer his intention from his conduct. Where, therefore, a passenger who is to be carried upon special conditions at a reduced fare has allowed terms to be made for him by an agent, the presumption is that the passenger was content to accept the risk without enquiring what the terms agreed upon by his agent were. See Grand Trunk Railway Co. of Canada v. Robinson, 31 I.C. 684: 19 C. W. N. 905 (P.C.); See also 54 Cal. 430: A. I. R. 1927 C. 394.

THE CARRIERS ACT (III OF 1865)¹.

[The 14th February, 1865.

An Act relating to the rights and liabilities of Common Carriers.

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is expedient not only to enable common carriers to limit their liability for loss of or damage to property delivered to them to be carried but also to declare their liability for loss of or damage to such property occasioned by the negligence or criminal acts of themselves, their servants or agents; It is enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as THE CARRIERS ACT, 1865.

¹ For Statement of Objects and Reasons of the Bill which was passed into law as Act III of 1865, see Gazette of India Extraordinary, dated 1st August, 1864 and for Proceedings relating to the Bill, see ibid., Supplement, p. 497, and ibid., 1865, pp. 51, 64 and 65.

The Act has been declared to be in force in the whole of British India, except as regards the Scheduled Districts, by the Laws Local Extent Act (XV of 1874), S. 3, Genl. Acts, Vol. II.

Sec. 1.—ACT IS NOT EXHAUSTIVE. THE LIABILITY OF THE COMMON CARRIERS IS GOVERNED BY THE ENGLISH COMMON LAW AS MODIFIED BY THE CARRIERS ACT.—A common carrier is subject to two distinct classes of liability, the one as insurer, in which the element of default is absent, the other for losses, as he is under an obligation to carry safely, in which that element is present. The Carriers Act modifies this by providing that the liability as insurer for goods not mentioned in the schedule may be limited by special contract where the loss is due to negligence. 38 Cal. 28; 9 I. C. 364: 15 C. W. N. 226.

WHO ARE COMMON CARRIERS.—Owners of seagoing merchant ships (26 C. 562); owners of steamships plying periodically (3 M. 107): carriers by water generally (38 M. 941: 20 I.C. 546). See also 28 M. 400; 6 C. 227.

LIABILITY OF COMMON CARRIER.—A common carrier does not cease to fill that character if he enters into a special contract limiting his liability both under the Carriers Act and under the Indian Railways Act. 31 I. C. 474: 11 N. L. R. 174. Carrier is ordinarily the agent of the buyer not only to take delivery but also to assent to appropriation, 12 I. C. 662: 5 S. L. R. 27. A common carrier in India is liable as an insurer. He is responsible for safety of goods entrusted to him except when loss or injury arises from act of God or King's enemies. But this liability may be varied by contract. 29 I. C. 260: 21 C. L. J. 565. In India carriers by sea do not get the benefit of the Act 40 Bom. 529: 33 I. C. 536: 18 Bom. L.R. 126. Carriers by sea for hire are common carriers though the Carriers Act of 1865 does not apply to them. 38 Mad. 941: 20 I. C. 546: (1913) M. W. N. 558; 14 M. I. T. 137: 25 M. L. J. 162. (28 Mad. 400 foll.) The duties and liabilities of a common carrier are governed in India by the principles of the English Common Law on the subject except where they have been departed from by the Carriers Act, or by the Railways Act. (Ibid.) As to liability of common carriers see 6 P. R. 1897: 3 B. 109; 18 C. 620. A common carrier's responsibility is not within the Contract Act, (Ibid.) [18 Cal. 620 (P.C.) Foll.] There is Interpretation clause.

2. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context—

“common carrier” denotes a person, other than the Government, engaged in the business of transporting for hire property from place to place, by land or inland navigation, for all persons indiscriminately:

“Person.”

1 “person” includes any association or body of persons, whether incorporated or not.

3. No common carrier shall be liable for the loss of or damage to property delivered to him to be carried exceeding in value one hundred rupees and of the description contained in the schedule to this Act, unless the person delivering such property to be carried, or some person duly authorized in that behalf, shall have expressly declared to such carrier or his agent the value and description thereof.³

Carriers not to be liable for loss of certain goods above one hundred rupees in value, unless delivered as such.

4. Every such carrier may require payment for the risk undertaken in carrying property exceeding in value one hundred rupees and of the description aforesaid, at such rate of charge as he may fix:

For carrying such property, payment may be required at rates fixed by carrier.

Provided that, to entitle such carrier to payment at a rate higher than his ordinary rate of charge, he shall have caused to be exhibited in the place where he carries on the business of receiving property to be carried, notice of the higher rate of charge required, printed or no implied warranty of seaworthiness for lighters and boats, etc., employed to land goods. (Ibid.) Under Indian Law, a common carrier by sea can contract out of the Common Law liability for negligence of himself and his servants provided the saving clause is expressed in clear and unambiguous terms. 62 I. C. 378; 10 L. B. R. 292 (F. B.) Where the bill of lading contained the clause “At shipper’s risk with option of carrying on deck,” and the goods (betel leaves) went bad for want of ventilation, held, that the carrier was not liable in damages, being exempted by the special clause. 8 Bur. L. T. 273; 30 I. C. 939 (1). 8 L. B. R. 293. Stipulations exempting the carrier from liability will be held to limit his liability as insurer and not his liability for negligence unless negligence is expressly included. 17 I. C. 37; 6 S. L. R. 103. (32 Mad. 9 foll.) The burden of proving absence of negligence is on the common carrier, loss or damage being deemed prima facie proof of negligence. 29 I. C. 260; 21 C. L. J. 565. In a contract to carry a load from one place to another where no fixed route is settled upon, the more convenient route may be followed though it is a longer one and carriage cost should be calculated on the same. 11 I. C. 43 (Cal.) The definition of a “Common Carrier” in S. 2 is framed without reference to the extent of his liability. 31 I. C. 474; 11 N. L. R. 174. A carrier in its general sense means a person or company which undertakes to transport the goods of another person from one place to another for hire 34 M. L. J. 553; 45 I. C. 485; 8 L. W. 46; 24 M. L. T. 175. Where goods have to be carried with the aid of different agencies to arrive at the destination, the carrier with whom the contract is made at one end is, in the absence of a contract limiting his liability to his own transport system, liable for loss or destruction of the goods beyond his own system or in consequence of act done by or default of persons other than his own servant. (Ibid.) See also 54 Cal. 430; 31 C. W. N. 359; A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 394.

SECS. 2 AND 6.—Duties and liabilities of Common carriers in India are governed by English Common Law and Carriers Act and not by the law relating to bailees under the Contract Act. 50 I. C. 562; 3 U.B.R. (1918) 120. Common carriers are liable as insurers and not merely as bailees protected by statute or special contract. 50 I. C. 562; 3 U.B. R. THE CASTE DISABILITIES REMOVAL ACT (XXI OF 1850).

Effect of subsequent legislation. Short title given by Act XIV of 1827.

Declared in force—throughout British India except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, S. 3; in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, S. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, S. 3.

PREFATORY NOTE.—When Warren Hastings became the Governor of Bengal, one of his first acts was to lay down a plan for the administration of civil justice in the interior of Bengal. With respect to civil rights, Warren Hastings' plan of 1772 directed by his twenty-third rule, that "in all suits regarding marriage, inheritance and caste and other religious usage and institutions, the laws of the Koran with respect to Mahomedans, and those of Shaster with respect to Gentus (Hindus) shall be invariably adhered to." Moulvies or Brahmins were directed to attend the courts for the purpose of expounding the law and giving assistance in framing the decrees. The principle laid down by the above rule of Warren Hastings was recognised and confirmed by the code of regulations issued by the Government of Bengal in 1780, as also by the British Parliament in 1881 by the provision contained in S. 18 of 21 Geo. III, c. 70. Enactments to the same effect have been introduced into numerous subsequent English and Indian enactments. A Bengal regulation of 1832 (VII of 1832), whilst re-enacting the rules of Warren Hastings which had been embodied in previous regulations qualified their application by a provision which attracted little attention at the time, but afterwards became the subject of considerable discussion. It declared that these rules are intended and shall be held to apply to such person as bona fide professes those religions at the time of the application of the law to the case, and were designed for the protection of the rights of such persons, not for the deprivation of the rights of others. Where, therefore, in any civil suit the parties to such suits may be of different persuasion, where one party shall be of the Hindu and the other of the Mahomedan persuasion, or where one or more of the parties to such suit shall not be either of the Mahomedan or Hindu persuasion the laws of those religions shall not be permitted to operate to deprive such party or parties of any property to which, but for the operation of such laws, they would have been entitled. In all such cases the decision shall be governed by the principles of justice and equity, and this provision shall not be considered as justifying the introduction of the English or any foreign law or the application to such cases of any rules not sanctioned by those principles. In the year 1850 the Government of India passed the law (XXI of 1850) of which the object was to extend the principle of this regulation throughout the territories subject to the Government of the East India Company. This Act, which was at the time of its passing, known as the Lex Loci Act, excited considerable opposition among orthodox Hindus as unduly favouring converts and has been criticised from the Hindu point of view with respect to its operation on the guardianship of children in a case where one of two parents had been converted from Hinduism to Mahomedanism. It will have been observed that Warren Hastings' rule and the enactment based upon it apply to Hindus and Mahomedans. There are, of course, many natives of India who are neither Hindus nor Mahomedans, such as the Portuguese and American Christians, the Parsis, the Sikhs, the Jains, the Buddhists of Burma and elsewhere and the Jews. The tendency of the Courts and of the legislature has been to apply to these classes the spirit of Warren Hastings' rule and to leave them in the enjoyment of family law, except so far as they have shown a disposition to place themselves under English Law." (See Ilbert's Government of India, 2nd Ed., 1907, pp. 323, 329). This Act was originally known as the Lex Loci Act, and is even now generally cited under the same designation. The title is, however, a misnomer. It was properly applied to other provisions which were subsequently dropped (See the evidence of Mr. Cameron before the Select Committee of the House of Lords in 1852; Ilbert's Government of India, 2nd Ed., 1907, p. 328 Note.)

[The 11th April, 1850.]

An Act for extending the principle of section 9, Regulation VII, 1832, of the Bengal Code throughout the Territories subject to the Government of the East India Company.

WHEREAS it is enacted by section 9, Regulation VII, 1832, of the Bengal Code² that " whenever in any civil suit the parties to Preamble. such suit may be of different persuasions, when one party shall be of the Hindu and the other of the Muhammadan persuasion, or where one or more of the parties to the suit shall not be either of the Muhammadan or Hindu persuasions, the laws of those religions shall not be permitted to operate to deprive such party or parties of any property to which, but for the operation of such laws, they would have been entitled ; and whereas it will be beneficial to extend the principle of that enactment throughout the territories subject to the government of the East India Company ; It is enacted as follows :—

¹Short title, " The Caste Disabilities Removal Act, 1850." See the Indian Short Titles Act (XIV of 1897), Genl. Acts, Vol. IV.

²Ben. Reg. VII of 1832 was repealed by the Bengal Civil Courts Act (VI of 1871) which was repealed by Act XII of 1887.

This Act is not retrospective (4 A.L.J. 365). As to effect of conversion before this Act on rights of inheritance, see 21 M. L. J. 645 ; 15 C. W. N. 545 (P. C.) ; 8 A. L. J. 552 ; 13 Bom. L. R. 1928 Oudh 138.

OBJECT OF THE ACT.—19 W. R. 367 (406) ; construction of this Act (ibid.) conflict to be avoided in construing Act. 77 P. R. 1907 ; 11 A. 100.

EFFECT OF THE ACT.—Act XXI of 1850 secures after apostasy the same rights to individuals in property as they enjoyed before apostasy. 31 I. C. 476 ; 98 P. R. 1915 S. 1 merely removes the personal disability of the person who has changed his religion from enforcing his rights which he possessed prior to the change. It does not lay down that if any ancestor of the propositus in any degree of ascent has changed his religion the Act would apply in determining the status of an heir to such a propositus. The removal of the penalty which the preamble bears out is clearly intended for the benefit of the party who has incurred the penalty and not for others. The Act has no application to a case where the claimant of rights either of one class or of the other has neither renounced nor has been excluded from the communion of any religion or been deprived of caste. 4 O. PREFATORY NOTE.—Mr. Ritchie, to whom the task of drafting the Christian Marriage Bill and getting it passed in the Legislative Council was entrusted, thus explained the object of the Bill:—

 'The object of the Bill is to put an end to the state of uncertainty which now exists in regard to marriages in India of persons, one or both of whom are of the Christian religion, but which are solemnized in any of the modes expressly recognized by the law as valid. These modes are three in number, two of them being generally applicable to all persons of whatever denomination of the Christian religion, and one being applicable only to a particular class. The first consists in the performance of the marriage ceremony by a clergyman in Holy orders, according to the sense in which the English Law understands that term, that is a clergyman who has been episcopally ordained. No particular rite or religious ceremony is legally requisite to this form of marriage, but the presence of a clergyman in Orders at the time of the mutual promise to become man and wife is essential. The clergyman need not be of the same religious denomination as either of the parties. But the clergyman of denomination which does not recognise episcopacy, and who has not been ordained by a Bishop confers no special privilege by his presence, and stands on the same footing in this respect as a layman. This was the only form of marriage recognised by the English Common Law as valid, as was decided in 1844 in the House of Lords in the well-known case of the Queen v. Mills. In 1843 it was provided by an Act of Parliament (58 Geo. III, c. 84) that marriages between persons one or both of whom were of the Church of Scotland solemnized by ordained ministers of that church as by law established or by a chaplain of the East India Company in India should be of the same force and effect as if they were solemnized by ordained clergyman of the Church of England according to the rites and ceremonies of the Church of England. The privilege was subsequently extended by the Legislative Council to ordained Ministers of the Church of Scotland other than Government Chaplains (see Act XXIV of 1860). Until the reign of Queen Victoria no other positive law regarding the solemnization of marriages existed in India. But there was a general impression in consequence of Lord Stowell's famous decision in Darby v. Darby, that the presence of a Clergyman in Orders required by the English Marriage Act was not essential to the validity of a marriage in any part of the British Dominions beyond the operation of these Acts: and that a simple contract of marriage in words showing that it was to take effect at once would suffice. The House of Lords in Mills case decided upon the opinion of the English Judges, that the English Common Law of marriage as above stated obtained in Ireland, though the Marriage Act did not extend there, and that the presence of ordained Clergyman in Orders was thus essential. In consequence of the doubt thus thrown upon the validity of the marriages in India the absence of a Clergyman in Orders, the Statute 14 and 15 Vict. c. 40 commonly called the Indian Marriage Act, was passed. This was followed by Act V of 1852 which gave effect to the provisions of the Statute. Under these Acts, marriages in the presence of a Marriage Registrar were legalized. No religious ceremony was necessary, but it was optional to the parties to go through any religious ceremony they please. The Act of Parliament legalized all past marriages solemnized in India by persons not in Holy Orders, not being otherwise invalid, by declaring them valid in law to all intents and purposes. But the doubt which existed as to the validity of such marriages at Common Law was not cleared up in regard to marriages contracted after the Statute. For it was provided that "nothing in the Act shall invalidate any marriage which might be solemnized in India by any person in Holy Orders, or under the Statute of the George III already cited, or any other marriage which under the law in force for the time being in India might have been there solemnized if the Act had not been passed, provided that the Governor-General in Council might provide by laws and Regulations for the registration of such marriages." The doubt thus left open as to marriages contracted since 1851 still existed in 1872. On the one hand Sir Erskine Perry when Chief Justice of Bombay, and Doctor Lushington, as Dean of the Arches, had held that the principle laid down in Queen v. Mills could not be applied to a country such as India or Australia in which on the first introduction of English laws and institutions, there were clergymen in Holy Orders before whom marriage could be celebrated (see the case of Malcolm v. Cristall, Perry's Oriental Cases 75; Indian Decisions, Old Series, Vol. IV, p. 69) and the House of Lords by passing a Divorce Bill founded on Sir Erskine Perry's decision, has, to some extent, though by no means conclusively, sanctioned that view. On the other hand the Court of Exchequer had held that the decision in question extended to invalidate a marriage performed between British subjects in Beyrout solemnized before a British clergyman not in Orders. And the Statute of 1848, and the Act of 1860, in favour of marriages performed by Ministers of the Scotch Church, seemed to show that the legislatures both in England and in India considered that the English Common Law applied to Indian marriages. It was almost impossible to determine which of these views was correct though it might be the former was right in principle. But the result of the doubt was, that there was a distressing degree of uncertainty as to the validity of many marriages solemnized since 1857, and that.

a great deal of fraud with regard to the performance of a sham marriage ceremony by persons having no special qualifications but pretending to be qualified has passed unpunished. In 1854 it was brought to the notice of the Government, that a person who had once been a school master but had never been ordained to the ministry in any way, professed to have authority to marry, and did perform the ceremony of marriage between several couples of Native Christians in the Backergunge District. Similar practices had been found to have prevailed in other districts, but as the person officiating did not profess to be a Marriage Registrar, but only to have authority to marry, and as according to the view of the law the marriages thus solemnized were legal, and the persons referred to therefore, as a witness, did assist in rendering the marriages effectual, it was found impossible to punish him for his imposition. It was felt by the Government of India to be time to put an end to the uncertainty which then surrounded the question and which, on so important a subject as the validity of marriages, ought not to be allowed to continue for a day longer than could be avoided. One ground upon which it was supposed that the Legislature in India left the question unsettled for some year prior to 1872, was that a law effectually dealing with the subject of Christian marriage must, to some extent effect, or interfere with the provisions of the English Statute of 1851; which it was then beyond the power of the Legislative Council as then constituted, to touch. The difficulty was removed as the Indian Councils Acts contained no restriction upon the interference with the Act of Parliament passed in the year above mentioned, and the proposed change of the law was quite within the competency of the Council as was constituted, after the Indian Councils Act. The only effectual mode of dealing with the question appeared to be to pass a law declaring that after the passing of the proposed Christian Marriage Act no marriage between persons, both or one of whom shall profess the Christian religion, shall be valid in law unless it be celebrated in one of the modes expressly declared and recognized by law (see Secs. 4 and 5 of the Act). There was then no hardship in thus declaring the law in 1872. For the Marriage Acts of 1851-52 had been previously for over 10 years in operation. Their provisions were generally well known throughout India and the facilities for contracting marriage under those Acts had been, rendered great by the appointment of Registrars at every place of any importance, both in the British Dominions and in those foreign States in alliance with Great Britain. In regard to past marriages it was proposed to declare that all marriages previously contracted in the presence of persons not in Holy Orders, if not otherwise invalid, should be deemed good and valid. This was the course which had been adopted on occasions on which Parliament has prescribed a stricter rule for the future than that which had previously existed, or had been supposed to exist in regard to marriages. THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE (V OF 1908).

An Act to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PRELIMINARY.

Short title commencement,
and extent.

1. [S. 1.] (1) This Act may be cited as THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, 1908.

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of January, 1909.

(3) This section and sections 155 to 158 extend to the whole of British India: the rest of the Code extends to the whole of British India, except the Scheduled Districts.

Definitions.

2. [S. 2.] In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "Code" includes rules:

Sec. 1.—For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Gazette of India, 1907, Pt. V, p. 179; for Report of Select Committee, see ibid., 1908, Pt. V, p. 35, and for Proceedings in Council, see ibid., 1907, Pt. VI, p. 135; ibid., 1908, pp. 8, 12 and 212.

Sec. 1: SCOPE AND OPERATION OF THE CODE.—The Code is not exhaustive. A point on which it is silent must be determined upon general principles. 2 Pat. L. J. 306=39 I. C. 779=1917 Pat. 137; 33 C. 927; 1921 Pat. 205; 1 Lah. 339=59 I. C. 748; 36 Cal. 193=1 Ind. Cas. 913. But Code to be deemed to be exhaustive on points specifically dealt with therein. 24 M.L.J. 235=18 Ind. Cas. 360; to C.L.J. 527. Where there is no specific provision in the Code it is its duty to act according to justice, equity and good conscience. 33 C. 927 (932). As it embodies the law of procedure, the new Code applies to all cases which were pending at the time it came into force. 9 I. C. 815. See also 19 C. L.J. 545. But an appellate Court could not reverse an order of the Court of first instance because a different rule has been enacted since then. 12 I. C. 553=(1911) 2 M. W. N. 386. See also 36 All. 350 (P. C.). The Code is inapplicable to Village Munsifs' Courts. 29 M.L.J. 474=31 I. C. 59. The provisions of the Code do not apply, en bloc, to proceedings in Revenue Courts. 48 I. C. 119=21 O. C. 220. As to applicability of the Code to proceedings under Probate and Administration Act, see 20 Ind. Cas. 281=6 Bur. L. T. 87; to Revenue Courts, see 21 Cal. 428; 14 Bom. L. R. 947. A Municipal election tribunal should be guided wherever possible by the provisions of this Code. 91 I. C. 450=A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 1043 (F.B.). In cases where the Criminal Procedure Code prescribes no procedure a magistrate may well follow procedure laid down in this Code (as in proceedings under S. 202, Cr. P. Code. 52 Cal. 670=29 C. W. N. 817=1925 Cal. 934.

DIVISION OF THE CODE INTO SECTIONS AND RULES.—RULES OF CONSTRUCTION.—The body of the Code creates jurisdiction and the rules indicate the mode in which that jurisdiction is to be exercised and they must be read together. 44 Cal. 929=21 C. W. N. 877 (F. B.); 41 Cal. 108=20 I. C. 39=18 C. L. J. 613. See also 33 I. C. 329=43 Cal. 148. Provisions of this Code and Limitation Act are to be read and interpreted together. See 85 I. C. 29=6 Pat. L. T. 729.

Forms given in Schedule cannot control the clear words of the Code itself. 40 I. C. 816=21 C. W. N. 1147. Where there is a conflict between the body of the Code and Schedule, the latter must yield to the former. 22 I. C. 690. Effect of new Code are rules ultra vires under old Code. See 29 M. L. J. 766. For definition of "British India," see S. 3, cl. 17 of the General Clauses Act. 'British India' includes British Burma. 13 C. 221; Aden, also cantonment of Wadhwan, 9 B. 244. The Code does not apply to Agency tracts. 13 M.L.J. 15; nor to tributary mahals of Orissa, 29 C. 400. As to application of Code to Sonthal Parganas; see 18 C. 133; 42 C. 116 (P.C.). For a list of Scheduled Districts, see Schedule I to the Scheduled Districts Act XIV of 1874. Under the powers conferred by S. 5 of the said Act, the Code has been extended to several Scheduled Districts, including Sind, Ajmere, Merwara and the Scheduled Districts of the Punjab.

FOREIGNERS.—Code extends to the whole of British India and foreigners are not excepted from the jurisdiction of British Indian Courts. 49 All. 669=25 A.L.J. 356=101 I. C. 673=A. I. R. 1927 All. 413, following 22 Cal. 222 (P. C.).

(2) "decree" means the formal expression of an adjudication which, so far as regards the Court expressing it, conclusively determines the rights of the parties with regard to all or any of the matters in controversy in the suit and may be either preliminary or final. It shall be deemed to include the rejection of a plaint and the determination of any question within section 47 or section 144, but shall not include—

Sec. 2, cl. (2) : DECREE.—'FORMAL EXPRESSION OF AN ADJUDICATION'.—Unless and until a decree is formally drawn up in terms of the judgment there can be neither appeal nor execution. 15 I. C. 935=8 N.L.R. 22. See also 25 Bom. L. R. 826=76 I. C. 763 and 1014=1924 Bom. 33. Decree includes Revenue Court decree. L. R. 6 A. 63=85 I. C. 660=1925 All. 264. Orders and decrees distinguished. L. R. 6 A. 245 (Rev.) See also 26 Punj. L. R. 32=86 I. C. 104=7 Lah. L. J. 149=1925 Lah. 456 (Order on application for setting aside order of abatement.

"MATTERS IN CONTROVERSY IN THE SUIT."

—The expression must not be understood as relating solely to the merits of the case. It would cover any question relating to the character and status of a party suing, to the jurisdiction of the Court, to the maintainability of a suit and to other preliminary matters which necessitate an adjudication before a suit is enquired into. It does not include proceedings preliminary to institution of suit (e.g.) an application for leave to sue as a pauper and proceedings passed in execution as well as orders granting day costs. 2 L. W. 519=29 I. C. 393=17 M.L.T. 447 nor an order of punishment for contempt. 27 A. 380. Explanation.—A decree is preliminary when further proceedings have to be taken before the suit can be completely disposed of. It is final when such adjudication completely disposes of the suit. It may be partly preliminary and partly final ;

(3) "decree-holder" means any person in whose favour a decree has been passed or an order capable of execution has been made ;

(4) "district" means the local limits of the jurisdiction of a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction (hereinafter called a "District Court"), and includes the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of a High Court ;

(5) "foreign Court" means a Court situate beyond the limits of British India which has no authority in British India and is not established or continued by the Governor-General in Council ;

(6) "foreign judgment" means the judgment of a foreign Court ;

(7) "Government Pleader" includes any officer appointed by the Local Government to perform all or any of the functions expressly imposed by this Code on the Government Pleader and also any pleader acting under the directions of the Government Pleader ;

(8) "Judge" means the presiding officer of a Civil Court ;

(9) "judgment" means the statement given by the Judge of the grounds of a decree or order ;

DECREE—PRELIMINARY AND FINAL.—The preliminary decree is not dependant on the final one but the latter is dependant and subordinate to the former, and does not extinguish it but gives effect to it. 21 C. W. N. 1174 = 1 Pat. L. J. 406 = 35 I. C. 873 (F.B.) (Failure to deposit commission fee after preliminary decree in partition suit—Dismissal of suit is not decree—No appeal lies, but only revision. 6 P. L. T. 152 = 86 I. C. 785 = 1925 Pat. 433). A preliminary decree ascertains what is to be done while the final decree states the result achieved by means of the preliminary decree. The cases where the legislature contemplates a preliminary decree are specified in O. 20, Rr. 12 to 18. 20 C. L. J. 476 = 27 I. C. 317 = 19 C. W. N. 755. There should be only one preliminary decree in a suit to be followed by one final final decree (Ibid.). Second preliminary decree in a suit for partition is not impossible where there are facts or circumstances alleged to have come into existence after the passing of the first. 15 I. C. 372 = 11 A. L. J. 120. See also 1925 Pat. 433. In a partnership suit order granting directions to commissioner does not amount to a preliminary decree. 107 I. C. 214. Where, in a suit for accounts, the Court after passing a preliminary decree for accounts, passed a further order fixing the mode of taking accounts and the period for which it should be done, the latter is also preliminary decree. 27 C. W. N. 989 = 38 C. L. J. 255 = 74 I. C. 373 = 1924 Cal. 160. Mere omission to style an order a preliminary decree or to embody it as such does not negative the party's right to appeal. 20 C. L. J. 476 = 27 I. C. 317 = 19 C. W. N. 755. A finding whether a party is an agriculturist under the Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act is not a preliminary decree. 45 B. 627 = 10 I. C. 885 = 23 Bom. L. R. 92 ; 70 I. C. 428 = 1922 B. 336 (2) ; but see also 70 I. C. 768 = 1922 Bom. 336 (1). But if the finding necessarily involves a direction for the taking of an account in the manner provided by S. 13 of the Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act it amounts to a preliminary decree. 39 B. 422 = 28 I. C. 589 = 17 Bom. L. R. 324. A decree for accounts is not a mere direction to report but is one determining the rights of the party and is a final decree.

13 I. C. 374 = 14 C. L. J. 603. An adjudication cannot be partly a decree and partly an order not amounting to a decree. 42 Cal. 914 = 29 M. L. J. 70 = 28 I. C. 710 = 42 I. A. 91 = 19 C. W. N. 449 = 2 L. W. 377 = 21 C. L. J. 419 (P.C.). An order in a suit for taking accounts of a partnership declaring the partnership as dissolved from a particular date and ordering an enquiry by the referee as to who were the partners is a decree in so far as it declares the rights of the parties. It does not cease to be so, because a part of it might have been separately made as an order. So the whole decree cannot be challenged in an appeal against the final decree, not being itself appealed against. (Ibid.) The decree in appeal is decree in suit, for appeal is a continuation of the suit. (1916) 1 M. W. N. 223 = 30 M. L. J. 379 = 33 I. C. 9 = 19 M. L. T. 268.

CONSENT DECREE.—'Decree' includes a compromise or a consent decree. 34 C. L. J. 96 = 66 I. C. 273 (2) = 1922 Cal. 158.

Cl. (3) : 'DECREE-HOLDER.'—[See under Decree.] Decree for specific performance can be executed by the defendants as well as by the plaintiff. 24 Bom. L. R. 496 = 67 I. C. 667 = 46 Bom. 990 = 1923 Bom. 26. An attaching creditor is not a decree-holder. 80 I. C. 947 = L. R. 5 A. 629 = 1925 All. 123. Bona fide auction-purchaser is not a party and order refusing restitution against him is not appealable. 1925 Lah. 176.

Cl. (4) : DISTRICT COURT.—Though the word "District" in the C. P. Code does include the local limits of a High Court in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction, still it is not legitimate to construe the words "District Court" wherever they appear to mean and include a High Court in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction. 45 C. L. J. 71 = 100 I. C. 331 = A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 290.

Cl. 5 : FOREIGN COURT.—Privy Council is not within the definition. 8 Bom. 571 (574). All other Courts in England are foreign Courts. 8 B. 571 ; 31 C. 274. The Ceylon Court is a foreign Court. 32 M. 469 (471).

Cl. (9) : JUDGMENT.—Necessity for containing reasons—Applicability to original side of High Court. See 29 Bom. L. R. 126.

(10) "judgment-debtor" means any person against whom a decree has been passed or an order capable of execution has been made ;

(11) "legal representative" means a person who in law represents the estate of a deceased person, and includes any person who intermeddles with the estate of the deceased and where a party sues or is sued in a representative character the person on whom the estate devolves on the death of the party so suing or sued.

[S. 211, Expl.] (12) "mesne profits" of property means those profits which the person in wrongful possession of such property actually received or might with

Cl. (10): JUDGMENT-DEBTOR.—Definition does not include assignee. 11 M. L. T. 144 = 13 I. C. 649 = (1912) M. W. N. 176.

Cl. (11): LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE.—In this new Code, the Legislature wants to bring the definition in conformity with the law prevailing in England. 11 O. & A. L. R. 1 = 87 I. C. 892 = 28 O. C. 177 = 12 O. L. J. 37 = 1925 Oudh 330. The expression means a person who in law represents the estate of a deceased person and not necessarily the beneficial owner thereof. 42 Mad. 76 = 35 M. L. J. 632 = 49 I. C. 11. See also 79 I. C. 670 = 1925 Lah. 2 ; 1923 Oudh 330. A person in possession is a representative of the estate. 31 M. L. J. 222 = 35 I. C. 124 = (1916) 2 M. W. N. 233 ; 69 I. C. 179. See also 1924 Cal. 362 ; 9 N. L. J. 183 = 96 I. C. 963 = A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 476 ; 2 O. W. N. 407 = 89 I. C. 534 = 12 O. L. J. 512 = 1925 Oudh 515 (Muhammadan widow in possession in lieu of dower is legal representative). An intermeddler is within the definition. 1924 A. 717. The definition includes an intermeddler with even a part of the estate. 115 P. R. 1913 = 22 I. C. 242 = 39 P. L. R. 1914. See also 29 Bom. L. R. 900. But the definition is only for purpose of procedure and an intermeddler is not the representative for purposes of succession. So the decree passed in a suit in which an intermeddler is impleaded, will not bind the real heir who is not party thereto. 1924 A. 717. The surviving members of a Hindu joint family are not legal representatives. 2 Lah. 114 = 61 I. C. 628. So a decree for injunction against a Hindu father cannot be executed against his sons who had formed a joint family with him. 42 Bom. 504 = 46 I. C. 745 = 20 Bom. L. R. 660. Succeeding manager of a joint Hindu family is legal representative of previous manager. 21 L. W. 21 = 86 I. C. 178 = 1925 Mad. 456. Succeeding trustee is legal representative. 92 I. C. 520 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad 540. As to executor de son tort, see 30 C. W. N. 565 = 96 I. C. 605 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 825. Hindu reversioners can continue a suit for possession brought by a Hindu widow as her legal representatives after her death. 39 Mad. 382 = 27 I. C. 1001. In a suit for declaration of the invalidity of an adoption or alienation by a Hindu widow instituted by the presumptive reversioner, the next presumptive reversioner can continue the suit as legal representative after the former's death. 38 Mad. 406 = 42 I. A. 125 = 28 M. L. J. 535 (P. C.). In a later Madras case it has been held that he is not a 'legal representative' within the definition but can be added as a party in a representative action under O. 1, Rr. 1, 8 and 10. 9 L. W. 166 = 49 I. C. 268. A Zamindar, to whom the house and grove in possession of his tenant, escheat on the death of the latter, is not his legal representative. 23 I. C. 969 = 1 O. L. J. 86. A person who is added as a legal representative of a deceased defendant cannot and need not set up in defence pleas which are open to him only personally. 1925 Mad. 59. See also notes under S. 50.

LIABILITY OF LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE.—Where a party is sued in a representative character, the legal representative is the person on whom the estate devolves. It is not necessary that for his character as legal representative he should be in possession of any property of the deceased. All that is necessary is that he should be a person on whom the estate would devolve. 49 A. 645 = 101 I. C. 507 = 25 A. L. J. 359 = A. I. R. 1927 All. 459.

Cl. 12. 'MESNE PROFITS'.—When a plaintiff succeeds in establishing that he was kept out of possession, he is entitled to mesne profits. 53 I. C. 124. See also 47 Mad. 800 = 1925 Mad. 140 ; also a plaintiff who has obtained a decree under S. 9 ; Specific Relief Act. A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 9 = 97 I. C. 1028 ; 24 All. 501. As to co-sharers see 94 I. R. 479 ; 1 A. 518 ; 21 C. 14. A wrong-doer is liable only to the extent of the wrong he has done. 24 C. 413. As to the extent of the liability of trespasser to pay mesne profits. see 94 I. C. 118 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 847. The defendant is wrongful possession is liable only for the time he was actually in possession. If he was excluded from possession, he cannot be said to have been in wrongful possession. (Ibid.) Defendant not actually in possession is not liable for mesne profits. 38 I. C. 660 = 26 C. L. J. 140. See also 6 Pat. L. J. 166 = 61 I. C. 754 = 1921 Pat. 294 ; 39 C. L. J. 447 = 51 Cal. 853 = 1924 Cal. 1010 ; 24 C. 413 = 10 C. 785 ; 55 I. C. 48. (Defendant would be liable if he has abetted the trespass by the person in actual possession) As against a wrong doer, possession relates back to the time when the right to enter accrued. 21 I. C. 590 = 9 N. L. R. 145 (34 M. 269, foll.) As to the maintainability of claim for mesne profits between date of decree for possession conditions on payment of money and date of payment, see 1928 M. W. N. 51.

ASSESSMENT OF MESNE PROFITS.—Mesne profits are in the nature of compensation or damages. The proper measure to be awarded is to be determined by what the party in possession actually receives except in cases where it is shown that what has been actually received falls below what would have been received with due diligence. 47 M. L. J. 730. See also 25 A. 266 ; 24 C. 413 ; 11 I. C. 504 = 15 C. W. N. 825 = 15 I. C. 1 ; 19 I. C. 974 = 17 C. W. N. 984 ; 46 I. C. 624 ; 61 I. C. 425 = 1 Pat. L. J. 235. But see also 16 I. C. 255=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 860. The correct principle for the assessment of mesne profits is that the letting value of the property should be determined and not what the defendant actually gained 10 I. C. 312=16 C. L. J. 93. But where the person dispossessed is himself a cultivator of the land in dispute, he is entitled to such profits as the trespasser might have obtained by actual cultivation with due diligence and not merely to what he has really obtained by subletting the land. 43 I. C. 53 ; 20 N. L. R. 112=1924 Nag. 427 ; see also 15 W. R. 428=47 M. L. J. 730=1925 Mad. 297 ; 99 I. C. 923=44 C. L. J. 559 ; 53 Cal. 992=31 C. W. N. 112=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 182. The principles which would ordinarily guide a Court in determining the mesne profits are : Wrongful trespasser should not profit by it ; restoration of status before dispossession financially ; and (3) use to which decree-holder would have put land if he was himself in possession. 1 Pat. L. W. 421=39 I. C. 516=1917 Pat. 146. Assessment can be based by local inspection and crop-cutting experiments conducted by a Commissioner. 47 M. 800. Deductions should be made for cost of cultivation and seasonal fluctuations. 99 I. C. 923=44 C. L. CASH RENT AND PRODUCE RENT.—Where it is shown that a portion of the suit land had been let out at a produce rent, the Court will be justified in presuming that the entire land was so let out. 53 C. 992=31 C. W. N. 112=99 I. C. 428=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 182. See also 99 I. C. 923=44 C. L. J. 559.

COMPENSATION FOR IMPROVEMENTS.—The person dispossessed is entitled to compensation for improvements effected. 26 C. W. N. 257=35 C. L. J. 121 ; 42 M. L. J. 243. He is also entitled to compensation for all sums spent by him in managing the property but not for infructuous litigation in connection with the management. 11 M. L. T. 90=22 M. L. J. 253=14 I. C. 390=(1912) M. W. N. 101. All such payments made by the defendant as the plaintiff would have been bound to make if he had been in possession towards rent, revenue or cesses should be deducted from the gross earnings. 17 B. 35 ; 21 C. 142=20 I. A. 160 ; 20 N. L. R. 112=1924 Nag. 427 ; see also 33 I. C. 520. But the Court should not allow the expenses of collecting the profits unless the defendant entered on the property in the exercise of a bona fide claim of right. 20 N. L. R.

Cultivation expenses incurred by the trespasser should be deducted, but not costs of collecting rents due from persons in occupation. (1913) M. W. N. 804=18 I. C. 615=24 M. L. J. 30. See also 51 I. C. 747=4 Pat. L. J. 301.

INTEREST ON MESNE PROFITS.—Interest should ordinarily be allowed on mesne profits, though the interest as well as the mesne profits are in the discretion of the Court. 70 I. C. 6=34 C. L. J. 415 ; see also 10 C. 785 ; 27 C. 951 at 969 (P. C.) ; (1927) M. W. N. 661 ; 44 C. L. J. 182=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1233. A decree-holder cannot claim interest when the decree for mesne profits is silent as to interest. 53 I. C. 227=30 C. L. J. 205 (27 C. 951, fol.) See also 21 A. 425 (F. B.). The words "together with interest on such profits" do not refer to interest due after the ascertainment of the amount of mesne profits due under the decree. They contemplate that interest should form a separate item in the calculation of the amount due as mesne profits. 30 C. 506. See also 25 A. 275. Mesne profits include interest. Where a decree is silent as to interest on mesne profits, it must be deemed to carry interest at the Court rate of 6 per cent. and executed accordingly. 20 A. L. J. 348=44 A. 579 ; 17 I. C. 915=10 A. L. J. 533. See also 68 I. C. 807=27 C. 951 (P. C.) ; 33 C. 329. Interests should not be allowed for more than three years from the decree or until possession within that time. 27 C. 951 (P. C.). The Court has a discretion whether to allow interest on mesne profits after 3 years or not. 31 I. C. 387=2 L. W. 1129. Mesne profits carry interest from the date of the preliminary decree awarding the same. 46 A. 842=22 A. L. J. 768=82 I. C. 312 ; 33 C. 29. Liability—Joint wrong doer for mesne profits. See 53 Cal. 992=31 C. W. N. 112=99 I. C. 428=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 182.

BURDEN OF PROOF.—When mesne profits are claimed, the onus of proving what profits might with diligence have been received in any year lies upon the party claiming mesne profits but the onus of proving what profits the person in wrongful possession actually received lies on the person in possession. 47 M. L. J. 730. See also 47 M. 800.

PRACTICE.—Mesne profits should be determined in the suit itself and not by way of execution for a fixed sum of money. 39 C. 220. Transfer to higher Court of protracted proceedings on account of the mesne profits accruing during pendency of litigation swelling up to an amount beyond the pecuniary jurisdiction of the original Court is not an interruption so as to make the subsequent proceedings in the higher Court a different suit. 58 I. C. 179=24 C. W. N. 342.

PART I.

SUITS IN GENERAL.

Jurisdiction of the Courts and Res judicata.

9. [S. 11.] The Courts shall (subject to the provisions herein contained) have jurisdiction to try all suits of a civil nature excepting suits of which their cognizance is either expressly or impliedly barred.

Sec. 8.—¹ The provisos were added to the section by Act I of 1914, S. 2.

Sec. 9. SCOPE OF THE SECTION.—S. 9 empowers Civil Courts to try only suits of a civil nature and the explanation shows that they cannot try questions as to religious rites or ceremonies, and religious honours, except when they are attached to an office as emoluments. 13 M. L. T. 340 = 19 I. C. 257. Burden of proof is on the party who seeks to oust jurisdiction of civil courts A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 121 (F. B.). The Court will not decide mere question of religious rites or ceremonies nor will it pronounce on any religious doctrine unless it is necessary to do so in determining rights to property or to office. 24 Bom. L. R. 1060 (5 B. 80, foll.); see also 30 M. 15; 11 B. 534; 32 C. 1072; 19 B. 507; 84 I. C. 759; 1925 Bom. 209.

CASTE QUESTIONS.—The power of a Civil Court to decide questions relating to caste disputes is fully considered by Chandavarkar, J., in 26 B. 174. See also 27 Bom. L. R. 1503. In the matter of caste customs over which the ecclesiastical chief has jurisdiction, the Civil Court cannot interfere. 17 M. 222. As to suits relating to caste property see 50 Bom. 124 = A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 69. Refusal to invite a member of caste on auspicious occasions does not give rise to a cause of action in a Civil Court. 17 I. C. 527 = (1912) M. W. N. 1220. See also 15 B. 599; 10 B. 661. A suit will lie to determine whether plaintiff's expulsion from caste is valid or not. 10 M. 133. See also 21 C. 463; 23 B. 122; 24 B. 13; 12 M. 495; 17 M. 222. Temporary exclusion of some members of a caste from social intercourse with other families on account of infringement of caste rules at the instance of the panchayat is not for the Civil Court. 23 I. C. 801 = 12 A. L. J. 522; see also 15 B. 599. Civil Courts may deal with a caste question where the character of a member has been unjustly injured.

28 M. L. J. 58 = 2 L. W. 446. Suits in respect of caste property not maintainable in Civil Courts. 5 B. 83. So also suits for inspection of accounts of caste property. 34 B. 467. A claim by five of the members of a caste to use the Wadi and the vessels is one of a civil nature. 1924 Bom. 22.

Where the plaintiff's services as an honorary Secretary to an Association are voluntary and gratuitous, and there is no question of any contract between him and the Association, the Civil Court has no jurisdiction. 37 A. 313 = 29 I. C. 53. Though an honorary lectureship in a University is an office of consequence, yet there is no injury to the personal right of the lecturer on account of no arrangements being made by the University for the delivery of lectures. 41 C. 518 = 18 C. W. N. 830. A suit by one director against the other directors of a limited Company to restrain the latter from preventing him from acting as such, is maintainable. 51 C. 916 = 28 C. W. N. 803.

A suit lies for the enforcement of a right to officiate as priest at a certain sacred spot though no fixed fees are attached to it. 27 C. 30. See also 13 B. 429; 13 B. 548; 16 B. 281. Where claim is confined to rights in religious ceremonies as a right to recite sacred texts, the same is not cognizable. 28 M. 23; 19 M. 62. See also 32 A. 527 (right to perform Ramilla). The right to hold a certain office in a certain place at a certain season of the year confers upon the holder thereof a legal character so as to enable him to bring a suit to maintain such right. 1 Pat. L. J. 381 = 35 I. C. 345. The gains made by officiating as priest at the bath, etc., to the pilgrims at chaukis on the

A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 377.

SUITS TO RECOVER FEES AND EMOLUMENTS ATTACHED TO OFFICES.—The payments made to a vatandar barber for officiating at some ceremonies are not gratuitous but are customary fees and therefore can be recovered from another barber who, without any right, performs them. 22 Bom. L. R. 410=44 B. 733. Where however a donor makes a gift personally to the defendant Maha Brahmin on a day which belonged to the turn of the plaintiff, the plaintiff could not recover the same, as it was made to the defendant in his individual capacity. 35 A. 412. As to power of Criminal Court to question action taken by Municipality, see 93 I. C. 827=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 461. A Municipality has direction to issue such orders as it thinks proper with reference to a proposed building. Civil Courts cannot interfere with that discretion unless it is exercised in a capricious, wanton and oppressive manner. 12 Bom. 490. Where powers are given to a public body of acquiring property for purposes of an Act, misuse of the powers by attempting to acquire land merely for the purposes of exacting exemption fee from the owners is actionable in a Civil Court. 47 C. 500=47 I. JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS IN GENERAL.—Every presumption should be made in favour of the jurisdiction of a Civil Court, which can be taken away only by express words or by necessary implication. 17 C. W. N. 408=17 C. L. J. 239; 33 M. 208. The jurisdiction of Courts depends upon the allegations made in the plaint and not upon those which may be ultimately found to be true. 1922 Nag. 10=18 N. L. R. 121.

10. [S. 12.] No Court shall proceed with the trial of any suit in which the matter in issue is also directly and substantially in issue in a previously instituted suit between the same parties, or between parties under whom they or any of them claim litigating under the same title where Courts have power in any matter of spiritual and temporal character to enquire into the laws or rules of the tribunal or authority which has inflicted the alleged injury. 39 M. 1056=30 M.L.J. 423. A Court will interfere in a case of dismissal of an officer of a Trust Corporation, where the relationship between the officer and the corporation is one of trust and cestui que trust but will not, where the relationship is a contractual one. 41 C. 19=17 C. The Civil Court can question the appointment of a trustee by the Dewasthanam Committee if it is not made reasonably and in good faith. 42 M. 668.

'EXPRESSLY OR IMPLIEDLY BARRED.'—The jurisdiction of Civil Courts is expressly barred when there is some enactments or rule of law precluding a Civil Court from taking cognizance of a suit. 14 C. 644. As to suits expressly barred by statutes, see 26 A. 594; 42 M. 647=37 M.L.J. 23 (custody of minor under the G. and W. Act). 30 M. 126 (suit for land as emolument of office under the Hereditary Village Officers Act, 1895) and other cases dealt with by special enactments. See also 43 B. 211=21 Bom. L. R. 27 (suit to recover the value of silver confiscated by the order of Collector under the Sea Customs Act). In this case, however, it was held that if there had been no legal adjudication of the matter by the Collector of Customs in accordance with the provisions of the Sea Customs Act, the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to take cognizance of the suit was not ousted. (Ibid.). Where the duty of deciding disputes between subjects and the Crown is cast upon a special tribunal by the legislature, the Civil Courts have no jurisdiction if the tribunal comes to a conclusion after due enquiry. But if the conclusion is arrived at without any sort of enquiry and without an opportunity being given to the parties to be heard the jurisdiction of the ordinary Civil Courts is not taken away. 43 B. 221. The jurisdiction of the Civil Courts is not barred by S. 287 of the Madras City Municipal Act at the Standing Committee of the Madras Corporation cannot be treated as a special tribunal constituted to decide claims between the house owners and the Corporation. 38 M. 41=23 M. L. J. 531. Cognizance may also be impliedly barred by general principles of law such as suits relating to acts of State and public policy.

SUITS RELATING TO ACTS OF STATE BARRED.—A suit for damages against Governments for acts done in the exercise of sovereign powers does not lie in a Civil Court. 1 C. 11. But where the act complained of is professedly done under the sanction of Municipal law, and in the exercise of powers conferred by that law, the fact that it is done by the sovereign power does not oust the jurisdiction of Civil Court. 4 M. 344; 5 M. 273. Publication in the Government Gazette, respecting the conduct of a public servant is an act of State in respect of which no action for libel lies. 27 B. 189. A resumption of an inam by Government is an act of State. 28 I. C. 934. But see 6 M. 361. Resumption by Government of certain functions entrusted to non-feudatory Zamindars in Central Provinces is an act of State and consequently no action lies in a Civil Court. 39 C. 615=16 C. W. N. 362=39 I. A. 31 (P. C.). Appointment to the office of Ghatwal or Digwar is a matter for Government and Civil Courts have no jurisdiction in respect of the office. 23 I. C. 849=18 C. W. N. 1036.

SUITS BARRED ON GROUNDS OF PUBLIC POLICY.—Suit against a witness for defamatory statements, contained in the evidence given by him. 30 M. 222; 17 B. 172; 15 C. 264. See also 10 M. 87; 11 M. 477. Suit by a witness to recover money agreed to be paid to him in consideration of his giving evidence. 4 M. H. C. R. 7. Suits for damages against a judicial officer for acts done in good faith in the discharge of his judicial functions. 2 M. H. C. R. 396; 12 A. 115. (But when he acts illegally, without due care and attention, and beyond the limits of his jurisdiction, an action lies. 9 C. 341; 6 M. H. C. R. 423). Suits on agreements void on grounds of public policy, e.g., suit for rent of lodgings knowingly let to a prostitute. 18 W. R. 445. Suit to enforce an agreement to suppress a criminal prosecution. 8 C. 24.

Sec. 10; SCOPE OF THE SECTION.—S. 10 does not bar the institution of a suit but only the trial of it under certain circumstances. A Court cannot dismiss a suit under the section but only postpone its trial. 77 I. C. 157=27 M. L. J. 405=11 A. 148 at 154 (F. B.). There is no necessity for stay where is no possibility of conflict of decrees. 106 I. C. 661. See also on this section 1925 Pat. 201; 23 A. L. J. 529=1925 All. 615. Nor does the section dispense with the institution of a suit within the proper time when the law expressly requires such institution. 22 B. 640; 77 I. C. 157; 1925 Pat. 201. Notwithstanding stay of suit, interlocutory orders such as orders for receiver, for an injunction or for attachment before judgment could be passed. 46 B. 431=1922 Bom. 276. Under S. 10 a Court has no jurisdiction to decide the question of res judicata. It can only stay the new suit if it finds sufficient reasons. 27 I. C. 917=42 C. 926. OBJECT OF THE SECTION.—The object of S. 10 is to prevent courts of concurrent jurisdiction from trying two parallel suits in respect of same matter in issue. 36 I. C. 641=24 C. L. J. 514. See also 75 I. C. 231; 48 M. L. J. 251; 23 A. L. J. 585; 1925 All. 677. Object is to avoid conflict of decisions. 29 Bom. L.R. 382=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 245.

Explanation.—The pendency of a suit in a foreign Court does not preclude the Courts in British India from trying a suit founded on the same cause of action.

EFFECT OF CONTRAVENTION OF SECTION.—A decree passed in contravention of S. 10 is not a nullity and cannot be disregarded in execution proceedings. 22 P.R. 1919=46 I.C. 419.

REVISION.—An order under S. 10 is not a decision of a case within S. 115 and not liable to revision. 67 I.C. 870=4 Lah. L.J. 425=1922 Lah. 54.

Sec. 11: APPLICATION OF SECTION.—Not exhaustive of the law of res judicata. 16 M. 141; 24 M.L.J. 469; 48 C. 499=40 M. L. J. 423 (P.C.); 26 M. 760; 39 C.L.J. 40=79 I.C. 520=1924 Cal. 600. 94 I.C. 423=A.I.R. 1926 Sind. 236; 27 Punj. L. R. 504=A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 603=8 Lah. 15. But the general principles cannot be extended to cases which are within S. 11. 9 I.C. 910=A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 670. Foundation of rule is there should be an end to litigation as to any issue which has been determined between the parties by a court of competent jurisdiction. 1 Pat. 174. See also 13 Bom. L.R. 717=36 B. 283. Res judicata differs from estoppel. One ousts the jurisdiction of the Court; while the other shuts the mouth of a party. 36 B. 283=12 I.C. 535. Does not cover all cases of estoppel by judgment. 36 M. 141=24 M.L.J. 469. 40 A. 593 (P.C.). Allowing a decree to become barred will bar a suit again on the same cause of action. 33 C. 679; 41 M. 641=34 M.L.J. 167=44 I.C. 110. (23 M. 629 dis. 25 M. 300 ref.); 99 I.C. 478=A.I.R. 1927 Oudh 60. Dismissal of suit, if contention not established, bars a subsequent suit on the same contention in another form. 37 B. 224=19 I.C. 558. Where causes of action are distinct as many actions as there are causes of action can be brought. 27 C. 142. A decree in an administration suit does not bar a suit for distribution of the shares declared by the decree. 64 I.C. 813. Dismissal of a prior suit for declaration of title by adverse possession no bar to a subsequent suit provided '12 year' adverse possession after the date of prior suit is proved. 33 A. 463=9 I.C. 572; 27 Punj. L. R. 617=97 I.C. 172=A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 668. Two separate suit can be brought on two successive mortgages on the same property by the same debtor in favour of the same creditor. 60 I. C. 809=25 C.W.N. 129; 98 I.C. 695=A.I.R. 1927 Nag. 83. The dismissal of a suit by reversioner for declaration that he was the next reversioner is no bar to a subsequent suit for possession of the property. 70 I.C. 685=20 A.L.J. 672. Dismissal of suit for partition under a compromise not carried out does not bar a second suit for partition. 37 A. 155=27 I.C. 694; 36 M. 46; 35 M. 75; 20 C.L.J. 583. So also where the first decree, declaring the right of parties to partition, has not been given effect to. 37 B. 307=17 I.C. 955; 56 I.C. 610; 31 I.C. 200. But see 40 I.C. 820=(1917) M.W.N. 327. Rule has no application to a case where a suit is withdrawn with liberty for another suit. 11 I.C. 831. Where there are two inconsistent decisions, later decision operates as res judicata. 44 A. 319; 65 I.C. 877; 37 A. 531=30 I.C. 775; 31 M.L.J. 219; 46 A. 220. Where there are two decrees operating as res judicata, the earlier decree must prevail. 49 A. 606=25 A.L.J. 387=108 I.C. 501=A.I.R. 1927 A. 717. The plea of res judicata is available not only as regards final conclusions, but also regarding the findings necessary for arriving at conclusions. 39 M. 1202=27 M.L.J. 529; 39 C.L.J. 40=79 I.C. 520. The plea of res judicata may be waived by the party. 36 I.C. 289=31 M.L.J. 219.

VOID DECREES OR DECREES OBTAINED BY FRAUD.—A void decree cannot operate as res judicata. 7 B. 408. A decree obtained by fraud or collusion, if nullity. 26 A. 272; 24 A. 242. So also a judgment of a Court and competent to decide it is a nullity. 28 M. 42.

ERRONEOUS DECISIONS.—A wrong decision operates as res judicata. 60 I.C. 404; (1918) M. W.N. 580=49 I.C. 369. As to wrong decision on question of law see 7 L.R. 21 (Rev.). As to wrong decision on mixed questions of law and fact see A.I.R. 1926 Oudh 417. An erroneous decision on the question of the construction of a deed of transfer operates as a bar. 29 B. 339 at 347 (P.C.); 10 C. 697; 41 C. 778=2 Pat. L.W. 146; 31 M.L.J. 97. Whether distinction can be made between decisions on abstract questions of law and concrete questions such as construction of a particular document, see 45 B. 1260=64 I.C. 162 in which 18 B. 525 is considered. Apparently no distinction can be made. 2 Pat. 771=74 I.C. 781.

CHANGE IN LAW WHETHER AFFECTS res judicata.—A change in the law or a different interpretation of it by the appellate Court cannot operate to re-open matters which had previously become res judicata. 21 M. 18. See also 26 M. 104. Similarly what is not res judicata, at the time a suit is filed cannot have that effect by the change in the law. 85 I.C. 574=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1107.

DECISION ON QUESTIONS OF LAW.—An erroneous decision on a point of law may be res judicata. 24 A. 138; 29 M. 225; 28 C. 318; 19 I.C. 244; 21 I.C. 979=19 C.L.J. 34; 15 I.C. 911=15 C. L. J. 684; 45 I. C. 252; 39 C. 848. 9 N.L.J. 183=96 I.C. 963=A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 476; 45 Bom. 1260; 28 Bom.L.R. 876=A.I.R. 1926 Bom. 481; 99 I. C. 528=A. I. R. 1927 All 206. But see 5 O.W.N. 50. An issue of law may be res judicata if the cause of action in the subsequent suit is the same as in the former suit. 9 I.C. 568=13 C.L.J. 119; 37 M.L.J. 554=54 I.C. 202; 10 C. 1087; 15 A. 327; 26 M. 104; 31 B. 128; 28 M. 517. Where a decision lays down what the law is and is found to be erroneous, it cannot have force of res judicata in a subsequent proceeding to recover a different relief. 39 C. 848; 37 I. C. 857=32 M. L. J. 63; 32 C. 749; 22 B. 669. The decision on a question of law in one proceeding does not bar later proceeding except that the right established in favour of one party in the former proceeding cannot be questioned in a subsequent proceeding. 40 M. 989=31 M.L.J. 513; see also 30 M. 461; 32 C. 729. Where in a prior suit for rent, the defendants did not contend that the suit must be dismissed as the plaintiff had failed to comply with S. 194 of Agra Tenancy Act, they are not debarred from raising the plea in the subsequent suit. 25 A.L.J. 582=103 I.C. 379=A.I.R. 1927 A. 505=49 A. 918. The existence of a custom is a question of fact and an erroneous decision on the point operates as res judicata even though the subsequent suit relates to different properties. 47 I.C. 373. See also 94 I.C. 463=A.I.R. 1926 A. 420. But see 22 I.C. 138. An issue of mixed law and fact stands on the same footing as an issue of fact for purposes of res judicata.

28 C. 318; 87 I.C. 811=1926 Cal. 80; 29 M. 225; 92 I.C. 769=A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 251. The rule that estoppel by res judicata does not apply to a question of law has no force in the case of coram sent decrees. 35 M. 75=21 M.L.J. 709.

DECREES IN REDEMPTION SUITS—CONFLICT OF RULINGS.—Whether the decree be in a suit for foreclosure or in a suit for sale or in a suit for redemption, there is in each case a conditional decree for redemption in favour of the mortgagor and a subsequent suit for redemption is barred. 39 M. 896=30 M.L.J. 13. (25 M. 300; 31 M. 354 fol.); 49 M. 691=96 I.C. 607=A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 816=50 M.L.J. 612. But see 39 B. 41=27 I.C. 249; 86 I.C. 527=1925 Mad. 1191. Where after a preliminary decree for redemption mortgagor fails to redeem, he cannot bring a second suit to redeem. 46 B. 348=64 I.C. 1004. But it was held in later cases that the right of redemption could not be extinguished by the preliminary decree and could only be extinguished by a final decree. 75 I.C. 919=1923 Lah. 680. The right to redeem is not lost unless an order absolute is obtained under S. 93, T.P. Act (O. 34, R. 8), and a fresh suit for redemption is not barred by the preliminary decree for redemption. 18 I.C. 326 (All.); 24 A. 44. But see 48 I.C. 922; 19 I.C. 393=6 S.L.R. 140; 85 I.C. 480=1925 All. 484; 25 M. 300; 18 C. 139; 28 C. 73; 7 B. 467; 13 B. 567; 16 B. 243; 23 B. 592. Where decree provided payment of the mortgage money in instalments, in default mortgagee to remain in possession and also reserved the right to redeem, a subsequent suit to redeem not barred. 45 B. 1335=63 I.C. 902. See also 23 A.L.J. 888=1926 All. 20. A decree nisi is not res judicata. 10 I.C. 748=13 Bom. L.R. 162. Ordinarily a redemption suit by a mortgagor is not barred by res judicata by a previous suit by a second mortgagee to redeem the first. 36 I. C. 551=4 L.W. 184.

APPLICATION OF THE PRINCIPLE TO EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.—The principle of res judicata applies to proceedings in execution of a decree. 31 C. 22; 24 A. 138; 2 Pat. 772=74 I.C. 781; 11 I.A. 181; 47 C. 446=30 C.L.J. 496. 92 I.C. 254=A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 640; A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 476; 102 I.C. 94=A.I.R. 1926 Oudh 216; 100 I.C. 23=9 Lah. L.J. 173; 99 I.C. 1006=A.I.R. 1927 Lah. 179. It is not every order passed in execution, but only certain descriptions of orders, that have operation as res judicata. 17 C. 57. Although the general principle of res judicata is applicable to execution proceedings, the special rules laid down in explanations to S. 11 ought not to be applied to execution cases. 3 Pat. L.T. 403=67 I.C. 656=1922 P. 289; 37 A. 589; 24 M. 681; 70 I.C. 530=1923 Rang. 119 (2). A decision in one stage of an application is not res judicata in another stage of the same application. 38 I.C. 627=40 M. 1016. As to the extent to which the rule applies to successive applications in execution, see 45 A. 735; 95 I.C. 31; 3 O.W.N. 241=A.I.R. 1926 Oudh 291 and cases referred to therein; A.I.R. 1926 Pat. 478; A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 164; 43 All. 245=A. I. R. 1926 All. 220; 48 All. 201=24 A.L.J. 91=A.I.R. 1926 All. 71; A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 177; 7 Pat. L.T. 353=A.I.R. 1924 P.

Court competent to try such subsequent suit or the suit in which such issue has been

628; (1926) M.W.N. 33=A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 177; A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 164. An order ultra vires does not operate as res judicata. 4 P. 440=1925 P. 807. A decision in a previous application to execute a maintenance decree to the effect that the application is barred is no bar to a subsequent application to recover maintenance for a different period. 18 M. 482; 30 M. 504; 46 Bom. 467=1922 Bom. 238 (limitation), 34 A. 518=16 L.C. 677 (where the order was made ex parte). But see 6 B. 54; 9 C. 65. When the decision on the prior application was one on a question of procedure as it then stood, it does not operate as res judicata when that procedure itself is changed by the statute law. 39 M. 923=30 M.L.J. 460. The decision as to whether the execution of a decree is time barred or not, though erroneous, will operate as res judicata in a subsequent application for execution. 24 A. 282; 24 M. 669. See also 40 M.L.J. 556=13 L.W. 529; 2 P. 771; 46 Bom. 467. A.I.R. 1927 Oudh 216; 1 Luck. 171. But it has been held that an order that a particular application for the recovery of mesne profits awarded by a decree is not barred by the 12 years' rule under S. 48, C.P.C. is no bar to a plea by the judgment-debtor that a subsequent application for the same purpose is barred by that rule. A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 842=103 I.C. 311=53 M.L.J. 440. Where a plea of limitation was raised by the judgment-debtor in a previous stage of an execution application, but was rejected, the same plea could not be raised again in a subsequent stage of the execution proceedings. 48 I.A. 45=40 M.L.J. 197. The judgment-debtor would be precluded from raising the contention, though the decision is arrived at ex parte, after notice to the judgment-debtor. 66 I.C. 751; 26 L.W. 481=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 813; 45 B. 453=59 I.C. 747; 44 B. 227=55 I.C. 329; 98 I.C. 702=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 149. Even in an application for transfer of a decree, it is open to the judgment-debtor to plead limitation and he ought to do so. 47 M. 641=47 M.L.J. 4. See also 92 I.C. 47=A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 200; 1 Luck. 171; (1928) M.W.N. 152. An order in execution to the effect that the decree is not executable is res judicata in subsequent execution proceedings. 4 Pat. L.J. 330=47 I.C. 154. An objection that a decree could not be executed, not raised at the first execution application, could not be raised in a subsequent stage. 44 A. 350; 4 Pat. L. J. 213; 80 I.C. 905. See also 31 C. 22; 99 I.C. 870. The fact that the subsequent application for execution relates to different items of property does not take the case out of the rule. 45 M. L. J. 71=72 I. C. 397 (2). But an omission to raise the objection to a wrong claim in execution, is not res judicata in a later execution application, as the principle of implied or constructive res judicata is not applicable to execution proceedings. 44 A. 159=65 I. C. 377=27 I. C. 950=13 A. L. J. 162. Finding as to the nature of property in an application to set aside execution sale is not binding on auction-purchaser at a subsequent sale. 105 I. C. 153. The principle of constructive res judicata should not be applied to execution proceedings unless the decision of the question subsequently sought to be agitated was given expressly or by necessary implication or must be deemed to have been implied in the previous decision. 40 M. 780=38 I.C. 806. Sec. 11, Expl. IV does not extend to execution proceedings. An issue not raised in a claim proceeding can be subsequently raised in an application under O. 21, R. 50 (2). 44 A. 130. See also 90 I. C. 276; 1925 P. 588. Omission to appear and settle terms does not bar a plea that property was not liable to attachment in execution. 46 M. 768=45 M.L. J. 346. A plea that an application for setting aside an execution sale is barred cannot be set up by the auction-purchaser at a late stage of the proceeding. 48 B. 638. Where an objection petition in an execution proceeding is dismissed for non-prosecution, there is no adjudication on the merits and it cannot be res judicata. 67 I.C. 663=1923 Cal. 287. An order passed by the Court ex parte after notice duly served, binds the defendant on general principle of res judicata as much as a contested order. 37 M. 462=26 M. L. J. 189; 26 M. L. J. 83.

APPLICATION OF PRINCIPLE TO OTHER MISCELLANEOUS PROCEEDINGS.—Dismissal of an application to set aside an ex-parte decree (not a suit within the meaning of the section) on the ground of non-service of summons would bar a subsequent suit to set aside the decree on the same ground. 1 Rang. 500=76 I. C. 794. Where an application to amend a decree has once been refused on the merits, the decision is conclusive between the parties and no further applications would lie. 27 I. C. 320; 39 C. 265. See also 107 I.C. 390=A.I.R. 1928 Lah. 244. It has however been held that a suit lies. 40 C. 541=18 I. C. 444. Where an application under S. 151, C. P. Code, to set aside a compromise decree was summarily dismissed on the ground that such relief could not be given under S. 151, a suit for setting aside the decree on the ground of fraud is not barred. 5 P. 276=94 I. C. 765=A.I.R. 1926 Pat. 239. A question at issue between the parties once heard and finally decided, binds the parties at subsequent stages of the same suit, under general principles of law, though not under S. 11. 48 C. 499=40 M. L. J. 423=24 I.C. 343; 94 I.C. 313=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 420. Failure to raise the plea of non-transferability by the mortgagors in the suit before the passing of the decree does not prevent him from raising it in execution. 48 A. 385=95 I. C. 1048=24 A. L. J. 489=A. I. R. 1926 All. 432. The validity of an order made at one stage of a litigation unless forthwith challenged by an appropriate proceeding in a superior tribunal is conclusive between the parties and cannot be questioned or collaterally attacked at a later stage. 70 I. C. 6=34 C. L. J. 415; 42 I. C. 392; 39 C. L. J. 251=81 I. C. 527. Where an application under S. 22 of the Insolvency Act is dismissed on the merits, the same issue cannot be once again raised in the ordinary Civil Courts. 39 A. 626=43 I. C. 573; 41 A. 378=49 I.C. 590. The decision on a question of title, in proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act, to apportion the compensation payable, does not operate as res judicata, 20 M. 269. See also 12 C. 484 (P. C.); 34 C. 466; 45 M. 320=43 M. L. J. 78. An order in a claim case on the validity of a wakf is not res judicata in a suit between the same parties, in which the property in dispute is not the same as that in the claim case though both were included in the waqf. 44 C. 698=37 I. C. 887. A decision in a previous proceeding for letters of administration, negating the claim of A as heir of the deceased, arrived at after hearing full evidence, bars a subsequent suit by A for declaration that she is the heir of the deceased. 1 Rang. 258=1923 R. 257. An order passed after contest in a probate proceeding is res judicata in any subsequent proceeding of any sort against the caveators who contested it as also those who had an opportunity of putting forward their objection. 46 M. L. J. 383=79 I. C. 44. But an order passed on compromise in such proceeding cannot operate as a bar to an application for probate of the same will. 51 C. 745=1924 Cal. 864.

"FORMER SUIT."—The expression denotes a previously decided suit under Expl. I, and the same rule applies to appeals. 37 C. L. J. 184=74 I. C. 591; 12 A. 678; 32 A. 67. Where there were two suits in the primary Court, decided by a common judgment but concluded by separate decrees and an appeal is preferred only in the first suit, while none is preferred from the decree in the second suit, the decree made in the latter becomes final and operates as res judicata so as to bar the appeal. 37 C. L. J. 184=74 I. C. 591; 1924 P. 823; 74 I. C. 583=1 L. L. J. 473. So also in two cross suits for damages involving the same issue and ending in two separate judgments, decreeing the one and dismissing the other. 34 C. L. J. 281=64 I. C. 574; 74 I. C. 583=3 Lah. L. J. 473; 35 A. 187; 19 I. C. 76; 11 A. L. J. 214 (where one appeal abates by reason of the death of the appellant); 2 Rang. 623=1925 Rang. 104 (where appeal from one decree dismissed). But if there is nothing prejudicial to the appellant in the decree from which no appeal has been brought, which is not raised and cannot be set right if the appeal which he has brought succeeds the right of appeal is not barred by res judicata. 45 A. 506=74 I. C. 411 (F.B.); 87 I. C. 804=1925 All. 488.

"MATTER DIRECTLY AND SUBSTANTIALLY IN ISSUE."—The word "directly" seems to be used in contradistinction to the words "incidentally" and "collaterally". The words "substantially" means "in effect though not in express terms". 25 C. 136. A decision on a point not substantially in issue in a suit cannot operate as res judicata. 17 I. C. 860. See also A. I. R. 1926 P. C. 63=30 C. W. N. 673; 96 I. C. 625; A. I. R. 1925 P. C. 184=50 M. L. J. 135 (P.C.); 7 Pat. L. T. 150=A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 87; 48 All. 17=A. I. R. 1926 All. 20; A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1228; Ibid. 513; 29 Bom. L. R. 215=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 145. (Case-law reviewed). Under Expl. III the matter must have been alleged by one party and either denied or admitted by the other. 6 A. 358. It does not matter whether the cause of action is the same or different provided the matter directly and substantially in issue, has been directly in issue in a former suit between the same parties. 2 Pat. 772=74 I. C. 781. In order to see what was in issue in a suit, or what has been heard or decided, the pleadings, and the judgment must be looked at and not merely the decree. 37 I. C. 674=14 A. L. J. 1171; 12 I. C. 9=14 C. L. J. 220; 15 I. C. 981=1919 Pat. 393; 21 A. 251; 16 C. 173=15 I. A. 93; 24 I. A. 33; 29 M. 42; 33 C. 116=32 I. A. 224. If a question was directly and substantially in issue in the previous case it will operate as res judicata though decided on other grounds as well. 41 I. C. 479. For a matter to be in issue under S. 11, it is not necessary that an express issue should be framed on it, but it is sufficient if a decision about it is necessary for the decree. 9 L. W. 84=52 I. C. 258; 53 Cal. 837=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 106. The decision in a previous case on an issue which did not arise at all, cannot operate as res judicata in any subsequent suit. 43 I. C. 754. As to when a decision on an irrelevant issue can operate as res judicata. 102 I. C. 28 (2); 25 L. W. 797=103 I. C. 90 (2)=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 643. It is the matter in issue and not the subject-matter of the suit that forms the essential test of res judicata. 13 B. 25; 1925 Oudh 444; 89 I. C. 282. Where the question whether a particular sale-deed was a valid document was directly and substantially in issue in the previous suit, the decision of the issue is res judicata though the property involved in the subsequent suit is different from the one which was the subject of the prior suit. 45 A. 515; 4 Rang. 8=95 I. C. 104=A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 122. So also where the question decided is as to the validity of an adoption. 8 M. 219=12 I. A. 16; 2 I. A. 283; 13 A. 53=13 B. 25; 24 A. 112; 30 A. 470.

OTHER ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Rent suits.—A rent decree, is res judicata on the question of the existence of the relationship of landlord and tenant. 54 I. C. 763; 25 I. C. 204; 10 I. C. 363. This is so even if the decree is passed ex parte. 49 A. 658=A. I. R. 1927 A. 552. Where in a previous suit by A against B, it was held that B was a tenant of A, a subsequent suit by B against A and C, a pro forma defendant for a declaration that B is not a tenant of A but of C is barred. An incidental determination of an issue of title in a suit for rent is not a bar to any issue of title being raised subsequently. 34 I. C. 123; 63 I. C. 762; 51 I. C. 356=20 C. L. J. 13; 50 I. C. 598; 15 I. A. 97; 25 C. 136; 26 C. 428. See also 43 C. L. J. 146=30 C. W. N. 593=94 I. C. 837=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 650. But where the entire question of title to the property was directly and substantially in issue in the previous suit, as in the case where the tenant sets up his own ownership, denying that of the landlord, the decision will operate as res judicata. 12 I. C. 9=42 I. C. 785. See also 85 I. C. 804=1925 Cal. 1004. If the question of title thus substantially in issue in the former suit had been decided, the decision will operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit for rent for a subsequent period. 1 C. 202; also 24 A. 112. If an issue as to the nature of the tenure held by the defendants was directly raised in the previous suit for rent the decision on the point will operate as res judicata in subsequent suits for rent. 25 C. 136; 14 M. L. J. 379; 13 M. 287; 26 B. 25; 30 M. 510; 30 A. 470. Where a previous suit for enhancement of rent was decreed in spite of the defendant setting up a permanent tenancy, the decree is not res judicata in a subsequent suit for ejectment in which the same claim is set up by the defendant. 8 Lah. 573=54 I.A. 178=A. I. R. 1927 P. C. 102=52 M. L. J. 663 (P. C.). When a recurring liability is the subject of a claim, a previous judgment dismissing the suit upon findings which fall short of going to the very root of the title upon which the claim rests, cannot operate as res judicata. 11 A. 148. A rent decree is not res judicata, as to the rate of rent or as to the area for which the rent is payable but only as to the amount due for the years for which the suit was brought. 68 I. C. 298: 1923 Cal. 282 (2); 3 O. W. N. 313 (Sup.)=98 I. C. 77=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 32. [It is however good evidence on these points. 47 I. C. 173; 1922 P. 213.] But if the Court determines them it is binding on the parties in a suit for rent for subsequent years. 43 C. L. J. 116=94 I. C. 844=A. I. R. 1926 Cal 672. The question of rate of rent is a necessary issue in a suit for enhancement of rent and the Court's decision thereon is res judicata in a subsequent suit for rent, in which the same question is at issue. 59 I. C. 752. This is so even if the decree is passed ex parte. 91 I. C. 380=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 767. A decision in a suit by ryot to set aside a distraint on the ground that the tender of patta is not proper, operates as res judicata on the point in a subsequent suit for rent. 45 M. L. J. 199=1924 Mad. 209.

A decision as to the nature of possession held by a party, in a prior suit, operates as res judicata. 46 M. 525=43 M. L. J. 737. Where a claim of a third person based on a mortgage is disallowed, and also his suit for a declaration of his mortgage rights is dismissed, he cannot enforce by a regular suit his rights under the mortgage. 44 M. 268=40 M. L. J. 7=10 I. C. 961=8 A. L. J. 358. Suit by heirs against widow for possession dismissed for non-payment of dower debt ordered by Court to be paid by plaintiff to widow. Second suit for possession by the heirs is not barred. 47 A. 250=52 I. A. 145=48 M. L. J. 667=1925 P. C. 63. First suit by auction-purchaser to set aside order of re-delivery under O. 21, R. 101, C. P. C., dismissed. Subsequent suit for partition of the judgment-debtor's share not barred. 49 M. 596=23 L. W. 551=95 I. C. 209=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 683=50 M. L. J. 681. Where a reversioner brought a suit for a declaration that an adoption by a widow is not binding on him and got a decree, the question of relationship is res judicata in a subsequent suit for a declaration that a gift by her is not binding on him. 59 I. C. 808. Dismissal of a suit to declare an alienation by a widow was not binding on the reversioner is res judicata in a subsequent suit by the reversioner for possession after the death of the widow. 59 I. C. 946. See also A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1270. The dismissal of a prior suit by the plaintiff's ancestor for chur right in a river on the ground that it formed part of his estate, bars the subsequent suit for establishing his right of fishery in the said river. 31 C. W. N. 473=103 I. C. 13=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 423. The decision in a suit based on a possessory right is no bar to a subsequent suit on title. 16 I. C. 431.

"HEARD AND DECIDED."—To support a plea of res judicata, the matter in issue must have been heard and finally decided. 45 C. 442=44 I. A. 213; 21 M. L. J. 57=9 I. C. 686. Where a transaction was incidentally referred to in a suit in the Court of Small Causes, and it was not finally decided, a subsequent suit raising the same is not barred. 5 R. 527=105 I. C. 361=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 319. So also a matter expressly left open by the parties cannot operate as res judicata. 88 I. C. 822=48 A. 34=A. I. R. 1925 All. 770; 96 I. C. 302. It is sufficient if the decision in the previous suit impliedly decides the point. 40 B. 210; 23 M. L. J. 740=8 L. W. 206=48 I. C. 905=(1918) M. W. N. 567, 54 I. C. 952=24 C. W. N. 221. In order to ascertain what matter was heard and finally decided, the pleadings and the judgment should be examined. 2 Pat. L. J. 159=38 I. C. 211; 37 I. C. 674=14 A. L. J. 1171. See also 29 Bom. L. R. 215=100 I. C. 1033=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 145. (Case-law reviewed.) The refusal of a Court to try extraneous issues in a case does not bar a subsequent suit. 36 I. C. 650. The party who is sought to be affected by the bar of res judicata should have notice of the point which is likely to be decided against him and should have an opportunity of putting forward his contentions against such a decision. 46 M. 768=45 M. L. J. 346. Where in a prior suit for possession and future mesne profits, the Court did not purport to decide the question of future mesne profits, a subsequent suit for mesne profits pendente lite is not barred. 40 A. 292=44 I. C. 88; 41 M. 188=33 M. L. J. 699 (F. B.). See also 30 M. L. J. 326=31 I. C. 103. But it has been held by the Bombay High Court that where the decree is silent as to the claim of future mesne profits, it will be taken to have been refused and a separate suit will be barred by the Expl. V to S. 11. 44 B. 654=58 I. C. 419. Decision of a point on the ground of limitation only and not on the merits does not operate as res judicata. 73 I. C. 705=1923 Lah. 150 (2). Dismissal for technical defect does not operate as res judicata. 63 I. C. 344=19 A. L. J. 706. Dismissal for default does not operate as res judicata. 24 I. C. 480=12 A. L. J. 911; 41 I. C. 905 (Cal.); 24 I. C. 17=54 I. C. 789; 2 Pat. 739; 39 B. 41=16 C. 98=15 I. A. 156; 24 B. 251. Nor dismissal under O. 9, R. 3. 85 I. C. 509=1925 Oudh 337. Nor dismissal for misdescription of suit property. 1925 Lah. 193. Nor dismissal for non-joinder or misjoinder of parties. 43 M. L. J. 572=73 I. C. 491=24 I. A. 50; 8 A. 282; 46 C. L. J. 118=104 I. C. 576=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 794. Also dismissal for want of jurisdiction. 5 B. 48=7 I. A. 18. A dismissal of a suit under O. 17, R. 3 for want of prosecution operates as res judicata in respect of the rights of the plaintiff to recover in a subsequent suit the property sued for in the first suit. 13 I. C. 172=10 M. 272; 13 M. 510; 40 A. 590=46 I. C. 390. Suit by a Hindu reversioner for declaration that a mortgage executed by a widow is invalid dismissed on the ground that plaintiff was not the reversionary heir—Subsequent suit by him after widow's death for possession is barred. 22 L. W. 170=(1925) M. W. N. 572=A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1162=49 M. L. J. 142.

in a fresh suit as res judicata. 14 M. 328 ; 21 C. 265. 21 A. 425. Relief claimed but not expressly granted—Decree in prior suit substantially in favour of plaintiffs but the findings being against them—Appeal not preferred—Effect in subsequent suit see 38 M. L. J. 374 = 101 I. C. 648 ; (1927) M. W. N. 116. It refers to the case where several heads of relief independent of each other are claimed, put in issue, and duly controverted, and one of them is neither granted nor refused. 12 B. 454. The granting of future mesne profits which the Court has a right to give or refuse, is not such a relief. 15 M. L. J. 462. 32 C. 118 ; 21 A. 425 (F. B.) ; 25 B. 115 ; 24 M. 681 ; 80 I. C. 710. Where the mortgagee claims a money decree and in default of payment for sale of the mortgaged property, but is content to take a money-decree only, he could not sue again to have the amount paid by sale of the mortgaged property. 33 C. 849.

EXPLANATION V—ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Previous suit for certain properties—Statement by plaintiff that he would pay additional court-fee if it was found that he was entitled to further properties—Subsequent suit for further properties not barred. (1926) M. W. N. 94 = 93 I. C. 1 = 23 L. W. 415 ; Redemption suit claim for mesne profits—Withdrawal of claim for mesne profits—Separate suit if lies. A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 178 ; 25 A. L. J. 425. In ejectment suit prayer for use and occupation referred—Subsequent suit after notice—Question of damages cannot be gone into. 104 I. C. 190 = A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 305. Mortgage suit—Personal remedy asked for in plaint—Decree silent regarding same—Effect—Party not barred from subsequently asking for the same. 39 M. L. T. 22 = 53 M. L. J. 489.

EX PARTE DECREE.—An ex parte decree can operate as res judicata. 16 C. 300 ; 40 C. L. J. 507 ; 26 A. L. J. 185 ; 85 I. C. 562 = 1925 Mad. 1025. But the only matter that can be res judicata is matter in respect of which relief has been claimed by the plaintiff in the plaint. 16 C. 300 ; 27 I. C. 999. On this point see also 6 Bur. L. J. 148. Where a previous suit for arrears of rent was decreed ex parte, the deft. cannot contend in a later suit for arrears of rent that the relationship of landlord and tenant did not exist. 49 A. 658 = 24 A. L. J. 467 = 101 I. C. 516 = A. I. R. 1927 A. 552.

CONSENT AND COMPROMISE DECREES.—S. 11 is not strictly applicable to consent or compromise decrees as it applies in terms only to what has been heard and finally decided by the Court. 35 M. 75 = 21 M. L. J. 709 ; 30 B. 395. A consent decree however raises an estoppel. 24 C. 216 ; 24 B. 77 ; 43 C. L. J. 116 = 94 I. C. 844 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 672. A consent decree passed between the predecessor-in-interest of the parties, touching matters now substantially and directly in issue, between them, is res judicata. 36 B. 283 = 12 I. C. 535 = 46 A. 820 = 80 I. C. 933. But a consent decree relating to matters outside suit does not operate as res judicata. 48 C. 1059 = 66 I. C. 705 = 27 I. C. 640 = 27 C. L. J. 583. The decision by oath of any matter in issue in a former suit between the parties is res judicata in a subsequent litigation between them 36 M. 287 = 24 M. L. J. 321 = 24 M. 444. A decree or ordered passed on a razinama would constitute the matters contained in it res judicata between the parties to suit. 36 M. 46 = 21 M. L. J. 820 ; 21 B. 465.

THE DECISION MUST BE NECESSARY FOR THE DETERMINATION OF THE SUIT.—Matter which was not necessary for the decree passed in the suit is not matter directly and substantially in issue in the suit which was heard and finally decided. 5 C. W. N. 445 ; 26 M. 104. See also 101 I. C. 522 = 40 W. N. 307 ; 102 I. C. 22 (1). If a finding arrived at on a certain issue is sufficient to completely dispose of the case, other findings on other issues not necessary for the disposal of the case or not a final decision of the matter covered by them and do not operate as res judicata. 36 I. C. 643 = 70 I. C. 666 = 44 B. 321 = 55 I. C. 312 = 22 Bom. L. R. 64 = 49 I. C. 513 ; 75 I. C. 317 = 1923 Lah. 523 ; 73 I. C. 854 = 1923 Lah. 248 ; 43 C. L. J. 501 = 95 I. C. 1011 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1003. Where there are two findings, either of which would in law be sufficient to dispose of the case that one which in the logical sequence should have been first found rendering the determination of the other issue unnecessary, if the finding which operates as res judicata. 9 I. C. 983 = 8 A. L. J. 409 = 28 I. C. 580 = 21 C. L. J. 296 ; 17 A. 174. But it has been held by the Madras High Court that the decision on both the issues would be res judicata and the rule of logical priority is inapplicable. 38 M. 158 = 21 I. C. 258. If a decision is based on two grounds, both of them operate as res judicata. 31 M. L. J. 97 = 35 I. C. 266. Where a judgment is based on findings on more than one issue but it is doubtful as to on which issue the final conclusion is based, the decision on all issues is res judicata. 34 M. L. J. 431 = 45 I. C. 975. A question raised at the instance of a party and decided by the Court as necessary operates as res judicata, even though the issue in the previous suit was in fact not necessary. 63 I. C. 161 = 33 C. L. J. 317. When a Court decides a case upon a preliminary point as well as on the merits, it cannot be said that the decision on the merits does not operate as res judicata. 24 C. 900. But see 17 A. 174 ; 40 Cal. 29. Where an ejectment suit is dismissed on the ground of absence of notice, a finding recorded, that the permanent tenancy alleged by the deft. is not proved, cannot operate as res judicata. 47 M. 453 = 46 M. L. J. 198 ; 43 B. 568 = 51 I. C. 109 ; see also 18 C. 647 ; 13 C. 17. But where first Court decreed the suit for ejectment negating the claim of permanent occupancy, but the Appellate Court reversed it for want of a proper notice to quit, though upholding the finding as to the nature of the tenancy, the decision on the point is res judicata. 46 M. L. J. 515 = 1924 Mad. 626. But see 40 B. 662 = 36 I. C. 74 = (a suit of a declaratory nature). Where an appellate Court confirms the decision of the trial Court by deciding on one point only without giving its decision on another point which was also decided by the trial Court, the decision on this point is res judicata in a subsequent suit. 42 C. L. J. 560 = 92 I. C. 981 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 163. An obiter dictum, not necessary for the decision of the case is not a decision on a point directly and substantially in issue and does not constitute res judicata. 45 A. 466=74 I. C. 656=(1917) M. W. N. 327; 4 Pat. L. J. 682=52 I. C. 338=1919 Pat. 343. Where a suit was dismissed on grounds of limitation, but a finding was also recorded against the plaintiff to avoid a remand in case the appellate Court took a different view, the finding will not operate as res judicata. 47 M. L. J. 532=82 I. C. 485. Where a suit is decided in favour of the defendants, but there is a finding adverse to them that finding is not res judicata against them. 48 Cal. 460; 47 M. L. J. 487; 11 C. 301; 18 B. 597; 17 A. 174; 18 C. 647. It is not the law that where a plaintiff's suit is dismissed, there is generally no res judicata on the findings in his favour. 34 M. L. J. 641=60 I. C. 397; 12 L. W. 277; 1 C. 144; 10 M. 102. The defendant is entitled to appeal against such findings. 47 M. 633=20 L. W. 63=1924 Mad. 689; 47 M. L. J. 487=1925 Mad. 521. When a decree was based on independent grounds and the adverse finding was not implied in the decree, it would not operate as res judicata. 37 M. 25=21 M. L. J. 947. But where the decision on an issue is necessary but the party against whom the finding is made could not appeal, as the final decree is in his favour the decision on that issue is res judicata. 34 M. L. J. 431=24 C. 900. Such a finding may be appealed against and constitutes res judicata. 40 I. C. 771. The fact that a party against whom an issue is found has no right of appeal does not affect the rule of res judicata. 34 M. L. J. 431=45 I. C. 975; 19 I. C. 399=29 M. L. J. 535.

CONSTRUCTIVE RES JUDICATA.—Expl. IV.—As to the application of the principle of constructive res judicata, see 49 All. 592=25 A. L. J. 437=101 I. C. 670=A. I. R. 1927 All. 439; 24 A. L. J. 33=50 M. L. J. 1 (P. C.). The rejection of a plea as having been raised too late operates as res judicata. 91 I. C. 683=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 511. Question of jurisdiction wrongly decided in previous suit, no objection being raised—Decision operates as res judicata. 28 Bom. L. R. 879=98 I. C. 341=A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 481. Omission by judgment-debtor to challenge liability where it does not affect decree holder's position creates no estoppel. 71 I. C. 772. It is not only necessary that the matter might have been a ground of attack or defence but also it ought to have been so made. 60 I. C. 393. 2 Pat. L. T. 285; 1 A. L. J. 498. A person is not bound to sue on an alternative cannot of action and failure to sue in the former suit does not bar a subsequent suit. 103 I. C. 888=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 322. Plea which might hurt need not necessarily be raised in prior suit—No bar. 8 L. 302=28 Punj. L. R. 432=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 505. The question whether any matter ought to have been made a ground of attack or defence in a former suit depends upon the particular facts of each case. 20 C. 79=19 I. A. 234. The plea sought to be raised in the second suit must also be directly relevant to the issue in the first suit. (1924) M. W. N. 666; see also 46 I. C. 929; 40 C. L. J. 507. In a pre-emption suit, the pre-emption is not bound to set up his own title in that alternative. 96 I. C. 71=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 545. Decree on mortgage. Subsequent suit by

The Explanation in authorising a fiction that the matter contemplated by it was in issue, implies necessarily the further fiction that it was adjudicated upon. 8 M. L. J. 28; 26 M. 760. The matter would be deemed to have been decided against the party omitting to allege it. 2 A. 100; 25 B. 189. But see 2 C. 171; see also 35 C. 975 where the correctness of the previous decision has been doubted. Where in an interpleader suit as among several widows of the last male holder the factum or validity of the adoption of a son by one of the widows was not challenged, the question must be heard to have been raised and decided. 1 Luck. C. 733. It is only where the subject-matter of the two suits is the same that the matter can be said to have been heard and decided. 24 C. 711. Such a question cannot be treated as res judicata unless there is a judicial determination expressed or implied on the matter not put directly in issue. 28 C. 17; 1 Rang. 363=1923 Rang. 239. Where plaintiff claims title to certain property, he ought to put forward all means of attack in his armoury. 72 I. C. 14; 20 C. 79=19 I. A. 234; 25 B. 189. See also 37 I. C. 119; 20 I. PRINCIPLE OF CONSTRUCTIVE RES JUDICATA APPLIES TO SUITS ON MORTGAGES.—

In a mortgage suit, all claims relating to the mortgage right up to the end of the proceedings, must be determined and a defendant who omits to put forward a counter-claim cannot being a subsequent suit for recovery thereof. 60 I. C. 226=12 L. W. 173=16 L. A. 107=26 B. 661. The mortgagor obtaining possession in a redemption suit by him cannot subsequently sue for profits realised by the mortgagee for a period prior to the date of delivery of possession. 30 A. 36.

Where mortgagee has failed in a suit for redemption to obtain an order for sale of a mortgaged property on failure of payment by the mortgagor of the mortgage amount within the time fixed for payment, he cannot afterwards bring a separate suit for sale upon his mortgage. 13 B. 567. See also 7 Lah. 40=27 Punj. L. R. 209=94 I. C. 27=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 162. Where in a suit by a prior mortgagee the puisne mortgagee is also impleaded as party and a decree is passed directing the sale of the property, the persons claiming under the parties to a previously puisne mortgagee is not debarred from enforcing his mortgage in a subsequent suit. 42 M. 90=35 M. L. J. 639; see also 1 Luck. 25. A prior mortgagee who is impleaded in a suit on a subsequent mortgage, but whose mortgage is not impugned has a paramount title outside the controversy of the suit and is not bound to set up his mortgage as a defence. 47 C. 662=47 I. A. 11=32 M. L. J. 424 (P. C.); 35 A. 111; 0 I. C. 158; 24 I. C. 42; 18 C. W. N. 1013; 58 I. C. 33; 1 Pat. L. T. 629. But where it is sought to displace his prior title and to postpone it to the title of the plaintiff, it is the duty of the prior mortgagee to prove his title and if he fails to do so, the decision in the suit will operate as res judicata against him. 2 P. 435=4 Pat. L. T. 108. Where in consequence of the failure of the prior mortgagee to claim priority under his mortgage, a decree for sale follows, in pursuance of which the properties are sold, he could not thereafter enforce the claim under his prior mortgage. 39 C. 527=22 M. L. J. 468; 34 A. 599=10 A. L. J. 244=19 C. W. N. 947. If being a party to a suit on a mortgage prior to his own, he omits to claim his right to redeem such prior mortgage, he cannot afterwards sue for that purpose on the mortgage he has omitted to plead. 24 A. 429 (P. C.); see also 31 C. 428; 20 A. 110 (F. B.); 26 M. 776. A subsequent mortgagee claiming title as owner of a portion in a prior mortgage suit may set up his title in a separate suit as the question cannot be raised in the former suit. 16 A. L. J. 639; 46 I. C. 559=40 A. 584. On this point see also 25 L. W. 238=38 M. L. T. 20=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 301=52 M. L. J. 52.

"SAME PARTIES.—A judgment not inter partes or in rem is not res judicata in a subsequent suit though it may be received as evidence. 14 I. C. 66. The matter decided in a previous suit is res judicata only as against those who had been parties to the previous suit. 33 A. 493=26 C. 428; 54 I. A. 238=54 Cal. 770=31 C. W. N. 1063=101 I. Appeal by several parties—Death of one pending appeal—Legal representative not brought on record—Common decision—Binding nature of, on legal representative. (1927) M. W. N. 426. A decision against a mortgagor is not binding on a mortgagee whose title under the mortgage arose prior to the suit deceased against the mortgagor. 40 B. 679=36 I. C. 443; so also in the case of a donee of land. 35 B. 297. A lessor cannot be considered as a party claiming under his own lessee and the dismissal of the latter's suit for ejectment does not bar the present suit for ejectment by the lessor. 29 Bom. L. As to how far, the decision in a suit by one reversioner for a declaration that an adoption or alienation by a Hindu widow is invalid, is binding on other reversioners, see 29 M. 390 (F. The dismissal of a suit by a Hindu father to set aside an alienation of a joint family properties or the ground of undue influence and fraud is no bar to a suit by the sons to set aside the alienation on the ground that it is not for a binding family purpose. 47 I. Explanation III.—The matter above referred to must in the former suit have been alleged by one party and either denied or admitted, expressly or impliedly, by the other.

45 = 25 C. W. N. 585 = 46 I. C. 162 = 3 Pat. L. J. 426. The principle does not apply to compromise or an award decree. 45 C. 590 = 34 M. L. J. 298 = 43 B. 249, 365 ; 38 C. 369 ; 29 A. 239. Where the compromise is due to collusion on the part of the widow a suit by the revisioner is not barred. 21 I. C. 605 = 11 A. L. J. 574. Where an alienee from a widow of the last owner gets a declaration of the validity of his alienation against the mother who is the next reversioner, the decision is binding on the male reversioners. 34 M. L. J. 719 = 42 I. C. 540. A Hindu widow cannot be deemed to represent her husband's estate so as to bind the reversionary heirs of her husband in relation to anything which she may have done herself to the prejudice of these reversionary heirs. 53 I. C. 761. A decree given against a Hindu widow on a ground personal to herself and on her admission in the prior litigation is not binding on the reversioner. 21 Bom. L. R. 837 = 43 B. 869. In a litigation which is personal to a widow, the widow does not represent the estate fully so as to bind reversioners. 42 B. 69 = 43 I. C. 233. As to when a litigation can be said personal to the widow, see 73 I. C. 284 = 18 L. W. 491. Successor of shebait when bound by decree against predecessor in shebaitship barred. 42 C. 244 = 27 M. L. DECREES AGAINST MINORS.—S. 11 does not bar a suit if plaintiffs who were minors were not adequately represented in a prior suit. 39 B. 29 = 22 I. C. 673. See also 6 P. 388 = 8 Pat. L. T. 730 = A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 271. A compromise involving a minor without the court's sanction does not operate as res judicata. 36 B. 53. Where the guardian ad litem is guilty of negligence, the decree will not operate as res judicata against the minor. 53 I. C. 412 ; 27 M. L. J. 486 = 26 I. C. 16 = 25 M. L. J. 379 = 21 I. Nor an omission to produce some evidence which existed and which might have been produced. 4 O. W. N. 748 = 105 I. C. 59 = A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 354. RES JUDICATA AS BETWEEN CO-DEFENDANTS.—The doctrine should be applied to co-defendants with great caution. 25 C. L. J. 322 = 21 C. W. N. 639 ; 51 I. C. 997. To constitute res judicata between co-defendants it is necessary there should be (1) conflict of interest, (2) adjudication should be necessary to give appropriate relief to plaintiff. 33 M. L. J. 740 ; 17 A. L. J. 225 ; 7 L. W. 104 ; 4 Bur. L. J. 250 = 1926 Rang. 75 ; 97 I. C. 205 = A. I. R. 1926 P. 478 ; 96 I. C. 406 = A. I. R. 1926 Sind. 282 ; 30 C. W. N. 415 = 94 I. C. 235 = 44 C. L. Where an adjudication between the defendants is necessary to give the appropriate relief to the plaintiff, the adjudication will be res judicata as between the defenddants, if there is a conflict of interests amongst them, and a judgment defining the real rights and obligations of the defendants inter se. 11 B. 216 ; 26 A. at p. 442 (F. Where in a suit brought against the mortgagor and mortgagee by a third party, a finding is given that the mortgagee is entitled to add the amount spent by him in defending his title, to his mortgage money and recover it when the mortgagor seeks to redeem the property, the finding constitutes res judicata in a subsequent suit for redemption. 1 Luck. 367 = 29 O. C. 336 = A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 281. A finding against a defendant who is not a necessary party is not res judicata. 25 B. 589. Where a defendant is ex parte, it cannot be said that there has been an active contest between him and another defendant who is not ex parte. 14 M. 324 ; 57 I. C. 252. Where in a partition suit, none of the parties claimed or resisted partition except the plaintiff, any questions regarding partition which might thereafter arise between defendants remains open to be decided. 47 B. 534. See also 96 I. C. 406 = A. I. R. 1926 Sind 282.

RES JUDICATA AS BETWEEN THE CO-PLAINTIFFS.—A finding to become res judicata as between co-plaintiffs must have been essential for giving relief against the defendant. 36 B. 207. It must be also on points actively contested between co-plaintiffs. 38 I. C. 213 ; (1917) M. W. N. 14. There must also be conflict of interest between persons ranged as co-plaintiffs. 70 I. C. 232 = 1921 Pat. 369. On the point see also 17 I. C. 205 = 14 Bom. L. R. 854. See also 21 M. 8 = 36 B. 207 = 31 M. L. J. 77.

LITIGATING UNDER THE SAME TITLE.—A person who litigates a suit as the representative of a deceased deft. and who afterwards files a suit in respect of the same subject-matter in his own right, does so in a different capacity and is not affected by the rule of res judicata. 17 C. 57 ; see also 5 M. 239. It cannot be said for the purpose of the section that a decision on a plea of ius tertii is a decision between the parties litigating under the same title when the ius tertii is put forward and actually relied on in a later case by the third person. 50 M. 877 = 26 L. W. 115 = 104 I. C. 468 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 844 = 53 M. L. J. 864. A decision against a person in his individual capacity does not bind his successor in the office of trustee of an endowment. 24 C. W. N. 690 = 47 C. 866 ; see also 69 I. C. 528. Where the plaintiff in a subsequent suit sues under a title different from the one he endeavoured to support in a prior suit, the decision in the prior suit will not be res judicata. 55 I. C. 767 = 31 C. L. J. 163. See 9 C. 945 = 19 L. W. 369 = 1924 Mad. 576. A suit under S. 92, C. P. Code, for a scheme is not barred by a prior suit by them in which the defendant was held to be hereditary trustee. 43 M. L. J. 448. Dismissal of a suit by the members of a community to assert their personal rights is no bar to a subsequent suit by them as representatives of COURT MUST BE COMPETENT TO TRY THE SUBSEQUENT SUIT.—The section applies only when the court whose decision is cited as res judicata is competent to try the second case. 1 A. L. J. 503. See also A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 1270; 91 I. C. 1026=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 603; 43 C. L. J. 606=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1053. The "Competent" Court is the Trial Court and it does not affect the question whether the decision is that of an appellate court. 44 A. 712=34 I. C. 581=21 M. L. J. 57=9 I. The fact that in the two suits appeals may lie in different courts does not affect the application of the rule. 1924 Lah. 644=32 A. 67. See also 99 I. C. 299=A. I. R. 1927 All. 189. Court which decided the former suit must have been competent to try and decide not only the particular matter in issue in the latter suit but also the latter suit itself in which the issue is subsequently raised. 45 B. 805=58 I. C. 576=51 I. C. 127=29 C. L. J. 237=29 C. 707 (P. C.). See also 35 C. 553; 25 A. 138; 25 C. 571; 35 C. 356. In determining the jurisdiction of the court which decided the former suit regard should be had to the jurisdiction on the date, not of the subsequent suit, but of the former suit. 19 C. W. See also 54 Cal. 114=44 C. L. J. 467=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 216. A plaintiff cannot evade the provisions of this section by joining several causes of action against the same defendant, in the subsequent suit and instituting it in a court of superior jurisdiction. 28 C. 72; 22 A. Explanation V.—Any relief claimed in the plaint, which is not expressly granted by the decree, shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have been refused.

Explanation VI.—Where persons litigate bona fide in respect of a public right or of a private right claimed in common for themselves and others, all persons interested in such right shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to claim under the persons so litigating.

12. Where a plaintiff is precluded by rules from instituting a further suit in respect of any particular cause of action, he shall not be entitled to institute a suit in respect of such cause of action in any Court to which this Code applies.

The decision of a Revenue Court on a question as to the existence of the relationship of landlord and tenant cannot operate as res judicata in subsequent suit in ejectment and for declaration of title, in a civil court. 30 C. 339=25 A. 138=26 A. 468=26 A. 601. But see 13 M. 287=33 A. 453=8 A. L. J. 341. See also 37 A. 280=13 A. L. J. 326=41 A. 319=49 I. C. 591.

EFFECT OF APPEAL.—When a judgment of a Court of First Instance is appealed against, it ceases to be res judicata, 11 A. 148; 61 (F.B.); 24 C. 616; 39 C. 925 and if the appellate Court declines to decide that issue and disposes of the case on other grounds, the judgment of the first Court on that issue is not a bar to a future suit. 6 B. 110; 5 C. L. J. 653. As to the effect of appeal with some only of the defendants as respondents, see A. I. R. 1927 (P. C.) 252=6 R. 29=55 I. A. 7=54 M. L. J. 88 (P.C.). When an appeal is preferred against the finding of an issue and the appeal is disposed of on other points, the finding of the lower court cannot operate as res judicata 27 I. C. 959=28 M. 338. Where in appeal, permission is granted to withdraw a suit with liberty to file a fresh suit, the order of the trial court on the merits ipso facto falls to the ground and hence cannot operate as res judicata. 74 I. C. 894; 40 M. 259=32 M. L. J. 477=37 I. C. 414=22 I. C. 218. Such an order though erroneous and unjustifiable is not void or one made without jurisdiction and consequently the prior suit is not res judicata. 31 C. L. J. 482=24 C. W. N. 723 (F. B.); 32 M. L. J. 434=40 I. C. 611. But the contrary has been held in 46 I. C. 322=3 Pat. L. J. 404; 44 C. 367=23 C. L. J. 489=33 I. C. 670=20 C. W. N. 1000. The dismissal or withdrawal of an appeal has the same effect as a decision on the merits and leaves the finding of the trial court final. 22 A. L. J. 365=78 I. C. 677. Where pending a Privy Council appeal the matter is compromised and the appeal withdrawn, the decree of the High Court becomes final. 6 M. 43. A decision in the previous suit is final though an appeal is pending against the same in the Privy Council. 4 Rang. 8=95 I. C. 104=A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 122.

CONNECTED SUITS.—Decrees in only one appeal against one preferred—Effect of A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 378; see also 102 I. C. 171=4 O. W.

CROSS-SUITS.—One decided after the other—Decision in the former is res judicata in the latter 96 I. C. 694. See also 8 Lah. 384=104 I. C. 849=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 289 (F. B.).

RECOVERING SUITS.—for rent, not res judicata as to amount of cess. A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 58.

PROOF AND PRACTICE.—The judgment pleaded in bar of the suit must be strictly proved. 31 M. L. J. 311=35 I. C. 421. The original pleadings and should be filed to sustain a plea of res judicata. 47 C. 662; 38 M. L. J. 424 (P. C.). Judgments which do not operate as res judicata may be used as evidence. See 22 I. A. 60; 24 I. A. 10; 12 A. 1; 25 M. 300 (F. B.); 28 C. 109.

Sec. 13. EFFECT OF FOREIGN JUDGMENT.—Every issue decided by the foreign court is not binding on the British Indian Court. The expression "matter directly adjudicated upon" in the section should be held to include the right set up by the plaintiff limited only to the particular relief granted or refused. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 327=108 I. C. 305=54 M. L. J. 479. Bar to a suit upon the same cause of action. But a suit upon it lies in a British Indian Court. 6 M. 273=7 M. 164; 24 B. 86; 22 C. 222 (P. C.). See also 13 B. 224. Has no force or authority as such in British India, but may give a cause of action for a suit to obtain the same relief in British India. 20 C. W. N. 1213=36 I. C. 710=31 M. L. J. 563 (P. C.). Section is not confined in its application to plaintiffs suing on foreign judgments. A defendant is equally entitled to non-suit the plaintiff on the basis of a foreign judgment. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 327=108 I. C. 305=54 M. L. J. 479. A Court which entertains a suit on a foreign judgment cannot enquire into the merits of the original action or the propriety of the decision. 46 A. 119=21 A. L. J. 890=1924 A. 161. See also 28 C. 641; 107 I. C. 352=47 C. L. J. 263 (P. C.). A foreign judgment cannot directly affect land situated in British India. 19 M. 527. As to the effect of adjudication of insolvency in a foreign Court, see 23 M. 458. The judgment of a foreign court obtained on a decree of a court in British India is no bar to the execution of the original decree. 7 C. 82. Where a judgment falls under any of the exceptions no judgment on them can be passed in a British Indian Court. 50 Mad. 261=100 I. C. 555=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 265=52 M. L. J. 240 (F. B.).

- (b) where it has not been given on the merits of the case ;
- (c) where it appears on the face of the proceedings to be founded on an incorrect view of international law or a refusal to recognise the law of British India in cases in which such law is applicable ;
- (d) where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained are opposed to natural justice ;
- (e) where it has been obtained by fraud ;
- (f) where it sustains a claim founded on a breach of any law in force in British India.

Cl. (a). JURISDICTION OF FOREIGN COURT.—A British executing Court has jurisdiction to see whether the foreign court had jurisdiction to pass the decree in question. Scope of Ss. 13 and 14 considered. 39 M. 24=27 M. L. J. 535 (F.B.) =40 B. 551=36 I. C. 363=18 B. L. R. 486. The debt must either be a subject of the foreign state or reside in it, at the date of suit where the claim against him is of a personal nature. 37 M. 163=24 M. L. J. 619 ; 22 C. 222 (P.C.) ; 26 C. 931 ; 24 B. 77 ; 20 M. 112 ; 32 M. 469. In actions relating to the recovery of the office of trusteeship the court of competent jurisdiction is the court of what may be called the domicile of the trust. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 327=108 I. C. 305=54 M. L. J. 479. Where the judgment is that of a Court in England and the defendant resides in British India, the decree is not a nullity. 28 C. 641. If the debt, submits to the jurisdiction of a foreign Court and takes the chance of a judgment in his favour, the decree is binding. 39 M. 733=30 M. L. J. 148=32 I. C. 597. See also 37 M. 163 ; 24 M. L. J. 619 ; 15 M. 82 ; 30 M. 292. But if he appears not voluntarily but under duress or coercive process, the decree cannot be binding. 39 M. 733=30 M. L. J. 148=32 I. C. 597. A submission to jurisdiction for saving property is not a voluntary submission. 39 M. 24=27 M. L. J. 535 (F.B.). What amounts to submission. See 22 N. L. R. 82=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 77. Execution of power of attorney whether submission. 92 I. C. 491=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 259. The mere engagement of a pleader to defend a suit, does not amount to submission to jurisdiction, where the pleader reports no instructions at the time of trial. 18 M. 327. But see also 40 M. 112 infra and 39 M. 95. The protest against jurisdiction must be made at an early stage of the proceedings. 7 M. 105. Where there has been contract to submit to the jurisdiction of the foreign Court, the decision is binding. 37 M. 163=24 M. L. J. 619. There is voluntary submission to jurisdiction when a party not subject applies for review of an order passed against him. 8 Lah. 54=102 I. C. 523=1927 Lah. 200. A service on the agent of a firm within jurisdiction cannot create jurisdiction against non-resident partners and the judgment against the firm does not amount to personal decree against them. 37 M. 163=24 M. L. J. 619. See also 20 M. 112=24 B. 77. But where there has been submission to the forum by the partners for many years, a decree against them can be personally enforced against them. Service 1927 notice on servant not sufficient 102 I. C. 523 affect. Lah. 200. Ibid. Irregularities which do not affect the jurisdiction of the Court do not vitiate a foreign judgment. 30 M. 292. Suit on foreign judgment. Plea of want of jurisdiction. Merits if open. 46 A. 119=79 I. C. 332=1924 All. 161.

Cl. (b). JUDGMENT ON THE MERITS.—See 92 I. C. 491=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 259. As to effect of foreign judgments not given on the merits. See 40 M. 112=44 I. A. 6=32 M. L. J. 35 ; 21 C. W. N. 351=25 C. L. J. 233=38 I. C. 683=5 L. W. 342 (P.C.). Affirming 27 I. C. 386=39 M. 95. But see 18 M. 327 supra. A judgment given against a defendant on his failure to answer interrogatories after striking out his defence is not a judgment "on the merits" and cannot be enforced in British India as such. (Ibid.) Absence of notice to defendants before a foreign judgment is passed, renders it void. 13 M. 496 ; 11 B. 241. As to irregular service of notice ; see 47 Mad. 877=47 M. L. J. 356. An ex parte judgment of a foreign Court would also be a judgment on the merits. 22 L. W. 820 ; 47 Mad. 877=45 M. L. J. 356. But see 4 Mad. 359. See also 25 A. L. J. 887=105 I. C. 186=A. I. R. 1927 A. 510. A judgment delivered against a party represented by a solicitor in London is one given on the merits. 50 I. C. 780=17 A. L. J. 501. As to which is a judgment on the merits, see 11 L. W. 609 ; 57 I. C. 742 ; 20 I. C. 971 ; 105 I. C. 186. Where no evidence was recorded there is no decision on merits. 26 L. W. 803 also 50 Mad. 261=100 I. C. 555=1927 Mad. 265=52 M. L. J. 240.

Cl. (c). MISTAKE OF LAW.—A mistake of law in a foreign judgment is no ground for vacating it. A wrong view as to burden of proof will not make a foreign judgment erroneous on the face of it. 41 M. 205=34 M. L. J. 295.

Cl. (d).—There must be something in the procedure anterior to the judgment which is repugnant to natural justice. 41 M. 205=34 M. L. J. 295. A decree pronounced in absence of a party in a personal action by a Court of a foreign State is null and void. 23 C. 22 (P.C.) ; 40 B. 551=36 I. C. 363=18 Bom. L. R. 486. A foreign judgment cannot be impeached on the ground that the suit could not have been brought in British India under the law of limitation. 35 I. C. 741 ; 2 M. 400 ; 4 M. 14. Where in a foreign judgment no guardian ad litem of a minor was appointed, where Legal Representative of a deceased defendant were not brought on record and where after decree a third application for review was allowed such a judgment is falls under clause (d). 8 Lah. 54=102 I. C. 523=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 200.

Cl. (e) : FRAUD.—Where a decision is obtained by fraud, it is not binding on the parties. 1922 Lah. 175 ; see also 15 B. 216.

14. [S. 13, Expl. VI.] The Court shall presume, upon the production of any document purporting to be a certified copy of a foreign judgment, that such judgment was pronounced by a Court of competent jurisdiction, unless the contrary appears on the record ; but such presumption may be displaced by proving want of jurisdiction.

16. [S. 16.] Subject to the pecuniary or other limitations prescribed by any law, suits—

- (a) for the recovery of immoveable property with or without rent or profits,
- (b) for the partition of immoveable property,
- (c) for foreclosure, sale or redemption in the case of a mortgage of or charge upon immoveable property,
- (d) for the determination of any other right to or interest in immoveable property,
- (e) for compensation for wrong to immoveable property,
- (f) for the recovery of moveable property actually under distraint or attachment,

Sec. 14. BURDEN OF PROOF.—In a suit on a foreign judgment, the onus is on the defendant to prove want of jurisdiction. 24 M. L. T. 214 = 49 I. C. 202. See also 13 Bom. at p. 227. See also 25 A. L. J. 887 = 108 I. C. 186 = 1927 A. 510.

Sec. 15. SCOPE AND OBJECT OF THE SECTION.—To prevent the Courts of higher grades from being overcrowded and not to oust the jurisdiction of the Courts of higher grades. 7 All. 230 ; see also 17 Cal. 155 ; 14 Mad. 183 ; 14 C. W. N. 322. Exercise of jurisdiction by a Court of higher grade than is competent to try it is a mere irregularity. 7 All. 230 ; 13 M. 145 ; 17 Cal. 155 ; 1925 Rang. 278. But exercise of jurisdiction by a Court of lower grade than is competent to try it is a nullity and the decree will be set aside. 17 Cal. 155 ; 38 Cal. 639.

JURISDICTION—PRINCIPLES REGULATING.—The plaintiff's valuation determines jurisdiction not only of the first Court, but of the Appellate Court. 8 Bom. 31 ; 13 All. 320 ; 16 All. 286. But where the plaintiff knowingly makes false statements, it is a fraud on the Court and the Court would have no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. 45 A. 193 = 71 I. C. 411 = 1923 A. 137 (2).

Sec. 16. [See Notes under S. 15].—This section does not apply to chartered High Courts, vide S. 120 applies to moveables. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 503. Transfer of place where subject-matter is situated to jurisdiction of different Court does not deprive Court which originally entertained the suit from jurisdiction to try it to its conclusion. 1925 Mad. 117 = 47 M. L. J. 448 = 87 I. C. 152.

Cl. (a).—A British Indian Court may not entertain a suit regarding immoveable property in a foreign jurisdiction but a suit for mesne profits may lie. 23 N. L. R. 170.

Cl. (b).—When in a suit for partition of moveable and immoveable property, the latter is situated outside the jurisdiction of the Court, leave can be granted to withdraw the suit, so far as it relates to it. 28 M. 216. A suit for dissolution of partnership does not fall under S. 16. 50 I. C. 156 = 17 A. L. J. 567.

Cl. (c).—Suit for a declaration that a mortgage in favour of the defendant is invalid, falls under the Section. 23 M. L. J. 679 = 17 I. C. 758. A suit to enforce a charge created on the land for Govt. revenue on it can be instituted at the place where the land is situated. 29 M. L. J. 639 = 31 I. C. 255 = 39 Mad. 795. A suit for maintenance with a prayer for a charge on property within jurisdiction of a Court against a subject of a Native State is cognizable by the Court. 40 Bom. 337 = 18 Bom. L. R. 67.

Cl. (d).—“ANY OTHER RIGHT TO OR INTEREST IN IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY”.—A suit for arrears of rent is not governed by this section but by S. 20 although the plaintiff's title to the property may incidentally come in question. 6 B. A suit for recovery of unpaid purchase money falls under the clause. 28 M. 227. A suit for specific performance either by the vendor or purchaser is not a suit for land or for the determination of any right to or interest in immoveable property. 36 I. C. 431 = 9 Bur. L. T. 119. Provided that a suit to obtain relief respecting, or compensation for wrong to, immoveable property held by or on behalf of the defendant may, where the relief sought can be entirely obtained through his personal obedience, be instituted either in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate, or in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain.

Explanation.—In this section “property” means property situate in British India.

Provided that, in respect of the value of the subject-matter of the suit, the entire claim is cognizable by such Court.

18. [S. 16-A.] (1) Where it is alleged to be uncertain within the local limits of the jurisdiction of which of two or more Courts any immoveable property is situate, any one of those Courts may, if satisfied that there is ground for the alleged uncertainty, record a statement to that effect and thereupon proceed to entertain and dispose of any suit relating to that property, and its decree in the suit shall have the same effect as if the property were situate within the local limits of its jurisdiction :

Place of institution of suit where local limits of jurisdiction of Courts are uncertain.

Provided that the suit is one with respect to which the Court is competent as regards the nature and value of the suit to exercise jurisdiction.

(2) Where a statement has not been recorded under sub-section (1), and an objection is taken before an appellate or revisional Court that a decree or order in a suit relating to such property was made by a Court not having jurisdiction where the property is situate, the appellate or revisional Court shall not allow the objection unless in its opinion there was, at the time of the institution of the suit, no reasonable ground for uncertainty as to the Court having jurisdiction with respect thereto and there has been a consequent failure of justice.

Sec. 20. SCOPE OF THE SECTION.—See 19 M. 477; 19 A. L. J. 696=65 I. C. 93=1922 A. 367. The C. P. CL. (a) : ACTUALLY AND VOLUNTARILY RESIDES, ETC.—Under S. 20 residence means permanent residence not a temporary or casual residence as traveller. 54 I. C. 65 (Bur.) (38 B. 125 fol.). But see 14 I. C. 573 (Mad.). See also 34 M. 257. A Govt. servant liable to be sent to various places but stationed in one place for several years cannot be said to have only a temporary residence there. 11 I. C. 851=4 Bur. L. T. 183. The mere fact that the defendants had their ancestral home within the jurisdiction of the Court would not give jurisdiction to it. 64 I. C. 688 (1)=19 A. L. J. 822; 38 I. C. 62=112 P. R. 1916.

CARRIES ON BUSINESS.—'Carrying on business' is used as distinct from personally working. It does not involve personal appearance or personal effort. It means having an interest in business, a voice in what is done, a share in the profit or loss and some control upon the business. 19 A. L. J. 696=65 I. C. 93=1922 A. 367. See also 4 M. 29; 96 I. C. 887=(1926) M. W. N. 592=A. I. R. 1926 P. C. 88. But where business is carried on by an agent, he should be an agent in the strict sense of the term. 23 M. 458. The employment of a mere commission agent without power to enter into contract is not enough. 8 B. H. C. 102; 12 B. 507; 8 C. 678; 73 I. C. 205=1923 Lah. 427. Whether mere letting of house property through an agent can be said to be carrying on business. 66 I. C. 865=1922 Lah. 164. The leave can be granted in appeal by the Dt. Judge. 35 I. C. 74=4 L. W. 411. Where leave to sue was sought for but refused, the suit cannot go on with the defendants on the record, when no permission was granted by the Court. 46 Bom. 229=23 Bom. L. R. 1086=1922 Bom. 152. A defendant may be taken to have "acquiesced in such institution" if he does not object. See 6 M. 349; or apply under S. 22; 30 B. 81. As to when and how objection to jurisdiction is to be taken. See secs. 21 and 22.

CL. (c) : CAUSE OF ACTION.—The expression means the bundle of facts which is necessary to be proved to entitle the plaintiff to a decree. 29 B. 368; 22 C. 451; 23 C. W. The cause of action must be antecedent to the institution of suit. 4 P. L. J. 387 (393). The term means the cause of action as it was at the time when the right to sue arose for the first time. Per Krishnan, J. in 31 M. L. J. 816=37 I. C. 681=5 L. W. 246. It has no relation to the defence set up or to the character of the relief prayed for in the plaint. 16 C. 98=15 I. A. 156 (P. C.); 46 I. The cause of action for a suit by the seller for balance of accounts due from the buyer arises at the place of consignment of the goods to the railway. 24 I. C. 423 = (1914) M. W. N. 803. CONTRACTS OF AGENCY.—Where goods are sent to place to be sold there and a sale takes place in contravention of instructions, a suit for damages will be at place A. 1924 Nag. 308. INSURANCE CONTRACTS.—In cases based on contract of insurance, the words 'cause of action' do not include the loss or damage of the property insured, which is merely a cause of the cause, the real cause of action being failure to pay money under the contract. 1 Rang. 231 = 76 I. C. 482 = 1924 Rang. 2. The death of the assured is a part of the cause of action and the plaintiff can maintain a suit on the insurance policy at the place of his death. 44 I. C. 694 = 22 C. W. A. 160; 9 B. 266; 8 B. 313; 9 B. H. C. 242; 38 C. 639. This exception cannot be so interpreted as to have a wider application than what is justified by the terms of the section. 27 C. W. N. 542=1923 Cal. 610. All conditions mentioned in the section must be fulfilled before decree can be set aside. 96 I. C. 544 (1). Objection should be at the earliest opportunity. 49 Mad. 74=95 I. C. 12=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 421=50 M. L. J. 161. S. 21 does not apply to a case where the objection is not one as to the place of suing, but one going to the nullity of the order of the first Court on the ground of want of jurisdiction and it can be taken at any time. The Court of a district subject to the C. P. Code has no jurisdiction under S. 17 to entertain a suit so far as it claims a decree for sale of mortgaged property situated in a scheduled district and the order for sale of the land can be set aside although no objection to the jurisdiction of the first Court was taken. 42 M. 813=46 I. Section cannot apply where the case is one of inherent incompetency of British Indian Court, the cause of action arising outside British India. 10 Law L. J. 87=9 Lah. W. N. 18. The section applies where there is want of territorial jurisdiction not merely at the institution of a suit but at any stage during the progress of it. 1925 Mad. 117=47 M. L. J. 448; 1924 Mad. 697=47 M. L. J. 192; 19 L. W. 16=1924 M. 457=46 M. L. J. 250. See also 87 I. C. 341=1924 Mad. 697. The principle underlying the section is that objection to jurisdiction may be waived and it applies as well to collateral proceedings as to proceedings in appeal or revision. 1925 Mad. 117=47 M. L. J. 448. A defendant who objects to the jurisdiction of a Court cannot be said to have acquiesced in the trial of the suit if he does not apply for a transfer. 27 I. C. 232=18 C. W. N. 1340. The section applies to all objections based on the alleged infringement of the provisions of Ss. 16 to 18, C. P. Code, as regards the institution of suits relating to immoveable property. A Court executing a decree could not entertain an objection on the ground of want of territorial jurisdiction. 43 M. 675=39 M. L. J. 203 (F. B.). See also 52 M. L. J. 605. Nor an appellate court when the objection has not been raised in the trial court. 93 I. C. 103. Nor can the decree be called in question in collateral proceedings between the same parties. 108 I. C. 321=7 Pat. 216. Neither S. 21 in terms, nor any principle underlying it is applicable to a remanded case being dealt with by a court other than the Court specified in the order of remand. 44 M. L. J. 238=72 I. C. 314=1923 Mad. 351.

FAILURE OF JUSTICE.—An objection as to territorial jurisdiction raised before Appellate Court must be determined on merits to ascertain whether there has been a failure of justice. 42 A. 74=17 A. L. J. 1034; 37 I. C. 114=93 P. R. 1916; 87 P. R. 1914=26 I. C. 543; 1922 Oudh 224; 19 A. L. J. 305=62 I. C. 399. Although the objection was taken at the earliest opportunity before issues were settled, the High Court refused to interfere in revision as there was no prejudice to the parties. 44 I. C. 694=22 C. W. N. 517. See also 2 Pat. L. R. 74=80 I. C. 745. Where there has been no failure of justice, the plea as to want of territorial jurisdiction cannot be entertained in appeal. 49 I. C. 441=55 I. C. 442; 36 I. C. 431=9 Bur. L. T. 119; 66 I. C. 865=1922 Lah. 164. The question cannot be gone into in second appeal unless it was raised at the earliest possible moment in the course of the suit. 48 I. C. 465; 41 I. C. 161.

APPLICABILITY OF SECTION TO EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.—An execution sale after confirmation cannot be avoided on the ground that the Court had no territorial jurisdiction over the property. 18 I. C. 498=24 M. L. J. 70 See also 43 M. 675=39 M. L. J. 203 (F. B.); 1924 Mad. 457=46 M. L. J. 250. The rule of territorial jurisdiction does not apply to execution of mortgage decrees. 49 Mad. 74=95 I. C. 12=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 421=50 M. L. J. 161.

OBJECTION TO JURISDICTION—PROCEDURE.—If the plea as to objection is taken in the original proceedings at any stage thereof, the Court should return the plaint for proper presentation. The question of delay mentioned in S. 21 is only applicable to appeals and revisions, 10 I. C. 980=4 S. L. R. 264. See also 53 I. C. 331; 8 B. 313; 9 B. 266; 23 B. 679; 10 M. 211; 93 I. C. 103.

Sec. 22. SCOPE AND APPLICABILITY OF THE SECTION.—The provisions of the section are mandatory. An application for transfer cannot be maintained after the settlement of issues. 78 I. C. 608; 11 P. R. 1917=35 I. C. 616=16 P. L. R. 1917; 7 Lah. L. J. 93=88 I. C. 531=26 Punj. L. R. 465=1925 Lah. 322; 1025 Lah. 175. The provision as to notice is mandatory. 107 I. C. 593. Both Courts must have jurisdiction in order that an application can be made under S. 22 or S. 23. Where jurisdiction is denied, no application for transfer can be made. 24 I. C. 318=12 A. L. J. 896; 71 I. C. 268=1923 Lah. 288 (2); 12 A. L. J. 986; 48 I. C. 105=21 O. C. 217. In an application for transfer under Ss. 22 and 23, the question of want of jurisdiction of the trying Court cannot be raised. 34 I. C. 707; 1 Pat. L. T. 277=56 I. C. 920.

GROUND FORS FOR TRANSFER.—The plaintiff has always a right to choose his forum. The jurisdiction conferred by Ss. 22 and 23 must be exercised very cautiously and only when a clear cause has been shown. The mere fact that it would add to the defendant's convenience is no ground for transferring a case. 73 I.C. 860. See also 13 B. 178; 69 I. C. 772; 69 I. C. 239; 54 I. C. 935 = 167 P.R. 1919; 34 I.C. 686; 25 I. C. 874; 24 I. C. 707; 57 I.C. 649; 17 A.L.J. 371 = 41 A. 381; 32 I.C. 613 = 14 A.L.J. 242; A.I.R. 1928 Lah. 183; 1927 Lah. 14; 106 I. C. 869 = A.I.R. 1928 Lah. 159. Convenience to the parties and witnesses would be a good ground for transfer. 10 O. & A. L.R. 108 = 11 O.L. J. 377 = 1924 Oudh 410. A suit can be transferred only upon two grounds, viz.: (a) that there will not be an impartial trial by the trying Court, or (b) that there is a manifest preponderance of convenience to the petitioner, if the suit is transferred to the other Court. 56 I. C. 920 = 1920 Pat. 235. See also (1927) M. W. N. 607 = 39 M.L.T. 401; 4 O.W.N. 1114; 97 I. C. 390. The apprehension that there will not be an impartial trial must be such as a reasonable man might reasonably be expected to have. 1923 Lah. 564. The fact that a Judge has decided a point of law arising in a case analogous to the case is not a good ground for transferring the case from his file. 67 I.C. 228 = 1922 Lah. 369; 15 I. C. 569. Observations injudiciously and thoughtlessly made by the Judge, not a sufficient ground for transfer. 29 I. C. 29. Balance of convenience may be considered in deciding an application for transfer. 72 I. C. 592 = 1923 Lah. 383; 44 A. 278 = 20 A.L.J. 115 = 1922 All. 65; 9 O. L. J. 413 = 69 I. C. 717. An order of transfer passed without regard to the convenience of the parties and without hearing the other party is illegal. 33 I.C. 797 = 23 C. L. J. 295. On this section see also 85 I. C. 852 = 6 Pat. L. T. 540.

Sec. 23. 'SUBORDINATE,' MEANING OF.—The Oudh Chief Court is a High Court. 4 O. W. N. 1114. The Judge sitting on the Original Side is subordinate to the Appellate Side of the High Court for the purpose of transfer applications. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 183; 1923 Rang. 22 = 1 Bur. L. Sec. 23 does not apply to a Court not subordinate to the High Court. Therefore a suit pending on the Original Side of a High Court cannot be transferred under S. 23. 27 I. C.

455 = 27 M.L.J. 645. But see also 1923 Rang. 22 supra. The High Court may order a transfer of a suit pending in a Court subordinate to it to a Court under a different High Court where another suit between the same parties is pending. 35 C. 541. See also 51 Bom. 26 = 100 I. C. 154 = 1927 Bom. 79, but see also 20 I. C. 758. Ss. 22 and 23 do not provide for the transfer of a case from a Court subordinate to one High Court to the Original Side of another Court. 69 I. C. 772. See also 57 I. C. 649 = 1 Pat. L. T. 389.

Sec. 24. JURISDICTION.—S. 24 is exhaustive of the judicial power to transfer suits and no Court has jurisdiction to transfer a suit from one Court to another unless both Courts are subordinate to it. This power is entirely different in character and legal effect from the one in case of an order returning the plaint for presentation in proper Court. 40 I. C. 393 = 13 N. L. R. 81. A suit instituted in a Court not competent to try it cannot be transferred to another Court under S. 24. 53 I. C. 892 = 1919 Pat. 409; 9 A. 191 = 13 I. A. 134. "Suit" includes execution application. APPLICATION FOR TRANSFER.—Where there are numerous suits pending, which are sought to be transferred, an application should be made

(a) transfèr any suit, appeal or other proceeding pending before it for trial or disposal to any Court subordinate to it and competent to try or dispose of the same, or

(b) withdraw any suit, appeal or other proceeding pending in any Court subordinate to it, and

(i) try or dispose of the same ; or

(ii) transfer the same for trial or disposal to any Court subordinate to it and competent to try or dispose of the same ; or

(iii) retransfer the same for trial or disposal to the Court from which it was withdrawn.

(2) Where any suit or proceeding has been transferred or withdrawn under sub-section (1), the Court which thereafter tries such suit may, subject to any special directions in the case of an order of transfer, either retry it or proceed from the point at which it was transferred or withdrawn.

(3) For the purposes of this section, Courts of Additional and Assistant Judges shall be deemed to be subordinate to the District Court.

(4) The Court trying any suit transferred or withdrawn under this section from a Court of Small Causes shall, for the purposes of such suit, be deemed to be a Court of Small Causes.

pending in a High Court presided over by a single Judge objects to its being heard by him and the Judge is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for the objection, he shall make a report to the Governor-General in Council, who may, by notification in the Gazette of India, transfer such suit, appeal or proceeding to any other High Court.

separately in respect of each suit. 49 I. C. 208 = 4 Pat. L. J. 13.

GROUND OFS OF TRANSFER.—Justifying circumstances. See 31 C.W.N. 332. That defendant is an influential man of the locality is no ground. 98 I.C. 859=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 80 (1). Convenience of parties, Limitation of property and counsel engaged at heavy fees are grounds to be considered. 101 I. C. 723=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 219.

NOTICE.—Notice should be issued to the parties before a Court passes an order of transfer otherwise than of its own motion. 78 I. C. 614 (1) ; 58 I.C. 560=18 A. L. J. 351 ; 40 I. C. 111 ; 42 I. Want of notice does not render the order of transfer void. 13 M. 211 but see 1926 All. 17.

POWERS OF A DT. JUDGE.—A Dt. Judge can transfer a case pending before him to the Addl. Dt. Judge. 28 P. W. R. 1912=13 I. C. 6=14 P. L. R. 1912. A Dt. Judge cannot transfer a case to a Court not competent for any reason to try the same. 5 P. L. T. 588=1920 Pat. 274=57 I. C. 522=1 P. L. T. 637. See also 32 I. C. 788 ; 37 Cal. 574. Nor can he transfer a suit instituted in a Court not competent to try it, so as to confer jurisdiction upon another Court. 37 C. 574. Under S. 24, a Dt. Court to which a case has been remanded by the High Court has power to transfer it to the Court of the Addl. Dt. Judge, unless the terms of the High Court's order expressly limited those powers. 44 A. 211=20 A. L. J. 44=66 I. C. 317=1922 All. 35 ; 12 A. L. J. 1094=25 I. C. 141. (Transfer to Subordinate Judge.) Judge transfers a case remanded by the High Court to a Sub-Judge who disposes of it without objection being taken as to his jurisdiction, the irregularity would not affect the decision on its merits. Transfer of case from Munsif to Sub-Judge who acts as Small Cause Court is within the Dt. Judge's power, though a party is thereby deprived of his right of appeal. 36 I. C. 881. The Dt. Court can withdraw a transmitted execution proceeding to its own file and dispose of it. 39 M. 485=29 I. C. 119=29 M. L. J. 712. Where an Appellate Court remands a suit for fresh disposal on the merits by the Court which first decided it, the Dt. Judge can transfer it to his file and decide it. 19 I. C. 552=9 N. L. R. 40. (21 A. 230 dist.)

DELEGATION OF POWERS BY THE DT. JUDGE.—The power of transfer under S. 24 can be delegated by the Dt. Judge but when so delegated it must be exercised in accordance with law. It can only be exercised in cases pending in a Court subordinate to the Court exercising the power. 52 I. C. 352. Ss. 37 and 44 of the Punjab Courts Act provide for such a delegation in the Punjab. 40 I. C. 111=33 P. W. R. 1917.

GROUND OFS OF TRANSFER.—Prejudice against pleader if ground for transfer, see 91 I. C. 559=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 359.

COURT OF SMALL CAUSES.—A Court of Small Causes under S. 24 (4) includes Courts vested with Small Cause jurisdiction as well as the Special Courts constituted under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. 39 All. 214=15 A. Provided that the Courts issuing such summonses have been established or continued by the authority of the Governor-General in Council, or that the Governor-General in Council has, by notification in the Gazette of India, declared the provisions of this section to apply to such Courts.

30. Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, the Court may, at any time, either of its own motion or on the application of any party,— decrees passed by the latter Courts in such cases are appealable. 54 I. C. 435 ; 50 I. C. 648 = 1 U. P. L. R. (H.C.) 27. As to grounds for transfer, see notes under S. 22.

[S. 209.] (1) Where and in so far as a decree is for the payment of money, the Court may, in the decree, order interest at such rate as the Court deems reasonable to be paid on the principal sum adjudged, from the date of the suit to the date of the decree, in addition to any interest adjudged on such principal sum for any period prior

Sec. 33.—Judgment is not legal where case transferred after hearing arguments but decided without hearing fresh arguments. 57 I. C. 34. Omission or neglect to draw up a decree following judgment does not deprive the party of his right to appeal. 52 I. C. 479=66 P. R. 1919.

Sec. 34.—Decree for money must be construed as including a claim to unliquidated damages. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1021=51 M. L. J. 243. A decree for sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge is not a decree for the payment of money. 24 C. 766; 21 M. 364; 19 A. 174; 29 M. 65. Section does not apply where the decree is not for a definite sum of money, but only for partition and accounts. 49 Bom. 282; 94 I. C. 686=A. I. R. 1925 Bom. 406.

DISCRETION AS TO INTEREST.—The Court has a discretion as to the rate of interest to be awarded after the institution till judgment and where the Courts below had awarded 8 per cent. the Privy Council refused to interfere. 43 M. C. 658; 96 I. C. 310. It is a judicial discretion to be exercised on proper judicial grounds. 26 C. 39 (P. C.). Though award of interest pending suit is discretionary, it should not be refused in the absence of proper reasons. 50 I. C. 862=23 C. W. N. 336. See also 106 I. C. 270. The Court must award interest generally at the contract rate, unless it would be inequitable to do so in which case it must give reasons. 36 A. 220=23 I. C. 88=12 A. L. J. 283; 3 A. 91; 28 I. C. 429 (Mad.). Mere hardship is no ground for disallowing the contract rate unless there is evidence of undue advantage taken by lender. 60 I. C. 733; 60 I. C. 693. The Court has a discretion to award interest on damages for breach of contract from the date of suit up to the date of decree. 39 C. L. J. 77=80 I. C. 87=1924 Cal. 637. See also 27 Bom. L. C. 806=2 Lah. 256. Interest at 6 per cent. will be allowed in a restitution suit from the date of withdrawal by decree-holder till date of repayment to judgment-debtor. 21 C. W. N. 564. Interest awarded under this section is no part of the claim or relief granted, as in the case of mesne profits. 33 C. 1232. No additional Court-fee is required on account of the claim for interest from the date of suit until realization.

Sub-Sec. (2).—Where a decree is silent with respect to interest, the Court must be deemed to have refused it. 45 M. L. J. 687. As to the object of the rule, see 106 I. C. 270.

DAMDUPAT.—The rule of damdupat is not applicable after suit even in cases where it is otherwise applicable. 40 C. 710; 22 B. 86; 33 C. 1869; 78 I. C. 632; 1925 Nag. 193. As regards application of section to mortgage, see O. 34, R. 2.

INTEREST IN MORTGAGE DECREES.—The date referred to in O. 34, R. 2 is the date fixed by Court for payment of money. The Court must ascertain the amount of interest due on the mortgage up to that date according to the contract rate, unless the Court, for some legal reason, sees fit to decrease that rate. 36 A. 220=12 A. The date cannot be extended by an unsuccessful appeal by the mortgagor or mortgagee. 17 C. L. J. 120=18 I. C. 747=17 C. W. N. 457. The Appellate Court can extend time for redemption and the mortgagee would be entitled to interest at the contract rate up to the extended date. 29 I. C. 289. Where there is no express stipulation for the payment of interest after the due date, the mortgagee would be entitled to damages for non-payment of the debt on the date. The measure of damages would be prima facie but not necessarily the contract rate. 4 Lah. 406=75 I. C. 375=1923 Lah. 632. [17 A. 511 (P. C.), 3 Lah. 200 (F. B.) ref.] See also 44 A. 772=20 A. to the institution of the suit, with further interest at such rate as the Court sonable on the aggregate sum so adjudged, from the date of the decree to payment, or to such earlier date as the Court thinks fit.

(2) Where such a decree is silent with respect to the payment of furth on such aggregate sum as aforesaid from the date of the decree to the date ment or other earlier date, the Court shall be deemed to have refused such and a separate suit therefor shall not lie.

COSTS.

35. (1) Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, and to the provisions of any law for the time being in force, the costs of and incident to all suits shall be in the discretion

The fact that the Court has no jurisdiction to try the suit shall be no bar to the exercise of such powers.

Sec. 35.—DISCRETION OF THE COURT AS TO COSTS.—Costs are in the discretion of the Judge, a judicial discretion to be exercised on general principles, not arbitrarily. 27 M. 341; 7 C. W. N. 647; 58 I. C. 421=24 C. W. N. 352; 90 I. C. 577. See also A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 35; 5 O. W. N. 35. Rule as to apportionment of costs in England and India, see 4 Pat. 510=6 P. L. T. 634=87 I. C. 849=1925 Pat. 625. See also 88 I. C. 141. As a rule costs follow the event. It should be awarded to the successful party. It is not necessary that he should be wholly successful, and substantial success is enough. 18 B. 474; 3 C. 473; 24 C. W. N. 352; 40 C. L. J. 504=1925 Cal. 297; 1923 Lah. 513 (2); A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 345=54 M. L. J. 603; 1923 Lah. 302 (1). See also 95 I. C. 446 (2). A party succeeding on a particular issue must ordinarily get his costs of that issue unless there is special reason to deprive him of it or the issues are closely and inseparably connected with each other. 45 I. C. 738=27 C. L. J. 78. In a proper case the Court may deprive the successful party of costs. 30 C. 213; 30 I. A. 86=25 A. 287; 31 C. 332 (P. C.); or even saddle him with costs of the other party. 9 C. W. N. 844; 21 C. W. N. 1137 (P. C.); 40 A. 558. But if it does so, it must give reasons in writing. 30 C. 536. Where both parties make false allegations costs may not be allowed or disallowed to either side. 31 I. C. 862. A successful appellant may not get his costs, because his case was not properly represented in the lower Court. 104 I. C. 325. In deciding the question of costs, a Court is entitled to consider not merely the conduct of the parties in the actual litigation but also matters which led up to the litigation. 13 C. L. C.); for failure to prove exclusive title set up by successful party. 19 C. 253 (P. C.). Costs were awarded to the respondent against the successful appellants in view of special difficulties in construction of will and nature of contentions. 38 B. 399=26 M. L. J. 647 (P. C.). Where the suit has been caused by the conduct of the returning officer, each party may be ordered to bear his own costs. 24 C. W. N. 189=53 I. C. 741=30 C. L. J. 270. Where the litigation was due to vagueness of testamentary directions, costs of all parties should come out of testator's estate. 19 S. L. R. 220. The fact that questions of law raised are not easy of solution is not a good ground for not allowing the costs of a successful litigant. 23 M. L. J. 638=17 I. C. 609. Where alternative relief was claimed against either of two defendants who were disputing their liability, the unsuccessful defendant should be made to bear the costs of the successful defendant. 42 I. C. 636. The Court can disallow costs where suit was based on a state of law, which since has been overruled. 43 M. 61=37 M. L. J. 271; 47 B. 559=1923 B. 206. District Court can decide even after an appeal has been disposed of by High Court, whether its own order of taxation is right or not. 28 Bom. L. R. 550=95 I. C. 515=A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 367.

COSTS IN MORTGAGE SUITS.—A mortgagor is ordinarily entitled to costs in a redemption suit unless he forfeits his right by laches. 38 I. C. 655. A mortgagee is ordinarily entitled to costs of suit, unless he is guilty of grave misconduct. 19 I. C. 474. Or he denies the mortgagor's right to redeem. 91 I. C. 943=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 405. (1) If in any suit or other proceeding, not being an appeal, any party objects to the claim or defence on the ground that the claim or defence or any part of it is, as against the objector, false or vexatious to the knowledge of the party by whom it has been put forward, and if thereafter, as Compensatory costs in respect of false or vexatious claims or defences.

COSTS IN PARTITION SUITS.—Costs in a partition suit up to the preliminary decree ought not to be given to plaintiff but to be borne by all the parties. 42 C. 451=19 C. W. N. 233; 11 L. W. 5.

COSTS IN A REPRESENTATIVE SUIT.—See 42 B. 566=42 I. C. 9; 60 I. C. 362. Costs of all parties in a scheme suit may be directed to be paid out of the trust funds. 17 I. C. 441=25 M. L. J. 199 (P. C.). Trustees ought to have their costs out of the trust estate in legal proceedings concerning the estate, unless they have unreasonably carried on or resisted such proceedings. 39 I. C. 388=21 C. W. N. 339. Where a litigation is caused by the language of a will, its costs should be borne by the estate and not by the trustees. 39 M. 476=29 I. C. 203; 24 I. C. 96. Costs in pre-emption suits. See 71 P. R. 1915=30 I. C. 517. Costs of intervenor in administration proceedings. See 24 C. W. N. 888=48 C. 352. In an unsuccessful litigation, the Secretary of State is liable to pay costs like any other unsuccessful party. 5 Pat. L. J. 321=56 I. C. 507.

PRACTICE AS TO AWARD OF COSTS.—Excessive costs should not be allowed where a plaint is rejected at an early stage. 35 P. R. 1914=25 I. C. 435. The Court-fee paid on part of the claim subsequently withdrawn cannot be recovered. 23 I. C. 231. Withdrawal of suit—Court's discretion to award costs is not restricted by the use of the word "shall" in O. 23, R. 1. 2 O. W. N. 901=1925 Oudh 699. Where the appellate decree is silent as to costs, the decree of the trial Court is the guide to determine the costs. 62 I. C. 299=13 Bur. L. T. 173. Travelling expenses of witnesses can be recovered. 67 I. C. 277=1923 Cal. 315 (1). On a question of pleaders' fees, the Court will not interfere with the opinion of the Taxing Master unless it is wrong on principle or very clearly wrong in detail. 63 I. C. 37=45 B. 1234. The words "abide the result" are equivalent to the words "costs in the cause." 39 M. 476=28 M. L. J. 411. Order for costs in an interlocutory application to be costs in the cause, cannot be varied by the trial Judge. 28 Bom. L. R. 1283=97 I. C. 133=50 Bom. 430=A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 596. As to costs incurred before the arbitrator or umpire, see A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 370 (2)=54 M. L. J. 580.

SEPARATE SETS OF COSTS.—Different sets of costs can be awarded when there are several defendants raising various defences. 31 I. C. 312= (1915) M. W. N. 1021. When the suit of a reversioner against various alienees is decreed with costs, each set of defendants are liable only for the costs proportionate to their interest. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 16. Where plaintiff's suit is dismissed each defendant is entitled to costs taxed on the basis of the suit valuation and not on the basis of what each defendant's interest might be in the suit itself. 27 Bom. L. R. 692=89 I. C. 211=1925 Bom. 432. When a defence is common and not separate only one set of costs should be awarded. 9 A. 205; 4 M. L. J. 281. See also 11 Bom. L. R. 158 (P. C.). Award of costs on abatement of suit, see 37 M. L. J. 596=43 M. 284; 22 M. L. J. 439.

COURT'S DISCRETION TO AWARD INTEREST ON COSTS.—The power to award interest on costs is discretionary and can be inserted after judgment while framing the decree. 35 I. C. 218; but see also 60 I. C. 345. Where a decree does not allow interest on costs, it cannot be allowed in execution. 6 Bom. L. R. Ap. 33; 3 C. 351.

NO SEPARATE SUIT FOR COSTS.—No separate suit for costs is maintainable when the Court has made no order as to costs. 2 B. 360.

APPEAL AS TO ORDER FOR COSTS.—Appeal does not lie against an order relating merely to costs but an appeal would lie when such costs are incidental to a judgment. 26 M. L. J. 356. See also 27 Bom. L. R. 692=89 I. C. 211=1925 Bom. 432 (Appeal lies from order directing how costs are to be taxed). An appeal raising only a question of costs is incompetent where it does not contain a question of law. 47 C. 67; 39 I. C. 388=21 C. W. N. 339. An Appellate Court will interfere when there is a patently erroneous order. 26 M. L. J. 356. Appellate Court can interfere if satisfied that the discretion has not been judicially exercised by the Lower Court. 40 A. 558. See also 45 I. C. 738=27 C. L. J. 78; 44 I. C. 870=22 C. W. N. 372; 20 C. W. N. 929=36 I. C. 655; also where there has been a misapprehension of facts and violation of principle. 42 B. 327. See also 24 C. W. N. 352; 16 B. 676. Second appeal lies on a question of costs only where an important question of principle has been decided. 41 A. 254; 35 C. L. J. 156; 46 I. C. 544; 12 C. 197; 12 C. 171. As to revision by High Court, see 24 M. L. J. 212.

PRIVY COUNCIL COSTS.—Where respondent lodged a case but did not appear at the hearing and the appeal was dismissed with costs, the costs should be paid to respondent. 41 C. L. J. 450=27 Bom. L. R. 853=49 M. L. J. 238 (P. C.). Appeal to Privy Council presented but not prosecuted—Respondent entitled to costs on petition for leave to appeal. 27 Bom. L. R. 699=89 I. C. 213=1925 Bom. 471.

Sec. 35-A.—1 Sec. 35-A was added by Act IX of 1922 which under S. 1 (2) thereof may, against the objector, such claim or defence is disallowed, abandoned or withdrawn in whole or in part, the Court, if the objection has been taken at the earliest opportunity and if it is satisfied of the justice thereof, may, after recording its reasons for holding such claim or defence to be false or vexatious, make an order for the payment to the objector, by the party by whom such claim or defence has been put forward, of costs by way of compensation.

(2) No Court shall make any such order for the payment of an amount exceeding one thousand rupees or exceeding the limits of its pecuniary jurisdiction, whichever amount is less :

Provided that where the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of any Court exercising the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887, and not being a Court constituted under that Act, are less than two hundred and fifty rupees, the High Court may empower such Court to award as costs under this section any amount not exceeding two hundred and fifty rupees and not exceeding those limits by more than one hundred rupees :

Provided, further, that the High Court may limit the amount which any Court or class of Courts is empowered to award as costs under this section.

(3) No person against whom an order has been made under this section shall, by reason thereof, be exempted from any criminal liability in respect of any claim or defence made by him.

(4) The amount of any compensation awarded under this section in respect of a false or vexatious claim or defence shall be taken into account in any subsequent suit for damages or compensation in respect of such claim or defence.]

EXECUTION.

General.

36. The provisions of this Code relating to the execution of decrees shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply to the execution of orders.

Application to orders.

37. [S. 649.] The expression "Court which passed a decree," or words to that effect, shall, in relation to the execution of decrees, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, be deemed to include,—

Definition of Court which passed a decree.

with the previous sanction of Governor-General in Council, be brought into force in any province by the Local Government on any specified day. Compensation under section can be awarded only after objection by the opposite party. 94 I. C. 78 (2) = A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 472 (2). See also 94 I. C. 790 = A. I. R. 1926 All. 554.

Sec. 36.—Order under O. 21, R. 11 (2) can be executed as if it were a decree. 2 Rang. 673 = 1925 Rang. 189.

Sec. 37. SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF THE SECTION.—Applies to cases where the territorial jurisdiction of the Court is changed, as also to cases where the status of the parties is changed and the ceasing of the jurisdiction is due to either of these causes. 17 B. 162. See also 49 Mad. 746 = 95 I. C. 12 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 421 = 50 M. L. J. 161 ; 7 Pat. L. T. 333 = 92 I. C. 900 = A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 209. On this section, see also 41 C.L.J. 166 ; 1925 Cal. 679 ; 4 Pat. 688. The power to execute a decree is vested in the Court which passed the decree. But in the event of the Court ceasing to exercise jurisdiction, it would be exercised by the Court which would have power to try the suit at the time when the application was filed. 49 I. C. 958 (Pat.) ; 48 I. C. 107 = 3 Pat. L. J. 435. Though a defendant did not object to jurisdiction at the time of the final decree he could do so in execution. 50 Mad. 882 = 102 I. C. 245 = 1927 Mad. 627 = 52 M. L. J. 605. The section is permissive. If after a Court has passed a decree, the local jurisdiction in respect of the suit is transferred to some other Court, the Court which passed the decree may still execute it. 28 C. 238 ; 35 C. 974 ; 25 C. 315. See also the Full Bench decision in 42 M. 821 = 37 M. L. J. 284, overruling 37 M. 462 = 26 M. L. J. 189 and other earlier Madras decisions. Where subsequent to the passing of a money decree the area is transferred from the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree to that of another Court, the latter Court can execute the decree. 45 M. L. J. 210 = 1924 Mad. 32. When the Court which passed a mortgage-decree is in existence, no other Court has jurisdiction to execute the decree, though the hypotheca may be within its jurisdiction unless and until the decree was transferred to it for execution. 42 M. 461 = 36 M. L. J. 199. A Court does not cease to be Court which passed the decree merely by reason that the headquarters of such Court are removed to another place or merely because the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court are altered. 6 C. 513.

(a) where the decree to be executed has been passed in the exercise of appellate jurisdiction, the Court of first instance, and

(b) where the Court of first instance has ceased to exist or to have jurisdiction to execute it, the Court which, if the suit wherein the decree was passed was instituted at the time of making the application for the execution of the decree, would have jurisdiction to try such suit.

Courts by which decrees may be executed.

Court by which decree may be executed.

38. [S. 223, 1st para.] A decree may be executed either by the Court which passed it, or by the Court to which it is sent for execution.

39. [S. 223.] (1) The Court which passed a decree may, on the application of the decree-holder, send it for execution to another Court,—

Transfer of decree.

(a) if the person against whom the decree is passed actually and voluntarily resides or carries on business, or personally works for gain, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such other Court, or

(b) if such person has not property within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree sufficient to satisfy such decree and has property within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such other Court, or

TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION.—Territorial jurisdiction though not necessary for the trial of suits is necessary for the executing Court apart from the special and exceptional procedure by precept. 31 M. L. J. 750 = 43 I. C. 79. On this section, see 80 I. C. 901 = 1925 Pat. 139. Particular execution application may be transferred. 47 All. 57 = 1925 All. 276. Territorial jurisdiction is a condition precedent to the execution of a decree. The Court having jurisdiction over the property which is the subject-matter of the suit in which the decree is passed has alone the power to execute the decree. 48 I. C. 107 = 3 Pat. L. J. 435 ; 6 C. 201 ; 35 I. C. 96 ; 31 M. L. J. 22. [But see also the cases cited under S. 37 as to loss of territorial jurisdiction after the passing of decree.] So the decree must be transferred to the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property sought to be attached is for the time being. 4 Pat. L. J. 141. See also 50 M. 882 = 103 I. C. 245 = (1927) M. W. N. 282 = 25 L. W. 671 = 38 M. L. T. 351 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 627 = 52 M. L. J. 605. But in cases of decrees for sale of mortgage property, an exception has been recognised and a Court can order sale of properties comprised in the mortgage though some of them are situated in another district. 80 I. Sec. 39. APPLICATION OF THIS SECTION.—On this section, see 5 P. 714. To make this section applicable, it is necessary that the provisions of the Code should regulate the procedure of both the Courts. 34 C. 576. An order transmitting a decree for execution is one of a quasi administrative nature. 78 I. C. 1001. An order transferring a decree for execution should not be made so as to evade the provision of the Lim. Act or to validate an invalid application. 42 M. 461 = 36 M. L. J. 199. Transfer of a portion of a decree to another

(d) if the Court which passed the decree considers for any other reason, which it shall record in writing, that the decree should be executed by such other Court.

(2) The Court which passed a decree may of its own motion send it for execution to any subordinate Court of competent jurisdiction.

40. Where a decree is sent for execution in another province, it shall be sent to such Court and executed in such manner as may be prescribed by rules in force in that province.

A court has no power to take away the decree-holder's legal right to execute his decree in such manner as he chooses, having regard to his facilities and convenience. 1 O. W. N. 409. A District Munsif receiving by transfer a decree of a Village Court for execution or withdrawing execution of a decree to his own file cannot transfer the decree to another District Munsif's Court. 46 M. 734=44 M. L. J. 643. Application for transfer of a decree for execution is a step-in-aid. 33 I. C. 523=14 A. L. J. 415. But is not an execution application within the meaning of O. 21, R. 10. 94 I. C. 482=A. I. R. 1926 All. 473. A decree-holder need not make a second application for execution to the Court to which a decree has been transferred, when he has already made one application to the Court transferring the decree. 2 P. 909=1924 Pat. 120. Questions regarding who are the legal representatives and plea of limitation, if raised, should be decided before transfer. (1926) M. W. N. 120=91 I. C. 1056=23 L. W. 92=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 411.

PECUNIARY JURISDICTION OF THE COURT TO WHICH A DECREE IS SENT.—The Court to which a decree is sent must be one having jurisdiction and competent to execute the decree, having regard to the amount or the value of the subject-matter. 16 C. 457 at 465; 12 B. 155. See also S. 6. Court to which the decree is transferred must be one having pecuniary jurisdiction to try the suit in which the decree was passed. The provision in sub-Sec. (2) that the Court may of its own motion transfer a decree to a subordinate Court of competent jurisdiction does not mean that under sub-S. (1) a decree may be transferred for execution to any Court, irrespective of its pecuniary jurisdiction. 1 P. 651=3 P. L. T. 422. But the Madras High Court has held that the question of competency does not arise where the decree is sent to another Court on the application of the decree-holder. 7 M. 397; 17 M. 309; (1914) M. W. Cl. (e).—If a Court passes a decree for the sale of property mortgaged, and after the passing of the decree the District within which the property is situate is transferred to another Court, the Court which passed the decree can still sell it. 15 C. 667; 19 C. 13; 21 C. 639; 22 C. 371.

Cl. (d).—Under this clause a Court which passed a decree in its Small Cause jurisdiction, may, for any good reason, transfer it to the other branch of the same Court. The two branches may be regarded as different Courts. 8 B. 230; 9 B. 237=6 A. 243 (F. B.); 76 I. C. 548=1923 Bom. 371. In 18 B. 61 the question whether a Sub-Judge can transfer a decree for execution to a Court of Small Causes, when the property attached was situated within the local limits of his jurisdiction was raised, but not decided.

Sec. 41. SCOPE AND APPLICABILITY OF THE SECTION.—It is only when the Court to which a decree is sent has executed it or has wholly failed to execute it that the Court is bound to send a certificate under S. 41. It does not matter if one application fails. 25 Bom. L. R. 453=74 I. C. 149=1923 Bom. 396. See also 20 A. 129. After the issue of a certificate under S. 41, and return of the copy of the decree, the Court to which the decree is transferred ceases to have jurisdiction. 22 A. L. J. 1039=1925 All. 179; 26 Bom. All persons disobeying or obstructing the execution of the decree shall be punishable by such Court in the same manner as if it had passed the decree. And its order in executing such decree shall be subject to the same rules in respect of appeal as if the decree had been passed by itself.

43. [S. 229.] Any decree passed by a Civil Court established in any part of British India to which the provisions relating to execution do not extend, or by any Court established or continued by the authority of the Governor-General in Council in the territories of any foreign Prince or State, may, if it cannot be executed within the jurisdiction of the Court by which it was passed, be executed in manner herein provided within the jurisdiction of any Court in British India.

44. [S. 229-B.] The Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, declare that the decrees of any Civil or Revenue Courts situate in the territories of any Native Prince or State in alliance with His Majesty and not established or continued by the authority of the Governor-General in Council, or any class of such decrees, may be executed in British India as if they had been passed by the Courts of British India.

Sec. 42. POWERS OF COURT IN EXECUTING TRANSFERRED DECREE.—The executing Court cannot call the legality of a decree in question. 8 C. 687; 31 C. 922; 23 A. 181₆; 7 Bom. L.R. 659; 4 M. 324, 11 B. 528; 7 B. 481; 10 B. 65. But see 28 B. 378. Court cannot vary decree. See 4 I. A. 137; 9 I. A. 1=8 C. 332; 15 B. 644; 7 A. 194; 22 C. L. J. 561; 34 I. C. 362; 39 I. C. 537; 99 I. C. 535=27 Punj. L. R. 750. The Court to which a decree is sent can decide whether or not the execution was barred by limitation. 23 C. 39. But it has no such power when the Court which passed the decree makes an order for execution and then transmits the decree for execution to another Court. 15 B. 28. The Court to which a decree is sent cannot question the propriety of the order transmitting the decree to such Court. 21 B. 456. See also 7 A. 330; 8 M. L. J. 1. It cannot refuse execution on the ground that questions are raised between the parties that cannot properly be dealt with in execution. 11 B. 528. In executing a decree against a firm Court can determine whether a person is a partner or not. 98 I. C. 855. The executing Court has power to consider an objection that the decree-holder's demand must be deemed to have been satisfied under S. 18 of the U. P. Court of Wards Act. 46 A. 560=22 A. L. J. 439. Where a decree is already transferred for execution by Court which passed it, an application for further transfer should be made to the Court where execution is pending. 47 B. 56=1922 B. 359. Objections to the execution of the decree should be raised before the Court to which it is transmitted for execution. 78 I. C. 1001. Where a decree-holder obtains an order for the transfer of a decree but the decree is not actually sent, the Court which passed the decree has jurisdiction to execute it. 1 F. 328=3 Pat. L. T. 298. APPEAL.—Although no appeal lies from the orders of a Small Cause Court, still under S. 42 an appeal lies from an order passed in execution of a Small Cause decree transferred to a Court on its Original Side. 33 I. C. 523=14 A. L. J. 415; 27 I. C. 10=20 C. L. J. 129; also 103 I. C. 344. Only one appeal lies against such orders. 12 I. C. 959; 25 C. 872.

Sec. 43.—The section is applicable to decrees passed by Courts in the Scheduled Districts. 15 C. 365. The Court of the Political Agent at Sikkim is a Court established by authority of Governor-General. 38 C. 859. See also cases noted under S. 1 supra.

Sec. 44. SCOPE OF THE SECTION.—(See also notes under S. 13.) A suit does not lie in British India on decrees of the Courts of Native States; such decrees are made executable by Notification by Governor-General in Council under S. 44. 39 M. 24=27 M. L. J. 535 (F. B.). The expression "may be executed" gives a discretion to the Court to refuse execution. This discretion is not limited to Ss. 13 and 14 of the Code. 21 L. W. 330=86 I. C. 492=1925 Mad. 788. These words refer only to the mode of execution. 21 L. W. 330=86 I. C. 492=1925 Mad. 788. As to powers of Court executing decree of foreign Court, see 41 C. L. J. 508=1925 Cal. 955. As to the mode of executing foreign decrees, see 2 M. 237. Notice to judgment-debtor is essential. 21 L. W. 330=86 I. C. 492=1925 Mad. 788. The Law of Limitation governing the execution of foreign decrees in British India is the law in force in British India. An order for transmission of a decree to British Court cannot be treated as an order for execution. 40 B. 504=36 I. C. 369; 14 C. at p. 571. The section does not remove the decree of a Native State from the category of foreign judgments. 15 B. at p. 219. If the foreign decree has been obtained by fraud, a British Court is not bound to execute it. (Ibid.) A British Court executing a foreign decree can enquire whether the foreign Court had jurisdiction to pass it. 40 B. 551=16 I. C. 363. See also notes under S. 13. An application for execution under S. 44 may be resisted on any of the grounds mentioned in S. 13. 39 M. 733=30 M. L. J. 148.

45. [S. 229-A.] So much of the foregoing sections of this Part as empowers a Court to send a decree for execution to another Court shall be construed as empowering a Court in British India to send a decree for execution to any Court established or continued by the authority of the Governor-General in Council in the territories of any foreign Prince or State to which the Governor-General in Council has, by notification in the Gazette of India, declared this section to apply.

decree may, whenever it thinks fit, issue a precept to any other Court which would be competent to execute such decree to attach any property belonging to the judgment-debtor and specified in the precept.

(2) The Court to which a precept is sent shall proceed to attach the property in the manner prescribed in regard to the attachment of property in execution of a decree :

Provided that no attachment under a precept shall continue for more than two months unless the period of attachment is extended by an order of the Court which passed the decree or unless before the determination of such attachment the decree has been transferred to the Court by which the attachment has been made and the decree-holder has applied for an order for the sale of such property.

the decree was passed, or their representatives, and relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree, shall be determined by the Court executing the decree and not by a separate suit.

Sec. 45.—Neither S. 44 nor S. 45 sanctions the transmission of a decree of British Indian Court to a Court in a Native State. 40 M. 1069=33 M. L. J. 130 (F. B.); 32 M. L. J. 487=41 I. C. 41. See also 12 B. 230; 29 C. 400; 39 M. 648.

Sec. 46. ATTACHMENT BY PRECEPT.—The Court which passed the decree can issue a precept even after the decree is transferred to another Court for execution. 31 C. W. N. 653=102 I. C. 513=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 581. The Court to which precept is issued can accept money or security. 27 Punj. L. R. 757. An application under the section should be made to the Court which passed the decree. The period of two months may be extended after it has expired. See S. 148. An order extending the period of attachment relates back to the date of the petition and the attachment would be effective though the order was passed after the expiry of two months if the application for extension was put in within the period. 34 I. C. 302=3 L. W. 336. Court to which decree is transferred cannot issue precept. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 157. Sec. 47. SCOPE AND OPERATION OF THE SECTION.—All questions relating to the execution, discharge for satisfaction of a decree and arising between the parties to the suit or their representatives shall be determined under S. 47 by the executing Court and not by suit; the order passed is appealable, as it has the force of a decree. The section applies only to matters arising subsequent to the passing of the decree. 67

O. 21, R. 103 only applies to cases where strangers to the decree are involved, while S. 47 governs cases where the persons concerned are parties to the suit or their representatives. 41 M. L. J. 54. Where a person was added as legal representative and he objected to a certain attachment as being a legatee, the question falls under the section. 6 Bur. L. J. 107 = 5 R. 393 = 104 I. C. 121 = A. I. Objection by a member of a tarwad that a property attached in execution of a decree passed against a karnavan of a tarwad in his representative capacity does not belong to the tarwad but to a separate tavashi to which the claimant belonged could not be enquired into under this section. 51 M. 46 = 106 I. PROCEEDINGS TO SET ASIDE EXECUTION SALE.—The question of the validity or otherwise of a sale held in execution of a decree is one relating to execution arising between parties to the suit. 13 I. C. 133 = (1912) M. W. N. 44. The fact that the auction-purchaser is interested in treat a proceeding under this section as a suit or a suit as a proceeding and may, if the result, does not matter. 19 C. 683=19 I. A. 166. See also 34 M. 417; 34 B. 546. S. 47 applies to a case where the question raised concerns the auction-purchaser as well as parties to the suit, e.g., an application to set aside the sale for irregularity. 41 M. 403=34 M. L. J. 463 (P.C.). An application to set aside an execution sale as illegal falls under S. 47 22 A. L. J. 413. So also an application on the ground of want of notice under O. 21, R. 22. 5 Pat. L. T. 61; or suppression of processes. 27 C. L. J. 528. The proper remedy for a plaintiff to set aside a sale held in contravention of O. 34, R. 14, is by an application under S. 47 and not by a separate suit. 45 B. 174. But an order setting aside confirmation of sale does not fall under the section. 100 I. C. 800=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 337. Where property claimed by a person in his personal capacity is sold in execution of a decree to which he was a party in a representative capacity, he can apply under S. 47 to have the sale set aside and a separate suit will be barred by that section. 46 I. C. 458=27 C. L. J. 572. So also where it is objected that the property sold is not liable to attachment and sale under S. 60. 6 A. 448; 8 A. 146; 34 M. 417; 34 B. 546; also where it is alleged that before sale the decree was adjusted and that consequently the sale was illegal. 22 A. 86. An objection by a Hindu widow who is a party to the suit, to the sale of a certain house without reserving rooms for her residence, can be enquired only under S. 47 and not by a separate suit. 19 I. C. 926 (2) (Punj.). The section, however, does not bar a suit to set aside a decree and execution sale thereunder as having been obtained by fraud. 42 C. 244=27 M. L. J. 100 (P.C.). See also 24 I. C. 695; 26 C. 326; 27 C. 197; or as having been a nullity, the legal representative of the deceased defendant not having been brought on record. 21 A. 316. Where a mortgage decree is not passed in accordance with law but the properties are purchased by the mortgagee in execution sale, the sale is not void but irregular. The remedy of the aggrieved party is to apply under the section before confirmation of the sale and not by a subsequent suit for redemption treating the execution sale as void. 41 M. 403=22 C. W. N. 553=45 I. A. 54=34 M. L. J. 463 (P.C.). An application by a Receiver of an insolvent's estate to annul a sale on the ground of a prior adjudication of the debtor is one under S. 47 to which O. 21, R. 90 is not applicable and hence a second appeal lies to the High Court. 34 I. C. 829=30 M. L. J. 611. See also 1 Rang. 533. A petition objecting to the whole execution procedure in a case and not merely to the natural irregularity in conducting or publishing the sale may be dealt with under S. 47 and is not fettered by the 30 days rule for presentation under O. 21, R. 90. 37 I. C. 827=10 Bur. L. T. 249. An order on an objection that the properties could not be sold subject to encumbrances as notified in the sale proclamation is one relating to execution within S. 47. 72 I. C. 860. An order on an application by a judgment-debtor objecting to the sale of certain property falls under S. 47. 31 I. C. 102 (Mad.). Such an order is appealable. 17 A. L. J. 802. So also an order declining to proceed with execution for the sale of the property, in view of

S. 63. 26 C. L. J. 42=42 I. C. 466. Where an execution sale is challenged on the ground that no notice was issued under O. 21, R. 22 but the Court finds, that no such notice was necessary, the order is not one under S. 47. 2 P. 916. Order setting aside sale—whether appeal and second appeal lie. 91 I. C. 711=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 539.

PROCEEDINGS FOR DELIVERY OF PROPERTY SOLD IN EXECUTION.—Proceedings for delivery of possession of property sold in execution where the auction-purchaser is a stranger are not covered by the section. 14 C. 644; 31 M. 177. See also cases cited under the heading "auction-purchaser whether a representative of a party." Where the decree-holder is himself the auction-purchaser, the question is one relating to execution, arising between the parties to the suit, the decree-holder not ceasing to be a party by becoming the auction-purchaser. 35 B. 452=11 I. C. 987=13 Bom. L. R. 661; 27 C. 34; 31 C. 737; 31 A. 82; 26 M. 740; 13 M. 504; 25 M. 529; 10 I. C. 51=13 C. L. J. 467; 44 I. C. 563; 78 I. C. 930 overruling. 35 R. 452. But see 48 Bom. 550; 5 O. W. N. 108=A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 199 (F. B.). A suit lies by a decree-holder who purchases his judgment-debtor's rights in joint property, for partition against the judgment-debtor and other co-owners. 28 M. L. J. 642=29 I. C. 976; 1 Lah. 134; 39 M. L. T. 281=105 I. C. 414=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 955. Where the decree was for khass possession of lands jointly owned with the defendants, a separate suit for partition and possession would be barred. 54 Cal. 524=31 C. W. N. 406=101 I. C. 622=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 411. Questions relating to the possession of property after sale has taken place are not questions connected with the execution, etc., of a decree within S. 47 and a separate suit for recovery of possession by the decree-holder auction-purchaser is not barred. 33 I. C. 367; 3 Pat. L. J. 571; 48 B. 550; 53 I. C. 460. Even if they are questions relating to execution, the decree-holder cannot be treated as a party to the suit after he has become the purchaser. 31 A. 82; 6 C. L. J. 749. See also 49 I. C. 137=29 C. L. J. 48; 4 Pat. L. J. 716. A suit for possession lies by the decree-holder auction-purchaser who is resisted in obtaining possession of the property by the judgment-debtor as well as by a third person claiming to have an interest in the property. 44 B. 977. The question of delivery of possession arising between the decree-holder and defendant against whom no relief is granted is still under S. 47. 32 I. C. 769=29 M. L. J. 629. Where the decree-holder who is himself the auction-purchaser is obstructed in possession, and the Court refuses to remove the obstruction, the order is one under S. 47. 61 I. C. 349=39 M. L. J. 603.

OTHER CASES WHERE SEPARATE SUIT WILL LIE.—That which in reality forms the basis of an independent suit cannot be introduced as a question to be tried in execution proceedings. 49 I. A. 220=1 P. 581=43 M. L. J. 589 (P.C.); 49 A. 379=25 A. L. J. 253=100 I. C. 495=A. I. R. 1927 All. 378. Questions as to validity of decree.—An objection to execution on the ground that the decree is invalid being collusive, can be tried only in a regular suit and not in execution under S. 47. 22 B. 475; 27 M. 118; 28 M. 26; 30 M. 26; 32 necessary, order payment of any additional court-fees.

C. 265; 21 A. 277, 356. So also the question whether a decree was obtained by fraud or collusion. 29 I.C. 239=38 M. 221; see also 9 M. 80; 23 C. 639; 38 Mad. 1076. So also where it is claimed that the decree passed against a Hindu widow is not binding on the reversionary inheritance. 30 M. 402. S. 47 does not bar a suit by a person against whom a decree has been passed at a time when he was suffering from unsoundness of mind, to set aside the decree. 50 I. C. 109=17 A. L. J. 257. Where a decree is of a purely declaratory nature, a separate suit will lie to enforce the rights declared by such a decree. 22 B. 267. Where in a suit by the prior mortgagee impleading the puisne mortgagee as party, the decree does not provide for the working out of the rights of the puisne mortgagee, he can enforce his mortgage by a suit of his own, unaffected by S. 47. 49 I.C. 466=(1918) M. W.N. 902. See also 42 M. 90. Where a puisne mortgagee impleaded a prior mortgagee decree-holder and obtained a decree, then the prior mortgagee purchased the property in execution of his own decree and objected to the sale by the puisne mortgagee the order on the puisne mortgagee's application is not appealable. 99 I.C. 658=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 431. If the profits are not ascertained, a fresh suit to ascertain their amount is maintainable. 33 I.C. 83. S. 47 is no bar to a suit for actual possession by a purchaser who obtained symbolical delivery after confirmation of the execution sale. 20 C. W. N. 675=23 C. L.J. 587 (26 M. 740, diss.). A suit by the decree-holder for declaration that the assets of the deceased debtor are liable to attachment and sale in execution of the decree, when objections are allowed under O. 21, R. 58, is not barred by the sections. 71 I.C. 1012=1923 A. 292. Where a decree-holder under a bona fide mistake brought to sale in execution some of his own properties, the remedy is only by a suit under O. 21, R. 103 and not by an application under S. 47. 15 L. W. 272=1922 Mad. 63. A suit lies for contribution by one judgment-debtor against another, for his share of the decree debt, the whole of which has been levied in execution from him. 18 A. 106. A suit will lie against the auction-purchaser for recovery of property sold in execution of a decree, in which the judgment-debtor has no interest. 75 I.C. 238. A dispute as to possession between rival auction-purchasers of the same property in execution of different decrees does not fall within the scope of S. 47. 49 I.C. 629=9 L.W. 81. A suit for damages for fraudulent execution is not barred. 23 I. C. 405=(1914) M.W.N. 174.

PARTIES TO THE SUIT.—S. 47 is not confined only to cases arising between parties who are opposed to each other in the suit. 45 M. L. J. 478=1924 M. 365; 82 I. C. 734. Persons may be parties opposed to each other without necessarily being arranged as plaintiff, and defendant in the suit. 70 I. C. 329; 18 L. W. 311=24 M. L. J. 477=13 I. C. 448=(1913) M. W. Questions or disputes between judgment-debtors inter se, in which the decree-holder has no interest are not questions between the parties to the suit. 31 M. L. J. 44=35 I. C. 179; 70 I. C. 329=32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 118 (2)=6 A. 12. So

Also questions between a party to a suit and his own representative. 20 I. C. 329=32 M. L. T. (H. C.) 118 (2); 25 B. 631. Parties unnecessarily impleaded are still parties to the suit within S. 47. 67 I. C. 6=34 C. L. J. 477. A defendant whose name is struck off the record cannot be said to be a party to the suit. 80 I. C. 470. A party to a suit exonerated on the ground of misjoinder ceases to be a party after such exoneration. 40 M. 964=32 M. L. J. 532. But see 37 I. C. 673=5 L.W. 701; 23 M. 361 (F. B.); 45 I. C. 671=(1927) M. W. N. 905. Where a suit is dismissed against a defendant, the plaintiff abandoning his case against him, he is still a party to the suit within S. 47 expl. The proper course in such a case is to strike out the name of the defendant, instead of dismissing the suit as against him. 41 M. 418=34 M. L. J. 17 (F. B.). See also 78 I. C. 225=1924 A. 313; 98 I.C. 726=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 253; 15 Rang. 110=101 I. C. 794=A. I.R. 1927 Rang. 137. A Hindu son who was impleaded as one of the defendants in a suit for the recovery of a sum of money but subsequently excluded from the suit and exempted from the decree is not a party to the suit. 52 I.C. 187. A party to a mortgage suit, who sets up a paramount title and is discharged from the suit, no decree being passed either in his favour or against him, is not a party within S. 47. 52 I.C. 736. The minor sons of a deceased judgment-debtor brought on record but not properly represented, cannot be considered parties to the proceedings. 67 I.C. 547=1922 Lah. 447. A bidder at an execution sale is not a party to the suit or his representative within S. 47. 42 M. 776=37 M.L.J. 274.

REPRESENTATIVE.—The term includes any transferee of the decree-holder's interest or any transferee of the judgment-debtor's interest who so far as, such interest is concerned, is bound by the decree. 24 C. 62; 26 A. 447. Purchaser of property prior to decree in a rent suit is bound by the decree. 54 C. 1064. Purchaser of property not mentioned in and not affected by the decree is not representative of the judgment-debtor. 3 L.W. 289=33 I.C. 84. A transferee of the decree is a representative of the decree-holder. 24 C. 62; 26 A. 447. The purchaser from the decree-holder auction-purchaser is not a representative of the decree-holder qua decree-holder. 64 I.C. 68. A purchaser of the interest of the judgment-debtor after a decree for sale on a mortgage has been passed against him is a representative of the judgment-debtor. 16 A. 286 (private sale); 72 I.C. 862=1 Pat. L.R. 139; 26 A. 447; 24 C. 62 (execution sale). See also a purchaser from a judgment-debtor under O. 21, R. 83. 23 A. 116. Where a transferee pendente lite from a defendant obstructs delivery of possession in execution to the decree-holder and the Court orders it to be removed, the order is one under S. 47, the transferee being the representative of the defendant 66 I. (3) Where a question arises as to whether any person is or is not the representative of a party, such question shall, for the purposes of this section, be determined by the Court.

A. 243. A mortgagee of judgment-debtor is his representative for the purposes of S. 47. 56 I. C. 646=1 Pat. L. T. 267. A mortgagee whose mortgage was subsequent to a mortgage decree on property is a representative of the judgment-debtor. 25 I. C. 118=41 C. 418. Purchaser of property prior to attachment is not a representative. 99 I. C. 989=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 450. A purchaser of a portion of non-transferable holding from a raiyat, is a representative of the judgment-debtor within S. 47 and can apply to set aside a sale of holding in execution of a decree for arrears of rent on the ground of fraud. 42 C. 172=18 C. W. N. 971 (F. B.). See also 64 I. C. 124; 27 I. C. 431. But see 3 Pat. L. J. 579=43 I. C. 969. Benamidar for a party is not his representative within S. 47. 44 B. 352=22 Bom. L.R. 296; 46 I. C. 748; 18 C. W. N. 184. That a recognised transferee decree-holder was only a benamidar could not be pleaded. 48 Mad. 553=48 M. L. J. 419. But after the death of the benamidar transferee decree-holder, the real owner will be entitled to plead in execution his right. 51 Mad. 219=26 L. W. 308=39 M. L. T. 176=(1927) M. W. N. 639=135 I. C. 405=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 903=53 M. L. J. 568.

AUCTION-PURCHASER WHETHER A PARTY TO THE SUIT OF HIS REPRESENTATIVE.—A stranger purchaser at a sale in execution of a decree is not a representative of any of the parties to the suit. 25 Bom. L. R. 147=72 I. C. 256=1923 Bom. 214. See also 9 I. C. 194=15 C. W. N. 542; 27 I. C. 570=2 O. L. J. 57; (19 C. 683, Expl.; 28 M. 87, 30 M. 507, Diss., 30 A. 379; 25 B. 631, Ref.); 9 I. C. 472=4 Bur. L. J. 28. Thus a complaint by the judgment-debtor that the auction-purchaser had taken possession of certain property not covered by the sale cannot be tried under S. 47 but only in a separate suit. 64 I. C. 866. See also 25 B. 631; 10 I. C. 714=45 A. 96. But see 41 M. L. J. 120=63 I. C. 200; 45 I. C. 608 (Mad.) contra. A decision as between an auction-purchaser and a judgment-debtor is not one between parties to the suit under S. 47. 61 I. C. 961=13 L. W. 15. An auction-purchaser not a party to the suit cannot appeal against an order setting aside the sale on the application of the judgment-debtor. 19 C. L. J. 81=20 I. C. 191. Where the decree holder is himself the purchaser, see A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 57. An auction-purchaser is a representative of the judgment-debtor and not of the decree-holder. 41 M. L. J. 120=63 I. C. 200; 43 M. 107=38 M. L. J. 32 (F. B.); 50 I. C. 931=9 L. W. 596; 42 I. C. 552 (Mad.). See also 37 I. C. 825; 25 M. 529; 30 A. 379. Disputes between a judgment-debtor and the auction-purchaser as to the extent of the land sold do not fall within S. 47, as it is not between parties to the suit, but between the judgment-debtor and his representative, the auction-purchaser. 1924 All. 856. Auction-purchaser is not a representative of the judgment-debtor within S. 47. 42 B. 411=49 I. C. 140=12 P. R. 1919; 19 C. 683; 34 M. 417. Disputes between assignee decree-holder and auction-purchaser to be settled by suit. 98 I. C. 856=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 240.

'DETERMINED' in the section shows that questions should be finally disposed of by granting appropriate relief. 2 I. C. 696=26 M. L. J. 460.

Sub-Sec. (2).—A suit can be converted into an application only if the application under S. 47 would not, at the date of suit, be time-barred. 34 I. C. 774=4 L. W. 400; 45 I. C. 608; 35 B. 452; 53 Cal. 837=99 I. C. 180=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 106. Also the Court in which the suit is brought must have jurisdiction to execute the decree. 22 A. 121; 26 A. 101; 29 A. 348; 32 M. 425; 54 C. 419=103 I. C. 233=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 614; but a prior order in execution which led up to the suit would not operate as res judicata. 4 O. W. N. 1045. A decree passed in such a suit barred under this section would still be upheld as an order passed on an application under the section, if it is otherwise good in law. 14 C. 605; 22 C. 483; 28 M. 64; 32 C. 332. The applicant is not entitled for a conversion as of right. 27 I. C. 570. See also 16 I. C. 543. Where a suit is brought for restitution in spite of the provision in S. 144, it is open to the Court to treat the suit as proceeding in execution in the exercise of its powers under Cl. (2). 67 I. C. 319=1922 Nag. 198. Power of Court to treat application as suit, see 39 M. L. T. 579.

Sub-Sec. (3).—See 82 I. C. 604=1925 All. 66=L. R. 5 All. 668 (Civ.). The question of the representative character of a party can be determined only for a limited purpose under S. 47. 43 I. C. 165=11 S. L. R. 74. Where a person applies to be brought on record as the representative of the judgment-debtor so that he may raise a question to be decided under S. 47, the proper Court to entertain the application is the Court executing the decree. 55 I. C. 812=11 L. W. 173.

ORDERS APPEALABLE UNDER S. 47.—Interlocutory orders dealing with mere matters of procedure can hardly be said to be determination of any question within S. 47. There must be determination of the rights or liabilities of the parties as to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree. 24 C. 725; 34 A. 530; 27 I. C. 444=20 C. L. J. 512. 5 Rang. 534=6 Bur. L. J. 155=104 I. C. 324=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 317. An appeal lies against an interlocutory order passed in execution proceedings, where the order has the effect of reviving an application for execution dismissed for default. 57 I. C. 905. Also against an order on the question of notice under O. 21, R. 22. 8 Pat. L. T. 28. An order on a claim for exemption from arrest is appealable under S. 47. 47 M. L. J. 678=1924 Mad. 900. An order directing execution to issue against a judgment-debtor is one under S. 47, determining the rights and liabilities of parties with reference to the relief granted. 19 C. L. J. 581=26 I. C. 866=19 C. W. N. 1008. Also an order directing execution against a surety to a Receiver ordered to pay up monies. 59 I. C. 844=10 L. B. R. 236. Also an order directing decree to be executed only against the property of the judgment-debtor and not against his person. 1924 Lah. 604. Also an order allowing execution of a decree alleged by the defendant to be declaratory in nature. 37 M.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, a plaintiff whose suit has been dismissed and a defendant against whom a suit has been dismissed, are parties to the suit.

Limit of time for execution.

29 = 21 M.L.J. 1063. No appeal lies against an order refusing to stay execution. 100 I.C. 76 (2) = A.I.R. 1927 Lah. 235; nor against an order rejecting security. 102 I.C. 621 = A.I.R. 1927 Lah. 527. Also 9 Lah. L.J. 189. Where the execution Court finally negatives the right of the decree-holders to proceed against the land of the judgment-debtor, the order is appealable under S. 47. 2 Lah. L.J. 398. An order on an objection petition to an attachment put in by a defendant against whom the suit had been dismissed, is one under S. 47 though ostensibly put in under O. 21, R. 58. 1924 Lah. 589. A decision of an executing Court as to the order in which properties were to be sold in execution, even though it is a question between judgment-debtors only, is one relating to execution within S. 47. 1924 Mad. 365 = 45 M.L.J. 478. An order refusing to discharge a receiver appointed in an execution proceeding is within S. 47. 3 Pat. L. J. 513 = 46 I. C. 655. An order deciding the legality of arrest made in execution of a decree falls under the section. 32 I. C. 731 = 3 L. W. 35. An order disallowing the objection of a judgment-debtor that a fresh attachment is necessary is not appealable. 34 A. 530 = 15 I. C. 50. Also an order settling sale proclamation. 1924 Mad. 527 = 46 M. L. J. 192; 27 M. 59 = 14 M. L. J. 57 (F. B.); also an order fixing value of properties to be sold. 99 I. C. 455 = A. I. R. 1927 All. 208. Also an order issuing a warrant for arrest (70 I. C. 766) or refusing to arrest the judgment-debtor in execution of a decree. (4 Lah. L.J. 266 = 1922 Lah. 259). Also an order refusing to restore an execution application dismissed for default. 80 I. C. 39 = 1924 All. 794. So also an order staying proceedings and directing each party to bear his costs. (Ibid.) See also 75 I. C. 419. But an order security to stay execution is not appealable 106 I. C. 890 (2). Also an order refusing to stay. 27 I. C. 444 = 20 C. L. J. 512. (But see 75 I.C. 789; 1924 Lah. 602.) Such an order is a determination of a question relating to execution within S. 47 but yet it is not a decree because it has not got the characteristics required by S. 2. It is therefore not appealable as a decree. 46 A. 733 = 1924 All. 808. Whether an order for security to stay execution amounts to a decree or appealable order. See 5 Rang. 534. No appeal lies from an order accepting security in execution proceeding. 106 I.C. 866 (2). An order refusing stay of sale falls under S. 47 and is appealable. 75 I.C. 789; 1924 Lah. 631; 75 I.C. 1001. So also an order refusing to make defaulting bidder to pay the difference in price between the amount of his bid and that realized on re-sale. 107 I.C. 274. An order under S. 73 is not an order under S. 47, and hence is not an appealable. 5 Pat.L.J. 415 = 57 I.C. 421. See also 42

C. 1 = 27 I.C. 644; 1924 Mad. 97. But see 31 M.L.J. 820 = 37 I.C. 900. An order under S. 73 rejecting an application for rateable distribution is neither an order under S. 47 determining questions between parties nor a decree under S. 2 (2) and hence is not appealable. 57 I. C. 421 = 5 Pat. L.J. 415. Orders under S. 73 are appealable, if they affect parties to the suit under S. 47, especially when the appeal is by the judgment-debtor who cannot avail himself of the right of suit given by S. 73 (2). 39 M. 570 = 29 M.L.J. 96. An order not simply refusing rateable but also dismissing execution application in toto is appealable. 98 I. C. 884 = A.I.R. 1927 Lah. 100. An order of rateable distribution and of sale of the property attached by two creditors to satisfy the claims of the other creditors, after the making of deposit under O. 21, R. 55, of a sum sufficient to discharge the two creditors who made the attachment, relates to a question in execution within S. 47. 36 B. 156 = 12 I. C. 911. No appeal lies against an order directing respondent to draw out costs on furnishing security. 5 Rang. 534 = 6 Bur. L. J. 155 = 104 I. C. 324 = A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 317. An order relating solely to jurisdiction does not determine any question relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of a decree. 52 I. C. 461 = 4 Pat. L. J. 461. No appeal lies from an order staying execution. 28 Panj. L. R. 607 = 100 I. C. 23 = 9 Lah. L. J. 193.

Sec. 48. SCOPE AND OPERATION OF THE SECTION. Saving decrees granting injunctions, S. 48 applies to all decrees. 26 I. C. 244. S. 48 deals with the maximum limit of time prescribed for execution and not period for each application. 21 A. L. J. 861 = 46 A. 73. S. 48 does not strictly provide a period of limitation but merely bars the execution after 12 years. 40 A. 198 = 44 I. C. 24. The section does not apply to decrees passed by Chartered High Courts on account of sub-sec. (2), Cl. (6). See 6 B. 258; 7 M. 541; nor to orders in Council made on appeal to the Privy Council. 20 C. 551. S. 48 has a retrospective effect, and governs an application for the execution of mortgage decree passed before the Code came into force. 59 I. C. 790 = 45 B. 365; 19 I. C. 899; 40 C. 704 = 19 I. C. 391; 20 C. W. N. 952 = 1 Pat. L. J. 214; 27 I. C. 969 = 11 N. L. R. 25. But see 32 A. 499 (contra). The period begins to run only from the date on which the decree is in all parts ripe and capable of execution. 36 B. 368 = 14 Bom. L. R. 381. See also 54 I. C. 924. S. 48 covers compromise decrees. 39 B. 256 = 17 Bom. L. R. 178. The executing Court cannot extend the period prescribed by the section under S. 15, Limitation Act. 45 M. 785 = 43 M. L. J. 168. See also 54 I. C. 279. An agreement to desist from execution does not attract the provisions of S. 15 of the Limitation Act, 100 I. C. 20=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 347=52 M. L. J. 137. S. 6 of the Limitation Act does not extend period provided by S. 48 in favour of minors. 27 I. C. 865=13 A. L. J. 166; 36 B. 498=14 Bom. L. R. 387; 37 M. 186=24 M. L. J. 96. The period prescribed in S. 48 begins to run from the date of the appellate decree, even when it is held that no appeal lies. 43 A. 405=61 I. C. 129=19 A. L. J. 159. 34 C. 874. See contra 48 All. 377=94 I. C. 961=A. I. R. 1926 All. 440. See also 32 A. 136 (second appeal). It is so even when a portion only of the original decree was appealed against. 12 I. C. 75=21 M. L. J. 1020. See also 26 M. 91. But where an appeal is dismissed for default, the period runs from the date of the original decree. 47 I. C. 125=5 O. L. J. 252. Where a decree is amended, the date of the amendment is the date of the decree. 60 I. C. 318. Pendency of appeal by judgment-debtor does not cause suspension of execution where there is no fraud or force. 32 I. C. 931=20 C. W. N. 686. A decree-holder cannot by binding himself not to execute a decree allow himself more time than the law gives him. 13 I. C. 88=15 C. L. J. 678. The time spent in obtaining the conciliator's certificate under S. 48 of the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act can be deducted. 42 B. 367=45 I. C. 494. A mortgage decree-holder will have 12 years to perfect the preliminary decree into an order absolute under S. 89, T. P. Act and another 12 years for executing the order absolute. 39 M. 544=29 I. C. 237. But see 46 B. 761=24 Bom. L. R. 269 (a case of decree under the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act). Where execution of a suit is barred, a fresh suit on the basis of the decree is barred. 18 A. L. J. 1001=43 A. 170. See also 38 A. 509=35 I. C. 601. But see 28 I. C. 85 (11 C. 93, ref.). Nor can a fresh suit on the same cause of action be instituted. 41 M. 641=34 M. L. J. 167. See also 43 B. 703=52 I. C. 466. As to whether an action can be maintained on a judgment, see 20 C. W. N. 58=20 C. L. J. 272. The mere passing of a preliminary decree in any foreclosure suit does not put an end to the relationship of the mortgagor and mortgagee. If the mortgagor fails to redeem within six months and no final decree is passed, he can bring a fresh suit for redemption. 39 B. 41=27 I. C. 249=16 Bom. L. R. 687.

WHEN AN APPLICATION MADE OUT OF TIME MAY BE TREATED AS CONTINUATION OF A PREVIOUS APPLICATION MADE WITHIN TIME. See 21 I. C. 923 (Cal.); 16 I. C. 541 (Cal.); 41 M. L. J. 378=64 I. C. 493; 38 I. C. 411. In order that an application may be treated as a continuation of another application within time, it is necessary that the two applications must be of the same nature. 34 A. 396=14 I. C. 172=20 C. W. N. 952=34 I. C. 27=1 Pat. L. J. 214. See also 38 M. L. T. (H. C.) 42=100 I. C. 20=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 347=52 M. L. J. 137. It is also a necessary condition that the previous application should not have been dismissed for default on the part of the decree-holder. 72 I. C. 862. The execution of a decree is not barred merely because the application for restoration of an execution petition made within 12 years but struck off on account of insufficient process-fees, is made after 12 years. 33 A. 57=9 I. C. 817 (F. B.)=See also 3 Pat. L. J. 103=44 I. C. 560. An application to transfer a decree to another Court for execution is not an application to execute within this section. 20 A. 78; 16 C. 744; 22 C. 921; 35 B. 103; 34 A. 396; 95 I. C. 96 (2)=A. I. R. 1926 All. 660.

Sub Sec. (1), Cl. (b).—To render the clause applicable there must be an order of Court directing the payment of money on a certain date. An arrangement made between the parties out of Court is of no avail. 72 I. C. 477. Where the Court accepted the compromise that the decretal amount should be paid by instalments, it would operate to extend the period. 73 I. C. 671= (1923) Lah. 381. See also 34 I. C. 393 (Mad.). An order under S. 48 (1) (b), must be made by the Court which passed the decree. 73 I. C. 794=1923 Lah. 678; 40 A. 198; 2 P. L. T. 80=58 I. C. 393. But see 95 I. C. 243=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 463. An order of an executing Court granting time to the judgment-debtor is not a subsequent order directing payment of money within the clause, and does not operate to extend the period. 40 A. 198. If an instalment decree provides for payment of whole sum on default of any instalment, time runs from the date of the first default, in respect of the whole claim. 49 I. C. 497; 24 C. 281. Where some defendants only appealed and the others were not made parties to the appeal limitation for the non-appealing defendants starts from date of first Court's decree. 30 C. W. N. 306=95 I. C. 257=A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 664. Decree directing money to be recovered from one party—On default money to be recovered from another—If barred 12 years from date of decree. See (1926) M. W. N. 213=91 I. C. 597=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 20. Where a mortgage decree directed sale of mortgage property and the balance to be realised from other properties and the persons of the defendants, the limitation for execution of the latter part of the decree runs from the date of the decree. 45 I. C. 436=22 C. W. N. 145 (P. C.), in effect overruling 40 M. 989=31 M. L. J. 513 (F. B.). See also 43 I. C. 122; 29 I. C. 556 (Mad.). C. 311=53 M. L. J. 440.

FRAUD.—Fraud or force need not have occurred within three years of the application. 53 I. C. 862=10 L. W. 566. Nor is it necessary to show that it extended continuously for 12 years. It is sufficient if it is shown that the judgment-debtor on various occasions prevented the execution by fraud. 12 I. C. 793=14 O. C. 238. See also 22 M. 320; 35 M. 670=22 M. L. J. 35. S. 48 (2) (b) date of the default in making the payment or delivery in respect of which the applicant seeks to execute the decree.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed—

(a) to preclude the Court from ordering the execution of a decree upon an application presented after the expiration of the said term of twelve years, where the judgment-debtor has, by fraud or force, prevented the execution of the decree at some time within twelve years immediately before the date of the application ; or

(b) to limit or otherwise affect the operation of particle 180 of the second schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1877.

Transferees and legal representatives.

49. [S. 233] Every transferee of a decree shall hold the same subject to the equities (if any) which the judgment-debtor might have enforced against the original decree-holder.

Transferee.

50. [S. 234.] (1) Where a judgment-debtor dies before the decree has been fully satisfied, the holder of the decree may apply to the Court which passed it to execute the same against the legal representative of the deceased.

Legal representative.

(2) Where the decree is executed against such legal representative, he shall be liable only to the extent of the property of the deceased which has come to his hands and has not been duly disposed of ; and, for the purpose of ascertaining such liability, the Court executing the decree may, of its own motion or on the application of the decree-holder, compel such legal representative to produce such accounts as it thinks fit.

Procedure in execution.

51. Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, the Court may, on the application of the decree-holder, order execution of the decree—extends the period to 12 years from the time when the decree-holder was prevented by fraud of the judgment debtor, from executing the decree. 34 A. 20=11 I.C. 672=8 A.L.J. 1020 (7 C. 566, dist.). 'Fraud' should be understood in a large and liberal sense. 44 A. 319=L.R. 3 A. 111=20 A.L.J. 185=65 I.C. 877=1922 All. 145 ; 18 I.C. 1008=24 M.L.J. 270. See also 35 M. 670=22 M.L.J. 35. The term should be interpreted in a wider sense than that in which it is generally used in English law. 13 I.C. 88=15 C.L.J. 678 ; 6 M. 365 ; 80 I.C. 905. Includes, except with reference to contract, circumvention. 25 A.L.J. 842=103 I.C. 277=A.I.R. 1927 A. 668. The delaying of execution by frivolous, futile and dishonest objections on the part of the judgment-debtors amount to fraud. 44 A. 319=1922 All. 145. But objection which ultimately proves unsuccessful will not amount to fraud. The fraud should be such as to prevent the decree-holder from executing the decree. 13 I.C. 88=15 C.L.J. 678. An intentional avoiding by the judgment-debtor of arrest under a warrant by the decree-holder to avoid payment of decretal amount amounts to fraud. 12 L.W. 710=60 I.C. 630 ; 20 L.W. 475=47 M.L.J. 428 ; 6 M. 365. Locking up the house to prevent attachment of moveable property is fraud. 9 B. 318 ; 22 M. 320. But keeping the doors closed is per se no evidence at all of fraudulent conduct on the part of a pardanashin lady. 40 I. C. 399=4 O. L.J. 345. A fictitious transfer of property made in order to defeat or delay the execution amounts to fraud. 4 M. 292 ; 80 I.C. 905. A deliberate evasion of the process of Court to defeat execution of decree amounts to fraud. 35 M. 670=22 M.L.J. 35. See also 13 I.C. 929=9 A.L.J. 17.

Where the execution of decree is prevented by the fraud of one of several judgment-debtors, extension of time will be allowed only against such judgment-debtor. 30 I.C. 423=38 M. 419. [On appeal from 35 M. 67c].

Sec 49.—S. 49 relates only to the stage of execution and has no application to a suit for damages. 42 M. 338=36 M.L.J. 376. A judgment-debtor can attach the money deposited by him in Court towards a decree against him, which is assigned to one against whom he has a decree. 19 N.L.R. 164=1924 Nag. 46.

Sec. 50.—Execution may be had not only against the legal representatives of the judgment-debtor but also against the transferee who purchased the property pending execution proceedings. 51 Bom. 37=29 Bom. Sec. 51. EXECUTION SALE.—Sale of property not belonging to judgment-debtor—Void or valid—Distinction in cases where property is

- (a) by delivery of any property specifically decreed ;
- (b) by attachment and sale or by sale without attachment of any property ;
- (c) by arrest and detention in prison ;
- (d) by appointing a receiver ; or
- (e) in such other manner as the nature of the relief granted may require.

52. [S. 252.] (1) Where a decree is passed against a party as the legal representative of a deceased person, and the decree is for the payment of money out of the property of the deceased, it may be executed by the attachment and sale of any such property.

(2) Where no such property remains in the possession of the judgment-debtor and he fails to satisfy the Court that he has duly applied such property of the deceased as is proved to have come into his possession, the decree may be executed against the judgment-debtor to the extent of the property in respect of which he has failed so to satisfy the Court in the same manner as if the decree had been against him personally.

bona fide believed to belong to judgment-debtor. 52 M.L.J. 148.

Sec. 52. SCOPE OF SECTION.—This section does not provide for reservation of property to satisfy debts. 30 I.C. 256 = 18 M.L.T. 147. Liability of legal representative under this section and under S. 50 are the same. 7 M. 257. See also 89 I.C. 534 = 1925 Oudh 515. The section does not contemplate the insolvency of the deceased party. 22 C. 259. Written statement in the suit that no assets are available suit if to be dismissed. 25 A. I. J. 359.

ASSETS—MEANING OF—“Assets” include also property acquired after decree. On this point see also 89 I. C. 477 = 1925 Nag. 449. “Property” includes rents from immoveable property. 4 O. W. N. 98 = 99 I. LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE—MEANING OF.—See 50 I. C. 951 (Executor de son tort is legal representative).

DECREE AGAINST PARTY AS LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE.—A legal representative can be sued without proving that assets have come into his hands, if there are assets of which he may become possessed. 8 B. 309. See also 13 B. 653 : 33 All. 414 = 8 A.L.J. 199 ; 56 I.C. 962 ; 89 I.C. 236. S. 52 shows that there may be a decree passed against the legal representative of a deceased person without showing that the deceased left any property and the legal representative got that property. 49 A. 645 = 101 I. C. 507 = 25 A.L.J. 359 = A.I.R. 1927 A. 459. Per Ashworth.—S. 52 provides for the due application of the assets, i.e., of ‘plene administravi’ being taken in execution proceedings. Therefore it must be inferred that it cannot be taken at an earlier stage. In English law the plea of ‘plene administravi’ can certainly be raised by a legal representative sued on a debt due from the deceased. (Ibid.) A.I.R. 1927 A. 459. The fact that the estate is not in the hands of the legal representative, but in the hands of third parties, he is not bar to a decree against him. 22 C. 259. Sec. 53.—This section is new, and gives effect to the rulings under the old Code in 34 C. 642 and 20 B. 385. The law laid down in 31 Cal. 224, 27 Mad. 243 and 28 Mad. 26, are not now good-law.

S. 53 provides that a party as to what property would be liable in execution, is to be determined in execution proceedings and not by a separate suit. 16 I.C. 970 = 16 C.L.J. 85. On this section, ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—It is only the son or lineal descendant of a deceased Hindu that comes within the scope of S. 54. 45 A. 455 (42 B. 504, Ref.); 24 I. C. 280=(1914) M. W. N. 354. A son is liable for the decree debts of his father to the extent of the ancestral properties unless the debt was for an illegal or immoral purpose. This is so even if the son was a party to the decree against the father. 20 A. I. J. 969=1923 A. 124; 19 I. C. 252; 9 I. C. 631. The whole of the ancestral property and not merely that part of it in the hands of Mitakshara son, is liable for satisfaction of the judgment-debt. 16 I. C. 970=16 C. L. J. 85 (22 W. R. 56; 13 C. 21, fol.) A Hindu son can, under S. 47, have the question whether the debt had been contracted for immoral purposes tried. 33 C. 676. See also 20 M. 385; 3 P. L. T. 43=1923 P. 142. Ancestral property of a deceased judgment-debtor is not an asset in the hands of his heirs. 11 I. C. 376=80 P.W.R. 1911. A gratuity granted to the heirs of a deceased employee by a Railway administration is not assets in the hands of his heirs. 26 O. C. 53=1923 Oudh 21.

Sec. 54. SCOPE OF SECTION.—In case the Collector contravenes the directions in the decree or acts ultra vires, his action is subject to the control and correction of the Court. 19 B. 435; 28 B. 238. The primary object of the section is to prevent the annulment of joint responsibility for the payment of land revenue. See 16 C. at p. 205 and 24 C. at p. 734 (F. B.). Section only applies to case of estates assessed to revenue in lump and not to those assessed at acre rates. 4 Bur. L. J. 260=95 I. C. 39 (1)=A. I. R. 1926 Rang. 80.

POWERS OF THE COLLECTOR.—A Collector cannot refuse to carry out a partition. 14 B. 450. A Civil Court cannot appoint a Commissioner to make a partition under this section. 23 C. 679. Collector's duty is not confined to mere division of the lands but includes the delivery of the shares to the respective allottees. 11 B. 662. Also 103 I. C. 231=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 300 (along with the crops attached to the land). He no doubt acts ministerially, but when a certain discretion is allowed to him, and so long as he keeps within bounds the Civil Court has no right to interfere. 12 B. 376. See also 15 B. 527; 19 B. 435; 28 B. 238. The Collector can do nothing which contravenes the command of the Court. 14 B. 450; 28 B. 238.

POWERS OF CIVIL COURT.—A Civil Court has no power to interfere with the Collector's proceedings under S. 54. 42 Bom. 689=20 Bom. L. R. 411 (15 B. 527, fol.). A Civil Court is not competent to make a division of revenue-paying land even with the consent of the parties. 30 I. C. 209.

FINAL ORDER—MEANING OF.—35 Mad. 26=12 I. C. 775. The decree of a Court is final and a final decree in a partition suit cannot be reopened unless by way of review. 4 Pat. L. J. 29=45 I. C. 895. See also 38 I. C. 593. Partition of a revenue-paying estate—If allowable. 2 Pat. L. J. 221=39 I. C. 173.

ESTATE.—A ryotwari holding is not an estate. 7 M. 382 (F. B.). But see 16 B. 528. The word 'estate' is used in its ordinary sense. 10 C. 400. Section only applies to cases where revenue is assessed in lump and not at acre rates. 5 Rang. 206.

Sec. 55. ARRESTED IN EXECUTION OF A DECREE.—Provisions mandatory. 54 C. 782. As to what is meant by the word 'arrest', see 11 C. 451 (458). In the execution of a decree payable by instalments the judgment-debtor cannot be arrested for default in the payment of each instalment. 7 B. 106. An undischarged insolvent can be arrested for a debt not included in the schedule, and for which a decree has been subsequently obtained. 16 C. 85. A warrant of arrest may be issued even when a writ of attachment has already issued. 7 B. 301. An arrest on a Sunday is legal. 4 M.H.C.R. 12.

"AS SOON AS PRACTICABLE."—See 30 M. 170. When a warrant orders a debtor to be imprisoned in a particular civil jail, his confinement in another jail would be unlawful. 11 C. 527. An arrest is illegal if officer has not warrant with him at time of arrest. 5 A. 318. See also 27 A. 258. An irregular endorsement on the warrant does not invalidate the arrest. 6 A. 385. See also 7 A. 507.

PROVISO 3.—It is not necessary that a special order of the Court should be made, empowering an officer authorized to arrest a purda lady, to enter the zenana house in which she resides, 7 C. 19.

PROVISO 4.—This proviso applies only when the arrest is made in execution of a "decree for the payment of money." 24 C. 766. A decree for the enforcement of a mortgage or charge will not be a decree for the payment of money. See 24 C. 766; 21 M. 364; 19 A. 174; 29 M. 65.

SUBSECS. (3) AND (4).—The provisions apply only to judgment-debtors who are under Provided, firstly, that, for the purpose of making an arrest under this section no dwelling-house shall be entered after sunset and before sunrise :

Provided, secondly, that no outer door of a dwelling-house shall be broken open unless such dwelling-house is in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor and he refuses or in any way prevents access thereto, but when the officer authorized to make the arrest has duly gained access to any dwelling-house, he may break open the door of any room in which he has reason to believe the judgment-debtor is to be found :

Provided, thirdly, that, if the room is in the actual occupancy of a woman who is not the judgment-debtor and who according to the customs of the country does not appear in public, the officer authorized to make the arrest shall give notice to her that she is at liberty to withdraw, and, after allowing a reasonable time for her to withdraw and giving her reasonable facility for withdrawing, may enter the room for the purpose of making the arrest :

Provided, fourthly, that, where the decree in execution of which a judgment-debtor is arrested, is a decree for the payment of money and the judgment-debtor pays the amount of the decree and the costs of the arrest to the officer arresting him, such officer shall at once release him.

(2) The Local Government may, by notification in the local official Gazette, declare that any person or class of persons whose arrest might be attended with danger or inconvenience to the public shall not be liable to arrest in execution of a decree otherwise than in accordance with such procedure as may be prescribed by the Local Government in this behalf.

(3) Where a judgment-debtor is arrested in execution of a decree for the payment of money and brought before the Court, the Court shall inform him that he may apply to be declared an insolvent, and that he [may]¹ be discharged if he has not committed any act of bad faith regarding the subject of the application and if he complies with the provisions of the law of insolvency for the time being in force.

(4) Where a judgment-debtor expresses his intention to apply to be declared an insolvent and furnishes security, to the satisfaction of the Court, that he will within one month so apply, and that he will appear, when called upon, in any proceeding upon arrest and not already committed to jail. 8 M. 503. S. 55 (3) does not entitle the debtor to be adjudged an insolvent on an application except in conformity with the provisions of the Insolvency Law. 21 I.C. 293=25 M. L. J. 545. The provisions apply to small cause debtors. 2 M. 9. But see also 22 B. 731. When the application of judgment-debtor to be declared an insolvent has been dismissed and he is re-arrested in execution, he cannot claim the benefit of S. 55 (3) and (4) so long as the previous dismissal is not set aside. 9 I. C. 121. Where the insolvency petition is filed one day too late, delay cannot be excused, and surety becomes liable. 86 I. C. 304. When a judgment-debtor furnishes security under S. 55 (4) the security should be directed to continue until a final order is made. 46 Bom. 702=1922 Bom. 340. The mere filing of an insolvency petition by the debtor or the dismissal of an execution petition does not absolve the surety. 34 I. C. 407=(1916) 2 M. W. N. 273 (14 C. 757, dist.). See also 22 I. C. 953=15 M. L. T. 224; 5 Pat. L. J. 417=57 I. C. 303. The liability of a surety is now clearly laid down in S. 145. The surety is liable to a transferee decree-holder. 26 M. 258. The surety is not liable when the judgment-debtor dies. 29 A. 466; 41 Cal. 50. See also 1924 Bom. 428. (Judgment-debtor not applying within time, dying subsequently—liability of surety). An application to set aside an order of arrest abates on the death of the person against whom the order is made. 22 I. C. 953. Covenants in a surety bond as to what is to happen in case the application to be declared an insolvent is refused, do not come within the purview of the section. 16 A. 37. See also 23 A. L. J. 59.

§ 55 (8).—¹The word "may" was substituted for "will" by Act III of 1921.

SUB-SEC. 4.—An order made under S. 55 (4) rejecting an application for forfeiture of security bond is appealable and therefore no revision lies. 34 I. C. 247 (15 A. 183, dist.). 57. [S. 338.] The Local Government may fix scales, graduated according to rank, race and nationality, of monthly allowances payable for the subsistence of judgment-debtors.

58. [S. 342.] (1) Every person detained in the civil prison in execution of a decree shall be so detained,—

(a) where the decree is for the payment of a sum of money exceeding fifty-rupees, for a period of six months, and

(b) in any other case for a period of six weeks :

Provided that he shall be released from such detention before the expiration of the said period of six months or six weeks, as the case may be,—

(i) on the amount mentioned in the warrant for his detention being paid to the officer in charge of the civil prison, or

(ii) on the decree against him being otherwise fully satisfied, or

(iii) on the request of the person on whose application he has been so detained, or

(iv) on the omission by the person, on whose application he has been so detained, to pay subsistence-allowance :

[S. 341.] Provided, also, that he shall not be released from such detention under clause (ii) or clause (iii), without the order of the Court.

(2) A judgment-debtor released from detention under this section shall not merely by reason of his release be discharged from his debt, but he shall not be liable to be re-arrested under the decree in execution of which he was detained in the civil prison.

59. [S. 653.] (1) At any time after a warrant for the arrest of a judgment debtor has been issued the Court may cancel it on the Release on ground of illness. ground of his serious illness.

(2) Where a judgment-debtor has been arrested, the Court may release him if, in its opinion, he is not in a fit state of health to be detained in the civil prison.

Sec. 55 (4).—¹ The word " may " was substituted for " shall " by Act III of 1921.

Sec. 56.—A money decree does not necessarily carry with it a right to execute it by arrest of the judgment-debtor, e.g., minor or a female, or a legal representative. 18 N. L. R. 145 = 1922 Nag. 98.

Sec. 58.—The section does not apply to the case of a person imprisoned for contempt. 4 C. 655. The Court has no power to fix shorter terms of detention than those prescribed. 13 M. 141. Imprisonment on arrest before judgment becomes, after decree, imprisonment in execution of a decree, and the imprisonment suffered must be taken into consideration in calculating the period provided by this section. 7 B. 431. In execution of a decree payable by instalments the debtor cannot be detained separately for default in the payment of each instalment. 7 B. 106. The language of sub-section (2) indicates that immunity from re-arrest arises only when there has been release after " detention in the civil prison." See 8 M. 21. See also 23 C. 128. When a warrant of committal to jail has been made out the discharge of the debtor whilst in confinement in the Court house, for non-payment of subsistence allowance, must be regarded as discharge from jail. 9 B. 151. But see 8 M. 21. The Code contemplates as immaterial the circumstances under which the debtor obtains his release. 20 C. 878. See also 12 C. 652. The Code does not forbid, retaking of a person who has been released under S. 13 of the Indian Insolvent Act. 26 B 652 at 659. A debtor who has been discharged for non-payment of subsistence money cannot be re-arrested. 4 M. H. C. R. 76. The cost of clothing, etc., required under S. 33, Prisons Act, is not subsistence allowance under S. 58. 17 I. C. 911. When a debtor who has been committed to a particular jail is detained in another jail, he is entitled to his release. 11 C. 527. While calculating the period of imprisonment under a new warrant the time of imprisonment suffered by him under the former warrant should be deducted. 17 I. C. 911. A payment is not made to the officer until the officer actually receives the money. 22 I. C. 25.

(3) Where a judgment-debtor has been committed to the civil prison, he may be released therefrom—

(a) by the Local Government, on the ground of the existence of any infectious or contagious disease, or

(b) by the Committing Court, or any Court to which that Court is subordinate on the ground of his suffering from any serious illness.

(4) A judgment-debtor released under this section may be re-arrested, but the period of his detention in the civil prison shall not in the aggregate exceed that prescribed by section 58.

Provided that the following particulars shall not be liable to such attachment or sale, namely :—

CL. (c) SCOPE OF SUB-CL. (c).—The term ‘agriculturist’ does not include persons who are agriculturists’ by virtue of a Govt. Notification. 106 I.C. 45. The judgment-debtor can waive the privilege provided by the section. The judgment-debtor will be estopped from pleading protection under the section if he mortgages the house. 6 P. 254=102 I.C. 616=A.I.R. 1927 Pat. 233. S. 60 is only intended for the benefit of the indigent agriculturists and not when the judgment-debtor suffers no material inconvenience. 25 I. C. 117=1 L.W. 519. WHO IS AGRICULTURIST.—A judgment-debtor is not an agriculturist under S. 60 (1) (c) of the Code, where his only source of living is not by cultivation. 63 I.C. 681 ; 35 I.C. 343=20 C. W. N. 834. A person does not cease to be an agriculturist merely because he transfers his land by lease or mortgage. 55 I.C. 481 ; 4 Bom. 25. The protection afforded by this clause was intended for agriculturists in the strictest sense, and for an agriculturist in that sole character. 12 B. 363 ; 7 B. 530. WHAT IS EXEMPT FROM ATTACHMENT.—A house of an agriculturist is exempt from attachment and sale in execution of a decree. 39 All. 120 ; 38 I. C. 171 ; 40 I. C. 544 ; 35 All. 307=11 A. L. J. 437=19 I. C. 125. The phrase “house and other buildings” does not include a vacant site used for storing manure and fodder and with no structure over it. 39 I. C. 375. The house must be a building if in ruins without doors or roof it is not a building. 99 I. C. 376=A. I. R. 1927 A. 214. But see also 105 I. C. 129. The clause refers only to a house occupied by an agriculturist, and does not refer to his town residence. 7 Bom. L.R. 685 ; 45 I.C. 546; but see A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 230. See also 49 Mad. 227=92 I. C. 328=A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 350=50 M. L. J. 90. As S. 60 forbids the sale of materials of a dwelling-house occupied by an agriculturist, a decree for the sale of such a house is bad even though it be a mortgage decree. 33 All. 136 ; 34 All. 25 ; 41 Bom. 475 ; 39 I. C. 639=19 Bom. L. R. 281. In the case of attachment of the cattle of an agriculturist, the Court has to see whether the cattle are necessary to enable an agriculturist to earn his livelihood. 56 I. Sec. 62.—A bailiff can break open the outer door of a shop in order to execute a writ of attachment. 3 B. 89. On this section, see also 1925 All. 140.

Sec. 63. OBJECT OF SECTION is to prevent confusion in execution proceedings. 18 Bom. 458.

SCOPE OF SECTION.—This section refers to attachments and has no relationship with the sections relating to sale and delivery of the property. 3 A. 353 (359). On this section, see also 22 A. 182; 18 B. 458; 25 C. 46; 21 C. 200; 6 M. 357; 16 B. 683; 49 Bom. 655; 27 Bom. L.R. 363.

APPLICATION OF SECTION.—Section applies only as between Civil Courts. 43 All. 612. There must be subsisting attachments of property in execution of decrees of more Courts than one at the same time under execution. 6 A. 255 (258). Where property is under attachment by two courts of different grades and is sold by the court of lower grade the sale is not invalid. 38 C.L.J. 266; 32 I.C. 41; 32 I.C. 927; 1924 Mad. 889. See also 33 M.L.J. 217; 46 C. 64.

COURT OF HIGHEST GRADE.—The grade of a Court depends upon the pecuniary or other limitations of the jurisdiction of the particular court. 19 B. 127. In the North Western Provinces, the Court of a Munsiff, is of higher grade than a Court of Small Causes. 16 A. 11; (F.B.). Assets held by Court of inferior grade transferred to superior court. Rateable distribution—Inferior Court not agent of superior Court. 29 Bom. L.R. 319.

MEANING OF WORDS.—The words of "property not in the custody of any Court" seem to be more applicable to moveable than to immoveable property. 7 C. 410. But see 7 M. 47. "Realise" means "realize" by sale. 3 A. 356, 59. Rights of attaching decree-holders of different Courts. 29 I.C. 21; see also 26 M. L. J. 406; 6 P.L. J. 332. Money attached before judgment is liable to rateable distribution in execution of decrees against the same defendant. 26 I.C. 941. An attachment of immoveable property in execution of a money-decree followed by order for sale does not confer on the judgment-creditor any charge on the land. 18 C.W.N. 1058 = 27 M.L.J. 150 = 41 I.A. 251 (P.C.) (Reversing 15 I.C. 288). See also 15 C. 202 (210).

64. [S. 276.] Where an attachment has been made, any private transfer or delivery of the property attached or of any interest therein and any payment to the judgment-debtor of any debt, dividend or other monies contrary to such attachment, shall be void as against all claims enforceable under the attachment.

Sec. 64.—There cannot be a partial raising of attachment by consent of parties out of Court. The section being absolute in its terms a sale by consent or connivance of the decree-holder is not excepted by the section. 101 I. C. 591 (1) = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 648. The object of section is to prevent fraud on decree-holders. 30 B. 337; 33 I. C. 492; and also to preserve in tact the rights of the attaching creditors against the attached property by prohibiting private alienations pending litigation. 29 I. A. 9 = 29 C. 154. This section avoids only private transfers and not awards by arbitrators. 35 M. L. J. 441. In the case of attachment before judgment as in the case of attachment in execution of a decree any private alienation of property during the continuance of attachment is void. 26 C. 531. Purchase made during pendency of an attachment is void and the purchaser does not obtain a lien. 34 I. C. 34. S. 64, avoids an alienation made while an attachment remained subsisting and enforceable. 4 Pat. L. T. 409; 20 S. L. R. 111; A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 103. A private sale of property pending an attachment by a decree-holder which has subsequently been raised is valid as against a non-attaching decree holder who had applied for rateable distribution during the continuance of the attachment. 49 I. An alienation is not altogether void but only subject to sale that may be effected pursuant to attachment. 24 L. W. 836 = 99 I. C. 656 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 190. It must be strictly construed, and before property can be subjected to the restriction imposed, there must be a perfected attachment. 7 C. 702. See also 2 A. 58; 3 A. 698. The attachment does not affect subsisting equitable rights which could be enforced against the property at the date of the attachment. 8 M. L. J. 266. It does not create in favour of the attaching creditor, any interest in, or charge upon the property, as against other creditors. 15 C. 202, at p. (210). See also 18 C. W. N. 1058 = 27 M. L. M. L. J. 284. B.) Where the alienation is made with the consent of the judgment-creditor and the money is applied towards the discharge of the judgment-debt, it is not void. 7 W. R. 430. A private transfer of property under attachment is not absolutely void but is void only as against claims enforceable under attachment. 63 I. C. 108.

Consent given by the heirs of a Mahomedan who by his will bequeaths more than one-third of his property, does not amount to an alienation. 26 B. 496. ATTACHMENT WHEN EFFECTIVE. See 30 I. C. 857. Effect of attachment.—An attachment of property does not confer title therein, but merely prohibits its transfer. 39 P. R. 1915 = 29 I. C. 572. An order of attachment takes effect only from the date of its actual promulgation under O. 21, R. 54, C. P. C., and not from the date of the Court's order. 32 I. C. 276; 42 M. 365; 41 M. 151; 39 I. C. 857; 39 I. C. 562; 42 Mad. 844 = 37 M. L. J. 375, but also see 33 I. C. 492. A prohibitory order restraining the payee of a promissory note from receiving the money has not the effect of an attachment. Such an attachment is invalid and S. 64 does not apply. 46 Mad. 415 = 44 M. L. J. 206. The Court can make an order striking off an execution proceeding, and at the same time continuing an attachment. 11 C. W. N. 163. For instances which might tend to show that an attachment has expired, see 22 C. 909 (P. C.) Attachment before judgment—Subsequent sale of property in execution of another decree—Application for sale by person who attached before judgment. 38 M. L. J. 441 = 55 I. C. 626. Where property is attached before judgment and the order of attachment is set aside but the attachment is restored the parties are restored to the position they occupied, when the property was originally attached.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, claims enforceable under an attachment include claims for the rateable distribution of assets.

Sale.

65. Where immoveable property is sold in execution of a decree and such sale has become absolute, the property shall be deemed to have vested in the purchaser from the time when the property is sold and not from the time when the sale becomes absolute.

Suit against purchaser not maintainable on ground of purchase being on behalf of plaintiff.

66. (1) No suit shall be maintained against any person claiming title under a purchase certified by the Court in such manner as may be prescribed on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of the plaintiff or on behalf of some one through whom the plaintiff claims.

A private sale of the property in the interval is void. 42 All. 39=52 I.C. 343. An interim order of attachment before judgment passed when the minor defendant is not properly represented will operate for the purpose of preventing alienation though the order cannot be made absolute without a proper guardian. A purchaser of the property in the interval can intervene in the proceedings and show that the order should not be made absolute. 106 I. C. 142=A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 1. A re-attachment in execution as a matter of greater caution, of certain immoveable properties which had been attached before judgment does not amount to an abandonment of the original attachment. 26 I. If an attachment is withdrawn or ceases to exist there is no right to rateable distribution. 66 I. C. 642=8 O. L. J. 358. Meaning of "enforceable" in explanation, 49 M. 38=97 I. C. 49=A. I. The auction purchaser in execution of a rent decree and not the judgment-debtor is liable for rents accruing between the date of the sale and its confirmation, as under S. 65 the title of the former dates from the date of the sale. 23 I. C. 101=18 C. W. N. 136. See O. 21, R. 92. The right of an auction purchaser of a share in a village to mesne profits dates from the date of sale and not from the date of mutation of names in the Revenue Register. 45 I. C. 248=5 O. L. J. 31. Sec. 66. SCOPE OF SECTION.—As to whether the section has retrospective operation, see 36 C. L. J. 396=27 C. W. N. 305. See also 43 All. 416; 47 Cal. 1108; 1925 Nag. 41; 30 C. W. N. 160. S. 66 applies only where the plaintiff's claim is based on an auction purchase and not where it is prior to and independent of the sale. 36 I.C. 681. As to applicability of section, see 90 I. C. 116 (Sec. not applicable to sale by receiver with permission of Court which appointed him); 83 I. C. 382=1924 Oudh 218 (Title of persons beneficially interested in the purchase not affected); 84 I. C. 98=1925 Oudh 20 (Sec. does not exclude evidence as to auction-purchase being benami when such evidence is relevant). A suit for execution of a sale-deed and for recovery of possession on the ground that defendant's father purchased the properties as benamidar for the plaintiff falls within S. 66, C. P. C., and is barred. 29 I. C. 138. The section provides that no suit shall lie against the certified purchaser on the ground that the purchase was on behalf of the plaintiff. 44 I. A. 201=44 A. 159 (P.C.). Cases of suits by certified purchasers are beyond the letter and scope of this section. 21 A. at p. 40. A benami certified purchaser can sue in his own name even when the true owner's name is disclosed. See 22 B. at p. 679. The object of S. 66 is to put an end to benami purchases at Court sales in execution. 43 Mad. 643=47 I.A. 108=30 M.L.J. 11 (P. C.); 12 Beng. L. R. 317. But see 54 I.C. 726=24 C.W.N. 27; 42 Mad. 616 (F.B.). A suit by a judgment-debtor against an auction purchaser to enforce an agreement before the sale to reconvey the properties to the judgment-debtor is barred. 50 I. C. 546. The section is intended to prevent fraud, and cannot apply to cases in which its application would promote fraud. 12 C. 204. But see 16 M. at p. 292-93. The section has no application where it is found that the certified purchaser was, at the date of the purchase, managing the plaintiff's family as its agent, and that he bought the lands as such. 17 M. at p. 286, 87; see also 18 M. 436; but see 22 A. 434. A person is entitled to be regarded as the certified purchaser at any time after the acceptance of his bid at the sale, even though a sale certificate has not issued to him. 25 W. R. 493; 19 I. C. 909=19 C. L. J. 330; 29 I. C. 716; 53 I. C. 961. Section is no bar when the certified purchaser does not contest plaintiff's claim. 82 I. C. 344=1925 All. 47. The section should be construed strictly. 5 Bom. L. R. 329; 2 Lah. L. J. 358; and literally 2 I. A. 154.

APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—A plaintiff, a purchaser, at a court sale is not entitled to recover the property from the defendant of whom he was found to be the benamidar, and the benami transaction was found to be free from fraud. 36 Bom. 116=12 I. C. 564=13 Bom. L. R. 1002. See also 43 All. 416=62 I. C. 725=19 A. L. J. 227; 108 I. C. 130=26 A. L. J. 245. The section applies only to sales in execution of decrees of Civil Courts, held under the Code. 14 C. at p. 585. S. 66 has no application in a case where the benamidar himself does not claim under the sale certificate. 27 C. W. N. 208; 1923 Cal. 302. A cause of action against the benamidar which arose under the old Code, 1882, is not affected by the new Code. 50 I. C. 335=23 C. W. N. 604. See also 18 C. I. J. 616=8 C. W. N. 1331. Section applies to the case of a purchaser at a sale in enforcement and execution of certificate under S. 2 of the Public Demands Recovery Act. 16 C. W. N. 973=16 C. L. J. 412. Where at an auction, a person purchased property in the name of one and it was alleged by another that it was in trust for him, a suit between these two claimants is not within the prohibition contemplated by S. 66. 33 I. C. 1000. Section does not apply to cases where a plaintiff who purchases property in the name of another, has been in adverse possession for over 12 years. 19 C. 199. The section applies whether the ostensible purchaser at an auction-sale purchases the whole or part of the property sold. 57 I. C. 684. Benami purchaser attesting sale by true owner, effect of—Whether operates as estoppel. See 36 Mad. 564=23 M. L. J. 301. Joint decree-holders—Co-decree-holders purchasing at execution sale—Rights of others. See 37 All. 545=42 I. A. 177 (P. C.) (affirming 32 All. 541=6 I. C. 364). 29 I. C. 447 is not now good law. See also 29 All. 557. S. 66 has no application to cases where the manager of a Hindu family or a tenant-in-common purchases with funds belonging to the joint family or to all the tenants-in-common. 17 I. C. 434=(1912) M. W. N. 1071. See also 43 M. L. J. 363=45 M. 856; 37 I. C. 111. Where properties sold in execution of a decree were purchased with the funds of the manager of a joint Hindu family in the name of his son-in-law. S. 317 of the C.P.C., 1882, bars the claim of the members of the joint Hindu family to the properties as being really joint family acquisitions. 40 All. 159=44 I. A. 201 (P. C.) (see also 35 All. 80=18 I. C. 30=40 I. A. 40=16 O. C. 129. SUIT FOR REPRESENTATIVES OF REAL PURCHASERS.—S. 66, C.P.C., is intended to bar the institution of a suit against the certified purchaser by the beneficial owner or one standing as successor in-title of the beneficial owner. 16 I. C. 489=10 A. L. J. 97; also see 25 I. C. 821=12 A. L. J. 1145. S. 66, C. P. C., applies to the successor-in-title of the certified purchaser. 55 I. C. 499=16 N. L. R. 87 (31 Bom. 61; 35 Bom. 342, Ref.) also see 19 I. C. 909=19 C. L. J. 330. Third parties—S. 317 of the old Code did not apply to persons claiming through the certified purchaser. 46 I. C. 216. Third parties—Suit by beneficiary against the benami certificated purchaser. See 54 I. C. 127=24 C. W. N. 51. Third parties—Property mortgages by judgment-debtor—Sale in execution—Suit by mortgagee against the judgment-debtor and execution purchaser. 54 I. C. 967; 37 M. L. J. 586, [37 A. 545 (P. C.), Ref.].

SUIT FOR POSSESSION.—A plaintiff, a purchaser at a Court sale is not entitled to recover the property from the defendant of whom he was found to be the benamidar and the benami-transaction was found to be free from fraud. 36 Bom. 116. Also see 35 All. 138=18 I. C. 246=11 A. L. J. 111; 29 I. C. 787; 20 C. W. N. 147=40 Cal. 20, 28 M. L. J. 251 (Auction-purchaser not trustee for real purchaser.) S. 66 of the C. P. C. is no bar to a suit brought by the principal against the agent for the recovery of properties purchased by the agent in his own name but with the principal's money and for the principal's benefit in a Court auction though without the knowledge of the principal. 49 I. C. 734=9 L. W. 276. [19 W. R. 356 (P. C.); 37 A. 545, Foll.]

SUIT FOR DECLARATION.—A suit by a son, member of a joint Hindu family for a declaration that a Court auction-purchase in the name of his mother, made out of family funds, is benami, is barred under this section. 43 A. 711. But it has however been held that the real purchaser in a benami sale who remains in possession is not precluded by S. 66, C.P.C., from suing for declaration that he is the owner. 25 I. C. 810

A decree against the judgment-debtor for assets of his father gives no priority over the decrees against him personally. 42 I. C. 897=(1917) M. W. N. 859. Section does not apply to deposits by judgment-debtor for a particular decree. 1925 Nag. 157. Where set-off is claimed under O. 21, R. 72 application under this section must be made before decree-holder's application for set-off. 1925 Oudh 287.

WHO CAN APPLY.—See 20 S. L. R. 111. Only bona fide decree-holders can apply for rateable distribution, and a Court is bound to ascertain this fact. 11 C. at p. 44. See also 13 B. 154. Application for rateable distribution is not an application for execution. 64 I. C. 53=17 N. L. R. 143. Application for execution is necessary to

Until the court has received a decree it has no jurisdiction to entertain an application for execution. Where the decree was received by the executing Court the next day after the application for execution was filed, the application is not sustainable in law so as to be the basis of a claim for rateable distribution. 27 L. NATURE OF APPLICATION MADE "APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION"—A decree-holder who has obtained attachment before judgment is not entitled to rateable distribution in case he has not applied under O. 21, R. 10 to execute his decree. 33 C. 639; 12 B. 400; 30 I. "DECREES FOR PAYMENT OF MONEY."—A decree does not lose the character of being a money decree against one judgment-debtor because, under it, a sale of the property of the other judgment-debtor is also decreed. 10 A. 35 at p. 38. It is essential that the decrees should have been obtained against the same judgment-debtor. 42 C. 1=19 C. W. N. 1202 ; 25 B. 494 ; 47 I. C. 296 ; 27 C. L. J. 100 ; 14 C. L. J. 50. It is not necessary that all the judgment-debtors in the several decrees should be identical. 4 P. L. J. 373 ; 9 C. 920 ; 30 C. 583 ; 22 M. 241. A person who holds a decree against a Hindu father, and a person who holds a decree against the father and son holds decrees against the same judgment-debtor in case the property is the ancestral property of the family. 26 M. 179 (181). See also 29 B. 528. Clause (a) and the second proviso have reference only to sales in execution of simple money decrees, and to the mode in which sale proceeds are to be rateably distributed among simple-money-decree-holders. 5 A. at p. 558. Neither this section nor O. 34, R. 13 are applicable to a case where the question is whether the surplus amount can be paid to a subsequent encumbrancer. 49 A. 636=101 I. C. 505=A. I. R. 1927. When in execution of a mortgage decree a sale proceeds in lots, the sale need not be stopped as soon as the sum due under the decree is realized, if several other decree-holders have applied for rateable distribution. 17 M.L.J. 80. The right to claim a refund of assets arises only after such assets have been actually paid to a person not entitled to receive the same. A suit for a declaration that another decree-holder is not entitled to rateable distribution is not maintainable. 7 M.L.J. 277 ; 3 C. L. J. 385. See also 15 B. 438. The words "assets liable to be rateably distributed" mean assets reduced to a form in which they are available for immediate application towards the satisfaction of the decree which is being executed. 16 B. at p. 98. A debt due by a third party to the judgment-debtor, when paid into Court, is available for distribution. 19 M. 72. Rents of property under attachment, which have been realized by a Receiver appointed at the instance of one decree-holder, are available for distribution. 26 C. 772. But rent taken in lieu of interest, by a mortgagee, does not fall within the scope of the section. 9 M. 57. The 25 per cent. deposited by the purchaser at the date of sale would not be available for distribution until the balance is paid. 18 C. 242. The fact that under certain circumstances it is possible for the Court to set aside the sale and to return the purchase-money to the purchaser, does not render the purchase-money not available for distribution. 16 B. 16. When property has been ordered to be sold in several lots, and only some of the lots have been sold, the sale proceeds of those lots alone, are available for distribution before the remaining lots are sold. 26 M. 179.

NOTICE.—Notice of an application for rateable distribution need not be given to the other decree-holders. 27 A. 132.

PRESUMPTION.—Where payment of assets into court and application for rateable distribution are made on the same day, there is no presumption as to the order of events and the officer distributing the assets should ascertain which act was prior in time. 47 I. C. 296=(1918) M. W. N. 520.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any information exhibited by the Advocate-General in exercise of the power declared by section 111 of the East India Company Act, 1813.

80. [S. 424.] No suit shall be instituted against the Secretary of State for India in Council, or against a public officer in respect of any act purporting to be done by such public officer in his Notice.

The head of a Government department is not liable for wrongful acts of officials in that department unless it can be shown that the act complained of was substantially the act of the head of the department himself. 51 Bom. 749 = 104 I. C. 635 = A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 521.

Sec. 80.—The object of the section in providing for notice is to afford the Secretary of State or the Public Officer concerned an opportunity to reconsider his legal position, and to make amends if so advised without litigation. 40 B. 392; 24 M. 279; 7 C. 499; 6 C. 8 (F. B.); 54 C. 969 (1023); 23 L. W. 464 = 91 I. C. 368 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 408.

SCOPE OF SECTION.—A Public Officer who is sued in respect of an act in bad faith is not entitled to notice under S. 80 of the C. P. C. 16 C. W. N. 145; 26 All. 220; 32 C. 1130; 8 B. 421. A public officer is entitled to notice under S. 80 before suit, though he acts mala fide in the discharge of his duties. 41 M. 792 = 34 M. L. J. 494 (F. B.); 35 B. 421. The section is not limited to cases of what might be called torts or wrongs. 34 Cal. 257 (282). Defendants interest devolving on Government during suit—No notice necessary. 24 A. L. J. 726 = 96 I. C. 351 (1) = A. I. R. 1926 All. 585. Notice under S. 80, C. P. C. is necessary in every case instituted against the Secretary of State including one arising on a contract. 37 M. 113; 27 I. C. 232 = 18 C. W. N. 1340. But see 20 B. 697; 27 Bom. 450, as also a suit for an injunction. 105 I. C. 756 (2) = 29 Bom. L. R. 1427; see other 105 I. C. 729; 54 I. A. 338 = 51 Bom. 725 (P. C.).

ANY ACT PURPORTING TO BE DONE IN HIS OFFICIAL CAPACITY.—The notice contemplated is notice for an act which has been done, and does not relate to some act which is only threatened and which may or may not be done in the future. 28 A. 603; 24 L. W. 730 = 51 M. L. J. 671. When in a suit to set aside a sale under Bengal Act I of 1895, on the ground of fraud, the Secretary of State is made a party, and no relief is claimed against him, no notice is needed. 32 C. 1130. There must be a distinct act of the "Public Officer" which is complained of, to entitle him to notice. 13 B. 347; 30 C. 36. Where plaintiff does not allege any act or omission by Official Receiver but he is made a party because he is in possession of property, no notice is necessary. 48 A. 821 = 99 I. C. 138 = 24 A. L. When a person who has given notice, dies before suit his representative must give a fresh notice before suing. 25 A. 187. In case of an amendment necessitated by the alleged discovery of facts previously unknown to the plaintiff, no further notice need be given. 30 C. 36. But when one notice has been given specifying a particular cause of action, no amendment should be allowed so as to introduce a new cause of action not specified in the notice given. 34 C. 257, 281; 38 C. 797. There is nothing to prevent defendant from waiving notice or from being estopped by his conduct from pleading want of notice at the trial. 34 C. 257, 82. A notice though invalid may be waived by the Secretary of State and would be deemed to have been waived if no issue is joined at the time of settlement issues. 40 Cal. 503. No other defendant than the Government and persons mentioned in this section can raise the question of validity of notice under S. 80. 40 Cal. 503. Notice—When dispensed with. 15 I. C. 539 = 14 Bom. ON WHOM NOTICE IS TO BE SERVED.—The term "District" in S. 80 means the district in which the suit is instituted and the notice must be served on the Collector or one of the Collectors of that district and not on the Collector of another district where the cause of action partly arises. 27 I. C. 232 = 18 C. W. N. 1340.

WHO IS A PUBLIC OFFICER.—A Collector when acting as the agent of the Court of Wards is a "Public Officer." 3 A. 20; see also 105 I. C. 729. But see 11 M. 317; 13 B. 343. No action for damages can lie against a village headman for an act done in his official capacity unless the requirements of official capacity, until the expiration of two months next after notice in writing has been, in the case of the Secretary of State in Council, delivered to, or left at the office of, a Secretary to the Local Government or the Collector of the district, and, in the case of a public officer, delivered to him or left at his office, stating the cause of action, the name, description and place of residence of the plaintiff and the relief which he claims; and the plaint shall contain a statement that such notice has been so delivered or left.

(a) the defendant shall not be liable to arrest nor his property to attachment otherwise than in execution of a decree, and,

(b) where the Court is satisfied that the defendant cannot absent himself from his duty without detriment to the public service, it shall exempt him from appearing in person.

82. [S. 429.] (1) Where the decree is against the Secretary of State for India in Council or against a public officer in respect of any such act as aforesaid, a time shall be specified in the decree within which it shall be satisfied; and if the decree is not satisfied within the time so specified, the Court shall report the case for the orders of the Local Government.

(2) Execution shall not be issued on any such decree unless it remains unsatisfied for the period of three months computed from the date of such report.

CONTENTS AND CONSTRUCTION OF NOTICES.—The notice should state the relief which the plaintiff claims; it should be absolute in terms and not conditional. 6 Bom. L. R. 132. The notice must mention the name and place of abode of the intending plaintiff. 14 M. 386. See also 27 P. 206. A notice which does not contain all the names, descriptions and places of residence of the plaintiffs in a suit is an invalid notice. 40 Cal. 503. A notice under S. 80 is not a proper notice if the case set up in the plaint is different from the case stated in the notice. A suit instituted upon such a notice cannot be maintained. 32 I. C. 235. Notice by a plaintiff under the section cannot constitute a cause of action. The right to sue can accrue when the order of the Collector interfering with the plaintiff's right is passed. 19

I. C. 565. The term "cause of action" in the section should not be too narrowly construed, the object of the section being merely to inform the defendant of the grounds of the complaint. 8 C. W. N. 913. See also 24 M. 279, 54 Cal. 969 (1923). Where plots mentioned in the notice comprised all the plots mentioned in the plaint, the variance between the notice and the plaint does not justify dismissal of the suit. 32 I. C. 752=20 C. W. LIMITATION.—Where notice to Government is necessary under S. 80, C. P. C., the period of two months is excluded from the prescribed limitation. 52 P. R. 1917=38 I. C. 600=42 P. W. R. 1917. Where a special law of limitation applies a party is not entitled to deduct the period of two months for service of notice under S. 80 of the Code. 66 I. C. 287=34 C. L. J. 205.

Sec. 83.—Whether the cause of action arose before or after war, an alien enemy can be sued in British Indian Courts and would have every right to prosecute his case before the Courts in accordance with the law of procedure, and it makes no difference that he was interned at the time. 40 Cal. 1140. A British subject voluntarily residing or carrying on business in enemy country will be treated as an alien enemy and cannot sue in British India. 55 I. C. 324=1 Lah. 276. Alien enemy who has been licensed to trade in British India has a right to sue in Indian Courts. 31 I. C. 888=9 Bur. L. T. 51.

Explanation.—Every person residing in a foreign country the Government of which is at war with the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and carrying on business in that country without a licence in that behalf under the hand of one of His Majesty's Secretaries of State or of a Secretary to the Government of India shall, for the purpose of sub-section (2), be deemed to be an alien enemy residing in a foreign country.

(2) Every Court shall take judicial notice of the fact that a foreign State has not been recognized by His Majesty or by the Governor-General in Council.

85. [S. 432.] (1) Person specially appointed by order of the Government at the request of any Sovereign Prince or Ruling Chief, whether in subordinate alliance with the British Government or otherwise, and whether residing within or without British India, or at the request of any person competent, in the opinion of the Government, to act on behalf of such Prince or Chief, to prosecute or defend any suit on his behalf, shall be deemed to be the recognized agents by whom appearances, acts and applications under this Code may be made or done on behalf of such Prince or Chief.

(2) An appointment under this section may be made for the purpose of a specified suit or of several specified suits, or for the purpose of all such suits as it may from time to time be necessary to prosecute or defend on behalf of the Prince or Chief.

(3) A person appointed under this section may authorize or appoint persons to make appearances and applications and do acts in any such suit or suits as if he were himself a party thereto.

86. [S. 433.] (1) Any such Prince or Chief, and any ambassador or envoy of a foreign State, may, with the consent of the Governor-General in Council, certified by the signature of a Secretary to the Government of India, but not without such consent, be sued in any competent Court.

Sec. 84.—See 11 Cal. 17 (24).

Secs. 86 and 87.—A suit will not lie against a sovereign prince without the consent of the Governor-General in Council. A State cannot be sued apart from its Ruling Chief. 12 M. L. T. 496=17 I. C. 444=23 M. L. J. 605. (9 C. 135 Foll.).

APPLICATION OF SECTION.—The section does not apply to a defence put forth (as set off). Such a defence can be put forward in answer to a claim by a Ruling Chief without the consent of the Governor-General. 62 I. C. 778.

RULING CHIEFS.—The Khrundward Jagirdars are Ruling Chiefs who cannot be sued without the consent of the Governor-General under S. 66 of the C. P. C. 51 I. C. 221=21 Bom. L. R. 376.

CONSENT OF GOVERNOR-GENERAL.—A suit against a Ruling Chief cannot be maintained without the consent of the Governor-General in Council. 25 I. C. 271. The consent must be given before the commencement of the suit. 21 B. 351. Even when leave is granted by the Governor-General in Council, the Court in which the suit is filed can question the leave in case the conditions mentioned in the section are not fulfilled. 29 A. 379.

SUBMISSION TO JURISDICTION.—Where a Ruling Prince having sovereign powers submits to the jurisdiction of a British Court, no objection can be raised by him, in the Appellate Court on the ground that the consent of the Governor-General had not been obtained prior to the institution of the suit. 46 I. C. 558. No suit can be maintained against a Ruling Chief without the consent of a Governor-General in Council. The mere fact that the defendant after claiming the privilege pleaded also on the merits, does not amount to a waiver of privilege and submission

(2) Such consent may be given with respect to a specified suit or to several specified suits, or with respect to all suits of any specified class or classes, and may specify, in the case of any suit or class of suits, the Court in which the Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy may be sued; but it shall not be given unless it appears to the Government that the Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy—

(a) has instituted a suit in the Court against the person desiring to sue him, or

(b) by himself or another trades within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or

(c) is in possession of immoveable property situate within those limits and is to be sued with reference to such property of for money charged thereon.

(3) No such Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy shall be arrested under this Code, and, except with the consent of the Governor-General in Council certified as aforesaid, no decree shall be executed against the property of any such Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy.

(4) The Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, authorize a Local Government and any Secretary to that Government to exercise, with respect to any Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy named in the notification, the functions assigned by the foregoing sub-sections to the Governor-General in Council and a Secretary to the Government of India, respectively.

(5) A person may, as a tenant of immoveable property, sue, without such consent as is mentioned in this section, a Prince, Chief, ambassador or envoy from whom he holds or claims to hold the property.

87. [S. 434.] A Sovereign Prince or Ruling Chief may sue, and shall be sued, in the name of his State :

Provided that in giving the consent referred to in the foregoing section the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, may direct that any such Prince or Chief shall be sued in the name of an agent or in any other name.

Sec. 88.—The law of interpleaders as set out in C. P. C. is the same as that of England. The applicant should satisfy the Court that he has no interest in the subject-matter of the suit except for charges and cost otherwise he is disentitled to sue. 4 Rang. 465=99 I. C. 985=A. I. properly constituted merely because one of the defendants does not claim the whole of the subject-matter. 1 M. H. C. R. 361. See also 14 B. 489. In an interpleader suit all contesting defendants are in the position of plaintiffs. 48 Mad. 1=1925 Mad. 497. Where the defendants do not claim adversely to one another, nor is the plaintiff admitting the title of one of the defendants or is willing to pay or deliver the property to him, the suit is not an interpleader-suit. 1922 Cal. 138. When in a suit for rent the defendant pays the money into Court with the request that it be paid over to the party entitled to it, such suit may be treated to in the nature of an interpleader proceeding. 17 M. 85.

A court should not frame a scheme when there is no mismanagement or misappropriation. 106 I. C. 375 (Mad) S. 92 deals with completed trusts and is inapplicable where that stage has not yet been reached. 70 I. C. 903 = 16 L. W. 922. A suit for the administration of the trusts of a will which contained disposition for charitable purposes is maintainable though it is not brought under S. 92. 70 I. C. 903 = 16 L. W. 922. A suit by an idol in his juristic capacity against persons who are interfering unlawfully with his property or with his income is not governed by S. 92. 45 A. 215 = 71 I. C. 420. A dispute between rival claimants to the office of trustee does not fall within the section. 44 A. 721 = 1922 All. 499. In order to bring a case within S. 92 the suit must be a representative one, brought for the benefit of the public and to enforce a public right in respect of an express or constructive trust. Ibid. The section does not bar a suit for declaration that the plaintiff is a duly constituted mohant. 34 I. C. 502. A suit for declaration that defendants are not properly appointed trustees of a temple and for an injunction appropriate to that declaration does not fall within the purview of S. 92. 64 I. C. 353 = 46 Bom. 101. A suit by co-trustee to declare joint right of management needs no sanction. 39 M. L. T. 214 = 105 I. C. 194 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 948. See also 103 I. C. 134 = A. I. = 31 M. L. J. 279. S. 92, C. P. C., and S. 14 of Rel. End. Act (XX of 1863) in so far as the forms of relief to which they relate are the same appear to offer a choice of proceeding under either of the sections, but they are not bound to proceed under both. 37 Mad. 184 = 24 M. L. J. 697. A suit under S. 92 does not concern the private rights of the parties thereto and cannot be referred to arbitration. 72 I. C. 1016. S. 92 debars persons from unrestricted access to Courts and hence must strictly construed. A suit to restrain interference with plaintiff's right to exclusive worship is not within S. 92. 50 I. C. 509; nor a suit for damages for misconduct of trustee. 92 I. C. 526 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 509.

SCOPE OF SCHEME BY COURT.—Scheme can be made only under this section. 7 Pat. L. T. 4 = A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 544. In settling a scheme of management the Court has a wide discretion. The wishes of the founder with regard to management, if conformable to the changed conditions and circumstances of the present day, as well as the past history of the institution, might be taken into consideration; but the primary duty of the Court is to consider the general interests of the body of the public for whose benefit the trust is created and the Court might vary any rule of management which it finds to be impracticable or unsuited to the best interests of the institution. 43 Cal. 1085 = 31 M. L. J. 290 (P. C.). See also 98 I. C. 208 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1150 = 51 M. L. J. 457. In settling a scheme due consideration should be paid to the established practice of the institution and to the position of the person connected with it. 8 Bom. L. R. 756. The Court can uphold a scheme settled by the co-trustees of an institution under which each of them was to manage the trust in rotation. 13 M. L. J. 341. The High Court has a large discretion in the matter of sanctioning a scheme for the management of a temple and of its funds. 17 I. C. 441 = 24 M. L. J. 199 (P. C.). Even when a will directs that members of the testator's family are to be appointed members of the committee if suitable persons are not available, the Court has power to appoint strangers. 58 I. C. 566 = 17 A. L. J. 957. Where a Court has sanctioned a scheme for the administration of a religious or charitable trust the Court can vary the scheme from time to time according to the exigencies of the case. 37 C. L. J. 281 = 76 I. C. 220 = 43 Cal. 467. Successive scheme suits—Maintainability of. See (1922) M. W. N. 477 = 70 I. C. 579. Trustee appointed under a tentative scheme can only be removed by regular suit. 94 I. C. 610 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 799. Whether Courts have inherent powers to alter schemes without a fresh suit being brought for the purpose when there is no provision for alteration in the scheme. See 1922 M. 413 = 70 I. C. 579; 91 I. C. 794 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 659; 36 M. 464; 37 C. 870. Reservation of permission to apply to Court for the proper management of an institution is bad in a scheme decree. See (1926) M. W. N. 283 = 95 I. C. 5 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 655; A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 557 = 54 I. C. 354 (2) = 50 M. L. J. 409. See also 51 M. 31 = 106 I. C. 665 (2) = 26 L. W. 728 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1073 = 54 M. L. J. 792 (F. B.). A scheme decree may be in general declaratory but in particular circumstances provision may be made for execution of parts of this scheme. 39 M. L. T. 579. Provision in the decree for its alteration in execution is ultra vires changes can be made only in a fresh suit. 49 Mad. 580=95 I. C. 720=(1926) M. W. N. 226=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 559. Rules framed by temple committee under scheme decree can be altered by Court. 28 Bom. L. R. 309=94 I. C. 47=A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 179. Where a suit is brought by plaintiffs not in assertion of their individual rights but on behalf of the general public who are interested in the institution for the settlement of a proper scheme of management of the charities and for other relief, there is no bar of limitation. 43 M. L. J. 448=69 I. C. 15.

SELECTION OF TRUSTEES.—Appointment from plaintiff's community on the ground that the trust had largely benefited by its endowment. 54 I. C. 263=10 L. W. 494. It is competent to the Court in framing a scheme for a Hindu religious or charitable endowment to sanction a cypres application of the funds of the endowment if the objects of the trust are not suited to modern conditions and if there is a general charitable intention in the terms of the endowment. The trustee himself cannot apply the income cypres without the sanction of the Court. 47 I. C. 611=37 M. L. J. 489. Court's jurisdiction to frame a scheme under S. 92 is not excluded by the fact that the temple is one subject to a Temple Committee, but in framing the scheme the Court should not unduly interfere with the power entrusted by the statute to the Committee, e.g., by appointing a Board of Control between the trustees and the Temple Committee. 39 Mad. 700=30 M. L. J. 29. When a decree directs a trustee of a Hindu temple to perform festival, a Court has no jurisdiction to give certain directions for the same. 30 I. C. 771=2 L. W. 607. Hereditary trustee—Appointment of treasurer—Necessity for. 28 I. C. 479. A Court in framing a scheme regarding a temple is bound to have regard to the existing rights of individuals to the trusteeship of the temple. 23 M. L. J. 134; 28 M. 319; 21 M. L. J. 784. Indian Courts have the same powers as the Courts of Chancery in England to appoint additional trustees even where there are hereditary trustees. 23 M. L. J. 134=16 I. C. 225. See also 98 I. C. 208=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1150=51 M. L. J. 457. Scheme—Effect of—Private rights lost—Alteration of scheme. 36 Mad. 364=21 M. L. J. 952. Even apart from any question of mismanagement and misappropriation, a Court can settle a scheme if it can conduce to the better management of the trust property. 45 I. C. 213.

OBJECT OF SECTION.—The object of S. 92 is to make it clear that the provisions of section are mandatory and the object of the saving clause is to make it clear that Rel. End. Act is still in force. 20 I. C. 767=24 M. L. J. 658. The object of S. 92 is not to encourage abuse of the process of the Court by vexatious or improper suits. 37 I. C. 897.

APPLICATION OF SECTION.—Test of applicability. 97 I. C. 480. The section does not apply to the case of an endowment for purposes religious as well as charitable. 5 M. 383; 11 A. 18, 22; (F. B.)—25 A. 631. The section does not apply to a case where the suit is by the whole body of persons who are legally authorised to administer the trust to which it relates. 29 A. 27. A suit for the recovery of trust property improperly alienated by a trustee does not lie under this section. 8 B. 365; 28 A. 112. But see 24 C. 418. Nor a suit by a trustee to recover possession of property from a trespasser. 25 A. L. J. 902. A suit to compel trustees to make good the loss sustained by the charity in consequence of their default falls, within the scope of the section. 21 B. 48. The section was intended to apply to persons who, before its enactment, had or were believed to have no right to take proceedings for purposes mentioned in it. 21 M. 406.

RELIEFS UNDER THE SECTION.—A Court has inherent power to pass a decree in a suit relating to trust, under S. 92 (h) appointing new trustees and directing old ones to deliver the properties to them. 58 I. C. 566=17 A. L. J. 957. In framing schemes the superintendence over temples should not be vested in courts but in temple committees. (1927) M. W. N. 759=26 L. W. 581=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1033. In S. 92 the words "such further relief as the nature of the case may require" cover every subsidiary order or direction on any matter of detail necessary for carrying out the main purposes of the section. 40 I. C. 182; 24 C. 418. The expression must be taken to mean relief of the same nature as clauses (a) to (g) and so the section does not apply to a suit by certain worshippers for a declaration that a prior scheme suit had been fraudulently compromised and for a declaration that the properties belonged to a wakf and no sanction is necessary. I. L. T. 40 C. 19=9 P. L. J. 65=27 L. W. 339=A. I. R. 1928 P. C. 16 (P. C.). A decree cannot be passed against a defendant who sets up title adverse to a trust, to deliver possession of properties in his possession, in a suit under this section. 39 M. L. T. 66=102 I. C. 74=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 710=53 M. L. J. 183. There is much which is common between S. 14 of the Religious Endowments Act and S. 92 of the C. P. C., but the latter is substantially the wider and provides for settling a scheme which is a jurisdiction of a very wide and beneficial nature. 42 Bom. 742=48 I. C. 514. See also A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 544. Where none of the reliefs specified in S. 92 are claimed and the plaintiff does not ask the Court to appoint him a mutawalli, the suit is incompetent under S. 92. 29 I. C. 423=20 C. W. N. 605.

ACCOUNTS, DIRECTION AS TO.—S. 92, C. P. C., is quite wide enough to entitle the Court to direct an account against a trustee and to order him to pay the amount found due upon taking those accounts. 28 I. C. 886. A decree directing trustee to pay amount due on taking accounts is executable and not merely declaratory. (1927) M. W. N. 202=100 I. C. 841=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 416=52 M. L. J. 182. See also 39 M. L. T. 579.

SANCTION.—A sanction granted for a suit under S. 92 means any suit which may be laid under that section and it is not confined to one of the species of suits that could be raised on the application. 48 Cal. 493; 21 B. 257. The limitation requiring previous sanction is necessary to prevent an abuse of the powers conferrin writing of the Advocate-General, may institute a suit, whether contentious or not in ed by the section. 21 M. 406. The suit must be limited to matters included in the consent and it is not competent to the Court to enlarge the scope of the suit. 21 B. 257. But see 48 Cal. 493 (P. C.) Variance between sanction and plaint is not fatal to the suit unless there is any material omission. 27 L. W. 42 = 107 I. C. 130 = A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 205. The duties imposed upon a Collector by Government Resolution under S. 93 of the C. P. C. are of a very special nature, and cannot be discharged by his subordinates. 35 Bom. 243 = 10 I. C. 803. But there is no harm in an order being signed by the sheristadar for the Collector. 27 L. W. 42 = 107 I. C. 130 = A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 205. Consent obtained as against persons not real trustees is invalid as against the real trustees. (1926) M. W. N. 626 = 24 L. W. 419 = 97 I. C. 462 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 970. Such an objection cannot be waived by real trustee. (Ibid.). The "consent in writing" must be a specific permission given to two or more persons by name. A permission given to one applicant by name "and another" is not sufficient. 26 A. 162. But see 10 M. 185; 9 I. C. 358. Sanction is necessary for a suit, by individual worshippers against trustees for infringement of right common to them and other worshippers. 25 L. W. 575 = 38 M. L. T. (H. C.) 288 = 102 I. C. 328 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 551 = 52 M. L. J. 541.

FORM OF SANCTION.—The plaintiffs who are seeking to obtain the Court's assistance to enforce the management of the trust property are not to be defeated because the Collector elected to name only one of the petitioners and to refer to the others merely as the other applicants. 9 I. C. 358 = 13 Bom. L. R. 49. But see 26 A. 162 (contra). The suit for declaration and injunction as to a pathway is one to which O. 1, R. 8 is appropriate if the Court's permission is taken, the recourse to the Advocate-General being unnecessary. 69 I. C. 910 = 20 C. W. N. 587. Where the object of suit is to secure certain advantages to a trust, any two persons can sue in that behalf with the sanction of the Advocate-General or the Collector of the District concerned. 35 I. C. 88 = 3 L. W. 512. See also 60 I. C. 570. No sanction is required for a plaintiff suing as a trustee for obtaining a decree for an account against his co-trustee. 41 M. L. J. 608 = 45 Mad. 113. But see 66 I. C. 837 = 16 L. W. 155; also for a suit by a co-trustee for joint right of management. 105 I. C. 194 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 948. Where a sanction under S. 92 is granted to more than two persons interested in the trust, all must join in the suit, and not any two of them. 31 I. C. 236 = 29 M. L. J. 231. A suit for appointment of new trustee requires sanction. 9 I. C. 168 = 21 M. L. J. 450. No relief can be prayed for, to which no sanction has been obtained. (1927) M. W. N. 759 = 26 L. W. 581 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1033.

"TWO OR MORE PERSONS."—When a suit is instituted by one plaintiff only with the consent of the Advocate-General, and the plaint is subsequently amended by the addition of a second plaintiff, and the Advocate-General consents to it, the suit is bad in its inception and should be dismissed. 30 B. 603. Reservation by a Court to a person or persons to apply for a relief is ultra vires. (1927) M. W. N. 816 = 39 M. L. J. 422 = 26 L. W. 728 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1073 = 53 M. L. J. 792 (F. B.).

"INTERESTED."—The interest must be an existing one; and not a mere contingency; the mere possibility of an interest is not sufficient. 20 C. 810 (816). The interest need not be personal. A worshipper has such an interest in the temple management to see not only that he himself is in the voters' list but also to see that the list is properly revised and the election is held as per rules. 50 Mad. 726 = 102 I. C. 270 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 462 = (1927) M. W. N. 197 = 25 L. W. 594 = 38 M. L. T. 253 = 53 M. L. J. 545. "Interest" what is. See 91 I. C. 924 = (1926) M. W. N. 40 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 257. 23 L. W. 240 = 92 I. C. 950 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 466; 1 L. T. 40 M. 16.

PRIVATE TRUST.—S. 92 is not applicable to private trust. 43 M. L. J. 116 = 49 C. 459 (P. C.); 25 I. C. 661; 56 I. C. 707; 101 I. C. 54. The Court should pause before interfering under S. 92 with a matter which is more a family matter than of a public nature. 28 I. C. 116.

PUBLIC TRUST.—A suit to remove a duly appointed mutawalli of a trust created for a public purpose of a religious or charitable nature cannot be instituted save in conformity with S. 92, C. P. C. 35 All. 98 = 18 I. C. 573. Public Trust—Test of. 38 I. C. 800; 45 I. C. 213; 11 I. C. 166. Unless a trust is expressly created for a public purpose of a charitable nature, the mere fact that the income of certain property has been for long spent in feeding an idol and in maintaining and taking care of pilgrims will not by itself constitute a trust of such a nature. 11 I. C. 308 = 8 A. L. J. 1120. A public trust must be proved by strong evidence; the mere fact that the income of certain property has for a long time been spent to support fakirs and visitors is not sufficient evidence of such a public trust. 11 I. C. 166. The section should be applied to Mutts and the public, the Advocate-General and the Courts of Justice should have the power to stop the wholesale misuse of the income of a charitable and religious institution like a matam. 38 Mad. 256 = 25 M. L. J. 393. The head of mutt is not a trustee of mutt property and no suit lies for his removal under S. 92, C. P. C. 32 M. L. J. 271 (affirmed on appeal in 39 M. L. J. 98 P. C.) But see also 37 M. L. J. 231 = 40 M. 745; 43 Cal. 707; 43 Mad. 253. Though a caste or a section thereof can own a temple (a temple which is merely managed by certain caste) is the subject of a charitable trust and a scheme can be framed for it. 34 I. C. 551 = 4 L. W. 228.

RELIGIOUS TRUST.—The head of a mutt may be answerable as a trustee for mal-administration. 50 Mad. 267 = 52 M. L. J. 405. Where a person was put in charge as pujary of an idol in a Dharmasala, he is a servant and not a trustee and a suit under S. 92 is not maintainable against him. 21 A. L. J. 310 = L. R. 4 A. 190 = 1923 A. 247. Although a District Judge has the powers of a Kazi under the Mahomedan law to deal with an application for appointment of a mutawalli he may relegate the petitioner to a suit under S. 92. 49 I. C. 799 = 23 C. W. N. 138. A suit by a temple trustee to recover the amount the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction or in any other Court empowered in due by defendant under the terms of the trust cannot be maintained without leave as the suit is not exempt from S. 92 or S. 18, Religious Endowments Act. 62 I. C. 911=14 L. W. 238. Where the origin and founder of a temple are unknown, the facts that members of public are freely admitted, festivals are celebrated in a certain manner, and the like lead to the inference that the temple is a public one, and the inference is not rebutted by the fact that a particular mode of worship is followed, that management follows a particular line of descent in the pujari family. 62 I. C. 655=40 M. L. J. 289.

CO-TRUSTEES—S. 92 of the C. P. C. has no application to a suit for a declaration that the plaintiff and the defendant are co-mutwallis of wakf property and are entitled to manage it jointly. 52 I. C. 628 (All.). See also 97 I. C. 480. A trustee of a public charity can sue his co-trustee for an account without the sanction of the Advocate-General or the Collector. 41 M. L. J. 608=45 M. 113. See also 25 Bom. L.R. 747=1924 Bom. 198. S. 92 does not cover suits relating to disputes between parties as to who is to be a mutwalli on the ground of family relationship. 37 All. 86. See also 40 Bom. 439.

'DE FACTO' TRUSTEES.—A de facto trustee or a trustee de son tort is subject to the same liabilities as a de jure trustee and a suit under S. 92 is maintainable against the former. 27 I. C. 389. See also 33 C. 789; 22 B. 659; 15 C. 329; 26 M. 450.

CONSTRUCTIVE TRUSTEES.—Different from the English Law Sense, see 50 Mad. 567=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 614=52 M. L. J. 415. A constructive trustee within the meaning of S. 92 would include a person who holds a particular fiduciary position and whose obligation as such can be enforced in a Court of Law. 25 Bom. L. R. 747 (22 Bom. L. R. 457; 11 M. I. A. 405; 20 Bom. L. R. 1088; 24 Bom. L. R. 629, Rel.) (Archaka of temple).

NEW TRUSTEES.—A suit lies for the appointment of new trustees on the ground that the defendants are not the lawful trustees and that the trusteeships are therefore vacant. The new trustees so appointed can demand possession from the defendants. 26 M. 450, (53). A fresh suit under the section is necessary to appoint additional trustees. A. I. R. 1927 Sind 1=97 I. C. 308.

REMOVAL OF TRUSTEE.—The Dharmakarta holds the position of trustee and as such on assertion of private ownership in trust property and falsification of accounts, he is liable to be removed. 45 M. 565=43 M. L. J. 536; 47 I. C. 850; 24 C. W. N. 690=47 Cal. 866. In framing a scheme the Court need not remove trustees already holding office when no misconduct is proved against them. 34 I. C. 551=4 L. W. 228. In a suit under S. 92 the Court has power to appoint a receiver and take the management of the Temple out of the hands of the trustees appointed by the Temple Committee pending the disposal of the suit even though there is no prayer for his removal and though he cannot be removed except on a proper enquiry. 68 I. C. 565=41 M. L. J. 545. Removal of trustee—Hereditary trustee—Trustee spending money not required by terms of endowment—

Right to reimbursement. 48 I. C. 897=(1918) M. W. N. 555. See also 42 Mad. 668. A person without instituting a suit under S. 92 cannot seek to oust from possession persons who claim to hold as trustees. A Court can appoint a mutavalli to fill up a vacancy in the office. 29 I. C. 849=18 M. L. T. 48; 18 M. L. T. 515=19 I. C. 740=25 M. L. J. 273. Removal of trustee, grounds for—De facto trustee—Long management—No misconduct—Scheme—Additional trustee when appointed. 48 I. R. 1926 Mad. 162.

ALIENATION OF TRUST PROPERTY.—A declaration regarding the validity of an alienation by a trustee comes within S. 92 (h) 20 A. L. J. 457=44 A. 622. See also 26 L. W. 274=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 886. The transferee of a wakf property who is made a party to a suit under S. 92 is bound by decision in the suit and is barred from going behind it, in a subsequent suit. 33 All. 752=11 I. C. 218; 23 C. W. N. 115. Suits against strangers to a trust whether alienees from trustee or trespassers are not governed by S. 92. 40 Mad. 212=31 M. L. J. 777. A. I. R. 1926 M. 280=(1926) M. W. N. 117=92 I. C. 823=50 M. L. J. 42. The expression "granting further or more relief" must be read along with the specified reliefs and those that should be granted under this clause should be of the character as those expressly mentioned. 40 Mad. 212=31 M. L. J. 777.

ABATEMENT OF SCHEME SUIT.—A suit under this section is prosecuted by individuals not for their own interest but as representing general public and so it does not abate on the death of the original plaintiffs. 48 Cal. 493=62 I. C. 737 (P. C.). S. 92 is not mandatory but is permissive and directory. It is necessary for the continuance of the suit that there should be at least two plaintiffs. 37 All. 296=28 I. C. 681. Scheme suit—Death of defendant if suit abates. 91 I. C. 106; A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 162.

AMENDMENT OF PLAINT.—The sanction of the Advocate-General is equally a condition precedent to the amendment of the plaint especially where such amendment relates to a cause of action arising after the institution of the suit and fresh parties are added in consequence, with a claim for fresh reliefs against them. 36 Bom. 168=11 I. C. 726. The phrase "Any other Court empowered in that behalf by the Local Government" in S. 92, probably refers to Courts such as the Subordinate Judge's Courts. 62 I. C. 115=48 Cal. 53. But see 22 I. C. 951=18 C. W. N. 612. A notification by a Local Government empowering a Sub-Judge to try a particular suit pending before the District Judge is not one contemplated by S. 92. 39 Cal. 146=13 I. C. 243. See also 31 I. C. 397.

PARTIES TO SUIT.—The alienee of the trust property for the breach of which a mutwalli is sued under S. 92 may be made a party. 32 I. C. 801=42 Cal. 1135. See also 47 I. C. 111=28 C. L. J. 4; 35 Bom. 470=12 I. C. 30. It is doubtful whether alienees or trespassers on trust property can be joined as parties to a suit under that behalf by the Local Government within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the whole or any part of the subject-matter of the trust is situate to obtain a decree—

- (a) removing any trustee;
- (b) appointing a new trustee;
- (c) vesting any property in a trustee;
- (d) directing accounts and inquiries;
- (e) declaring what proportion of the trust-property or of the interest therein shall be allocated to any particular object of the trust;
- (f) authorizing the whole or any part of the trust-property to be let, sold, mortgaged or exchanged;
- (g) setting a scheme; or
- (h) granting such further or other relief as the nature of the case may require.

(2) Save as provided by the Religious Endowments Act, 1863, no suit claiming any of the reliefs specified in sub-section (1) shall be instituted in respect of any such trust as is therein referred to except in conformity with the provisions of that sub-section.

S. 92. 33 I. C. 45=38 Mad. 1064; 28 M. L. J. 326; and also see 27 M. L. J. 266. Beneficiaries can sue trustees for encroachments made by them. 101 I. C. 744=A. I. R. 1927 All. 518. A relief against strangers for recovery of possession of properties in their hands cannot be granted under S. 92 and hence they must be struck off the record. 27 M. L. J. 266=25 I. C. 794. But see 102 I. C. 74=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 710=53 M. L. J. 183. In a suit for framing a scheme for a public charity, the persons who bona fide allege to be trustees thereof, should be made parties, otherwise their rights would be lost if a scheme were framed 50 I. C. 58. (36 M. 364 Ref.)

ADDITION OF PARTIES.—In a suit for the protection of a trust under S. 92 the Court has power under O. 1, R 10 to add parties for the effectual adjudication of questions relating to administration of the trusts. 43 Mad. 707=38 M. L. J. 201. Court can add other worshippers if the suit is not properly prosecuted. 13 I. C. 232=10 M. L. T. 514. Under S. 92 a suit may be brought by the Advocate-General himself or by two worshippers to whom he has given his consent in writing to sue or by the Advocate-General in conjunction with those persons. The right of each to sue in his own name is not inclusive of the right of the other. 43 Mad. 707=38 M. L. J. 201. No consent from Advocate-General is necessary to be added as defendants. Plaintiffs no doubt do. 5 Rang. 263=103 I. C. 261=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 180.

RIGHT OF SUIT.—“Interest”—A decree obtained in a suit under S. 5 of the Religious Endowments Act does not bar a suit under S. 92 of the Code. 63 I. C. 418. A suit relating to a public trust is not maintainable without the Advocate-General's permission unless the plaintiff has special claim or interest. 35 I. C. 846. The fact that the plaintiffs belong to the family of the founder and are entitled to succeed to the properties thereof under certain contingencies would naturally give them an “interest” so as to enable them to bring a suit under S. 92. 68 I. C. 631=41 M. L. J. 20 (42 M. 360, Dist.) Residents of the locality in which a choultry is situated and members of the community for whose benefit the choultry was founded have a sufficient “interest” therein within S. 92 to institute a suit. 35 M. L. J. 661. A member of a church need not sue by virtue of an office. 39 Mad. 1056=30 M. L. J. 423. The section protects the right of the public and does not take away private rights; it should not be used to deprive individuals, whose rights have been infringed, of their remedy. 19 I. C. 740=25 M. L. J. 373. A suit by parties to a scheme suit to establish a private right which may interfere with the scheme settled is not maintainable. 9 N. L. J. 45=94 I. C. 326=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 326. A Hindu entitled to worship in a temple has an “interest” in it; the section does not require a “direct” interest. 24 I. C. 712. Right to sue—Bad for want of requisite interest on the part of one of the plaintiffs—Subsequent addition of other persons having requisite interest—Effect of. 43 Mad. 720=38 M. L. J. 504.

APPEAL.—When a suit filed with the consent of the Advocate-General at the instance of relators is dismissed, and the Advocate-General does not think fit to appeal, the relators cannot file an appeal on their own account. 9 Bom. L. R. 996. When the suit is dismissed all the plaintiffs together must appeal. 100 I. C. 838=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 382. Powers given under scheme—Order in exercise of their powers—Whether appealable. 92 I. C. 556=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 130.

COMPROMISE OF SUIT.—A suit under S. 92 cannot be compromised if it is proved that the endowment is a public one and where the question whether the endowment is public or not is still in dispute, there cannot be a lawful agreement and it cannot be said to be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the suit had been adjusted by a lawful agreement so long as such a controversy exists. 26 I. C. 360=18 C. W. N. 1264. A Court should not sanction a compromise of a suit under S. 92 under which any portion of the trust properties is given to any of the parties. 47 I. C. 611=37 M. L. J. 489.

Clause (2).—Clause is mandatory. 7 Pat. L. T. 4=A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 544.

- 93. [S. 539, last para.] The powers conferred by sections 91 and 92 on the Advocate-General may, outside the Presidency-towns, be, with the previous sanction¹ of the Local Government, exercised also by the Collector or by such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

Exercise of powers of Advocate-General outside Presidency-towns.

PART VI.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROCEEDINGS.

- 94. In order to prevent the ends of justice from being defeated the Court may, if it is so prescribed,—

Supplemental proceedings.

(a) issue a warrant to arrest the defendant and bring him before the Court to show cause why he should not give security for his appearance, and if he fails to comply with any order for security commit him to the civil prison;

(b) direct the defendant to furnish security to produce any property belonging to him and to place the same at the disposal of the Court or order the attachment of any property;

(c) grant a temporary injunction and in case of disobedience commit the person guilty thereof to the civil prison and order that his property be attached and sold;

(d) appoint a receiver of any property and enforce the performance of his duties by attaching and selling his property;

(e) make such other interlocutory orders as may appear to the Court to be just and convenient.

Compensation for obtaining arrest, attachment or injunction on insufficient grounds.

- 95. [Ss. 491, 497.] (1) Where, in any suit in which an arrest or attachment has been effected or a temporary injunction granted under the last preceding section,—

Sec. 93.—¹ For notification by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam, see E. B. and A. Gazette, 1909, Pt. I, p. 392.

Sec. 94.—Court has not got wider powers under this section in the matter of granting temporary injunctions than those conferred by O. 39, R. 1. 23 L. W. 85=92 I. C. 615=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 258. A Civil Court has no jurisdiction to issue an injunction to a party to a proceeding under S. 40 of the B. T. Act restraining him from proceeding further with an application made by him under that section to a Revenue Court. 5 Pat. L. J. 76=53 I. C. 37=1919 Pat. 461. An order directing the furnishing of securities and submission of accounts passed on an application for the issue of temporary injunction is one under S. 94 (e). 17 I. C. 361=17 C. W. N. 318.

Sec. 95. RIGHT TO APPLY FOR COMPENSATION.—A defendant can apply for compensation whether process is served on him or not. 15 B. 160=26 I. C. 369. The application can be made only to the Court which disposes of the case. 3 W. R. Mis. 28; and a Court of Small Causes can award compensation. 26 M. 504. The Court cannot of its own motion grant compensation. 26 M. 494. Compensation can be given even when the suit is withdrawn. 15 B. 160.

ORDER FOR COMPENSATION—It is doubtful if an award of compensation can be made in a case where the order of injunction was passed after hearing both the parties and it was found there was sufficient grounds for making it. 17 L. W. 150=1923 Mad. 352. The proper stage for making such an application would be only when the suit is heard and until then, it would be premature. (Ibid.) An order for compensation is one independent of decree, although it sets off the compensation as against the decreed amount. 21 I. C. 756. A compensation may be given for improperly obtaining a temporary attachment though the same is set aside on notice. 49 I. C. 86=9 L. W. 69.

PRESUMPTION.—It must be presumed that the Court granted the application for arrest or attachment upon sufficient grounds, unless the contrary is proved. 18 W. R. 450.

PROOF.—Damages can be awarded only when it appears to the Court deciding the suit, that there was no probable ground for instituting it. 13 M. L. J. 70. Plaintiff must prove want of reasonable and probable cause in a suit for damages for attachment before judgment and malice. Malice is any improper or indirect motive, i.e., no hatred or enmity is necessary. 35 Mad. 598=21 M. L. J. 1052; see also 9 I. C. 60=13 O. C. 357. He is a trespasser and is responsible for all damages though he may have acted innocently and mistakenly. 12 I. C. 26=4 Bur. L.T. 220. To justify an attachment before judgment it is not enough that the defendant is in straightened circumstances but it must be proved that he was actually about to dispose of his property. 49 I. C. 86=9 L. W. 69.

DAMAGES, EXTENT OF.—The litigation and delay, and also every depreciation of the goods, by any immediate fall in the market, are the natural and necessary consequences of the creditor's unlawful act. 17 C. 436. For wrongful attachment the decree-holder moving the Court is responsible for any loss suffered by the person whose goods are wrongfully attached. 12 I. C. 26=4 Bur. L.T. 220. Expense or injury in S. 95

(a) it appears to the Court that such arrest, attachment or injunction was applied for on insufficient grounds, or

(b) the suit of the plaintiff fails and it appears to the Court that there was no reasonable or probable ground for instituting the same, the defendant may apply to the Court, and the Court may, upon such application, award against the plaintiff by its order such amount, not exceeding one thousand rupees, as it deems a reasonable compensation to the defendant for the expense or injury caused to him :

Provided that a Court shall not award, under this section, an amount exceeding the limits of its pecuniary jurisdiction.

(2) An order determining any such application shall bar any suit for compensation in respect of such arrest, attachment or injunction.

PART VII.

APPEALS.

Appeals from Original Decrees.

96. [S. 540.] (1) Save where otherwise expressly provided in the body of this Code or by any other law for the time being in force, an appeal shall lie from every decree passed by any Court exercising original jurisdiction to the Court authorized to hear appeals from the decisions of such Court.

(2) An appeal may lie from an original decree passed ex parte.

(3) No appeal shall lie from a decree passed by the Court with the consent of parties.

for wrongful arrest includes also general damages such as damages for injury to reputation or humiliation. No special procedure is necessary for wrongful arrest. 3 L.W. 30=32 I.C. 592.

RIGHT OF SUIT.—A claim for compensation for wrongful attachment of property before judgment made in a counter-affidavit disputing the propriety of the interim order, is no bar to a suit for damages. 38 M.L.J. 324. Suit for damages, if can be maintained against a defendant for obtaining maliciously and without reasonable cause a perpetual injunction which was dissolved on appeal. 42 Cal. 550=18 C.W.N. 1189=21 C.L.J. 68 (13 W.R. 305, doubted). See contra 30 C.W.N. 465=94 I.C. 444=A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 757.

APPEAL.—An appeal will now lie from an order granting compensation. 28 A. 81; 24 M. 62 or refusing compensation. 25 M.L.T. 46=49 I.C. 86=9 L.W. 69. An order of a Divisional Court under S. 95 refusing an order of the court of first instance is an appellate order under S. 104 (9) and is not appealable. 11 I.C. 917=4 Bur. L.T. 204. An order under S. 95, C.P. Code, passed by a Small Cause Court dismissing an interim attachment issued by itself is valid and such an order cannot be questioned on appeal. 26 I.C. 359.

Sec. 96. RIGHT OF APPEAL.—There is no right of appeal unless it is conferred by statute. 11 M. 26=14 I.A. 160 (P.C.); 40 C. 21=39 I.A. 197, 200 (P.C.); 28 A. 549; in express words 20 B. 803=43 C. 857=20 C.W.N. 594. An agreement not to appeal if for consideration and is otherwise good is valid and enforceable. 14 M.I.A. 204; 8 C. 455; 1 A. 267 (F.B.).

Sub Sec. (3) Consent decrees are not appealable. 43 C. 85. But they can be set aside for proper grounds by a separate suit. 15 B. 594.

SCOPE OF SECTION.—The new Code does not deprive the litigant of the right of appeal which he had under the old Code even though such right could not be exercised immediately on the introduction of the new Code. 9 I.C. 937=21 M.L.J. 631. Finding of fact of Original Side Judge of High Court are generally accepted. 20 S.L.R. 295. See also 97 I.C. 505=A.I.R. 1926 Sind 216.

APPLICATION OF SECTION, SUB-CL. (3).—S. 96 (3) applies only to suits and not to proceedings in execution. 4 Pat.L.T. 735=1924 P. 346.

WHO CAN APPEAL.—A party cannot appeal against a decision in his favour on the ground that one of the findings is against him. 24 I.C. 36. See also 2 L.W. 101=27 I.C. 861; 3 A. 152 (F.B.). If a decree is upon the face of it, entirely in favour of a party to the suit, he cannot appeal. 7 A. 606 (F.B.). An adverse finding against any single issue or issues is not appealable unless such finding is incorporated in the decree. 6 M.L.J. 87. See also 44 I.C. 723. An appeal is not maintainable against opinions in a judgment when the decree is in favour of a party. 51 I.C. 622. When a suit is dismissed for want of cause of action there cannot be an appeal by defendant on a finding. 20 C.W.N. 1354. Notwithstanding a suit is dismissed, a defendant has a right of appeal and for that purpose it is open to the parties to go behind the decree and see really what the adjudication is. 21 I.C. 15=25 M.L.J. 379. Also see 52 I.C. 34=36 M.L.J. 641. If a person who ought not to have been made a defendant is impleaded as such, he cannot appeal. No person has a right of appeal from a decision unless his interest is prejudicially affected by it. 41 I.C. 468. A defendant has a right of appeal even if the suit has been

97. Where any party aggrieved by a preliminary decree passed after the commencement of this Code does not appeal from such decree he shall be precluded from disputing its correctness in any appeal which may be preferred from the final decree.

Appeal from final decree where no appeal from preliminary decree.

dismissed against him, if he is aggrieved by the decree. 30 M. 447; 9 C.W.N. 584. Any plaintiff or a defendant has a right to appeal without the concurrence of the other parties to the suit. 22 B. 718. The representative of a deceased person can appeal from the decree although he may not have been brought on the record. 12 M.L.J. 435.

EX PARTE DECREE.—A defendant against whom a decree has been passed ex parte, and who has not adopted the procedure provided by O. 9, R. 13 can appeal from such decree under the general provisions of this section. 9 M. 445. Appealability of order under O. 17, R. 3. 6 Bur. L. J. 77.

RES JUDICATA.—A finding upon a point necessarily arising in the case operates as res judicata between the parties and the aggrieved party can prefer an appeal against the finding although the decree is in his favour. 40 I. C. 771 (7 A. 606 = 11 C. 301, P. C.). See also 44 I. C. 723.

CONSENT DECREE.—Serious and substantial injustice to the party must be shown to result from letting the order stand which was made by the consent of the pleader under a mistake of fact. 46 M. L. J. 167 = 1923 P. C. 184 (P. C.). No appeal lies from an order made by consent of parties especially if the appellant has derived some benefit under it. 57 I. C. 70 = 30 C. L. J. 231; 34 I. C. 186 = 20 C. W. N. 752. See also 91 I. C. 294 = A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 39. No appeal lies against an order of dismissal of a suit under O. 23, R. 3 of the C.P.C. 34 I. C. 186 = 20 C. W. N. 752. A decree under O. 23, R. 3 can be passed only after there has been an order that the compromise be recorded. 33 I. C. 769 = 43 Cal. 85. A person who is not a party to the compromise though a party to suit can appeal against the compromise decree which binds only those who are parties to the compromise. 22 C. L. J. 333 = 20 C. W. N. 178. But see 91 I. C. 620 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 512. A consent decree in a partition suit as between some of the parties is not binding on any of the parties. 27 I. C. 242. An appeal lies against a decree passed on compromise entered into by a vakil without reference to his client. 41 Mad. 233 = 41 I. C. 429 (23 M. L. J. 381, Dist.; 21 M. 274, Foll.). An order directing the appointment of a Commissioner with the consent of parties does not come under cl. (3) of the section. 30 I. C. 357 = 29 M. L. J. 219; 27 M. L. J. 173 = 1 L.W. 541. The fact that defendant does not raise any objection to a particular relief cannot make the decree a consent decree when the relief is eventually decreed. 49 I. C. 840 = 15 N. L. R. 39.

WAIVER.—Where the plea of limitation is waived though the suit is time-barred, the decree following is a consent decree and thus not appealable. 39 M. L. J. 68 = 24 C. W. N. 1055 = 47 I.A. 200 (P. C.). Agreement to abide by decision of Court—Appeal if lies. A. I. R. 1926 All. 60.

DECREE ON APPEAL.—An appeal being a continuation of the original proceeding, the Appellate Court's decree is the decree in the suit.

30 M. L. J. 379 = 33 I. C. 9.

Sec. 97. PRELIMINARY AND FINAL DECREES.—Where a final decree is passed no appeal will lie against a preliminary decree. But the Court may allow the appeal to be amended so as to convert it into one against the final decree. 33 C.L.J. 414 = 25 C.W.N. 776 = 48 Cal. 1036; see also A.I.R. 1928 Lah. 73.

PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE.—It is a salutary rule that where the issue is simple and straightforward and the only question is which set of witnesses is to be believed the findings of fact of the Trial Judge should not be lightly disregarded. 31 C.L.J. 384 = 25 C.W.N. 779 = 49 Cal. 132. If the competency of an appeal is in question the appellant must establish that he has a right of appeal, for a right of appeal is not a natural right but must be given by express rules of statute. 43 Cal. 857 = 20 C.W.N. 594. Small Cause Suit tried on the original side—Appeal from decree. 51 I.C. 967. An appeal lies from a decree in a suit transferred from the Small Cause Court to the original side under S. 23 of the Prov. Sm. C. C. Act and the Appellate Court can remand the suit. 45 I.C. 645.

FORUM OF APPEAL.—Transfer of venue. 26 I. C. 519 = 37 Mad. 477. Where on withdrawal of a claim against some defendants a decree is passed which makes the defendants liable for their own costs, an appeal does lie. 18 M.L.T. 460 = 31 I.C. 312.

PRELIMINARY DECREE, WHAT IS.—The C.P. Code makes no provision for something which is neither a decree nor an order, not anything which is both; nor does it provide that one adjudication by the Court can be resolved into diverse elements, some of which are decrees and some orders. The question is one of substance, whether an adjudication is a decree or an order. 42 Cal. 914 = 42 I. A. 91 (P. C.). Though no appeal against the final decree is preferred it is no reason for not hearing the appeal against the preliminary decree in a suit for partition. 36 All. 532 = 12 A. L. J. 876. If an appeal from preliminary decree succeeds, the final decree passed later on falls to the ground. 34 All. 493; 36 All. 532; 48 I. C. 7 = 35 M. L. J. 361. The passing of a final decree, whether precludes a party from preferring an appeal against the preliminary decree. 37 Mad. 455 = 22 M. L. J. 317; 16 I. C. 380 = 24 M. L. J. 190. The right to appeal lies only from a preliminary decree and not from a preliminary finding in a suit directing accounts to be taken. 38 Bom. 331; 59 Bom. 339 (F. B.). Where there is only a preliminary finding and no decree is drawn up, there is no preliminary decree and no appeal under S. 97. 37 Bom. 480; 37 Bom. 60. The Legislature in enacting S. 97 intended to prevent preliminary questions being raised in the form of an appeal after a case has been decided upon the merits. 36 Bom. 536. Effect of passing of final decree after filing of appeal from preliminary decree. See 92 I.C. 545 = A.I.R. 1926 Bom. 43. An appeal filed against a preli-

Decision where appeal heard by two or more Judges.

(2) Where there is no such majority which concurs in a judgment varying or reversing the decree appealed from such decree shall be confirmed :

Provided that where the Bench hearing the appeal is composed of two Judges belonging to a Court consisting of more than two Judges, and the Judges composing the Bench differ in opinion on a point of law, they may state the point of law upon which they differ and the appeal shall then be heard upon that point only by one or more of the other Judges, and such point shall be decided according to the opinion of the majority (if any) of the Judges who have heard the appeal, including those who first heard it.

99. [S. 578.] No decree shall be reversed or substantially varied or in any case be remanded, in appeal on account of any misjoinder of parties or causes of action or any error, defect or irregularity in any proceedings in the suit, not affecting the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court.

No decree to be reversed or modified for error or irregularity not affecting merits or jurisdiction.

minary decree can be heard though final decree made after the appeal was passed and lodged, is not appealed against. 33 I.C. 59=19 C.W.N. 1132. An appeal against a preliminary decree is not maintainable unless there is also an appeal against the final decree passed subsequent to the preliminary decree by the Court below. 71 I.C. 290 (40 C. 1036, referred to). 91 I.C. 358=A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 557. An appeal against the preliminary decree after the final decree is passed but before it is signed is not incompetent, as no copy can be got for the final decree until it is signed and drawn up and the only appealable decree is the preliminary decree. 46 I.C. 802=22 C.W.N. 831 (30 I.C. 321, Foll.). The order remanding after settling certain issues is a preliminary decree and must be appealed. 32 I.C. 866=20 C.W.N. 43. Where before the filing of an appeal against a preliminary decree, a final decree was passed and no appeal was preferred against the final decree, there is no appeal against the preliminary decree. 27 I.C. 135=20 C.W.N. 231 (18 C.L.J. 321, Foll.); 30 I.C. 321=22 C.L.J. 90. Under the old Code, objections to a preliminary decree could be taken in an appeal against the final decree, without appealing from the preliminary decree. 24 I.C. 18=21 C.L.J. 459. A final decree, passed before the appeal from the preliminary decree must be brought to the Appellate Court's notice, otherwise the Appellate Court's decree supersedes the final decree also. 17 C.W.N. 868=18 C.L.J. 209 (36 Cal. 672; 6 C.L.J. 547; 32 Cal. 1023; 32 All. 225, Dist.; 3 Cal. 20, Foll.). See also 20 I.C. 576=18 C.L.J. 214; 21 I.C. 510=18 C.L.J. 223; 21 I.C. 516=18 C.L.J. 321. Appeal from preliminary decree cannot be treated as one against the final decree also. 74 I.C. 485.

Sec. 98. SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF SECTION.—Where a bench of two Judges differ, S. 98 regulates the decision of the appeal if it is from a subordinate Court under the Code or any local or special statute and in all other cases the decision is governed by the Letters Patent. 27 Punj. L. R. 50=8 Lah. L. J. 13=93 I.C. 344=7 Lah. 179=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 65. (N.B.—There is no difference of procedure after the recent amendment of the Letters Patent.) Where two Judges of a Division Bench differ on a point of law and refer the matter to a third Judge, the latter must confine his opinion to the specific point, and not dispose of the case de novo on the merits. 35 All. 487=40 I. A. 182 (P. C.). Under the old Code when two Judges differed, the whole appeal was referred to a third Judge, but under the new Code it is only the point of law that has to be referred. 14 C. L. J. 552=39 C. 353=16 C.W.N. 817. Under the proviso to the section reference can be made only when there is a difference on a question of law and not on fact. 17 Cal. 3. Letters Patent, Cl. 36 and not S. 98, C. P. C., governs the procedure in cases of difference of opinion in revision cases 18 M.L.T. 591=32 I.C. 330=17 Cr.L.J. 42. The procedure when Judges differ on second appeals from mofussil is governed by S. 98, C.P.C., and not by Cl. 36, Letters Patent, 43 Bom. 433=21 Bom. L.R. 157 (F.B.) (3 B. 204; 10 C. 814; 25 M. 555; 22 M. 68; 11 A. 176 (F.B.), Rel.). See also 91 I.C. 897=A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 121; 30 C.W.N. 1011=97 I.C. 236=A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 1211. Reference to a third Judge—Third Judge deciding case on another point—Procedure. 26 C.W.N. 985=1922 C. 544. If the Appellate Court judges agree that a part of the lower Court's judgment is erroneous, that part must be reversed, and if as to rest the judges are equally divided, it is deemed as confirmed. 21 I.C. 965=22 C.L.J. 525 (11 A. 176; 6 B.L.R. 131, Dist.); A.I.R. 1928 Mad. 180; but see 27 Punj.L.R. 50=8 Lah. L.J. 13=93 I.C. 344=7 Lah. 179=A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 65. Judges differing on a question of law—Decision to be arrived at with reservation of point of law. 22 I.C. 383=18 C.W.N. 33. Wherein an appeal under the Land Acquisition Act the judges composing a Division Bench differ as to the amount of additional compensation the award of the Lower Court should be confirmed under S. 98. 41 Mad. 943=35 M.L.J. 110.

Sec. 99. SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF SECTION.—The section applies only to errors or defects or irregularities in the suit or proceedings out of which the appeal then being heard arises, and not to previous suits or proceedings which have come to an end. 23 A. 499, (500). Applicability to appeal under S. 142, Cal. M. Act. 31 C. W. N. 1040. The best test to ascertain whether an erroneous interlocutory order has affected the ultimate decision on the merits is to see whether the Court would have come to the same decision had the erroneous order not been passed. 2 C. L. R. 257.

JURISDICTION.—The term "jurisdiction" is used in the sense of pecuniary or local jurisdiction or jurisdictions relating to the subject-matter of the suit. 28 C. 324 ; 5 C. L. J. 71 ; 5 C. L. J. 329. The word "jurisdiction" in S. 99 judged from the point of view of locality, pecuniary value or the subject-matter of a suit means competency to try. 10 I. C. 731 = 7 N. L. R. 33. Whether non-compliance with S. 147-A of the B. T. Act amounts to want of jurisdiction, see 45 C.L.J. 24. Jurisdiction is that of the trial Court. 93 I. C. 938 = A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 402. When there is a want of jurisdiction Appellate Court will interfere even if there is no miscarriage of justice, 95 I. C. 406 = A. I. R. 1926 All. 650.

MISJOINDER.—The words "any misjoinder of parties or causes of action" have been inserted to supersede the rulings in 27 M. 80 ; 24 C. 540 ; 15 A. 380. Misjoinder—Joinder of different tenants in suit for enhancement of rent. 23 C. W. N. 945 = 30 C. L. J. 140. An objection as to misjoinder cannot be taken for the first time on appeal, especially when the suit is decided on the amendments in the first Court. 17 I. C. 97. Misjoinder of causes of action when interference by High Court proper. See 13 I. C. 788 = 22 M.L.J. 225. Whether misjoinder in S. 99. C.P.C., includes non-joinder. 44 M.L.J. 249 = 1923 Mad. 337. Objections as to non-joinder—Procedure—Lawfully stated. 42 M. L. J. 133 = 1922 Mad. 317.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Decree passed cannot be reversed simply because it was passed without hearing arguments. 93 I. C. 291. An order adding parties to a case is not one affecting the merits. 3 B. L. R. (O.C.) 113. As to decree passed without hearing arguments, see 13 O.L.J. 473. The joinder of an unnecessary party in a mortgage suit does not involve its dismissal but is a mere irregularity. 52 I. C. 105. Striking out names from the plaint and amending issues are not errors affecting the merits of the case. 4 B.L.R. (O.C.) 97. See 9 A. 508 and 14 C. 159. The defendant could not object to the frame of the plaint in appeal, where it stated all the facts fully and did not in fact mislead the defendant. 34 I. C. 704 = 12 N.L.R. 90. An objection that there cannot be a decision in a partition suit of rights subordinate to that of the co-sharers cannot be gone into for the first time in appeal. 63 I. C. 161 = 33 C.L.J. 317. An error in the valuation of the claim is not one which affects the merits of the case. 1 Bom. H.C.R. 163. Set off—Court-fee not paid—Objection in appeal—Interference. 19 I. C. 918 = 17 C.L.J. 305 (F.B.). Form of an issue throwing onus on the wrong party, is not a ground in appeal for setting aside the decree provided the parties were not misled and the evidence fully gone into. 17 C. L. J. 38 = 17 C. W. N. 280. Where the plaintiff in disregard of the provisions of the Code has united in the same suit not merely several causes of action, but several suits against separate defendants with the result that litigation was conducted as though the defendants were a community with common interests, the procedure though highly irregular, nevertheless prevents the landlord from objecting to the use of evidence given in the case of some tenants as evidence in favour of all the parties. 43 Mad. 567 = 47 I. A. 76 = 38 M.L. J. 476 (P.C.) (On appeal from 24 M. L. J. 571). The deposition of a handwriting expert signed by him and admitted in evidence does not vitiate the trial though it is not signed by the Judge. 68 I. C. 664 = 1923 Nag 7 (1). The exclusion of evidence in the lower Court is not sufficient ground for reversing that Court's decision, unless the Appellate Court comes to the conclusion that the evidence referred, if it had been received, ought to have varied the decision. 8 B. 408. Error in rejecting documents already admitted by the predecessor of the judge is not one affecting the merits. 13 B. 449. The second Appellate Court cannot set aside the decree of the first Appellate Court on the ground of improper admission of additional evidence unless it is satisfied that the decision on the merits is wrong, and that the additional evidence might have resulted in the wrong decision. 26 I. C. 50 = (1914) M. W. N. 864 (36 Mad. 477, Foll.). When an unstamped promissory note is treated as a bond and received in evidence on payment of stamp duty and penalty, the receipt of such document is not an irregularity affecting the merits of the case. 1 A. 725. The omission to explain the non-production of a document before tendering secondary evidence is only a mere irregularity. 59 I. C. 461. Recording evidence in a language which is not the language of the Court is a mere irregularity which can be cured by this section. 34 C. 396. Also the disposing of a suit on a Sunday. 29 A. 562. If the power of attorney, on the strength of which a suit is instituted is defective as when it is a special and not a general power, there is merely an irregularity in proceedings not effecting the merits of the case. 24 Bom. L. R. 1302 = 47 B. 227. Where the plaintiff filed the plaint through an agent and did not even sign the plaint, and there was no power of attorney on the record and no explanation was apparently obtained for her failure to sign the plaint and no objection however appeared to have been taken. Held, S. 99 of the C.P.C., applies to the case. 1 Rang. 42 = 1923 Rang. 206. Defect of signature does not justify reversal of the decree. 59 I. C. 282 = 1 Pat. L. T. 647. Defect in signing of plaint can be remedied in appellate court. 104 I. C. 747. Irregularity in signing Vakalatnama is only formal. 74 I. C. 1033. Where the mother of a minor refuses to act as guardian, the Court ought to appoint one of its officers as guardian ad litem. An omission to appoint one is a serious defect not curable by S. 99. 62 I. C. 464 = 25 C. W. N. 525. Absence of a formal order appointing a guardian may sometimes be a mere irregularity. 30 I. A. 182. But not when the minor's interests had been entirely disregarded. 29 A. 679. Where the order amounts impliedly to a redemption decree, it may be treated as such under S. 99 of the Code notwithstanding an irregularity in form. 26 I. C.

Appeals from Appellate Decrees.

Second appeal.

701=10 N. L. R. 150. A remand under O. 41, R. 23, when the first Court decided the suit on the merits, is an irregularity within S. 99 not affecting the merits of the case. 41 Cal. 108=18 C. L. J. 613 (28 Cal. 324, Foll.). Where order passed under O. 39, Rr. 5 and 6 should have been passed under O. 21, R. 42, the High Court refused to set aside as in substance the order was right. 41 I. C. 89. Execution sale—Want of attachment in execution does not interfere with power of Court to sell property. 37 I. C. 964= (1917) M. W. N. 89 (21 All. 311, Foll.). Subsequent mistakes, and irregularities may be condoned under this section, provided the suit has been instituted in such a way as to give the Court authority to try it. 26 B. 259.

Sec. 100. QUESTION OF FACT—ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Interference with findings of fact by the High Court is subject to limits prescribed by S. 100. 46 Cal. 189=45 I. A. 188 (P. C.). See for a full discussion 3 O. W. N. 645=97 I. C. 853=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 578. See also 47 Cal. 107=37 M. L. J. 36. A finding of fact is binding on a second Appellate Court, if the lower Appellate Court committed no error of law in arriving at the finding. 21 I. C. 251; 30 I. C. 503; 52 I. C. 739; 35 I. C. 392; A. I. R. 1926 All. 130; A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 192. But when there is (i) no evidence (12 Cal. 672), or (ii) no sufficient legal evidence (16 I. C. 887), or (iii) important evidence is ignored (103 P. L. R. 1915; 54 M. L. J. 600), or (iv) only a colourable pretence of considering an evidence is made (38 I. C. 561), or (v) there is no honest and complete consideration, a finding of fact can be contested in second appeal. Otherwise it is final 18 Cal. 23 (P. C.); 3 Lah. 389; 35 I. C. 392 (wrong application of law). Inferences of fact which are not unreasonable and are justified by evidence cannot be interfered with in second appeal. 62 I. C. 1002=20 I. C. 523. See also 8 L. R. 314 (Rev.); 96 I. C. 14=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 522; 95 I. C. 463 (1)=13 O. L. J. 146. Where more than one inference is legally open from the evidence, the High Court cannot in second appeal refuse to be bound by that inference drawn in the Court below. 1923 Lah. 239 (1); 73 I. C. 232; 46 I. C. 794; 21 Bom. 91; 74 I. C. 843. The High Court is not entitled to go behind the findings of fact of the District Judge which did not result from the misconstruction of a document or the misapplication of law or procedure but upon the oral evidence in the case. 37 M. The finding of fact of a lower Appellate Court which proceeds on an erroneous view of the law, and which is inconsistent with the facts recited can be interfered with by the High Court. 44 A. 602. 95 I. C. 636=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 416. Question of fact—Evidence when open to examination. 1 Lah. L. J. 72. A finding of fact arrived at on a consideration of evidence which is inadmissible and which proceeds partly on such evidence can be assailed in second appeal. 64 I. C. 929=2 Lah. 271 (57 I. C. 561, Foll.). An erroneous finding of fact is different from an error in procedure. Where there is no error or defect in the procedure the finding of fact by the Court of First Appeal is final. 63 I. C. 575; 59 I. C. 885=3 Lah. L. J. 86; 40 I. C. 772. Erroneous findings of fact however gross or inexcusable cannot be questioned in second appeal. 98 I. C. 1035; 99 I. C. 199=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 89; 98 I. QUESTION OF LAW—ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.

—Questions of law and of fact are sometimes difficult to separate. The proper legal effect of a proved fact is essentially a question of law ; so also is the question of admissibility of evidence and the question whether any evidence has been offered on one side or the other ; but the question whether the fact has been proved when evidence for and against has been properly admitted, is necessarily a pure question of fact. The High Court has no jurisdiction in second appeal to revise the evidence and set aside the decree of the Lower Appellate Court on the ground that it had applied the wrong standard of measurement to land of which the rent was in question. 46 Cal. 189 = 51 I. C. 760. Gross negligence of guardian is a question of law. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 905 = (1926) M.W.N. 350 also question of amount of dower to be paid. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 128. The question whether in determining the infringement of certain legal rights the correct tests have been applied is a pure question of law. 42 Cal. 46 = 27 M. L. J. 117. The meaning of words is a question of fact in all classes ; the effect of the words is a question of law. 75 I. C. 686 = 1923 A. 337 ; 46 I. C. 794. Also 4 O. W. N. 1229 ; A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 21 ; A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 260 ; A. I. R. 1926 All. 461. A Court of second appeal is not bound to entertain a question of law raised for the first time before it. It can however take the point of itself or if some good cause is shown it may permit that point to be argued. 43 All. 193 = 59 I. C. 116 (F. B.). The question as to what is the legal result of certain facts is a question of law. 20 I. C. 951 = 11 A.L.J. 713 ; 96 I. C. 356 A.I.R. 1926 Nag. 494 ; 399 25 A.L.J. 1014. The appellant cannot in second appeal take a point of law which involves the taking of additional evidence. 72 I. C. 993 = 1923 Bom. 37. Inferences drawn from documentary evidence are not questions of law and cannot be challenged in second appeal. 74 I. C. 811 ; 37 C.L.J. 580 ; 7 L.W. 210 ; 35 M. L.J. 304. A point of law which does not require any questions of fact to be determined but can be decided on the record as it stands may be allowed to be raised in second appeal for the first time. 66 I. EVIDENCE.—(1) ADMISSIBILITY OF EVIDENCE.—Objections as to the admissibility of evidence will not as a general rule be entertained for the first time in second appeal. 39 M. L. T. 198 = 104 I. C. 518. The appellant cannot raise objections to the admissibility of documents received in evidence in the lower Court if under the circumstances the application is too late. 34 I. C. 57 (F.B.); 41 C. L. J. 374 = 86 I. C. 734. Finding of a Lower Appellate Court based on inadmissible evidence can be impeached in second appeal. 74 I. C. 383 = 1923 Cal. 261; 72 I. C. 985 = 1923 Cal. 378. The Court hearing the second appeal can challenge a finding of fact arrived at by illegally relying upon irrelevant and inadmissible evidence. 15 I. C. 459. See also 15 I. C. 515 = 17 C. W. N. 37; 103 I. C. 889 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 448; 2 Luck. 172. also 51 Bom. 231 = 101 I. C. 155 = 29 Bom. L. R. 269 = A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 157; A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 99. Relevancy and proof of document is a question of law and can be raised at any stage, but the question as to the proof of a document is one of procedure and can be waived. 3 Pat. L. T. 149 = 63 I. C. 625; 2 Pat. L. T. 343 = 63 I. C. 226; 5 Pat. L. J. 410 = 57 I. C. 561.

(2) APPRECIATION OF EVIDENCE.—Where the High Court differed from the lower Courts, not only in the estimate of the evidence, but also with regard to the inferences derivable from document produced in the case and other circumstances, their Lordships dealt with the case on its merits. 49 I. A. 399 = 2 Pat. 38 = 45 M. L. J. 460. If a finding of fact is recorded on a misinterpretation of the evidence it can be interfered with in second appeal. 1923 Lah. 585; 31 I. C. 695; 19 C. W. N. 1015; 32 I. C. 862. A second appeal lies on a finding on no evidence. 104 I. C. 781; 8 Lah. 30; 99 I. C. 1046; 38 M. L. T. (H. C.) 1 = 25 L. W. 550 = 99 I. C. 571 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 256 = 52 M. L. J. 20. A finding cannot be contested in a second appeal if it is based on a misreading of first Court's judgment. 1923 Lah. 502 (2). Although in second appeal findings of fact cannot be impugned it is nevertheless open to a party to challenge the correctness of the conclusions drawn from such findings. 1923 Lah. 407 (2); 65 I. C. 475 = 1 Lah. L. J. 72. Findings of fact are conclusive in second appeal even though there has been an error on the part of the Court below in weighing the evidence. 53 I. C. 137; 92 I. C. 104 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 727; 4 Lah. L. J. 426. The ignoring of an important plea of evidence by the Lower Appellate Court is a good ground for second appeal. 42 I. C. 76. The credibility of witnesses accepted by the Courts below cannot be considered in second appeal but the sufficiency of evidence can be considered in second appeal. 25 I. C. 869.

(3) CONSIDERATION OF EVIDENCE.—Question of proper inference from facts found is a question of law. 54 I. A. 178 = 8 Lah. 573 = 28 Punj. L. R. 658 = 25 A. L. J. 959 = 29 Bom. L. R. 870 = 31 C. W. N. 677 = 101 I. C. 355 = A. I. R. 1927 P. C. 102 = 52 M. L. J. 663 (P.C.). Finding based on inadmissible evidence can be set aside by High Court. 66 I. C. 313 = 1022 All. 439. See also A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 464; 82 I. C. 822 = 1925 Cal. 469 (finding inconsistent with evidence); 63 I. C. 813; see also 43 I. C. 525; 65 I. C. 504; 25 C. W. N. 1022 = 63 I. C. 954 = 35 C. L. J. 19. A finding of fact based on no evidence or against express prima facie reliable evidence can be set aside in second appeal. A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 37; A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 187; 28 I. C. 555; 30 I. C. 505; 38 I. C. 62; 38 I. C. 586; 42 I. C. 282. Where an Appellate Court fails to come into close quarters with the evidence, the findings must be held to be vitiated and there must be a re-hearing of the appeal. (1920) M.W.N. 163 = 53 I.C. 305 = 10 L.W. 525. See also 100 I.C. 306 = A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 493; 103 I.C. 486 = A.I.R. 1927 Nag. 166; A. I. R. 1924 Nag. 91. An unsatisfactory discussion of evidence, is not, like absence of evidence or disregard of it a ground for interference in second appeal. (1914) M.W.N. 833 = 1 L.W. 772. The mere fact that the Court of first appeal has not made special mention of a document which is a piece of relevant evidence is not sufficient to show that he has not considered it at all. 43 I.C. 857 = 3 Pat. L.W. 213; 42 I.C. 397 = 2 Pat. L.W. 183.

(4) SUFFICIENCY OF EVIDENCE.—A decision that there is no evidence to support a finding is a decision of law on which the Privy Council will interfere with the findings of fact of the Courts below. 41 Cal. 972 = 27 M.L.J. 80 (P.C.). See also 58 I.C. 482; 88 I.C. 584 = 1925 Cal. 1133. Judgment based on opinions of experts open to challenge in second appeal. 21 A.L.J. 811 = 75 I. C. 502. The mere question of sufficiency of the evidence adduced to establish a custom is not a ground of second appeal. 25 C.L.J. 613 = 21 C. W.N. 972 = 41 I.C. 959 = 45 C. 285; 69 I.C. 800. Even from a finding of fact a second appeal may be taken if the finding is not supported by any evidence on record. 30 I. C. 375; 65 I. C. 398. The sufficiency or insufficiency of evidence as proof of title cannot be debated in second appeal. 9 I. C. 427; but a finding on conjectures and presumptions can be questioned in second appeal. 8 Lah. L. J. 485 = 97 I. C. 241 (2) = 127 Punj. L. R. 721 = A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 659; 7 L. R. 104 (Rev.).

(5) MISREADING OF EVIDENCE.—The misapprehension of evidence is no ground for a second appeal. 21 I.C. 393; but see A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 541. Where a finding of fact is arrived at as a result of a complete misreading of a document a second appeal is competent. 42 I. C. 218. A.I. R. 1926 Pat. 725.

(6) EXCLUSION OF EVIDENCE.—The High Court is not empowered to interfere in second appeal with an order of the Lower Appellate Court rejecting an application made to it for the admission of additional evidence. 42 Mad. 737 = 37 M. L. J. 125. Where evidence is excluded by an Original Court and such exclusion is not objected to in the first Appellate Court such objection cannot be allowed in second appeal. 16 I.C. 213; 12 I.C. 751 = (1911) 2 M.W. N. 495. The fact that the lower appellate court improperly refused to admit fresh evidence in appeal is not a ground upon which a second appeal is maintainable (1927) M.W.N. 63 (1) = 99 I. C. 669 (1) = 38 M.L.T. (H. C.) 24. A finding of fact after ignoring a piece of evidence which is really admissible can be attacked in second appeal. 91 I.C. 1026 = A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 603.

(7) CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT.—The question of the construction of document is a question of law, on which the High Court can entertain a second appeal. 43 Cal. 1104 = 31 M.L.J. 745 (P.C.); 4 Pat. L.T. 627; 45 M.L.J. 663. See also A.I.R. 1926 Oudh 131; but see A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 21; A.I.R. 1926 Pat. 49; 5 O.W.N. 275 = A. I. R. 1928 Oudh 269. A question of how a document should be construed if it is a document of title and not merely a piece of evidence in the case is a question of law. 52 I.C. 119; 48 A. 588 = A.I.R. 1926 M. 542; A.I.R. 1926 Bom. 493; 5 Pat. L.J. 251. See also A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 652 = 93 I.C. 307 = 24 L. W. 88. A wrong construction of a document coupled with a wrong inference from certain facts constitute an error of law where there is no other evidence accepted by the Court. 55 I. C. 366 = 18 A. L. J. 195. Finding based on construction of or inferences drawn from documentary evidence cannot be questioned in second appeal. 99 I. C. 183; 100 I.C. 631; 104 I.C. 760. See also A. I. R. 1926 All. 75. A finding based on a recital of consideration in a mortgage deed is conclusive in second appeal. 21 I.C. 841. The misconstruction of a document which is the foundation of a suit is no doubt a question of law but the misconstruction of a document which is alleged to contain an admission, that is to say a misappreciation of the meaning and effect of an admission is not a question of law which can be raised in second appeal. 35 C.L.J. 182 = 68 I. C. 1003. Construction of document in case of a deed open to one of two constructions is question of law. 65 I.C. 580 = 1922 Lah. 240; but see A.I. R. 1926 Lah. 672. The question whether the parties to a deed of transfer intended that certain property should pass under the deed is one of fact and cannot be agitated in second appeal. 63 I. C. 746. Also question regarding whether a lease confers a heritable right or not see 13 O.L.J. 565. The construction of a deposition is what the Court thinks is proved by it and it is wrong to speak of it as a construction so as to make it a question of law. 63 I.C. 575. Where the lower Court arrives at a finding of fact by a wrong construction of the pleading and without any evidence, the finding is liable to be questioned in a second appeal. 56 I.C. 466; 3 C.W.N. 460 = 94 I.C. 779 = A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 353; 69 I. C. 800. Where a document leaves part of the subject-matter ambiguous, and evidence is let in to remove the ambiguity, the interpretation becomes a question of fact. 103 I.C. 255; A.I.R. 1927 All. 689.

OTHER ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Where the appellant expressly abandons a point in the Court below he ought not to be allowed to take it in second appeal. 69 I.C. 44 (1). As to abandonment by tenant of holding, see 4 Pat. 838. Abandonment is a finding of fact. 32 I. C. 355. 91 I.C. 493 = A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 751. The question of acquiescence is a matter of legal inference to be drawn from the facts proved in the case and can be taken up in second appeal. 41 I. C. 927; 36 I. C. 700; 82 I. C. 309; 73 I. C. 137.

ADVERSE POSSESSION.—Where the question of adverse possession is one of inference from documents the concurrent findings of the Indian Courts may be upset by Privy Council as the question was not one of fact. 42 All. 152 = 38 M.L. J. 259 (P.C.). See also 87 I.C. 1021. The question of adverse possession is a mixed question of fact and law. 26 C. W. N. 890; 40 I. C. 420; 75 I. C. 672; 71 I.C. 762 = 4 Lah. Sec. 105. SCOPE OF SECTION.—Sub-S. (2) is new and supersedes the ruling in. 12 A. 510 (F. B.); 18 M. 421; 12 C. 45; 14 B. 232. See 10 I. C. 514 = 15 C. W. N. 830; as to the meaning of words "Decision"; see 90 I. C. 180 = 1925 All. 610 (F. B.); "Affecting the decision of the case, see 41 C. L. J. 136 = 1925 Cal. 711; 47 All. 555 = 23 A. L. J. 444. The policy of the Legislature in enacting S. 105 was to give finality to orders of remand. 72 I. C. 588 = 1923 Cal. 385; 37 I. C. 844; 89 I. C. 1009; 22 L. W. 460 = 1925 Mad. 1019; 68 I. C. 608 = 1925 Mad. 916; 47 All. 853 = 1925 All. 768. There is no appeal from an order setting aside an ex parte decree. 51 Bom. 495 = 103 I. C. 262 = 29 Bom. L. R. 925 = A. I. R. 1927 Bom 415 but the order can be questioned in the appeal from the subsequent decree. 5 Rang. 80 = 102 I. C. 379 = 1927 Rang. 150. But see also 85 I. C. 468 (469) = 1925 Oudh 27. Remand order not conclusive on points not specially decided therein beyond possibility of revision. 23 A. L. J. 656 = 1925 All. 566. (Order in pending suit superseding award can be questioned in appeal from decree.)

Sub-S. (2) only prevents a party from agitating in an appeal a question which he could have objected to in the appeal against an order. 29 M. L. J. 772; 48 Mad. 267 = 47 M. L. J. 710. Order setting aside abatement of suit is not final and can be attacked in appeal against final decree. 47 All. 555; 52 Cal. 472. Plea not raised in Appellate Court—Appeal. 35 I. C. 571. The sub-section does not to apply to appeals to the Privy Council. 33 All. 391; 40 C. 635 (P. C.). The section does not restrict Art. 15 of the Letters Patent. 25 M. 525 and embodies so much of the principle contained in. 7 M. I. A. 283; 10 M. I. A. 340; 10 M. I. A. 413. The phrase "affecting the decision of the case" in S. 105 means affecting the decision of the case with reference to its merits. 3 Lah. L. J. 59 = 59 I. C. 676. But see 12 All. 200; 22 Cal. 981. 9 C. W. N. 584 at p. 587. Error, defect or irregularity within the meaning of this section, mean error, defect of irregularity in procedure or in law, i.e., affecting the decision on the merits 35 I. C. 209 = 14 A. L. J. 610. But see also 12 All. 200; 25 All. 280. Unless the objection is taken in the memorandum of appeal it is not open to the appellant at the hearing of an appeal, to question the validity of the order. 15 A. 119. See also 20 A. 370; 18 A. 19 (F. B.); 14 B. 232 and 22 A. 366.

INTERLOCUTORY ORDERS.—The principle of S. 105 is applicable not only to decrees and interlocutory orders but also to orders and interlocutory orders leading to the final decree. 35 I. C. 74 = 4 L. W. 411. Notwithstanding the dismissal of an appeal against an interlocutory order it is open to a party to complain of any defect or irregularity in the order in an appeal from the final decree itself. 44 All. 533 = 20 A. L. J. 349 = 1922 All. 118. But see also 33 I. C. 208. A plaintiff does not lose his right to raise a question of the propriety of an intermediate order with which he has complied, for the right under S. 105, C. P. C., is not a qualified right. 53 I. C. 644 = 1 L. 54

REMAND ORDER.—Where remand was ordered on one of the two points, any one of which would have been sufficient to dispose of the case, the remand order must be deemed to have confirmed the decision on the other point 26 C. W. N. 739 = 74 I. C. 597 = 16 L. W. 447 = 1922 P. C. 51. (P. C.) Where a decree after remand is appealed against, the appellant cannot question the correctness of the remand order. 63 I. The court remanding the case after deciding certain points can afterwards refuse to re-consider those issues. 20 C. W. N. 43; see also 46 I. C. 922. Under S. 105 (2) a Lower Court cannot treat an order of remand of the appellate court as a nullity owing to the want of jurisdiction in the latter to pass it. 47 I. C. 886. Where on appeal by the plaintiff the case is remanded on the ground that the burden of proof was on the defendants and not on the plaintiff section 105 (2) precludes the defendants from questioning the correctness of that decision in second appeal. 1923 Nag. 283. Right of appeal against a remand order is unaffected by the disposal of the suit on remand before institution of the appeal. 14 I. C. 673 = 8 N. L. R. 42. (12 All. 510; 3 A. L. J. 40 rel.) A Court hearing an appeal against an order of remand has power not only to decide whether the order of remand is in accordance with law or not, but also whether the decision is correct or not and to dispose of the suit accordingly. 15 I. C. 181 = 15 O. C. 33; 16 A. 252; 3 A. 675; 5 C. 144; 20 M. 152. The reversal of the previous order has the effect of nullifying the final order. 37 Mad. 29 = 21 M. L. J. 1063.

MISCELLANEOUS.—Under O. 43, R. 1 (d), an appeal lies against an order refusing to set aside an ex parte decree but no appeal lies against an order setting aside such a decree—31 I. C. 914 = 40 P. R. 1916. See also 34 I. C. 713; 12 I. C.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), where any party aggrieved by an order of remand made after the commencement of this Code from which an appeal lies does not appeal therefrom, he shall thereafter be precluded from disputing its correctness.

An appellate Court can pass an interim order of injunction pending an appeal against the order of the Lower Court refusing it, 14 M. L. J. 491.

Sec. 109. SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF SECTION.—Leave to appeal can be granted only when the decree appealed against is a final decree, 13 M. 349. It does not mean the same thing as "final order" referred to in S. 109 (a). 26 C. W. N. 819=49 C. 967; (48 I. A. 31; 23 A. 227; 21 C. L. J. 281 ref.); The word "order" referred to in S. 109 (c) is intended to be not merely a final order but it is wide enough to include an interlocutory order. 26 C. W. N. 819=49 C. 967. As a general rule, leave ought not to be given in the case of interlocutory orders. 2 A. 65; 23 A. 220 (P. C.); 25 A. 629; see also 8 B. 548; 6 B. 260. Leave to appeal will not be granted upon a mere question of practice, e.g., an order for inspection. 9 Bom. H. C. R. 398. The fact that appeal lies under the Letters Patent does not preclude an appeal to the Privy Council. 7 B. L. R. 730. Consent decree is not appealable to His Majesty in Council. 5 Pat. L. J. 383. The certificate cannot be refused on the ground that no appeal lies against a judgment pronounced in accordance with an award and a decree following it. Sch. II, para. 21 (2) of the C. P. Code does not affect appeals to the Privy Council. 15 I. C. 2=15 O. C. 55. No appeal lies to the Privy Council against an order of the Calcutta High Court dismissing a Munsiff under cl. (2) of S. 26 of Bengal Regulation V of 1831. 13 M. I. A. 343. Also against an order cancelling a notification under which a person is admitted as a vakil 6 A. 163.

"FINAL ORDER"—WHAT IS.—Final order—Suit dismissed on preliminary point—Order of remand is final order. 62 I. C. 776=25 C. W. N. 896. An order is final only if it finally disposes of the rights of the parties and as an order refusing a stay would not finally dispose of those rights, but leave them to be determined by the Courts in the ordinary way it was not final. 47 I. A. 124=24 C. W. N. 721=39 M. L. J. 27 (P. C.) (Order rejecting application to sue as pauper is not final). 88 I. C. 575=1925 Oudh 548; 6 P. 67=100 I. C. 886=A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 175; Order refusing to record compromise is not final. 29 C. W. N. 832=89 I. C. 94=1925 Cal. 857.

A final order means an order which finally decides any matter directly at issue in the case in respect of the rights of the parties. 10 I. C. 439=13 C. L. J. 507; 13 C. L. J. 90=15 C. W. N. 848. The word "final" in S. 109, C. P. Code, is used in its ordinary sense and therefore means in order which puts an end to the litigation between the parties, or at all events disposes so substantially of the matters in issue between them as to leave merely subordinate or ancillary matters for decision. 24 Bom. L. R. 925=47 Bom. 106. See also 1 A. L. J. 26. The term "final order" denotes an order which finally decides any matter directly at issue in the case in respect of the rights of the parties. 28 I. J. 681. Order excusing delay in filing appeal under S. 5, Lim. Act is not a final order. 90 I. C. 723. Order refusing to stay proceedings under S. 19 of the Arbitration Act is not appealable. 47 I. 'DECREE OR FINAL ORDER MUST INVOLVE.'—These words refer to suits in existence and not to suits in gr:mio futuro. 24 A. 236 (238).

AFFIRMS THE DECISION.—The word "decision" means merely the decision of the suit by the Court. In order to "affirm the decision of the Court below" it is sufficient to affirm the decree ; it is not necessary to affirm the grounds of fact on which the judgment was passed. The appellate Court affirms the decision of the Court below although the reasons given by it are not the same as those of the Lower Court in respect of some matters of fact. 25 A. 109 (P. 'AFFIRMING JUDGMENT'.—Where there is a judgment of the High Court, affirming the judgment of the lower appellate Court, there is no

- (a) to have exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law, or
 (b) to have failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested, or of the defendant is illegal and without jurisdiction. 54 I. C. 965 = 1 Pat. L. J. 69. See also 100 I. C. 135 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 335. An erroneous decision of the lower appellate Court that the first Court had or had not jurisdiction to entertain a suit, can be interfered with in revision. 39 Mad. 195 = 24 M. L. J. 112. Where a Court assumes jurisdiction to pass an order on an erroneous view of the law, in a matter where it has in fact no jurisdiction, it is a case for interference of the High Court. 46 Mad. 536 = 44 M. L. J. 1; 100 I. C. 936 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 342. Jurisdiction—Refusal to exercise—Court misinterpreting S. 73 of the C. P. C. and consequently refusing help. 10 I. C. 527 = 15 C. W. N. 872. See also A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1030. When a Court, upon an erroneous view as to the scope of a section of the Code, applies it to a case to which it has no application it acts without jurisdiction. 35 C. 487; 99 I. C. 425 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 427. A mere misconstruction by a subordinate Court of S. 87 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, is not a ground for revision by the High Court under S. 115. C. P. C. 12 I. C. 138. Case of misconstruction of pleadings. A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 44. A Judge who passes a decree which is not supported by any evidence on the record, has taken upon himself a jurisdiction not vested in him by law. 10 C. W. N. 14; 9 A. 398, 404. Finding of fact without evidence, 64 I. C. 85. Ordinarily the question of admission of evidence is question of law only. But when a document has some legal effect on the decision, its exclusion can be treated as a refusal to exercise jurisdiction, 25 I. C. 204. Where a subordinate Court proceeds with the trial of a suit in contravention of S. 10, C. P. Code, it usurps a jurisdiction not vested in it by law and its order refusing to stay the suit though interlocutory, is open to revision by the High Court. 42 A. 409; 70 I. C. 5 = 16 L. W. 607. An order under S. 10 staying a suit amounts to a decision that the Court has no jurisdiction to try the suit. If wrongly used, it is a refusal to exercise jurisdiction and is open to revision under S. 115. 50 I. C. 212; 14 I. C. 711; 14 I. C. 221. Where a Judge refused to try the issues raised before him, he has declined to exercise a jurisdiction vested in him by law and the High Court can interfere. 39 A. 297 = 38 I. C. 335. The failure of a District Judge to decide a plea amounts to a refusal to exercise a jurisdiction and his decision is liable to be set aside in revision. 54 I. C. 662. Omission to decree claim admitted. 1922 Pat. 355 = A. I. R. 1923 P. 41. Where an objection to the place of suing is overruled and embodied in a formal order the High Court has power to revise the order. 41 All. 602 = 51 I. C. 331. An order directing a plaintiff to be returned for amendment without a prayer being without jurisdiction, is open to revision by the High Court. 24 M. L. J. 455 = 19 I. C. 672; (1913) M. W. N. 1024. Also an order dismissing summarily an application by plaintiff to restore a suit dismissed for default. 100 I. C. 677 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 239. Failure to exercise jurisdiction vested by the Calcutta Rent Act, can be interfered with under S. 115, C. P. C. 26 C. W. N. 711 = 49 Cal. 928. Failure to deal with question of limitation arising in the case is no material irregularity requiring interference in revision. 32 I. C. 785 = 3 L. W. 176. But see 18 I. C. 391 = 17 C. W. N. 667. Where a suit was withdrawn by the plaintiff without the Court's considering the terms of withdrawal especially as to costs, it was held that the omission to consider the question of costs which resulted in injustice to defendant is a failure to exercise the jurisdiction vested in the Court. 31 I. C. 617 = 13 A. L. J. 10 (Rev.). Application for decree absolute—Declining to entertain objections. 5 Pat. L. J. 342. When a date is appointed for the hearing of parties in order to ascertain valuation on sale proclamation, the Court acts without jurisdiction in fixing valuation at an earlier date without hearing the parties. 3 P. L. T. 342 = 65 I. C. 360. Jurisdiction—Execution sale—Deposit by person not entitled, allowed. 26 C. W. N. 167 = 70 I. C. 127 = 1922 Cal. 95; 45 All. 425 = 21 A. L. J. 313; 52 I. C. 344. The High Court has jurisdiction to interfere with the wrong exercise by the Courts below of powers vested in them under O. 21, Rr. 89 to 92 dealing with confirmation and setting aside of auction sale. 67 I. C. 286; 32 C. W. N. 57 = 45 C. L. J. 566 = 104 I. C. 199 = A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 633.

CLAUSE (a).—Where a Court professing to act under O. 21, R. 90 sets aside a sale without proof of substantial injury, such an order is one passed without jurisdiction within the meaning of this section. 9 M. 145; see also 106 I. C. 568 (Application not conforming to R. 89 of O. 21). Proceedings under O. 41, R. 23 instead of under O. 41, R. 25 does not create a point of jurisdiction as to justify interference. 64 I. C. 436. A Court has jurisdiction to hear an application for review though insufficiently stamped and the High Court will not interfere on that ground. 21 I. C. 943 (Cal.); 43 All. 288; 2 L. W. 366. A general order of remand by an appellate Court which misunderstands its own duties and in substance declines jurisdiction is liable to be revised by the High Court. 63 I. C. 358. The investigation contemplated by O. XXXIII, R. 7 must be confined to the applicant's pauperism, and if the Court receives evidence on the merits, it exercises a jurisdiction not vested in it by law. 13 M. L. J. 292 (F. B.).

Cl. (b).—By taking a mistaken notion of his legal powers, a Judge fails to exercise a jurisdiction vested in him by law. 12 M. L. J. 473. Where a Judge puts an erroneous construction upon the provisions of an Act, this does not amount to failing to exercise a jurisdiction vested by law, 13 C. 90, (93). Where no application is made under O. 21, R. 90 but nevertheless, the Court refuses to confirm the sale under O. 21, R. 92 it has failed to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it. 20 C. 8 (11) (P. C.) When a Court refuses to investigate a claim under O. 21, Rr. 58 to 60 it refuses to exercise jurisdiction vested in it by law. 4 C. L. R. 74. Where the lower court has failed to take notice of the real point in the case the High Court can interfere in revision. 106 I. C. 226 (2) = A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 299; 5 Rang. 803. When a Judge refuses to accept a plaintiff he fails to exercise a jurisdiction vested in him by law. 32 C. 146.

(c) to have acted in the exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material

Cl. (c).—For the meaning of the words "illegally" and "material irregularity", see 7 B. 341; (F.B.) at p. 358. Order allowing plaintiff to withdraw suit on grounds not covered by O. 23, R. 1. See 25 A. L. J. 870=103 I. C. 229=A. I. R. 1927 All. 704; 25 A.L.J. 943; 103 I.C. 372. When the only issue tried by the lower Court is not one upon which the dispute between the parties can be properly adjudicated, Court acts with material irregularity. 7 Bom.L.R. 12 (16). The expression, "material irregularity" was held to include an irregularity of procedure materially affecting the merits of the case. 13 C. 225. See also 28 C. 574 (583); (1928) M. W. N. 49. A mere error in law is not an illegality or material irregularity. 23 B. 177. See also cases under "Error of Law". Clauses (a) and (b) of S. 115 embody what this section refers to in the word "illegally". Clause (c) indicates the meaning of the expression "material irregularity". 8 A. 111 (F. B.).

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES—ADDITION OF PARTIES.—Addition and substitution of parties when open to revision. 45 C.L.J. 146; (1927) M.W.N. 301. No revision lies from an order striking out a defendant, as such an order does not decide anything between the parties. 14 I. C. 263; 32 A. 623. See also where parties are added. 64 I. C. 563; 90 I. C. 721. When in a suit the mortgagee claimed land from a third party through the mortgagor and the suit was decreed though the mortgagor not a party the Court acted with material irregularity. 54 Cal. 338=25 A. L. J. 61=25 L. W. 90=99 I. C. 749=29 Bom. L. R. 755=31 C. W. N. 413=52 M. L. J. 368 (P. C.) Where addition of parties causes not only mis-joinder of parties, but also causes of action, revision lies. 90 I. C. 721. Where the right to raise an objection as to non-joinder came into existence during the suit, and such objection was not taken in the trial Court, it cannot be raised in revision. 46 I. C. 648. But see 44 I. C. 564. Where an order for addition of parties was made due to devolution of interest during pendency of suit, appeal and not revision is the remedy. 54 C. 716. Addition of parties—Order refusing to make a transposition of parties when open to revision. 34 I. C. 186=20 C. W. N. 752. See also 45 M. L. J. 703=50 I. C. 58 (Scheme suit); 39 I. C. 160=5 L. W. 207; 25 A. L. J. 991. As to exercise of power under O. 1, R. 10 see 47 I. C. 725.

AMENDMENT OF PLAINT AND PLEADINGS.—The High Court has power to interfere under S. 115 with an order directing that a plaint should be amended. 63 I. C. 419=4 N.L.J. 58. See also 1925 Mad. 188; 89 I. C. 782; 87 I. C. 90=48 M. L. J. 349; (1922) Lah. 394 (1). See contra 15 C.W.N. 682=10 I.C. 308; 101 I.C. 701 (1)=9 Lah. L. J. 357. A Court is not empowered to accept additional written statement to meet allegations not raised in the plaint. The proper course is to amend the plaint, if allowable, and direct filing of written statement, and frame issues and decide. 30 I. C. 41=29 M.L.J. 53. Where a Court dismisses a suit refusing an opportunity to amend the plaint, if necessary, the High Court can interfere under S. 115. 1 Pat. L.T. 188; 55 I.C. 445; 22 M.L.J. 136=12 I.C. 173; 15 L. W. 667=68 I. C. 167; 98 I.C.

458=A. I. R. 927 Mad. 212. Where there is another remedy open to a party, such as an appeal, if eventually the judgment is passed against him, the High Court would not entertain revision. 10 I.C. 308=15 C.W.N. 682; 15 L.W. 667=68 I.C. 167.

APPEAL.—An appeal can be treated as an application under this section. 17 M.L.J. 119; 28 R. 458 (460); 4 A.L.J. 492; 45 C.L.J. 194 and vice versa. 6 C.W.N. 346; 50 I.C. 931=9 L.W. 596. See also 34 I.C. 264; 31 I.C. 812=23 C.L.J. 235; but not one filed after limitation for appeal has expired. 2 Lah. L. J. 734. See also 41 Mad. 554=34 M.L.J. 309; 9 L.W. 81; 30 M.L.J. 486=34 I.C. 372. Incompetent appeal entertained by Appellate Court can be set aside in revision. 25 Bom. L.R. 147=72 I.C. 256.

ARBITRATION.—Where in arbitration proceedings an appeal is not allowed, revision would be still more objectionable. 47 All 121. Order of reference to arbitration—jurisdiction of court challenged—Revision. See A.I.R. 1927 Cal. 52; 106 I.C. 93.

AWARD.—Where in superseding an award the Court acted illegally and with material irregularity the High Court could interfere in revision. 20 A.L.J. 125=64 I.C. 934=1922 All. 69. On this point see also 87 I.C. 371. Where a Court sets aside an award of arbitrators on the ground of misconduct on the part of the arbitrators its order is not open to revision. 47 Bom. 721=73 I.C. 464; 43 All. 101=59 I.C. 667=18 A.L.J. 952; 59 I.C. 811=45 Bom. 832. Where no notice was given of the filing of the award as required by the rules, the High Court can interfere in revision with a decree passed in terms of the award. 63 I.C. 243. If a Court passing a decree on an award has committed an error in procedure or has misused the jurisdiction prescribed by Sch. II, if there is revision against the decree. See 64 I. C. 363; 64 I. C. 294; 38 I.C. 769; 105 I. C. 105. Interference in revision is not rightful where there is no irregularity in the proceedings or error in procedure or misuse of a jurisdiction and the decree of the Court is passed according to an award of arbitrators. 16 I.C. 996; 28 I.C. 427. The Court on filing an award not containing decision on a point in dispute cannot be considered to have exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law or failed to exercise a jurisdiction vested in it by law. 17 I.C. 33= (1912) M.W.N. 1076. The High Court should not interfere with the award if no illegality is apparent and the irregularities in procedure are formal. 12 I.C. 269=21 M.L.J. 1005. Also in case of arithmetical error in award. (1927) M.W.N. 242. Whether revision lies from order refusing to give opportunity to party to produce evidence in support of objections to award. See 37 I. C. 400. The High Court has power to revise the proceedings of the lower Court after the delivery of the award to it and can rectify any illegality or material irregularity in the lower Court's procedure in dealing with the award. 34 I.C. 845=9 S.L.R. 183. See also 50 I. C. 52=4 Pat. L. J. 265; 65 I. C. 50.

"CASE DECIDED".—Meaning of—Order under S. 10 of the Religious Endowment Act—

Revision—Powers of interference. 40 Mad. 793 = 40 I. C. 650 (P. C.). Order deciding that Sikh Gurdwari Act applies terminates proceedings and revision lies. 8 Lah. 362 = 101 I. C. 171 = A.I.R. 1927 Lah. 394. S. 115 applies to jurisdiction alone, the irregular exercise or non-exercise of it or the illegal assumption of it; it is not directed against conclusions of law or fact in which jurisdiction is not involved. 40 Mad. 792 (P. C.) supra. "Case" is not defined in the Code; it cannot be confined to litigation in which there is a plaintiff who seeks to obtain a particular relief against a defendant before the Court but includes an ex parte application praying that persons in the position of trustees or officials should perform their trust or discharge their judicial duties. (Ibid.)

The word "case" in S. 115 is a word of wider import than such words as "suit" or "appeal" 40 Bom. 86 = 33 I. C. 358; 48 Bom. 43; 41 Cal. 632. The decision on a single issue by a subordinate Court in a suit which is still pending in that Court is not a 'case' decided. 43 All. 564 = 63 I. C. 15. An application under S. 10 for the stay of a suit is not a "case" and an order for stay passed on that application is not the decision of a case within S. 115. 58 I. C. 90 = 42 A. 409. See also 27 M. L. J. 494; 15 C. W. N. 666; 42 Cal. 926; 4 Lah. L. J. 425. Where on the objection of the defendant that the Court has no jurisdiction to entertain the suit the Court decides it has jurisdiction, the order of the court does not amount to a decision of a case and no revision lies against it. 5 L.L.J. 140 = 71 I. C. 487; 41 A. 43; 42 A. 564; 59 I. C. 680. "Case"—Refusal to issue interrogatories. 69 I. C. 417 = 1923 Lah. 282 (2). Case—Order directing verification of pleadings—Order as to costs. 64 I. C. 207. Orders under S. 34 of the Guardians and Wards Act are open to examination by the High Court on revision side. 55 I. C. 587. Order dismissing an appeal summarily is a decree and is open to revision by High Court, if there is no second appeal provided for. 36 Mad. 128 = 21 M. L. J. 387. Appeal against order in application under O. 21, R. 90. Revision 45 C. L. J. 537. Case decided—Proceedings under Legal Practitioner's Act—No power to revise. 56 I. C. 433 = 21 C. L. J. 449. Where a Court allows or refuses to allow a suit to be withdrawn with liberty to bring a fresh suit, it 'decides' within the meaning of S. 115 of the Code and the High Court has jurisdiction to interfere. 61 I. C. 584; 103 I. C. 229. The refusal by a Court to adjourn the hearing of a suit in order to enable the applicant to pay the court-fee is not an order which should be revised by the High Court. 45 All. 212 = 20 A. L. J. 1005 = 69 I. C. 921; 64 I. C. 211. Dismissal for default. See 53 C. 827.

COURT-FEE—CONFLICT OF RULINGS.—An order under S. 149 requiring the plaintiffs to pay the additional court-fee is not open to revision. 51 I. C. 581; 104 I. C. 145 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1021 (2) = 53 Mad. 452; 102 I. C. 877. As to when orders relating to court-fees are open to revision. See also 29 C. W. N. 627 = 86 I. C. 853; 21 L. W. 649 = 87 I. C. 660 = 48 M. L. J. 688; 27 L. W. 286 = A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 416. A decision of a Sub-court on a question of valuation determining the amount of Court-fee, is subject to revision. 10 B. 610. But not an order directing to pay additional court-fees. 12 C. L. R. 141. Revision lies to the High Court from an erroneous order for payment of additional court-fee, and the plaintiff need not wait for the dismissal of the suit by disobeying the order and then move the High Court in appeal or revision. 36 I. C. 381. See also 15 I. C. 46 = 17 C. W. N. 160; 103 I. C. 268 (2) = A.I.R. 1927 Nag. 256. The Patna High Court has held that, the High Court will not revise an interlocutory order demanding ad valorem court-fee on a plaint, as the order of rejection on the plaint is appealable. 5 Pat. L. J. 400 = 56 I. C. 649. See also 51 I. C. 581. The High Court has power to interfere in revision with interlocutory orders of lower Courts, e. g., direction to pay court-fee. 50 I. C. 470 = 4 Pat. L. J. 195. See also 55 I. C. 786 = 1 Pat. L. T. 5.

COMMISSION.—Order issuing commission for examination of plaintiff may be interfered with in revision. 1925 P. H. C. C. 326; (1927) M.W. N. 218.

CRIMINAL PROSECUTION.—An order punishing a person for contempt of Court can be revised. 27 A. 380. Also an order granting sanction under S. 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code. 17 M. L. J. 123. But see also 3 All. 508. An order of a judge passed under S. 195 or 476, Cr.P. Code directing the trial of a person under S. 193, I.P.C. is open to revision. 23 Cr. L. J. 291 = 1922 All. 438. See also 1923 A. 490 (1); 48 I. C. 499. Prosecution order of a Collector under S. 476, Cr P.C., while acting under S. 70, C.P.C., cannot be revised by High Court. 38 I. C. 419 = 14 A. L. J. 1077. The High Court can revise an order under S. 476, Cr. P. C., passed by a Civil Court if it fails to specify the charges. 38 All. 695 = 36 I. C. 836. A petition to revise proceedings under S. 195 Cr. P. C., of a Civil Court should not be under S. 439, Cr. P. Code. 17 Cr. L. J. 184 = 33 I. C. 824; Contra 19 I. C. 197 = 40 Cal. 477. See also 28 I. C. 334 = 19 C. W. N. 447; 40 Cal. 477 = 17 C. L. J. 245 = 33 I. C. 824; 32 I. C. 330 = 18 M. L. T. 591.

DELAY.—Revision is a privilege and not a right and it corresponds to the remedies in England known as Certiorari and Mandamus. The invariable rule in these cases is that a party aggrieved must come to the High Court for relief at the earliest possible moment and also must come with no ulterior purpose. 39 I. C. 570; 43 I. C. 470; 19 C. L. J. 9; (1923) M.W.N. 159 = 72 I. C. 137. As a general rule the High Court does not entertain revision petitions after 3 months, but the High Court may in a proper case excuse the delay in the exercise of its discretion. 16 L. W. 760 = (1922) M. W. N. 130 = 65 I. C. 732. See also 93 I. C. 723 (1). As to delay of over three years, see 86 I. C. 329.

DISCRETION.—Failure to exercise discretion in executing delay on insufficient grounds for filing application for review after time falls under this section. 100 I. C. 727 = A. I. R. 1927 All. 386. Where an appellate Court refused to admit additional evidence offered three days after the argument was closed, the High Court would not interfere with its order in revision. 67 I. C. 252.

the High Court may make such order in the case as it thinks fit.

As to interference in revision with discretion of lower Court, see 7 Lah. L. J. 290=90 I. C. 632; 85 I. C. 660; 1925 Cal. 293; 90 I. C. 243=L. R. 6 A. 586; 83 I. C. 133=1925 All. 218. The High Court will not interfere in revision with the lower Court's order directing the Commissioner to ascertain mesne profits. 16 L. W. 312=74 I. C. 812. Where a subordinate court not only has made a mistake in law but has entirely misunderstood the nature of the judicial discretion it was called upon to exercise the High Court will interfere in revision under S. 115. 42 M. L. J. 97=45 M. 194; 25 M. L. T. 116=(1918) M. W. N. 888; 26 M. L. J. 467=23 I. C. 572. A High Court ought not to interfere with every exercise of discretion by the court below, even if no appeal is allowed, but must do so only where there has been a wanton abuse of process. 23 I. C. 522=15 M. L. T. 339; 31 C.W.N. 653; 32 C.W.N. 128. The issue or a refusal to issue by a subordinate court, a commission to examine witnesses is not an abuse of process warranting an interference by the High Court. 23 I. C. 522=15 M.L.T. 339. Where a judge uses his discretion to grant or refuse leave to institute a suit he does not act illegally nor with material irregularity nor is any question of jurisdiction involved. 17 I. C. 400=12 M.L.T. 359. The High Court will not interfere in revision with an order for payment of adjournment costs for not complying with a provision of law, when the amount awarded is neither excessive nor unreasonable. 57 I. C. 506. The High Court's interference with the discretion of a court is confined only to an ignorant or perverse exercise of it. 20 C.W.N. 1080=1 Pat. L.J. 465; 37 I. C. 129=3 Pat. L.W. 55; (1927) M.W.N. 838.

Sec. 122. 125. High Courts, other than the Courts specified in section 122, may exercise the powers conferred by that section in such manner and subject to such conditions [as in the case of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Coorg, the Governor-General in Council, and in other cases the Local Government, may determine]¹ :

Provided that any such High Court may, after previous publication, make a rule extending within the local limits of its jurisdiction any rules which have been made by any other High Court.

126. Rules made under the foregoing provisions shall be subject to the previous [approval]² of the following authorities, namely:—

(a) if the rule is made by a High Court established under the Indian High Courts Act, 1861, [or the Government of India Act, 1915]³ to the [approval]² of the authority prescribed by [the proviso to section 107 of the latter Act]⁴ for rules made under that section ;

(b) if the rule is made by any other High Court, to the [approval]² of the Local Government.

127. Rules so made and [approved]⁵ shall be published in the Gazette of India or in the local official Gazette, as the case may be, and shall from the date of publication or from such other date as may be specified have the same force and effect, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the High Court which made them, as if they had been contained in the First Schedule, ⁵Sec. 127.—The words “approved” was substituted for the word “sanctioned” by Act XXIV of 1917.

Sec. 128.—Whether S. 128 which allows delegation of judicial duties validates rules which were in existence prior to the Code of 1908 when such delegation was ultra vires see 42 I. C. 623=21 C. W. N. 1052.

An old Hindu lady belonging to a high family but not belonging to the purdanashin class ought not to be compelled having regard to her social position and the feeling of her class, to appear in the witness-box, but must be examined on commission, the costs of the commission being costs in the cause. 45 Cal. 492=22 C. W. N. 147. A purdanashin lady may be included in the statutory description of "women who according to the customs and manners of the country ought not to be compelled to appear in public." When a transformation of customs has taken place, she can no longer claim, as of right, the statutory exemption formulated in S. 132. 45 Cal. 697. A purdanashin lady is entitled to be examined on commission although she has previously appeared in public, and has been examined in Court in a Palki 26 C. 650. If she is in fact a purdanashin lady she is not deprived of the statutory protection merely because she may have previously appeared in public. 45 Cal. 697. An unmarried girl of 12 who belongs to a class, the female members of which never go out in public, is entitled to the privilege afforded by this section. 24 W. R. 375. Sec. 141. SCOPE OF SECTION.—The procedure prescribed by the Code is applicable as widely as possible to miscellaneous proceedings. 21 C. 479. The section was intended to apply to such matters as applications for the appointment of guardians, and for the custody of infants, and to proceedings under the Divorce Act, and to the recording of evidence in probate cases, and many other similar matters other than suits and appeals. 9 A. 36 (41). See also 18 C. 635 at p. 638; 15 I. C. 559=116 P. R. 1912; 29 C. W. N. 521=1925 Cal. 391 (applicability of section to proceedings before Rent Collector); 106 I. C. 408 (Proceedings under the Indian Companies Act). "S. 141 applies only to original matters in the nature of suits such as proceedings in probate, guardianship, and so forth." The expression "original matters" means matters which originate in themselves and not those which spring up from a suit or from some other proceeding or arise in connection therewith. Thus it does not apply to O. 9, R. 9 for restoration of a suit dismissed for default. 54 Cal. 405=31 C. W. N. 576=103 I. C. 69=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 534. The power conferred by this section should not be exercised without sufficient cause. 8 M. 548 (550) (F. B.).

MEANING OF TERMS.—The term "suit" applies to suits in the strict sense, and is not intended to cover proceedings for the enforcement of rights decreed in a suit. 12 A. 392 (F. B.).

PROCEEDINGS TO WHICH SECTION IS APPLICABLE.—Applicable to proceedings in original suit. 4 Pat. L.T. 735=1924 P. 346. S. 141 is wide enough to make the provisions of S. 10 apply to arbitration proceedings. 66 I. C. 796=1922 Sind 6. The procedure prescribed by S. 98 applies to miscellaneous proceedings. 3 B. 204.

When an application under O. 21, R. 58 is struck off for default, this section enables the claimant to apply under O. 9, R. 9. 10 A. 119. Proceedings under S. 144 are not proceedings in execution. Consequently S. 141 applies to them. 20 A. L. J. 226=44 A. 407, (40 M. 780 diss.). APPEAL.—An order passed under this section is a decree see S. 2 and an appeal lies against such order. 8 M. L. J. 276. But see 10 P. R. 1914 (order dismissing application for restitution is not appealable). 20 I. C. 203. An order under this section is a decree. As to the principle upon which the doctrine of restitution is based, see 23 M. 306 (310). Second appeal also lies, 86 I. C. 376=1925 Cal. 1074.

Sec. 145. SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF SECTION.—Section is merely procedural and does not in any way define a surety's liability, 5 Rang. 494=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 316. The “person” need not now have become liable as surety “before the passing of the decree,” as was held in 30 B. 506. The words “for the fulfilment of any condition” will supersede the ruling in 8 M. L. J. 199. As to extent of surety's liability, see 1925 Lah. 170; 7 Lah. L. J. 343=1925 Lah. 552; 83 I. C. 870=1925 Sind 25; 84 I. C. 998=1925 Rang. 135=2 Rang. 567 (Surety not to be made liable simply because judgment-debtor was produced somewhat late); 89 I. C. 342=19 S. L. R. 390. (Section not applicable to surety under Guardian and Wards Act). S. 145 applies only where the surety has rendered himself personally liable for the decretal amount and such liability can only be enforced against him to the extent to which he has become personally liable. 29 I. C. 149=19 C. W. N. 961. See also 22 C. W. N. 919; 19 C. W. N. 178; 17 C. L. J. 267 (F. B.). The section prescribes a summary remedy in execution for the realisation of the security in execution to the extent to which the surety has made himself personally liable. 34 I. C. 407= (1916) 2 M. W. N. 273; 21 I. C. 612. Where immoveable property is given by a judgment-debtor as security for the due performance of a decree the property can be realised by the decree-holder in execution and no separate suit is either necessary or maintainable. 34 M. L. J. 84=41 M. 327. Before proceedings are started under S. 145 it must be established that the person against whom execution is sought has become liable as surety in Court. 71 I. C. 46. See also 41 Mad. 40. S. 145 does not apply to proceedings for the enforcement of surety bonds taken by the decree-holder outside the Court. The bond has to be enforced by suit. 8 L. W. 507=48 I. C. 940. A condition precedent in a surety bond that the debtor should be produced if he failed to appear after notice, is a benefit which the surety may waive. 34 I. C. 407= (1916) 2 M. W. N. 273. The liability of a judgment-debtor's surety should

(a) for the performance of any decree or any part thereof, or

(b) for the restitution of any property taken in execution of a decree, or

(c) for the payment of any money, or for the fulfilment of any condition imposed on any person, under an order of the Court in any suit or in any proceeding consequent thereon, the decree or order may be executed against him, to the extent to which he has rendered himself personally liable, in the manner herein provided for the execution of decrees, and such person shall, for the purposes of appeal, be deemed a party within the meaning of section 47 :

Provided that such notice as the Court in each case thinks sufficient has been given to the surety.

not ordinarily be enforced in execution against any property which he might have mortgaged under the surety bond without a suit for the purpose. 39 All 225. See also 38 All. 327; 54 Cal. 1. The Court has a discretion to refuse execution against the surety. 23 Bom. L. R. 1263 = 46 Bom. 702.

EXTENT OF LIABILITY.—Ex parte decree, setting aside of. 44 Bom. 34 = 21 Bom. L. R. 861. The liability of the surety cannot be determined until the time for execution has arrived. The death of defendant for whom the opponent stood as surety does not discharge him. 19 Bom. L. R. 112 = 41 Bom. 402. A surety bond for performance of a decree or for restitution in case the decree is reversed is enforceable by a regular suit and the obligee need not enforce the bond by a proceeding in execution. 13 Bom. L. R. 909 = 36 Bom. 42. Forfeiture of security is to be applied in satisfaction of the decree. 59 I. C. 778 = 25 C. W. N. 36. The liability of a surety for a debt ceases to exist when his principal's debt is extinguished by an act which causes the merger of the estate of the debtor and the creditor. 44 M. L. J. 171 = 1923 Mad. 340. A third party who has given security for the performance of a decree cannot apply to the executing Court to cancel the bond on the ground that it was obtained by fraud. Where a person has become surety for the release of a judgment-debtor arrested in execution of a decree, and the bond is filed in Court, it must be regarded as a matter of record in the Court as much as if it had been executed to the Court itself. The bond is consequently enforceable against the security in execution proceedings. 53 I. C. 673 = 10 L. W. 172. Under S. 145, a decree-holder cannot execute a decree against a surety under O. 21, R. 43 as amended by the High Court, in respect of property entrusted to him. In a redemption suit the Court could extend the time fixed in the decree for payment of decretal amount to a prior mortgagee only under O. 34, R. 8 and not under S. 148; 34 All. 388. As to power of Court extend time for payment of decretal amount, see 42 I. C. 613=15 A. L. J. 511. Sec. 149. SCOPE OF SECTION.—The section is intended to remedy the hardship caused by the rulings in 20 M. 319; 27 C. 376; 28 A. 310; 10 C. W. N. 844; and follows 29 A. 749 (F. B.). When an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis is dismissed, the plaint still remains and may be validated by payment of Court-fees within a time to be fixed by Court. Application to sue in forma pauperis withdrawn—Court-fee paid beyond limitation—Suit barred. 1 Rang. 196=1923 Rang. 256. Where there is no bona fide mistake in the payment of a smaller court-fee and the omission is deliberate, a Court should not extend time to pay up the deficiency. 75 I. C. 667=1923 Lah. 309. See also 3 P. L. J. 74; 1 Lah. 234. An extension of time will not be allowed for payment of Court-fee for an appeal which has been insufficiently stamped in the absence of satisfactory explanation of the mistake, if any. 67 I. C. 130. LIMITATION.—In the case of a suit in which an insufficiently stamped plaint is filed within the limitation period, though the deficiency in the Court-fee is made up after the limitation period, the suit is deemed to have been instituted on the date of the actual filing of the plaint under S. 149. 1 Pat. L. J. 420. Where a plaint is filed in time but with an insufficient court-fee and the deficiency is made good under O. 7, R. 11, no question of limitation arises. The law is otherwise as regards memoranda of appeal. 3 Pat. L. T. 142.

Sec. 150.—S. 150 applies not merely to cases where the whole of a business of a Court with reference to the whole of its jurisdiction is transferred to another Court but also to cases of partial territorial adjustment of jurisdiction and the transfer of the business with reference to that part alone to another Court. 46 Mad. 1 = 42 M.L.J. 344. The word "transfer" in the section is not used in a limited sense of transfers under the special provisions of the Code. It implies that the whole business can be transferred to another Court without an order from a superior Court under S. 24. When all proceedings are transferred ipso facto to the new Court, such new Court has power to continue execution proceedings relating to lands situated in the transferred area pending in the former Court at the time of transfer. 37 Mad. 462 = 26 M.L.J. 189. Sec. 151. SCOPE OF SECTION—INHERENT POWERS OF COURT.—Scope of section pointed out. 47 C.L.J. 87. Inherent powers are not limited to Ss. 151 and 152. 1925 Cal. 420. S. 151, C. P. Code, is intended for exceptional cases for which there is no remedy except the Court's inherent powers. It is not intended to enable Court to evade or ignore the provisions of law which govern procedure. Where after passing a decree, a court suo motu set aside its own decree on the ground it had discovered some documentary evidence on the record the procedure is illegal. 21 A. L. J. 447 = 73 I. C. 494; 86 I. C. 1045 (S.). See also A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 522. A Court cannot amend a decree which is in conformity with the judgment. 100 I. C. 142 = A.I.R. 1927 Lah. 403; A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 203. Remedy by way of appeal may bar exercise of powers under this section. 27 Bom. L. R. 1511. A court is not only entitled but is bound to brush aside a mere technicality which stands in the way of justice and to amend such mistakes, slips or omissions as may appear to prevent justice in order to give effect to the real and substantial right of the parties. Ss. 151, 152 and 153 are just as applicable to Courts of first instance as to Courts of appellate jurisdiction and the Appellate Court ought to take steps by way of amendment which were clearly open to the first or other lower Court. 34 I. C. 79 = 38 All. 398; 1 Luck. C. 187 = 105 I.C. 146 = A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 276. S. 151 empowers Courts to deal with their own decrees and orders and does not give authority to superior Courts by way of conferring jurisdiction over inferior courts. 42

Bom. 363 = 45 I. C. 552. The inherent power of a Court can be invoked only for the attainment of the ends of substantial justice. 19 C. W. N. 835 = 25 I. C. 267. Court may do what is fair and equitable. 84 I. C. 134 = 48 Mad. 494. It must not be used to defeat the imperative provisions of S. 3 of the Lim. Act. 66 I. C. 270; 7 Lah. L. J. 13 = 1925 Pat. 321. The doctrine of inherent power has no scope for application where there is express statutory provisions on the point in controversy. 69 I. C. 718; 75 I. C. 487 = 1923 Lah. 506 (2); 106 I. C. 575; 15 I. C. 53 = 16 C. W. N. 1029. A reductio ad absurdum can be avoided by a Judge under the provisions of the above sections, which are wide enough for the purpose. 37 I. C. 282. The inherent powers of a Court are not to be used in order to relieve a party from the consequences of his own mistakes or to enable him to evade the law of limitation. 43 M. L. J. 184 = 70 I. C. 743; 89 I. C. 427. Excusing delay to sue as pauper. 101 I. C. 320 (1) = A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 197. Inherent power is that which inheres in a Court by the very fact of its being empowered to exercise any jurisdiction at all so that it comes within the express sense of the law or within the consequences that may be gathered from it. 1 I. W. 882 = 26 I. C. 63. The power mentioned in S. 151 must be used very sparingly and only in the last resort. 67 I. C. 296; 34 I. C. 787; 33 M. L. J. 184 = 70 I. C. 743 = 1922 Mad. 417. If a suit is dismissed by the trial Court for certain reasons, it is open to the Court of appeal to dismiss it for completely different reasons. 4 O. W. N. 862 = 104 I. C. 824 = A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 455.

APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—S. 151 does not apply where there is an express provision of law. 69 I. C. 718 = 3 Pat. 654; 82 I. C. 813 = 1925 Pat. 47; 4 Pat. 180; 8 L. R. 18 (Rev.); 102 I. C. 543 = A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 262; 52 M. L. J. 670. Where an appellate Court is asked to set aside the proceedings in an appeal on the ground that on the date of hearing of the appeal the respondent was not living, the procedure is to apply within the period of limitation for a review of the judgment passed in the appeal and not to apply under S. 151; 54 I. C. 284. High Court cannot consolidate suit pending in District or other Courts. 39 Bom. 604 = 30 I. C. 560; 27 L. W. 366 = (1928) M. W. N. 271 (consolidation of appeals). Consolidation is an inherent power in an appellate Court and is not barred by absence of application therefor in lower Court. 45 I. C. 463 = 34 M. L. J. 279. A Court has inherent power to consolidate suits and this jurisdiction can be exercised even without the consent of the parties. 3 Pat. L. T. 584 = 67 I. C. 1000 = 1922 P. 566. (17 C.

ENDS OF JUSTICE.—The section recognizes the inherent powers of a Court to make orders to prevent a miscarriage of justice. 38 All. 147=36 I. C. 585; 86 I. C. 882=1925 Cal. 1145. See also 1 P. 149, 235. Cognizance of cases which cut at root of controversy. 98 I. C. 280=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 143. S. 151 has been enacted to deal effectually with abuse of process of Court. The institution of a second suit against the same party for the same relief on the same cause of action is not an abuse of the process of the Court. 27 M. L. J. 405=25 I. C. 597. A Court in India has power to pass a conditional decree as it can impose a condition doing complete justice to the parties. 23 M. L. J. 652=17 I. C. 987. Where decree-holder is permitted to bid at an auction-sale, subject to certain conditions being fulfilled and he fails to fulfil the condition, the Court has power to refuse to confirm the sale. 69 I. C. 872=1 Pat. 235. The High Court has full power to pass proper orders to give relief to parties and it can set aside an order of a Subordinate Court although in the revision petition the petitioner has not moved against it. 64 I. C. 496=2 Pat. L. T. 739. Ends of justice—Wrong execution of decree—Interference. 48 I. C. 107=3 Pat. L. J. 435.

LIMITATIONS ON THE EXERCISE OF COURT'S POWERS.—The section applies only when there is no other express provision of law. 30 I. C. 38=21 C. L. J. 614; 55 C. 219=103 I. C. 864=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 850=47 C. L. J. 69. Court cannot do what is prohibited by the Code. 3 Pat. 766=6 P. L. T. 309=84 I. C. 320=1925 Pat. 36; 100 I. C. 518=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 420. S. 151 does not authorise the Court to override the express provisions of Limitation Act or Bengal Tenancy Act. 9 I. C. 246; 7 Lah. I. J. 13=86 I. C. 256. S. 151 does not authorise the Court to exercise its inherent powers so as to break the provisions of the Limitation Act. 1 Lah. 363=58 I. C. 789=2 Lah. L. J. 249. See also 57 I. C. 15; 23 N. L. R. 193. But see 47 C. L. J. 87. In exercising the inherent powers the decision of the Court should be based on general legal principles subject to any special provisions contained in the Code, meeting the necessities of the case in question. 56 I. C. 255; 98 I. C. 70=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 158.

WHO CAN MOVE THE COURT.—The inherent powers of a Court cannot be used for the benefit of the litigant who has his remedy under the Code of Civil Procedure, much less for one who having his remedy has lost it by his own delay. 26 I. C. 46=27 M. L. J. 605. A stranger to the litigation cannot intervene after the suit or proceedings are disposed of and claim the protection of S. 151 or appeal to the inherent powers of the Court to do justice. 42 M. L. J. 563=68 I. C. 910. Court can order restitution to surety. 28 Punj. L. R. 525.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES: AMENDMENT OF DECREE.—Where a purely clerical error is brought to the notice of a High Court when it is seized of the matter as Court of Appeal it can correct the error. 45 A. 53. A Court cannot vary or set aside under S. 151 a consent decree made by it when the decree and Solehanamah are not in variance. 36 I. C. 239. The Court has inherent powers to amend or vary a perfected order and to make necessary orders at any time even after an appeal has been preferred against it where the decree is not in accordance with the intention of the Court as gathered from the judgment as a whole. 26 I. C. 946=18 C. W. N. 772. Amendment of decree after disposal of appeal. 8 Pat. L. T. 143. S. 151 would enable a Court to alter a decree when it does not correctly express what the Court actually decided or intended to decide. 73 I. C. 679=1923 Lah. 147. Where the decree has not been signed the Court has power to make alteration to make decree consistent. 17 L. W. 254=74 I. C. 416; 37 I. C. 352. It is not competent to a Court to amend the decree of another Court transferred to it for execution even though the error may be obvious. 15 L. W. 301=65 I. C. 710; 34 I. C. 787=3 L. W. 499. An application to amend a plaint on the ground that the correct view has subsequently been laid down by the High Court should be allowed. 26 I. C. 383. Where the parties allowed a decree to be enforced for 6 years before attempting to amend it, it should not be amended specially when there is no clerical or arithmetical mistake. 67 I. C. 310. A court has inherent power to amend a decree for pre-emption and deduct the amount due to the pre-emptor from the vendee as a charge of the property sold, from the pre-emption money. 54 I. C. 34. Court cannot amend a decree which is in conformity with judgment. 100 I. C. 142=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 403.

ADDING PARTIES.—An appellate Court has power to implead only such persons as parties to the appeal as were parties in the trial Court and were not made parties to the appeal but not those who were complete strangers to the suit. 56 I. C. 726=31 C. L. J. 130; 67 I. C. 10=34 C. L. J. 405. Powers of a Court to implead parties under S. 151 are circumscribed by O. 41, R. 20 and it is only in exceptional circumstances that the inherent powers under S. 151 could be invoked. 73 I. C. 136=1923 Lah. 490. Also 8 Lah. 161, power of High Court to transpose parties. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 37.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.—The effect of the section is to give absolute power to Courts to summarily punish contempts by fine or imprisonment. 50 I. C. 981=23 C. W. N. 389; 86 I. C. 650=1923 Mad. 02.

CONVERSION OF ONE PETITION INTO ANOTHER.—The petition under S. 151 can be treated as one for review. 43 M. I. J. 290=70 I. C. 425. Restoration application of an application under O. 9, R. 9 dismissed for default can be treated as one for review. 54 Cal. 405=31 C. W. N. 576=103 I. C. 69=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 534. High Court can condone misapplications of special provisions; it can convert application for revision into memo. of appeal. The High Court's power cannot be exercised if law is not complied with as regards limitation and court-fees. 48 I. C. 779.

DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT.—The Court in a proper case can re-admit an appeal-dismissed for default. 45 Bom. 648=60 I. C. 919. See also A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 76. Where the next friend of a minor-appellant is of unsound mind, the minor's absence at the hearing cannot be treated as default and his appeal will be re-admitted by Court in exercise of inherent powers. 45 Bom. 648= may be necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process

60 I.C. 919. When the application itself shows that it is one for the restoration of a suit, justice should not be denied simply because there is a technical objection to the word "review" which has been employed in the application. As the Code cannot be said to be exhaustive, it is not necessary in every case to have the support of a section of the C.P. Code to pass an order not expressly or impliedly forbidden which is required in the interests of justice. 1 L. 339=58 I.C. 748. Restoration of execution application dismissed for default. 25 L.W. 192=99 I.C. 954=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 355=52 M.L.J. 123; 50 Mad. 67=26 L.W. 878; see also 26 A.L.J. 382.

EX PARTE DECREES AND ORDERS.—The High Court can under the section or under its inherent jurisdiction set aside an ex parte decree which is shown conclusively to be irregular by the record. 38 I.C. 673=15 A.L.J. 24. See also 16 I.C. 677=34 All. 518. Contra 101 I.C. 617=A.I.R. 1927 Lah. 312. A Court which has on an ex parte application granted an extension of time to file an appeal can revoke or alter its order before the appeal is admitted. 45 I.C. 725. Where an ex parte application is made by a party for granting extension of time for filing an appeal it is the duty of the party to show to the Court the points of law or fact in his favour as well as against him 45 I.C. 725. There is no inherent power in a Court to set aside an ex parte decree by summary procedure and the power of the Court in that connection is limited to the circumstances mentioned in O. 9, R. 13. 43 Mad. 94=37 M.L.J. 599; 27 I.C. 812; 98 I.C. 658=A.I.R. 1927 Nag 95. The inherent power should be exercised not capriciously or arbitrarily but ex debito iustitiae on sound general principles and so as not to conflict with the intentions of the legislature. 43 Mad. 94=37 M.L.J. 599; 100 I.C. 518=A.I.R. 1927 Cal. 420; 32 C.W.N. 10. Where a definite period of limitation has been prescribed by Art 164 of the Lim. Act for an application to set aside an ex parte decree, the Court would not be entitled by purporting to act under S. 151 in effect to extend that period. 65 I.C. 341=1 Pat. 277. A Court can set aside an ex parte decree passed by an oversight. 60 I.C. 368=2 Pat. L.J. 251. See also 62 I.C. 113=2 Pat. L.J. 270. A Court can restore to file a suit in which an ex parte decree was obtained against a minor without a guardian, which decree was subsequently declared void. 106 I.C. 575.

A Court has authority to set aside its order confirming a sale in favour of a person other than the bidder and there can be no question of limitation 30 I.C. 230.

EXECUTION, STAY OF.—The High Court has inherent power to stay execution in view of an intended appeal to the Privy Council. 40 Cal. 955=18 I.C. 207. See also 7 Lah. L.J. 457; 89 I.C. 588. An Insolvency Court has no power under S. 151 to stay execution proceedings in another Court. 32 I.C. 897=3 L.W. 250. A High Court has an inherent jurisdiction to stay

He should not be allowed to calculate his month from the date he got the copies of the decrees. 42 A. 639=57 I.C. 16. In a partition suit the Court has inherent power to fix time for filing objection to the report of the Commissioner and to reject objections filed afterwards. 50 I.C. 152=17 A.L.J. 498. S. 151 does not give the Court any new powers and the Court cannot extend the time fixed by Art. 163 of the Lim. Act for setting aside dismissal for default. 55 I.C. 55. Courts cannot extend the time for making deposits prescribed by the Code and their inherent powers under S. 151 cannot be invoked for the purpose. 33 I.C. 996=3 L.W. 271. In a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale, neither the original nor the Appellate Court has jurisdiction to extend the time fixed by a decree for specific performance of a contract to sell. 19 M.L.T. 137=32 I.C. 401=3 L.W. 29. But see 32 I.C. 509=9 Bur. I.T. 83. Time fixed by a decree cannot be extended under S. 151 of the C.P. Code. That section is not meant to empower the executing Court to alter the decree, or in any way affect its finality. 49 I.C. 840. The Court has power under S. 151 to extend time on an application made after the date fixed for payment of money, if it is necessary for the ends of justice, in a suit for specific performance of a contract to sell. 32 I.C. 509.

EXPUNGING FROM RECORD.—Where the judgment of a Subordinate Court has not been brought before the High Court on appeal or revision the High Court has no power to expunge adverse remarks on the character and credibility of a witness from the judgment. 66 I.C. 1005=44 All. 401. The High Court has power to expunge irrelevant and scandalous matters in the judgments of Subordinate Courts on an application by a person not a party to the proceeding. The power must be exercised in extremely exceptional cases and with caution. 47 I.C. 981=35 M.L.J. 368. See also 33 I.C. 608=3 L.W. 283.

FRAUD.—The Court has inherent power to investigate questions of fraud for preventing injustice. 48 I.C. 135=20 Bom. L.R. 929. Not only has the Court the power but it is its duty to set aside a consent decree obtained by fraud practised upon the Court when apprized of it. It is an inherent power of every Court to correct its own proceedings when it has been misled. 27 I.C. 628=19 C.W.N. 419. See also 1923 Pat. 197=2 P. 731; 6 P. 108; 1 Luck. 341. But see 23 N. L. R. 79=100 I.C. 220=A.I.R. 1927 Nag. 212. A Court can vacate an order obtained by manifest fraud on it, in the exercise of its inherent power. 25 I.C. 213=27 M.L.J. 172.

But all persons not parties to the action but who have acquired interests on the existing record acting in good faith and being purchaser for valuable consideration without notice of the existence of matters made clear by the amendment, are not prejudiced thereby without a hearing by the Court determining that they have no equities as entitled them to be exonerated from the effect of the amendment. 39 Cal. 265=12 I. C. 151; 47 All. 304=84 I. C. 746. Where the order of a Court fails to give effect to its intention it is the duty of the party to have it corrected. The Court has power to do so. 40 Mad. 259=32 M. L. J. 477 (F. B.). INJUNCTION.—The Code is not exhaustive. The Court possesses inherent powers to act ex debito justitiæ. A person asking the Court to exercise its discretionary jurisdiction must make out a strong case and must show that there is no other remedy open to him by which he can protect himself from the consequences of the injury complained of. 55 I. C. 403=2 Lah. L. J. 283. See also 1925 Lah. 242; A. I. R. 1925 L. 618; 9 Lah. L. J. 536. The Court will issue a temporary injunction if plaintiff shows that injunction is an appropriate relief and unless defendant is forthwith restrained, irreparable injury will follow. 55 I. C. 403=2 Lah. L. J. 283; 38 M. L. T. 358 (H. C.); 24 L. W. 854=1927 M. 210.

be recalled if it transpires that it has been made without jurisdiction. 20 C. L. J. 213=26 I. C. 275. Apart from the power to correct clerical or arithmetical errors, or to review a judgment, a Court has no inherent power to alter an order passed in Court. 74 I. C. 110=1924 P. 136. Jurisdiction—Recalling an order passed by the predecessor is beyond jurisdiction and invalid. 69 I. C. 742=1922 P. 204.

RECONSTRUCTION OF RECORDS.—Where owing to accident or other cause the records of a Court of Justice have been destroyed or lost, the Court has an inherent power to reconstruct its records. An appellate Court has the same power to reconstruct the records of the Court from which an appeal lies to it. 46 Mad. 679=44 M. L. J. 673 (F. B.). Where a judgment has been lost the proper course for the Judge is to write it from memory and from materials before him and place it on record. 38 Mad. 488=25 M. L. J. 445. If any credible witness who read the judgment or the part of the judgment which contained the decision can depose to what he heard a decree can be drawn up. There is nothing in the C. P. Code, to prevent that. 1923 R. 113. Judge could not take evidence regarding the question as to the matter on which a Court of law based its judgment in order to consider whether there was any arithmetical or clerical error in the judgment and he must rely solely on what it contained in the judgment itself. 44 C. L. J. 441=100 I. C. 309=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 203.

REFUND OF MONEY.—The Court has inherent power to recall money paid out of Court in a land acquisition case. 21 I. C. 111=17 C. W. N. 1057. See also 43 Cal. 269=20 C. W. N. 188. The new C. P. Code contains no provision for the refund of amount, deposited as security; Courts can deal with them under S. 151. 23 M. L. J. 190=12 I. C. 692. S. 151 empowers the Courts to order refund of Court fees which was paid by mistake. 3 P. L. J. 452=46 I. C. 271=(1918) Pat. 273. But not Court-fees paid on an appeal dismissed as not maintainable. 6 P. 599=105 I. C. 740.

J. 53=64 I. C. 864; 21 C. L. J. 624=30 I. C. 49; 24 I. C. 384. Under S. 151, Court can apply the principle of S. 144 to cases to which it would not ordinarily apply and can order such restitution as may be necessary. 63 I. C. 43; see also 14 I. C. 456=15 C. L. J. 187; 42 M. L. J. 308=67 I. C. 369; 42 M. L. J. 473=67 I. C. 546. R. 1927 Lah. 346. But S. 151 cannot enlarge the scope of S. 144 and cannot convert an application for relief which has nothing to do with restitution into an application for restitution. 34 I. C. 774=4 L. W. 400. An appellate Court can direct refund where a Subordinate Court mistakenly orders payment to a decree-holder when that order is set aside. 21 C. L. J. 624=30 I. C. 49. An application by the judgment-debtors for compensation during the period they were kept out RIGHT OF SUIT.—Mistake anterior to suit can be rectified only by separate suit. 8 N.L.R. 13=14 I. C. 407.

BAR TO SUIT.—A suit for amending a judgment or decree passed by a competent Court on the ground of mistake is not maintainable in a Civil Court. 15 C. L. J. 675=14 I. C. 93=17 C. W. N. 82 (10 C. W. N. 1024; 6 C. W. N. 889; 3 C. W. N. 575, 1el.; 8 C. W. N. 473, dist.).

APPEAL.—There is no appeal from an amendment under S. 152. 54 I. C. 387; 24 P. R. 1911=186 P. L. R. 1911=10 I. C. 850; 73 I. C. 679=1923 Lah. 147 (2) But see 3 Lah. L. J. 341=61 I. C. 992 (appeal lies where the whole system of calculation adopted by the Court was challenged). No appeal lies against an order granting an amendment, but an appeal lies against the amended decree. 3 C.L.J. 188; 1 A. L. J. 701; 22 M. 646. No appeal lies to His Majesty in Council. 33 C. 679; nor under the Letters Patent. 14 A. 226 (F.B.). An application for amendment on the ground that costs had been assessed on an erroneous principle is bad. The proper remedy is by way of appeal. Amendment would not be granted on the ground that an appeal is barred. 25 P. W. R. 1943=17 I. C. 418=47 P. R. 1913. When the judgment simply states "decreed as prayed for and costs" and the sum awarded in the decree differs from that claimed in the plaint the decree can be rectified under this section. 22 B. 370. An appeal lies against an order under this section extending time for performance in the case of a decree for specific performance. 105 I.C. 467=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 311.

REVISION.—An order under this section is subject to revision. 28 C. 177; 7 A. 876 (F. B.); 31 B. 447; 24 P. R. 1911=186 P. L. R. 1911=10 I. C. 850=56 P. W. R. 1911; 18 A. L. J. 501

=55 I. C. 963; 37 All. 323=29 I. C. 50=13 A. L. J. 449.

REVIEW.—Circumstances might, however, arise, which would render amendment necessary on review, as when the description of the mortgaged property as given in the decree differs from that given in the bond, the remedy was one by way of review. See 16 M. 424; (1906) A.W. N. 220. If judgment is attacked the matter is one for review. 5 Pat. L.J. 253=1 Pat. L. T. 219=58 I. C. 510.

LIMITATION.—Applications under this section are not governed by the Limitation Act. 10 M. 51; 11 B. 284; 21 C. 259; 11 A. 267; 74 I. C. 842=1924 All. 127; 21 I. C. 540=7 S. L. R. 53.

Sec. 153.—The Court ought to give all reasonable indulgence with regard to amending. However negligent or careless the first omission, and however late the proposed amendment, the amendment should be allowed, if it can be allowed without injustice to the other side. Per Lopes J. in 19 Q. B. D. 394, cited in 32 C. 600. To proceed to recall and cancel an invalid order is the duty of the Judge. 5 C. L. J. 611. Also an order improperly or fraudulently obtained. 6 C. STRUCK OUT.—When a Court makes an order striking the names of certain persons off the record, it is immaterial whether their names are actually removed or not. 32 C. 315 (P. C.). An order striking out a defendant from the record cannot be made after the first hearing. 18 A. 53; 20 M. 360, 362.

POWER OF COURTS TO PASS ORDERS UNDER RULE.—Nothing in the Code of 1908 affects the inherent power of Court to make such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice. 35 Bom. 393. A Court has, under O. 1, R. 10, power to bring on record any person as a party at any stage. 61 I. C. 378. The Court has no power for addition of plaintiffs after the passing of the decree. 44 M. L. J. 252. Neither R. 10 nor R. 8 empowers the court to join a person as plaintiff, who could not have been originally joined. 57 I. C. 784. In a partition suit, the court can make a defendant, a plaintiff and continue the suit. 23 Bom. L. R. 391=45 B. 983. A Court can make a transposition of the parties. 34 I. C. 186=20 C. W. PARTY WHETHER CAN BE ADDED IN APPEAL.—The appellate court has the power to transpose a respondent to the category of appellants in order to further the ends of justice. 44 C. L. J. 243=1927 Cal. 37. A person, if he is not made plaintiff or defendant, in the Courts below, cannot claim to be made a party in appeal. 31 I. C. 27. A necessary party to an appeal should be added before deciding it. 31 I. C. 814. Application to add his legal representative as parties in an appeal against a dead man is covered by S. 153 and O. 1, R. 10. 45 M. L. J. 231=1924 Mad. 56; 102

L. J. 355; but see A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 880. Where parties are allowed to intervene in an appeal, they should be joined as parties to the suit, and not to the appeal. 12 M. L. J. 355. Appellate Court will not interfere with trial Court's discretion in changing plaintiff to defendant or vice versa. 95 I. C. 171=1926 Nag. 303. A person who does not consent to be added as plaintiff may be added as a defendant. 7 C. 242. No question of limitation can arise with respect to the Court's power to make an order adding a party defendant to a suit. 12 C. 642, 651; 24 C. 640; 27 C. 540; 17 M. 12; see also 28 B. 11, 18. There is considerable doubt as to whether S. 32 of the C. P. Code of 1882 authorises the addition of a party to a suit after decree. 42 Cal. 72=41 I. A. 251 (P. C.). A suit might be continued even where the original plaintiff had no right to sue, provided that the defective institution was due to a bona fide mistake. (30 M. 419; 43 M. 707, Rel.); 69 I. C. 413=1923 Mad. 180 (1).

ORDER WHETHER APPEALABLE.—An application of plaintiff to be added as co-plaintiff cannot be treated as an application under O. 22, R. 10, C. P. Code. An order passed under O. 1 is not appealable. An application to be added as co-plaintiffs cannot be treated as one under O. 22, R. 10, C. P. C. 36 I. C. 919. An order rejecting an application to be made a party is not appealable. 13 C. 100; 2 A. 904; but see 12 M. 489. Order under O. 1, R. 10 does not come within the definition of "decree" in S. 2 (2) and there can be no appeal. 42 M. L. J. 97=69 I. C. 961=45 M. 194=A. I. R. 1922 Mad. 382.

ADDITION OF PARTY, WHAT AMOUNTS TO.—An amendment of the plaint, by leave of the Judge, that the plaintiff is suing in a representative capacity as a shebait, does not amount to an addition or substitution of a new plaintiff within the Rule. 28 I. C. 818=19 C. W. N. 1193. In a suit to enforce rights of trust by persons interested in the trust, addition of more representatives out of time, does not bar the suit. 33 A. 272; 25 M. L. (3) No person shall be added as a plaintiff suing without a next friend or as the next friend of a plaintiff under any disability without his consent.

(4) [S. 33.] Where a defendant is added, the plaintiff shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, be amended in such manner as may be necessary, and amended copies of the summons and of the complaint shall be served on the new defendant and, if the Court thinks fit, on the original defendant.

(5) [S. 32.] Subject to the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act, 1877, S. 22, the proceedings as against any person added as defendant shall be deemed to have begun only on the service of the summons.

11. [S. 32.] The Court may give the conduct of the suit to such person as it deems proper.

12. [S. 35.] (1) Where there are more plaintiffs than one, any one or more of them may be authorized by any other of them to appear, plead or act for such other in any proceeding; and in like manner, where there are more defendants than one, any one or more of them may be authorized by any other of them to appear, plead or act for such other in any proceeding.

(2) The authority shall be in writing signed by the party giving it and shall be filed in Court.

13. [S. 34.] All objections on the ground of non-joinder or misjoinder of parties shall be taken at the earliest possible opportunity and, in all cases where issues are settled, at or before such settlement, unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen, and any such objection not so taken shall be deemed to have been waived.

ORDER II.

FRAME OF SUIT.

1. [S. 42.] Every suit shall as far as practicable be framed so as to afford ground for final decision upon the subjects in dispute and to prevent further litigation concerning them.

Clause (5).—The proviso applies only as regards limitation. For other purposes such as calculation of costs, etc., the date on which summons is served will be the starting point. 8 L.R. 79 (Rev.).

O. 1, R. 11.—The question of conduct is one of discretion, and the appellate Court will not as a rule interfere. 20 W.R. 1024. Suit by one trustee—Death of plaintiff—Co-trustee can be made plaintiff. (1921) M. W. N. 108 = 40 M. L. J. 208 = 52 I. C. 560 = 13 L. W. 148 = 30 M. L. T. 151. The word 'person' in O. 1, R. 11, C.P.C., means a party to the suit and a person who is a stranger to the suit cannot be given the conduct of the suit within the meaning of the rule. 106 I. C. 854 = 46 C. L. J. 530.

O. 1, R. 13. GENERAL.—The words "unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen" have been added to give effect to the rulings in 5 B. 609; 7 C. 603. No person (including a corporate body) can be made a plaintiff without his consent expressly given. 46 P. R. 1911 = 108 P.W.R. 1911 = 10 I.C. 515 = 179 P.L.R. 1911.

OBJECTIONS AS TO NON-JOINDER WHEN SHOULD BE TAKEN.—An objection as to nonjoinder of parties should be taken before the settlement of issues. The rule applies even in cases where the plaintiff claims a joint right along with others but does not make the latter parties to the suit. 41 Cal. 527 (25 Bom. 433, Dist. : 25 I. C. 122, foll. Objections as to misjoinder and jurisdiction owing to undervaluation, when not raised in the Court of first instance are no ground for reversing a decree when they do not affect the merits of the case. 25 I.C. 25 (36 C. 780; 17 I.C. 97; 22 M. L. J. 25; 7 M. L. T. 78; 9 M. L. T. 173, Foll.). An objection as to non-joinder cannot be taken for the first time in revision before the High Court. 46 I. C. 648. See also 13 I.C. 123 = 16 C. W. N. 639; 25 I. C. 122; 16 B. 119; 10 M. 322; 17 C. 580. When objection to want of parties is not raised by the defendant, it must be deemed to have been waived. But the Court can add any one as a party if it thinks it necessary. 3 A. L. J. 474.

O. 2, R. 1. OBJECT OF.—The object of this rule is to give effect to the maxim interest rei publicae ut sit finis litium. 27 B. 382. See also 9 C. 919; 2 M. H. C. 131; 26 M. 760, 763;

2. [S. 43.] (1) Every suit shall include the whole of the claim which the plaintiff is entitled to make in respect of the cause of action; but a plaintiff may relinquish any portion of his claim in order to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of any Court.

Suit to include the whole claim.

Relinquishment of part of claim.

(2) Where a plaintiff omits to sue in respect of, or intentionally relinquishes, any portion of his claim, he shall not afterwards sue in respect of the portion so omitted or relinquished.

28 A. 432 (P. C.); 26 A. 236; 9 C. W. N. 498; 4 C. L. J. 367. The intention of the legislature is that all matters in dispute should be disposed of in the same suit. 25 C. 371; 31 M. 385.

SCOPE OF.—O. 2, R. 1 has reference mainly to joinder of causes of action rather than to joinder of parties. 25 I. C. 480=3 P. R. 1915. "Subject in dispute", meaning of. See 23 L. W. 13=91 I. C. 660=1926 Mad. 234. Under this rule and R. 2 plaintiffs must bring their entire claim, and every remedy enforceable in respect of that claim, into Court, at once. 9 C. 919; 2 M. H. C. 131. But all causes of action need not be joined. 59 I. C. 517.

O. 2, R. 2. SCOPE AND OBJECT OF THE RULE.

—O. 2, R. 2 is directed to securing the exhaustion of the relief in respect of a cause of action, and not to the inclusion in one action of different causes of action even though they arise from the same transactions. 41 I. A. 142=26 I. C. 228=18 C. W. N. 617 (P. C.); 38 M. 1162; 45 B. 805; 30 C. W. N. 873=97 I. C. 73=1926 Cal. 1022. O. 2, R. 2 refers to a case where there has been a suit in which there has been an omission to sue in respect of a portion of a claim and a decree has been made in that suit. 45 Cal. 305=22 C. W. N. 611. O. 2, R. 2 is directed against two evils the splitting of claims and the splitting of remedies. 1926 Lah. 509=97 I. C. 396=8 Lah. L. J. 381. O. 2, R. 2 only prevents the splitting of claims and does not bar a subsequent suit on the whole claim against a different person. 18 C. W. N. 129=19 C. L. J. 191. The rule does not contemplate claims under separate causes of action as well as claims affecting different defendants. 40 Bom. 351=18 Bom. L. R. 45; 104 I. C. 820; 1 Luck. 1=91 I. C. 976=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 77. O. 2, R. 2 bars only those suits where the causes of action and defendants are the same. The dispossession of plaintiff from two properties held under different titles gives rise to two causes of action. 7 A. L. J. 658=50 I. C. 905. See also 25 Bom. 161. O. 2, R. 2 is framed to protect the defendant being twice vexed for one and the same cause. 41 Cal. 825. O. 2, R. 2 does not debar a plaintiff from including in his claim certain additional profits omitted in a previous suit under a misapprehension that the profits were paid annually and not, as was subsequently ascertained to be the fact half yearly. 65 I. C. 585=1923 All. 230. Two reliefs can be joined in the same suit, the parties being the same. 75 I. C. 597=1923 A. 306. Suit to declare a person mutawali—Declaration of the ownership of the property as an essential part of the plaintiff's claim. 1 Luck. C. 592=A. I. R. 1928 O. 67=109 I. C. 895.

APPLICATION OF THE RULE.—O. 2, R. 2 applies only where the defendant in the subsequent suit was the defendant in the previous suit. The rule does not apply where the subsequent suit is brought against a different defendant. 47

I. C. 896. See 17 I. C. 434=(1912) M. W. N. 1071. As to suit on alternative cause of action, see 103 I. C. 888. It applies not only to cases of deliberate relinquishments but also of accidental or involuntary omission. 35 C. L. J. 304=1922 Cal. 101. R. 2 does not apply to proceedings in the Revenue Court. 38 All. 302=14 A. L. J. 373; A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 498. The rule has no application to proceedings under S. 144 of the C. P. Code. 53 I. C. 552; 47 I. C. 47=3 P. L. J. 367. The rule does not apply to proceedings in execution of decree. 62 I. C. 507; 19 A. 98 (F. B.); 18 C. 515; 53 Cal. 582=96 I. C. 562=1926 Cal. 1019=43 C. L. J. 596. Nor to a plea raised in defence. 57 I. C. 348 (L.); 7 Lah. 297=1926 Lah. 494=96 I. C. 630; 1926 I. A. 21; nor to any part of a dismissed claim abandoned in appeal. 54 I. C. 655; nor to the amendment of plaint by the addition of the claim which had been omitted. 45 Cal. 305=22 C. W. N. 611. See also 52 I. C. 464=84 P. R. 1919. The rule does not apply where the previous suit was not a regular suit, but an application for leave to sue in forma pauperis which was rejected. 21 A. 359. Where the causes of action for a prior and a subsequent suit in respect of the same property are different, the rule does not apply. 41 C. 80; 104 I. C. 820. A person is not affected by R. 2 if at the time he brought his former suit, he was not in a position to know all his rights. 21 O. C. 307=49 I. C. 54. It cannot be said that the rule has no application to a suit where plaintiff is a minor. 22 M. 309. There is a distinction between splitting of the same cause of action into two or more suits, and instituting different suits upon distinct causes of action. 11 M. 210.

MEANING OF TERMS.—The word "claim" is treated as something arising out of a "cause of action," and as something distinct from the term "cause of action." 17 A. 535. The claim and the remedy mentioned in this rule have reference to the cause of action litigated in the previous suit. 10 M. 350. It has to be construed with reference to the substance, rather than the form of action. 19 C. 372. The "cause of action" for a suit is the sum total of the facts and circumstances which the plaintiff has to prove in order to entitle him to the relief claimed. 38 All. 217=14 A. L. J. 257=13 O. L. J. 448.

"CAUSE OF ACTION".—Includes every fact which it would be necessary for the plaintiff, to prove, if traversed, in order to support his right to the judgment of the Court. It does not comprise every piece of evidence which is necessary to prove each fact, but every fact which is necessary to be proved. 16 A. 65 (F. B.) See also 18 A. 131. See also 45 A. 376=21 A. L. J. 267; 2 Bur. L. J. 169=1 Rang. 694=1924 Rang. 145; 93 I. C. 269=1926 Oudh 365. "Cause of action" in R. 2 is used more comprehensively than in S. 17. 25 I. C. 579. It does not depend upon the character of the relief prayed for but refers to the media upon which a court is asked to come to a conclusion. 38 Bom. 444; 60 I. C. 596=1921 Pat. 125; 52 I. C. 929. It has no relation to the defence set up by the defendant nor does it depend on the character of the relief prayed for. 52 I. C. 929. An event to which no legal effect attaches, cannot enter as an element into the creation of a cause of action. 31 C. 283. Every adjustment of account is a new cause of action. 11 I. C. 540=15 C. W. N. 862. Every alienation by Hindu widow gives a separate cause of action to reversioners. 66 I. C. 455=1922 Oudh 171. If the cause of action in the subsequent suit is different from that in the first suit, the subsequent suit is not barred. 77 I. C. 590. Where a suit is brought either on a non-existent cause of action or upon a false cause of action it will not disable a plaintiff from filing a fresh suit on the true cause of action. 7 L. W. 557=45 I. C. 969.

RELINQUISHMENT OF PORTION OF CLAIM.—A person must be taken to have relinquished or abandoned his claim on the real cause of action, when he files his suit on another known to him to be false. 6 M. L. J. 5. But see 26 M. 777. The relinquishment by a plaintiff of a portion of the claim under O. 2, R. 2 applies primarily to relinquishment before institution of the suit. 54 I. C. 655. Amendment of plaint, on objection, omitting one relief—Effect of on subsequent suit for the relief omitted. 6 Bur. L. J. 85=104 I. C. 370=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 237. The possession of a right, without knowledge of it, cannot be said to be a portion of his claim, which can be intentionally relinquished. 37 I. C. 119=94 P. R. 1916 (15 Cal. 800 (P.C.), Ref.). A statement in the plaint that a portion of the claim which is not sued upon is not relinquished, is of no effect. 2 N. W. P. 90. Relinquishment may be either accidental or involuntary, as well as deliberate. 11 M. I. A. 551.

"OMITS TO SUE."—The words "to sue" mean to make a legal claim or to take legal proceedings. It does not necessarily mean to file a suit by means of a plaint. 7 Bom. L. R. 138; 38 A. 217. It is not necessary to determine whether the omission arose from a mistake or otherwise. 3 B. L. R. 265. Casual omission to include some items of property from the schedule to the plaint, does not mean abandonment of claim by plaintiff with respect to those items. 50 I. C. 331. 'Portion of claim'.—The right which a litigant possesses without knowing or ever having known that he possesses it can hardly be regarded as "a portion of his claim". 15 C. 808 (P.C.). "Shall not afterwards sue."—It is only remedy of suing which is barred. The right subsists. 7 Bom. L. R. 138. This rule is laid down with reference to suits brought under this Code. 9 C. at p. 46. See also 21 M. 236. It has reference to the subject-matter of the claim, and not to the persons against whom it may be brought. 10 C. at p. 929. See also 19 A. at p.

384. A set-off is subject, as a claim in a cross suit would be to the provisions of this rule. 32 C. 654.

TEST.—Whether the causes of action in two suits are different or identical can be ascertained by the test whether the same evidence will maintain both actions. 40 Bom. 351=33 I. C. 950=18 Bom. L. R. 45. If the cause of action in the subsequent suit is different from that in the first suit the subsequent suit is not barred by R. 2. 66 I. C. 923=34 C. L. J. 465. The mere fact that the title to the property in dispute in both suits is the same and that the property is the same does not necessarily show that the cause of action is the same. 59 I. C. 517.

PLEADINGS, PROOF AND PRACTICE.—A plea of bar under R. 2 must be specifically pleaded and established to the Court's satisfaction. 46 I. C. 119. A statement made in a previous suit by a party that he reserved the right of bringing another suit for damages cannot avoid the operation of the rule of limitation or of R. 2. 34 I. C. 51. Two suits presented on the same day must be presumed to be presented and admitted in the order in which their numbers appear on the register. 1 Rang. 682=1924 Rang 161. But see 49 M. 869=97 I. C. 443=1926 Mad. 934=51 M. L. J. 351. Where it has been held that the numbering is not prima facie evidence of respective dates of admission and it could not be said that the suit bearing the later number was afterwards presented within the meaning of O. 2, R. 2, C. P. C. Held also, that the plaintiff may elect as to which of the two suits should be held to be barred. (Ibid.) A second suit will not be barred by the rule unless the same cause of action is to be found in the four corners of the plaint in the first suit. 28 I. C. 301=82 P. L. R. 1915. Subsequent suit on alternate cause of action. 103 I. C. 888.

SPECIAL CASES: ALIENATION.—A plaintiff may either file a single suit or separate suits to set aside alienations made by a widow. 12 M. L. J. 103. See also 16 A. 279; 7 M. H. C. 290. See also 1 Luck. 1.

COMPROMISE.—When a suit is compromised, and the compromise provides for possession being given, a suit for possession based on the compromise is not barred. 2 A. L. J. 680. The fact that the previous suit is compromised is no bar to the application of the rule. 22 W. R. 424. See also 7 B. 182.

CONTRACT.—Where there are two breaches of one term in one contract, and both occur before any suit is brought, the cause of action is the non-performance of the promise, and only one suit will lie. 12 C. at p. 348. See also 19 C. 372. It is only when the party complaining of the breach of contract suffers damage that a cause of action is said to arise and till then only a term of the contract is broken. 38 M. L. J. 470. A cause of action might include claims upon several contracts provided they form part of a continuous course of dealing. 26 I. C. 209=41 Cal. 825.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this rule an obligation and a collateral security for its performance and successive claims arising under the same obligation shall be deemed respectively to constitute but one cause of action.

When one instrument contains two separate contracts and the performance of each is secured in a different manner each gives rise to a separate cause of action, although they may be joined in the same suit. 58 I. C. 18=16 N. L. R. 136. The second suit is not barred when the former suit was one for an injunction and value of fodder taken away and the second suit is one for a refund of money advanced and damages for breach. 2 Lah. L. J. 304 (25 Mad. 669 foll.).

CONTRIBUTION.—Where one of several co-debtors satisfies the debt, his cause of action for contribution accrues against all at one and the same time. The contributories may all be included as defendants in one plaint. 3 M. H. C. 187. See also 12 A. 110.

DAMAGES.—Where A sued B on the 2nd June, 1879, for damages for not having made over possession of certain leasehold properties during 1875-76, and got a decree, a subsequent suit on the 14th June, 1880, for damages for 1876-77 to 1878-79 is barred. 9 C. 143. The same set of facts cannot give ground for two actions, i.e., for a tort and a conspiracy to cause damage. The one excludes the other. 40 Cal. 398=23 I. C. 25=18 C. W. N. 185.

DIVORCE.—A suit for divorce based on the wife's misconduct does not bar a subsequent suit for partition of the common properties of the husband and wife. 38 Cal. 629=15 C. W. N. 766 (P. C.).

INSTALMENT BOND.—Omission to sue for instruments which had accrued due bars subsequent suit therefor. 44 A. 663. Two or more causes of action to recover money may be joined, but only if they arose within the jurisdiction of the Court in which the suit is brought. 12 M. L. J. 11. As to money suits, see also 8 C. 483 (F. B.); 7 B. 134; 5 C. 597; 12 B. L. R. 37; 28 B. 447. "Claim for a portion does not bar another claim for balance." 29 M. L. J. 474.

MAINTENANCE.—A subsequent suit for a declaration that the maintenance decreed in a former suit is a charge on certain property, is barred. 12 M. 285. See also 11 M. 127. A subsequent suit for maintenance at an increased rate is not barred. 22 M. 175.

SUIT ON MORTGAGE.—See 21 B. 267; 18 M. 257; 20 A. 322; also 24 A. 429 (P. C.) and 24 M. at p. 109; 30 B. 156; 10 Bom. H. C. 369; 6 Bom. H. C. (A. C.) 97; 7 B. 377; 3 A. 857. Two mortgages.—Each can be sued on separately. 33 C. L. J. 232. A person holding two mortgages on a property may sue for sale on the second mortgage reserving his rights under the first. A mortgagee having separate mortgages has separate causes of action and is not bound to sue on them all. 38 Mad. 927=29 M. L. J. 195 (F. B.). Option to sue.—Mortgagee authorized to sue for interest or for possession in default by mortgagor.—Suit for interest.—Subsequent suit for possession not barred. 2 Lah. 13 (F. B.). See also 44 M. L. First suit for sale of mortgaged property for interest only may bar a second suit for recovering principal and balance of interest. See 39 All. 506; 97 I. C. 285=1926 Lah. 661. Mortgage and lease.—Suit for rent.—Subsequent suit on mortgage is no bar. 3 Lah. 1=1922 Lah. 111. See also 69 I. C. 54=1924 Lah. 190. Where a mortgage and lease form one transaction and the lease is only a mode for realizing the interest due on the mortgage, a suit on the mortgage cannot be brought subsequent to a suit for rent on the lease. 63 I. C. 928=3 Lah. L. J. 390. Where a mortgage deed and lease deed formed one transaction and the mortgagee brought a suit for principal and interest a subsequent suit for possession is barred. 97 I. C. 396=1926 Lah. 559=8 Lah. L. J. 381.

MORTGAGE, REDEMPTION OF.—A suit for redemption is barred when the plaintiff had first sued for recovery of excess balance realised by the mortgagee. 48 I. C. 799; 103 I. C. 290=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 302. In a redemption suit all claims between the mortgagor and the mortgagee should be settled. 24 I. C. 688; A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 302. The dismissal of a suit for redemption according to the terms of a mortgage is no bar to suit for redemption on a subsequent agreement. 27 I. C. 732. Suit by mortgagee for possession.—Second suit for possession barred. 67 I. C. 281=2 L. L. J. 678. See also 103 I. C. 289.

MESNE PROFITS, SUIT FOR.—See 19 C. 615; 17 A. 533; 11 M. 151; 11 M. 210; 11 M. L. J. 332. See also 3 A. at p. 663; 24 A. 501. O. 2, R. 2 does not bar a suit for mesne profits brought subsequently to a suit for possession, as a claim for mesne profits is based on a cause of action distinct from a claim for possession. 60 I. C. 65. But see 49 A. 597=25 A. L. J. 409=A. I. R. 1927 All. 716. Where in a prior suit for possession and future mesne profits the Court did not purport to decide the question of future mesne profits a subsequent suit for mesne profits pendente lite, is not barred. 40 All. 292. A prior suit for partition and possession does not bar a subsequent suit for mesne profits in respect of the same property. 4 Rang. 103=95 I. C. 380=1926 Rang. 137. A prior suit for possession does not bar a suit for mesne profits due for a period subsequent to the institution of the prior suit. 71 I. C. 972=1923 Cal. 442. Claims for possession and claims for mesne profits are separate causes of action. 38 Mad. 828=28 M. L. J. 127 (F. B.). Suit for profits accrued between date of deposit of mortgage money and delivery of possession is maintainable. 35 I. C. 799. A party is not bound to include mesne profits after the institution of suit though he is required to do so for profits before suit. 32 I. C. 696. See also 49 All. 597=25 A. L. J. 409=A. I. R. 1927 All. 716. The institution of a suit for mesne profits only consequent on dispossession is a bar to a subsequent suit for possession. 29 I. C. 939=9 S. L. R. 23. A suit for proprietary profits against a lambardar does not bar a subsequent suit for mesne profits against the same lambardar and other trespassers. 41 All. 286.

PROFITS.—Where a plaint in a suit for profits one year was not represented after being returned,

A lets a house to B at a yearly rent of Rs. 1,200. The rent for the whole of the years 1905, 1906 and 1907 is due and unpaid. A sues B in 1908 only for the rent due for 1906. A shall not, afterwards, sue B for the rent due for 1905 or 1907.

3. [S. 45.] (1) Save as otherwise provided, a plaintiff may unite in the same suit several causes of action against the same defendant, or the same defendants jointly; and any plaintiffs having a subsequent suit for account is not barred under R. 2. 40 Mad. 291=30 M.L.J. 341.

PARTITION, SUIT FOR.—See 20 C. 385; 23 B. 597; 8 M.L.J. 92; 7 B. 182; 23 A. 216; 28 A. 39; 28 A. 50. C. 383; 7 Bom. 182; 3 Mad. H. C. 376; 38 All. 217. A suit for partial partition though dismissed does not bar a suit for partition of all joint properties. 87 P. R. 1915=31 I. C. 463. Where a property is inherited from the collaterals of the parties to a previous suit for partition, there is no bar to a fresh suit for partitioning the property held by them jointly with other collaterals. 15 I. C. 214. Where in a suit for partition the plaintiff intentionally omitted certain property from the suit he cannot bring fresh suit for the partition of that property. 9 I. C. 424. An omission in a suit by the next friend of a minor of a portion of the property to which the minor is entitled, will not bar a second suit by the minor for the partition of property omitted. 45 Bom. 805. A minor may sue for properties for which his guardian omitted to sue in a prior suit. R. 2 does not bar such a suit. 14 I. C. 95. Where the first suit to set aside order for re-delivery under O. 21, R. 101, C.P.C., is decided against plaintiff a subsequent suit for partition is not barred. 49 M. 596=95 I. A claim for possession can be joined to a claim for specific performance of a contract for sale of immoveable property against the vendor but not a claim for possession against the usufructuary mortgagee of the vendor. 32 I. A suit to recover arrears of rent is not barred by reason of an earlier suit for ejectment. 63 I. C. 978. The relationship of owner and trespasser and that of mortgagor and mortgagee are different and the dismissal of a suit for ejectment is no bar to a suit to enforce a right to redeem as mortgagor. 63 I. C. 684. Suit for rent—Second suit for possession and future mesne profits—Suit for mesne profits for the period between the two issues not barred. 24 L. W. 290=97 I. RESTITUTION.—Previous application for restitution of a sum of money recovered in execution does not bar a subsequent application for interest due on the said sum. 40 Mad. 780.

WAY, RIGHT OF.—The fact that a right of way was not claimed in a previous title suit does not bar a subsequent suit for declaration of a right of way. 57 I. C. 852.

O. 2, R. 3. MEANING OF TERMS.—The expression 'causes of action' means causes of action which are distinct upon the fact or facts as stated in the plaint itself, or as proved at the hearing. Facts alleged by defendant need not be considered. 7 Bom.L.R. 925; 6 A. 106. See also 5 A. 163 (F.B.). The policy of the rule is to avoid needless expense where it can be done without causes of action in which they are jointly interested against the same defendant or the same defendants jointly may unite such causes of action in the same suit.

(2) Where causes of action are united, the jurisdiction of the Court as regards the suit shall depend on the amount or value of the aggregate subject-matters at the date of instituting the suit.

Only certain claims to be joined for recovery of immoveable property.

4. [S. 44.] No cause of action shall, unless with the leave of the Court, be joined with a suit for the recovery of immoveable property except—

(a) claims for mesne profits or arrears of rent in respect of the property claimed or any part thereof ;

(b) claims for damages for breach of any contract under which the property or any part thereof is held ; and

(c) claims in which the relief sought is based on the same cause of action :

Provided that nothing in this rule shall be deemed to prevent any party in a suit for foreclosure or redemption from asking to be put into possession of the mortgaged property.

5. [S. 44-b.] No claim by, or against an executor, administrator or heir, as such,

Claims by or against executor, administrator or heir.

shall be joined with claims by or against him personally, unless the last-mentioned claims are alleged to arise with reference to the estate in respect of which the plaintiff or defendant sues or is sued as executor, administrator or heir, or are such as he was entitled to, or liable for, jointly with the deceased person whom he represents.

injustice to any one. 103 I. C. 811 [(1910) 2 K. B. 1021 ; (1921) K.B. 1, Rel. on.] The words "jointly interested" do not mean jointly interested as a matter of affection, but jointly interested as to the subject-matter of the suit which the cause of action has in contemplation. 6 M. 239, 242. See also 103 I. C. 811.

SCOPE OF RULE.—Rr. 3 to 6 allow a plaintiff to unite in the same suit several causes of action against the same defendant and to order separate trials if necessary. 75 I. C. 438=5 Pat. L. T. 49. Under R. 3 a plaintiff cannot join in the same suit several causes of action against several defendants unless they are all jointly interested in each separate cause of action. 52 I. C. 927=12 Bur. L. T. 106. See also 55 Cal. 164. A plaint presented by two or more plaintiffs claiming different reliefs against the defendant is not improperly framed nor is it bad for misjoinder of causes of action. 26 M. L. J. 343.

APPLICATION.—The rule does not apply to suits for rent under the N. W. P. Rent Act. 29 A. 18. A good test to see whether two suits filed separately ought to have been filed together is to see if they could have been filed as one without a misjoinder of defendants. 1 Rang. 682=1924 Rang. 161.

REQUISITES.—Joint interest in the main question raised in the litigation is a condition precedent to the joinder of several causes of action against several defendants. 6 A. 106. Claims against different estates cannot be joined in one suit merely because all such estates are represented by the same person, unless they are based on the same instrument affecting plaintiff's rights against all the estates. 50 I.C. 528=11 Bur. L. T. 222. Though the plaintiffs satisfied two different claims against themselves and the defendant separately, on two different occasions the causes of action, which were different could be joined in one suit for contribution. 51 I. C. 826. A single suit lies against several alienees to whom different portions of an estate are alienated, although defendants set up different titles to the various portions held by them. 29

A. 267. See also (1901) A. W. N. 115 ; 29 C. 871. But see 7 B. 290. In a suit for partition and for setting aside a number of alienations, the best course is to order separate trials in respect of each alienation. 8 M. 75. A suit for both enhancement and arrears of rent at an enhanced rate is maintainable. 5 C. W. N. 88. A suit against several persons to whom assets have been wrongfully distributed in execution is valid. 13 C. 159. A suit on several mortgages executed in favour of plaintiff on various items of family properties of defendants is not bad. 17 M. L. J. 515. For other illustrative cases, see 35 Bom. 297 ; 12 I. C. 684=15 C. L. J. 258.

O. 2, B. 4.—The rule prohibits not the joinder of several causes of action entitling a plaintiff to recover immoveable property, but a joinder with such causes of action, of causes of action of a different character, except as excepted in the rule. 5 M. 161. See also 10 C. 1061 ; 31 C. 262 ; A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 674 ; 17 M. L. J. 135 ; 51 Bom. 800=29 Bom. L. R. 937=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 470.

The new clause (c) has been inserted in order to avoid the possibility of mistake and to make it clear that there is nothing irregular in seeking to recover in one suit immoveable and moveable property if the cause of action is the same in both. 19 I. C. 981=4 P. R. 1914.

APPEAL.—No appeal lies from an order rejecting an application for leave. 3 A. 191.

O. 2, B. 5. SCOPE OF.—The case contemplated by O. 2, R. 5 is one where the causes of action joined in the same suit are essentially different. 36 I. C. 29. It is contrary to the principle of R. 5 to attach money in the hands of an executor, administrator or heir as such, in execution of a decree against him personally, though the executor is a legatee and the money in his hands is due to him personally as legatee. 38 I. C. 563=9 Bur. L. T. 226.

MEANING OF TERMS.—The word "estate" means not only the "estate" rightly and properly held by executors but also the "estate" in its physical sense. 41 I. C. 615=21 C. W. N. 939.

6. [S. 45.] Where it appears to the Court that any causes of action joined in one suit cannot be conveniently tried or disposed of together, the Court may order separate trials or make such other order as may be expedient.

Power of Court to order separate trials.

7. [Cf. S. 46.] All objections on the ground of misjoinder of causes of action shall be taken at the earliest possible opportunity and, in all cases where issues are settled, at or before such settlement, unless the ground of objection has subsequently arisen, and any such objection not so taken shall be deemed to have been waived.

Objections as to misjoinder.

[Loc. Am.—Lahore] After Rule 7 of Order II insert :—

“8. (1) Where an objection duly taken, has been allowed by the Court, the plaintiff shall be permitted to select the cause of action with which he will proceed and shall, within a time to be fixed by the Court, amend the plaint by striking out the remaining causes of action.

(2) When the plaintiff has selected the cause of action with which he will proceed, the Court shall pass an order giving him time within which to submit amended plaint for the remaining causes of action and for making up the court-fees that may be necessary. Should the plaintiff not comply with the Court's order that Court shall proceed as provided in Rule 18 of Order VI and as required by the provisions of the Court-Fees Act.”

ORDER III.

RECOGNIZED AGENTS AND PLEADERS.

1. [S. 36.] Any appearance, application or act in or to any Court, required or authorized by law to be made or done by a party in such Court, may, except where otherwise expressly provided by any law for the time being in force, be made or done by the party in person, or by his recognized agent, or by a pleader [appearing, applying or acting as the case may be]¹ on his behalf :

Provided that any such appearance shall, if the Court so directs, be made by the party in person.

The words “arises with reference to” are very general, and cover a case where the plaintiff's personal claim can only be determined after calculating the amount due to him as administrator. 43 M. L. J. 218 = 1922 Mad. 436. A suit by a Hindu widow against the surviving coparceners of her deceased husband to recover Stridhanam illegally detained by them and to enforce her right to maintenance is not bad for misjoinder. 38 Bom. 120. A suit by the assignee of a Mahomedan widow, for the recovery of part of the assignor's dower and of part of the estate of the assignor's late husband, does not contravene the provisions of the rule. 18 A. 256. On this rule see also 31 B. 105. A claim against an executor as such can be joined with a claim against him personally when both the claims arise in reference to the same estate. 41 I. C. 615 = 21 C. W. N. 939. In an administration suit there can be an enquiry as to accounts of a partnership in which the deceased was a partner and that there was no misjoinder of causes of action under O. 2, Rr. 4, 5 and 7. 51 Bom. 800 = 29 Bom. L.R. 937 = 104 I.C. 764 = A.I.R. 1927 Bom. 470.

O. 2, R. 6.—On this rule see 8 M. 75 ; 8 B. 616. As to the scope of the rule, see 27 M. 80. As to what course the Judge ought to pursue where there has been a misjoinder of causes of action, see 8 W.R. 15 ; 9 B. L. R. 241. An objection as to misjoinder cannot be taken for the first time in second appeal. 5 Bom. L. R. 185. As to waiver of objection, see 49 Cal. 37. The Court cannot select one claim on which to proceed when the plaintiff insists on pressing all.

An Advocate can “act” on behalf of his client and perform all the duties of a pleader. 4 Pat. 766 ; 9 A. 617. One pleader can appoint another to hold his brief. 9 A. 613, but the legality of this practice was doubted in 20 B. 293. Pleadings can perform certain ministerial duties through their clerks. 15 C. 638. See also 101 I.C. 205 = A.I.R. 1927 Lah. 428 (accepting notice on behalf of client). Neither party need in any pleading allege any matter of fact which the law presumes in his favour or as to which the burden of proof lies upon the other side unless the same has first been specifically denied (e.g., consideration for a bill of exchange where the plaintiff sues only on the bill and not for the consideration as a substantive ground of claim).

14. [S. 51.] Every pleading shall be signed by the party and his pleader (if any): Provided that where a party pleading is, by reason of absence or for other good cause, unable to sign the pleading, it may be signed by any person duly authorized by him to sign the same or to sue or defend on his behalf.

15. [Ss. 51 and 52.] (1) Save as otherwise provided by any law for the time being in force, every pleading shall be verified at the foot by the party or by one of the parties pleading or by some other person proved to the satisfaction of the Court to be acquainted with the facts of the case.

O. 6, R. 13.—See 99 I. C. 538=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 83.

O. 6, R. 14.—Strict proof of pleadings having been read out and explained to Purdanashin ladies should be had, before they are accepted as satisfactory proof of the contents. 38 A. 627=31 M. L. J. 607=43 I. A. 215 (P. C.), reversing 13 I. C. 882. This rule has no application to cases falling under O. XXIX, R. 1. 21 C. 60 (P. C.). What is required by this rule is that the plaintiff must be in existence before the signature is put in. 15 A. at p. 60. See also 22 A. 55; 6 M. L. J. 213; 17 C. at p. 582 (P. C.). There is no rule providing that a person named as co-plaintiff is not to be treated as a plaintiff, unless he signs the plaint. 17 C. at p. 582 (P. C.); 80 I. C. 141.

SIGNATURE, OBJECT OF.—The object of the signature to a plaint is to prevent as far as possible disputes as to whether a suit was instituted with the plaintiff's knowledge and authority or not. 87 I. C. 1002=1925 Sind 275. The provisions of O. 6, R. 14 relate to a mere matter of procedure and any mistake or omission therein may be amended at any time subsequent to the institution of the suit. (Ibid.) See also 80 I. C. 141; 104 I. C. 747. Plaint valid if signed by person instructed by plaintiff to sign. 1925 Lah. 144 (1); 4 B. 468; 75 I. C. 880. Plaint filed on behalf of person exempted from personal appearance in court—Plaint signed by his servant—Subsequent power of attorney to servant by plaintiff ratifies prior acts of servant. 104 I. C. 747. A plaint is properly signed when it is signed by a person specially authorized to do so by a Company, which is incorporated in a foreign country. 8 P. R. 1912=10 I. C. 141. As to filing pleading on behalf of corporation, see 31 C. W. N. 1030=105 I. C. 568=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 780. A prisoner in jail, who is unable to sign a plaint, may authorize some other person under R. 14 to sign it for him, and the plaint so signed will be a valid plaint. 40 A. 147=16 A. L. J. 64. An omission by the plaintiff to sign the plaint is no ground for rejecting it; the plaint ought to be returned for amendment. 80 I. C. 141; 11 I. C. 842=254 P. L. R. 1911.

O. 6, R. 15.—As to importance of verification, see 19 I. C. 993=41 C. 113. When a pleading does not conform to this rule, the defect is a mere irregularity that can be cured by amendment. 31 C. W. N. 397=101 I. C. 573=54 Cal. 380=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 376. Plaint when amended takes effect from the date of original institution. (Ibid.) A verified plaint is not legal evidence of the facts contained in it. 20 C. W. N. 1192=43 C. 1001. The verification should be made by some person acquainted with the facts of the case. 9 A. 188. See also 4 B. 468. A petition by the Administrator-General for Letters of Administration is sufficiently verified by his signature. 20 C. 879. When a plaint contains numerous allegations of fraud, the defendant might require the plaintiff to verify the plaint himself, 9 A. 505. See also 8 C. 855. In case the verification is defective, it can be amended. 20 A. 442. See also 18 A. 396 (F. B.). A plaint which is not verified cannot be treated as waste paper. 22 A. 55. Also a written statement. 11 C. W. N. 871. But see 46 A. 637=22 A. L. J. 690. If the verification is found to be false the suit cannot be dismissed. 24 W. R. 71. Sub-rule (2) follows the ruling in 15 A. 59.

(2) The person verifying shall specify, by reference to the numbered paragraphs of the pleading, what he verifies of his own knowledge and what he verifies upon information received and believed to be true.

(3) The verification shall be signed by the person making it and shall state the date on which and the place at which it was signed.

16. The Court may at any stage of the proceedings order to be struck out or amended any matter in any pleading which may be unnecessary or scandalous or which may tend to prejudice, embarrass or delay the fair trial of the suit.

17. [Cf. S. 53.] The Court may at any stage of the proceedings allow either party to alter or amend his pleadings in such manner and on such terms as may be just, and all such amendments shall

O. 6, R. 16.—Scope of the rule, 92 I. C. 926 = A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 265. The jurisdiction given to the Court under R. 16 is one which ought to be exercised with great care and caution. 29 C. W. N. 670 = 88 I. C. 435. Inconsistent rights claimed alternatively may be permitted except when they are destructive of each other. 22 C. L. J. 254 = 20 C. W. N. 310. See also 17 C. W. N. 555 = 16 C. L. J. 404. Pleadings disrespectful to the Court may be struck out. 22 M. L. J. 155, 42 I. C. 620 = 2 Pat. L. W. 226. A Court can at any stage of the proceedings direct that any matter in any pleading which may tend to prejudice, embarrass or delay the fair trial of a suit be amended or struck out. 20 O. C. 192 = 41 I. C. 903; 2 Pat. L. R. 82 = 75 I. C. 433 = 1923 Pat. 357; (A.I.R. 1924 P. 280).

Amendment to change the date when cause of action arose and not to change the cause of action itself should be allowed. (1925) M. W. N. 781; 30 I. C. 391. See also 48 Cal. 932 (P. C.). ORDER VII.

PLAINT.

Particulars to be contained in plaint.

1. [S. 50.] The plaint shall contain the following particulars :—

- (a) the name of the Court in which the suit is brought ;
- (b) the name, description and place of residence of the plaintiff ;
- (c) the name, description and place of residence of the defendant, so far as they can be ascertained ;

when it would expose the defendant to an injury which could not be compensated in costs. 40 Bom. 158. Amendments should be allowed to rectify technical defects. 34 All. 348 ; 47 Bom. 785 = 25 Bom. L. R. 513 ; 40 Cal. 541 ; 30 I. C. 323 ; 82 I. C. 777 ; 1926 All. 672. Events that happen even after the filing of the suit may be taken notice of and an amendment of the plaint for including a prayer for relief on the foot of such events ought to be allowed to avoid multiplicity of proceedings. 1926 M. 6 = 90 I. C. 881 = 49 M. L. J. 479 ; 22 L. W. 120 = 1925 Mad. 1021 = 91 I. C. 503.

REVISION.—An order refusing leave to amend the plaint can be set aside in revision. 40 I. C. 65 = 26 P. R. 1917 ; 78 I. C. 510 = 1925 Nag. 195. See also (1927) M. W. N. 175 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 504 ; 41 M. L. J. 525 ; 4 L. W. 654. Amendment ordered on payment of costs—Costs drawn out under protest—Such order cannot be impeached in revision. 26 L. W. 527 = 105 I. C. 620 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1009.

EFFECT OF AMENDMENT.—Amendment takes effect from date of presentation of plaint or application. 98 I. C. 658 = A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 95 ; 93 I. C. 625 = 1926 Mad. 437 = 50 M. L. J. 442.

O. 6, R. 18.—The Court cannot reject a plaint or dismiss the suit under O. 6, R. 18 but must proceed to try the suit on the original plaint. 169 P. L. R. 1913 = 19 I. C. 472. Where a plaint was rejected on the ground that it was not amended within the time fixed by the court a fresh suit on the same cause of action is maintainable. 99 I. C. 538 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 83.

O. 7, R. 1. SCOPE OF.—See A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 113. The plaint should contain the facts constituting the cause of action and the time when it arose. 42 Cal. 85 ; 39 I. C. 21 = 13 N. L. R. 16. One plaint is only one suit. Jurisdiction depends on amount or value of the aggregate subject-matters at the date of institution. 40 M. 1 = 32 M. L. J. 221. Description of suit in heading does not determine nature of suit. See A. I. R. 1927 Sind. 78. Defect in signature is not fatal to a suit and the merits are not affected. A. I. R. 1927 All. 514. Adverse possession should be expressly pleaded at least as alternative ground. 88 I. C. 249 = A. I. R. 1925 M. 1005.

NAME.—A suit cannot be instituted against a dead man. 17 M. L. J. 551. If so instituted and a decree is obtained it is invalid. 9 Bom. L. R. 274. See 16 M. 319.

DESCRIPTION.—This term includes age, father's name, caste, etc. 7 M. L. J. 81. Where the Government has recognised a person as having a right to bear particular titles, a plaint in a suit against such person may contain them. 12 B. L. R. 443 (P. C.). A plaintiff cannot be compelled to insert every name and title to which the defendant may conceive himself entitled. 3 M. H. C. R. 31.

PLACE OF RESIDENCE.—To describe the plaintiff as residing in Chitpore Road in Calcutta is not a sufficient description of his residence. 4 C. L. R. 366 ; 14 W. R. 474. Facts constituting cause of action must be stated. See 18 A. 403 ; 15 M. L. J. 122 ; 13 W. R. 248 ; 10 Bom. H. C. R. 182 ; 11 A. 438 ; 15 C. 533 (P. C.) ; 10 Bom. H. C. R. 414 ; 7 M. H. C. R. 364. See 7 C. 169 ; 9 A. 486 ; 13 W. R. 48 ; 13 C. 9.

INCONSISTENT CLAIMS.—A claim to set aside a deed as a forgery cannot be combined with a claim to set it aside on the ground of absence of consideration, fraud, misrepresentation, etc. 15 I. A. 86. A claim to set aside an adoption on the ground that it never took place cannot be joined with a claim that even if it took place it was a conditional one. 14 M. 172. A stranger to a deed can aver that it is a forgery, and that if not a forgery, it is not supported by consideration. 16 M. L. J. 13 (Recent Cases).

RELIEF CLAIMED.—The Court should not give the plaintiff more relief than he prays for. 6 Bom. H. C. R. 9. An injunction could be granted on a general prayer. 6 C. 485. In a suit for partition no decree for redemption can be given. 10 M. L. J. 242 ; 5 A. 345 ; 27 B. at p. 603 ; 23 B. at p. 160. See Rule 7. Plaint defective—Relief not claimed in proper form—Duty of Courts. 93 I. C. 928 = 1926 Lah. 417.

CLAUSE (1).—The value of a suit for purposes of court-fees is not applicable for determining jurisdiction. Acts of a fiscal nature are not to be resorted to for determining questions of jurisdiction. 6 M. H. C. R. 151. Plaintiff in certain cases is free to fix his own valuation for purposes of jurisdiction. 18 C. 378. The general rule is that in all suits for account the valuation for purposes of Court-fees determines the question of jurisdiction. 22 C. 690 ; 92 I. C. 730 = 1926 M. 591.

- (d) where the plaintiff or the defendant is a minor or a person of unsound mind, a statement to that effect ;
 (e) the facts constituting the cause of action and when it arose ;
 (f) the facts showing that the Court has jurisdiction ;
 (g) the relief which the plaintiff claims ;
 (h) where the plaintiff has allowed a set-off or relinquished a portion of his claim, the amount so allowed or relinquished ; and
 (i) a statement of the value of the subject-matter of the suit for the purposes of jurisdiction and of court-fees, so far as the case admits.

2. [S. 50.] Where the plaintiff seeks the recovery of money, the plaintiff shall state the precise amount claimed :

But where the plaintiff sues for mesne profits, or for an amount which will be found due to him on taking unsettled accounts between him and the defendant, the plaintiff shall state approximately the amount sued for.

[Punjab.] In the second paragraph of R. 2 of O. VII after the words "and the defendant" insert "or for movables in the possession of the defendant, or for debts the value of which he cannot, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, estimate"; after the words "the amount" insert "or value."

3. Where the subject-matter of the suit is immovable property, the plaintiff shall contain a description of the property sufficient to identify it, and, in case such property can be identified by boundaries or numbers in a record of settlement or survey, the plaintiff shall specify such boundaries or numbers.

Where the subject-matter of the suit is immovable property.

[Calcutta.] After R. 3, O. VII, add the words—

"and when the area is mentioned, such description shall further state the area according to the notation used in the record of settlement or survey, with or without, at the option of the party, the same in terms of the local measures."

4. [S. 50, para. 4.] Where the plaintiff sues in a representative character the plaintiff shall show not only that he has an actual existing interest in the subject-matter, but that he has taken the steps (if any) necessary to enable him to institute a suit concerning it.

When plaintiff sues as representative.

Defendant's interest and liability to be shown.
 the plaintiff's demand.

5. [S. 50, para. 5.] The plaintiff shall show that the defendant is or claims to be interested in the subject-matter, and that he is liable to be called upon to answer

Ground of exemption from limitation law.

6. [S. 50, para. 6.] Where the suit is instituted after the expiration of the period prescribed by the law of limitation, the plaintiff shall show the ground upon which exemption from such law is claimed.

O. 7, R. 2.—A claim for contribution should distinctly set forth the amounts due by each part. 14 W. R. 374. Plaintiff is only entitled to the sum specified in the plaint, even though on the evidence he is found to be entitled to more. 2 M. I. A. 113. See also 30 C. 406. Rules 1 and 4 of Order 7 are mandatory. 82 I. C. 201.

O. 7, R. 4.—Plaint is to state the representative nature of the suit. 1925 Nag. 183=82 I. C. 201. A plaintiff suing in a representative character must set it forth, and show that he is qualified to fill it, 7 B. at p. 470. In the Bombay Presidency Mahomedan executors can sue without first taking out probate. 8 B. 241. In the case of Hindus, see 14 C. 37. When the original plaintiff dies, the suit may be continued by his legal representative, although the latter has not taken out letters of administration. 16 B. 519. The production of a Succession Certificate is not a condition precedent to the institution of the suit. 16 M. 454; 19 C. 482. See also 17 M. 14.

O. 7, R. 5.—Plaint must show how the various defendants are interested in the subject-matter of the suit and the cause of action against each 1924 Nag. 191.

O. 7, R. 6.—O. 7, Rule 6 should be construed liberally and reasonably. 60 I. C. 772=3 Lah. L. J. 22=2 Lah. 13; 46 I. C. 495=102 P. R. 1918=120 P. L. R. 1918. Rule 6 has no application when the plaintiff is not on its face time barred. 70 P. R. 1914=25 I. C. 463; but is applicable to cases in which the suit as laid in the plaint is prima facie barred by limitation. 51 I. C. 956=1 Lah. 21. Ground of exemption from limitation not set up in plaint cannot afterwards be set up and proved. 75 I. C. 1048=1924 Lah. 702. Failure to set up acknowledgment as saving limitation is a bar. 3 Lah. 233=1922 Lah. 39; 52 I.

7. Every complaint shall state specifically the relief which the plaintiff claims either simply or in the alternative, and it shall not be necessary to ask for general or other relief which may always be given as the Court may think just to the same extent as if it had been asked for. And the same rule shall apply to any relief claimed by the defendant in his written statement.

Relief founded on separate grounds. 8. Where the plaintiff seeks relief in respect of several distinct claims or causes of action founded upon separate and distinct grounds, they shall be stated as far as may be separately and distinctly.

9. [S. 58.] (1) The plaintiff shall endorse on the plaint, or annex thereto, a list of the documents (if any) which he has produced along with it; and, if the plaint is admitted, shall present as many copies on plain paper of the plaint as there are defendants, unless the Court by reason of the length of the plaint or the number of the defendants, or for any other sufficient reason, permits him to present a like number of concise statements of the nature of the claim made, or of the relief claimed in the suit, in which case he shall present such statements.

Concise statements. (2) Where the plaintiff sues, or the defendant or any of the defendants is sued, in a representative capacity, such statements shall show in what capacity the plaintiff or defendant sues or is sued.

(3) The plaintiff may, by leave of the Court, amend such statements so as to make them correspond with the plaint.

(4) The chief ministerial officer of the Court shall sign such list and copies or statements if, on examination, he finds them to be correct.

[Allahabad.] 9 (1). Procedure on admitting plaint.—The plaintiff shall endorse on the plaint, or annex thereto, a list of the documents (if any) which he has produced along with it.

(2) The chief ministerial officer of the court shall sign such list and copies if, on examination, he finds them to be correct.

[Madras.] In R. 9 of O. VII after the word 'and' occurring the third line delete the comma and the five words following, viz. "if the plaint is admitted" and insert the expression "alongwith the plaint" after the words "shall, present."

[Oudh.] 9 (1). Procedure on admitting plaint.—The plaintiff shall endorse on the plaint, or annex thereto, a list of the documents (if any) which he has produced along with it; and shall, at the same time, present as many copies on plain paper of the plaint as there are defendants.

(2) Same as Allahabad 9 (2) given above.

[Rangoon.] In O. VII, R. 9 (1), add the words 'on the day on which the plaint is admitted' after the word "present."

C. 243=9 L. W. 82. Grounds on which plaintiff relies for extending the period of limitation must be specifically alleged in the plaint. 27 I.C. 344=8 S. L. R. 69. Plea of exemption for limitation—Inconsistent averments may be allowed. 65 I. C. 279=17 N. L. R. 209. Where in the plaint returned for presentation to proper Court the ground of exemption is not stated the endorsement of the Court as to the date of receipt and return is substantial compliance with the provisions of R. 6. 9 I. C. 157=9 M. L. T. 374; 1923 Lah. 591. The plaintiff ought not to be allowed to put forward a new case inconsistent with the plaint, to enable him to avoid limitation. 30 C. at p. 709.

O. 7, R. 7.—In a suit on a negotiable instrument, relief on the strength of the original consideration could be granted if prayed for in the alternative. 46 Cal. 663=29 C. L. J. 340=36 M. L. J. 429 (P. C.); 14 I. C. 399=8 N. L. R. 7. Where specific allegation is not proved, it is not open to the Court to arrive at a finding in his favour contrary to the allegation set up. 54 I. C. 797. A plaintiff is entitled to put his case in the alternative and his suit should not be dismissed as being for inconsistent relief. 36 A 476; 7 All. 184; 12 A. L. J. 708. The decree in a suit should conform with the rights of the parties as they stand at the date of its institution. 44 Cal. 47=20 C. W. N. 1099. A prayer "for any other relief" may cover any other relief arising out of the same cause of action but not one arising under a different cause of action. 13 I. C. 650=92 P. L. R. 1912. An exaggerated claim is no ground for refusing a person the rights which he is found entitled to. 46 I. C. 679=13 P. R. 1919; 33 M. L. J. 63. In a suit for ejectment, a decree for joint possession may be passed. 38 M. 1036=26 M. L. J. 532; 24 M. L. J. 271=21 I. C. 724. Under O. 7, R. 7, C. P. Code, a prayer for general relief is unnecessary, and a Court may always give general or other relief, as it may think just to the same extent, as if it had been asked for. 76 I. C. 940=5 Pat. L. T. 330. On this section, see also 29 Bom. L. R. 147.

O. 7, R. 9.—A suit is instituted on the date when the plaint is filed and not on the date when it is ordered to be registered. 66 I. C. 923=34 C. L. J. 465.

10. [S. 57.] (1) The plaint shall at any stage of the suit be returned to be presented to the Court in which the suit should have been instituted.

Return of plaint.

(2) On returning a plaint the Judge shall endorse thereon the date of its presentation and return, the name of the party presenting it, and a brief statement of the reasons for returning it.

Procedure on returning plaint.

11. [Ss. 53 and 54.] The plaint shall be rejected in the following cases :—

Rejection of plaint.

O. 7, R. 10.—Where a plaint has been returned for presentation to the proper Court and the plaintiff appeals against the order, he is still at liberty to present the plaint to the proper Court subject to the bar of limitation. 27 Bom. L. R. 652=89 I.C. 68. The direction in R. 10 is mandatory. 53 I. C. 308=10 L. W. 525; 8 C. 834. Suit filed in civil court instead of before Collector—Proper procedure. 6 Pat. 358.

APPLICABILITY.—R. 10 applies only where the suit is instituted in a wrong Court and not where the necessary relief under S. 20, C. P. C., was not obtained. 23 Bom. L. R. 1086=46 Bom. 229. O. 7, R. 10 applies to a Small Cause Court. 94 I. C. 550 (1)=1926 Mad. 679=51 M. L. J. 158. Rule applies when the suit as originally framed was wrongly instituted. 54 I.C. 655. It is the duty of a Court to return the plaint for presentation to a proper Court, and not decide the suit on merits if it finds it has no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. 88 I.C. 991=A. I. R. 1925 Oudh 735; 44 All. 686=70 I.C. 98; 10 M. 211; 41 Mad. 701=35 M.L.J. 27; 41 I. C. 203=27 C. L. J. 510; 10 L. W. 525=(1920) M. W. N. 163. There is nothing in the wording of the rule which forbids the return of the plaint after a late stage of the case. 8 B. 313 (F.B.). The plaint cannot be returned after a decree has been passed. 8 B. 380. When the Appellate Court decides that the Lower Court has no jurisdiction to entertain the suit, it should return the plaint to the plaintiff. 1 B. 538; 9 B. 266. But see 11 M. 482; 89 I. C. 511=1925 Oudh 499. Return of plaint cannot be made on the ground that it would be more advantageous to one of the parties to do so. A.I. R. 1927 Cal. 87. As to whether suit is to be deemed to be pending in the court of filing even after return of plaint. See 5 Rang. 101. Where a plaint filed in one Court is returned to be presented to another Court, whether the latter Court has jurisdiction to return the same to be presented to the former Court. See 42 I.C. 483=6 L. W. 239. But see 22 L. W. 582=(1925) M.W.N. 804; 64 I.C. 496=2 Pat. L.T. 739. See also 51 Bom. 236=29 Bom. L. R. 280=A. I. R. 1927 B. 257. An application for leave to sue as a pauper is not a plaint and it only reaches the stage of a plaint when it is granted. 52 I.C. 688. If the cause of action arises within the jurisdiction of the Court the plaint cannot be returned simply because the defendant resides outside the jurisdiction of the Court. 32 C. 146. Court not to decide material issue of question of damages to decide question of jurisdiction. 91 I. C. 737=1926 Mad. 339. Cal. 83. Return of plaint cannot be made on the ground that it would be more advantageous to one of the parties to do so. 97 I.C. 979.

PLEADINGS.—Plaintiff cannot rely upon the pleas in the written statement for making out a cause of action. 46 I. C. 60; 6 Bur. L.T. 85=20 I.C. 278.

APPEAL.—An appeal lies against an order passed under this rule. See O. XLIII, R. 1; also 14 M. 462; 27 Bom. L.R. 636=88 I.C. 753. But no appeal lies after the plaint has been taken back and re-filed in the Court as directed. 5 C. L.J. 580.

REVISION.—Order returning a memorandum of appeal to be presented to the proper Court is revisable. 7 Lah. L.J. 285=A.I.R. 1925 Lah. 479.

O. 7, R. 11.—All statements in plaint are to be taken as true, for argument on preliminary issue as to whether plaint discloses a cause of action. 40 Cal. 598=25 M. L.J. 104 (P.C.). The provisions of R. 11 are mandatory and where a plaint is written on paper insufficiently stamped, the Court is bound to give the plaintiff time to make good the deficiency. 38 B. 41; 2 Pat. L.J. 74; 49 Cal. 880=27 C.W.N. 566; 44 Cal. 352=21 C.W. N. 834. R. 11 (d) does not apply when there is no statement in the plaint suggesting the suit to be barred. 27 I.C. 232=18 C.W.N. 1340. C. 881=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 1002; 51 Bom. 236=29 Bom. L.R. 280=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 257. A Court has jurisdiction to entertain a plaint though it is unstamped. 20 I.C. 767=24 M. L. J. 658. It is competent to a Court to reject a plaint after it has been admitted and duly registered. 34 C. 20 (F.B.). A plaint may be rejected at any stage of the suit. 18 M. 338; 12 A. 553. But see 28 I.C. 504=(1915) M. W. N. 228 (contra). The mere unlikelihood of plaintiff's success is no sufficient ground for rejecting a plaint. 1 M.H.C. 240. A suit should not be dismissed on the ground that it cannot be maintained as a mere acknowledgment of debt. 97 I. C. 800=1926 Lah. 472 (1). If plaint cannot be rejected in part, see 29 A. 325. Rule does not apply to the High Court in the exercise of its appellate jurisdiction. 12 A. at p. 151 (F.B.). If a wrong date is given for the cause of action, and the action is not barred, the plaint cannot be rejected. 7 A. 354. An Appellate Court has the same powers of rejecting plaint:

(a) where it does not disclose a cause of action :

(b) where the relief claimed is undervalued, and the plaintiff on being required by the Court to correct the valuation within a time to be fixed by the Court, fails to do so :

(c) where the relief claimed is properly valued, but the plaint is written upon paper insufficiently stamped, and the plaintiff, on being required by the Court to supply the requisite stamp-paper within a time to be fixed by the Court, fails to do so :

(d) where the suit appears from the statement in the plaint to be barred by any law.

Procedure on rejecting plaint.

12. [S. 55.] Where a plaint is rejected the Judge shall record an order to that effect with the reason for such order.

Where rejection of plaint does not preclude presentation of fresh plaint.

13. [S. 56.] The rejection of the plaint on any of the grounds hereinbefore mentioned shall not of its own force preclude the plaintiff from presenting a fresh plaint in respect of the same cause of action.

Documents relied on in plaint.

14. [S. 59.] (1) Where a plaintiff sues upon a document in his possession, or power, he shall produce it in Court when the plaint is presented, and shall at the same time deliver the document or a copy thereof to be filed with the plaint.

Production of document on which plaintiff sues.

(2) Where he relies on any other documents (whether in his possession or power or not) as evidence in support of his claim, he shall enter such documents in a list to be added or annexed to the plaint.

List of other documents.

(Loc. Am.) [Oudh.] O. VII, R. 14. (In Oudh for sub-section (2) of R. 14 substitute the following —

(2) Where he relies on any other documents as evidence in support of his claim, he shall enter all of them in a list to be added or annexed to the plaint and shall produce in Court, when the plaint is presented, such of them as are in his possession or power. In regard to the documents not in his possession or power, he shall, if possible, state in whose possession or power they are, and shall cause them to be summoned for production before the Court on a date to be fixed by the Court for the purpose.

Explanation.—A certified copy of a public document is a document "in the power" of a party, but where a document is in the possession of a person other than the plaintiff, it will not be deemed to be "in the power" of the plaintiff.).

An order of rejection under O. 7, R. 11 (b) of a plaint is appealable and a revision is therefore incompetent. 80 P.R. 1914=25 I. C. 565. W.N. 577=45 I.A. 284 (P.C.). A document given to a witness to refresh his memory does not come within the meaning of this rule. 1 M. H. C. 168. The reception of a document in evidence, which [Oudh.] [Deleted by Oudh Chief Court].

15. [S. 60.] Where any such document is not in the possession or power of the plaintiff, he shall, if possible, state in whose possession or power it is.

16. [S. 61.] Where the suit is founded upon a negotiable instrument, and it is proved that the instrument is lost, and an indemnity is given by the plaintiff, to the satisfaction of the Court, against the claims of any other person upon such instrument, the Court may pass such decree as it would have passed if the plaintiff had produced the instrument in Court when the plaint was presented, and had at the same time delivered a copy of the instrument to be filed with the plaint.

17. [S. 62.] (1) Save in so far as is otherwise provided by the Bankers' Books Evidence Act, 1891, where the document on which the plaintiff sues is an entry in a shop-book or other account in his possession or power, the plaintiff shall produce the book or account at the time of filing the plaint, together with a copy of the entry on which he relies.

(2) The Court, or such officer as it appoints in this behalf, shall forthwith mark the document for the purpose of identification; and, after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall, if it is found correct, certify it to be so and return the book to the plaintiff and cause the copy to be filed.

[Loc. Am.] [Allahabad]. Add the following proviso to O. VII, R. 17, of the Code of Civil Procedure :—

Provided that, if the copy is not written in English or is written in a character other than the ordinary Persian or Nagri character in use, the person producing it or some one on his behalf shall attest it as a true copy, and in that case the Court or its officer need not examine or compare the copy with the original.

[18. S. 63.] (1) A document which ought to be produced in Court by the plaintiff when the plaint is presented, or to be entered in the list to be added or annexed to the plaint, and which is not produced or entered accordingly, shall not, without the leave of the Court, be received in evidence on his behalf at the hearing of the suit.

(2) Nothing in this rule applies to documents produced for cross-examination of the defendant's witnesses, or in answer to any case set up by the defendant or handed to a witness merely to refresh his memory.

[Allahabad.] Add the following rules to O. VII :—

19. Every plaint or original petition shall be accompanied by a proceeding giving an address at which service of notice, summons or other process may be made on the plaintiff or petitioner. Plaintiffs or petitioners subsequently added shall, immediately on being so added, file a proceeding of this nature.

20. An address for service filed under the preceding rule shall be within the local limits of the District Court within which the suit or petition is filed, or of the District Court within which the party ordinarily resides, if within the limits of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh.

21. Where a plaintiff or petitioner fails to file an address for service, he shall be liable to have his suit dismissed or his petition rejected by the Court suo motu or any party may apply for an order to that effect, and the Court may make such order as it thinks just.

22. Where a party is not found at the address given by him for service and no agent or adult male member of his family on whom a notice or process can be served, is present, a copy of the notice or process shall be affixed to the outer door of the house. If on the date fixed such party is not present another date shall be fixed and a copy of the notice, summons or other process shall be sent to the registered address by registered post, and such service shall be deemed to be as effectual as if the notice or process had been personally served.

When there could be no possible doubt about the existence of a document at the date of suit, it is not proper to refuse to admit it in evidence on the ground that it had not been produced with the plaint. 8 B. 377. The only penalty which the plaintiff incurs is that laid down in this rule. 22 B. 671.

O. 7, R. 18 (2)—"Defendants' witnesses" in O. 7, R. 18, cl. (2) includes witnesses who have turned hostile to the plaintiff and may be treated as the adversary's witnesses. 54 I. C. 311.

23. Where a party engages a pleader, notices or processes for service on him shall be served in the manner prescribed by O. III, R. 5, unless the Court directs service of the address for service given by the party.

24. A party who desires to change the address for service given by him as aforesaid shall file a verified petition, and the Court may direct the amendment of the record accordingly. Notice of such petition shall be given to such other parties to the suit as the Court may deem it necessary to inform, and may be either served upon the pleaders for such parties or be sent to them by registered post, as the Court thinks fit.

25. Nothing in these rules shall prevent the Court from directing the service of a notice or process in any other manner, if, for any reasons, it thinks fit to do so.

26. Nothing in these rules shall apply to the notice prescribed by O. XXI, R. 22.

[Added by Oudh Chief Court].—19. Every plaint or original petition shall be accompanied by an address at which service of notice, summons or other process may be made on the plaintiff or petitioner. This address shall be called the 'registered address' and service thereat shall be deemed to be sufficient service.

20. Any party subsequently added as plaintiff or petitioner shall, in like manner, file a registered address at the time of applying or consenting to be joined as plaintiff or petitioner.

21. A registered address shall be within the local limits of the district Court within which the suit or petition is filed, if the plaintiff or petitioner resides or carries on business within those limits.

22. If a plaintiff or petitioner fails to file a registered address as required above, he shall be liable, at the discretion of the Court, to have his suit dismissed or his petition rejected.

An order under this rule may be passed by the Court suo motu or on the application of any party.

23. Where the registered address of the plaintiff or petitioner is within the limits of a headquarters town or of a municipality of India (including Burma) or Ceylon, a notice, summons or other process may be served on him at that address by registered post and such service shall be deemed to be as effectual as if the notice or process had been personally served.

24. In all cases to which rule 22 does not apply, where a plaintiff or petitioner is not found at his registered address and no agent or adult male member of his family on whom a notice or process can be served is present, a copy of the notice or process shall be affixed to the outer door of the house. If, on the date fixed, such plaintiff or petitioner is not present another date shall be fixed and a copy of the notice, summons or other process shall be sent to his registered address by registered post, and such service shall be deemed to be as effectual as if the notice or process had been personally served.

25. Whenever a plaintiff or petitioner has engaged a pleader to act for him, a notice or process for service on him shall be served in the manner prescribed by O. III, R. 5, unless the Court directs service at his registered address:

Provided that where a notice is served on a pleader under the above rule, he shall be given sufficient time to communicate with his client and to receive instructions.

Explanation :—Where 10 days' time has been allowed under this rule, this shall be deemed sufficient time within the meaning of this proviso in the absence of an application made within such 10 days by the pleader concerned for further time.

26. A plaintiff or petitioner who wishes to change his registered address shall file a verified petition, and the Court shall direct the amendment of the record accordingly. Notice of such petition shall be given to such other parties to the suit or proceedings as the Court may deem it necessary to inform, and may be either served upon the pleader for such parties or be sent them by registered post, as the Court thinks fit.

27. Nothing in Rr. 19 to 26 shall prevent the Court from directing the service of a notice or process in any other manner, if for any reason, it thinks fit.

ORDER VIII.

WRITTEN STATEMENT AND SET-OFF.

1. [S. 110, Cf. S. 112.] The defendant may, and if so required by the Court, shall, at or before the first hearing or within such time as the Court may permit, present a written statement of his defence.

Explanation.—A certified copy of a public document is a document "in the power" of a party, but where a document is in the possession of a person other than the defendant, it will not be deemed to be "in the power" of the defendant.

2. The defendant must raise by his pleading all matters which show the suit not to be maintainable, or that the transaction is either void

3. It shall not be sufficient for a defendant in his written statement to deny

4. Where a defendant denies an allegation of fact in the plaint, he must not do so evasively, but answer the point of substance. Thus, if

Evasive denial. it is alleged that he received a certain sum of money, it shall not be sufficient to deny that he received that particular amount, but he must deny that he received that sum or any part thereof, or else set out how much he received. And if an allegation is made with diverse circumstances, it shall not be sufficient to deny it along with those circumstances.

5. Every allegation of fact in the plaint, if not denied specifically or by necessary implication, or stated to be not admitted in the

In a suit for the purchase-money by C against B, the latter cannot set off the debt against the price, for C fills two different characters, one as the vendor to B, in which he sues B, and the other as representative to A.

(c) A sues B on a bill of exchange. B alleges that A has wrongfully neglected to insure B's goods and is liable to him in compensation which he claims to set off. The amount not being ascertained cannot be set off.

(d) A sues B on a bill of exchange for Rs. 500. B holds a judgment against A for Rs. 1,000. The two claims being both definite pecuniary demands may be set off.

(e) A sues B for compensation on account of trespass. B holds a promissory note for Rs. 1,000 from A and claims to set off that amount against any sum that A may recover in the suit. B may do so for, as soon as A recovers, both sums are definite pecuniary demands.

(f) A and B sue C for Rs. 1,000. C cannot set off a debt due to him by A alone.

(g) A sues B and C for Rs. 1,000. B cannot set off a debt due to him alone by A.

(h) A owes the partnership firm of B and C Rs. 1,000. B dies, leaving C surviving. A sues C for a debt of Rs. 1,500 due in his separate character. C may set off the debt of Rs. 1,000.

11. Every party, whether original, added or substituted, who intends to appear and defend any suit or original petition shall, on or before the date fixed in the summons or notice served on him as the date of hearing, file in Court a proceeding stating his address for service, and if he fails to do so he shall be liable to have his defence, if any, struck out and to be placed in the same position as if he had not defended. In this respect the Court may act suo motu or on the application of any party for an order to such effect, and the Court may make such order as it thinks just.

12. Rules 20, 22, 23, 24, 25 and 26 of Order VII shall apply, so far as may be, to addresses for service filed under the preceding Rule.

[Oudh.] 11. Every defendant in a suit or opposite party in any proceeding shall, on the first day of his appearance in Court, file an address (to be called the 'registered address') for service on him of any subsequent notice, summons or other process; and, if he fails to do so, shall be liable, at the discretion of the Court, to have his defence or reply, if any, struck out, and to be placed in the same position as if he had made no defence or reply.

- 15. [Cf. S. 99-A.] (1) Where, after a summons has been issued to the defendant, or to one of several defendants, and returned unserved, the plaintiff fails, for a period of three months from the date of the return made to the Court by the officer ordinarily certifying to the Court returns made by the serving officers, to apply for the issue of a fresh summons the Court shall make an order that the suit be dismissed as against such defendant, unless the plaintiff has within the said period satisfied the Court that—

- (a) he has failed after using his best endeavours to discover the residence of the defendant who has not been served, or
 - (b) such defendant is avoiding service of process, or
 - (c) there is any other sufficient cause for extending the time,
- in which case the Court may extend the time for making such application for such period as it thinks fit.

(2) In such case the plaintiff may (subject to the law of limitation) bring a fresh suit.

When summons served, but not in due time.

6. [S. 100.] (1) Where the plaintiff appears and the defendant does not appear when the suit is called on for hearing, then—

(a) if it is proved that the summons was duly served, the Court may proceed ex parte;

(b) if it is not proved that the summons was duly served, the Court shall direct a second summons to be issued and served on the defendant;

(c) if it is proved that the summons was served on the defendant, but not in sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer on the day fixed in the summons, the Court shall postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day to be fixed by the Court, and shall direct notice of such day to be given to the defendant.

(2) Where it is owing to the plaintiff's default that the summons was not duly served or was not served in sufficient time, the Court shall order the plaintiff to pay the costs occasioned by the postponement.

O. 9, R. 5.—¹ Rule 5 (1) was substituted by Act XXIV of 1920, S. 2. Rule 5 does not give the appellant the right to apply for fresh summons at any time within a year (now 3 months) from the date of return to the Court. 17 I. C. 294. Dismissal for default—Absence of petitioner—Non-service—Effect of, 1926 Cal. 112. O. 9, R. 6. SCOPE OF RULE—PROCEDURE.—See 1 Pat. 188 = 69 I. C. 837. R. 6 lays down when the Court may proceed ex parte but there appears to be no explanation in the Code what ex parte procedure is. 60 I. C. 619 = 1923 Nag. 83. A decree passed on merits in the absence of the plaintiff and his pleader reporting no instructions is an ex parte decree (1927) M. W. N. 897.

A decree passed in the presence of the pleader for defendants is not an ex parte decree. 6 P. 383 = 103 I. C. 711 = A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 291. The application of the rule is not limited to defendants residing within British India. 23 A. 99. The words "proceed ex parte" in R. 6 mean proceed to take and determine evidence. 42 Cal. 1001 = 20 C. W. N. 1192. The appearance referred to in this rule is an appearance in an answer to a summons to appear and answer the claim on a day specified therein. 7 A. 538. "When a suit is called on for hearing" in connection with O. 9, refers to the first day's hearing and in connection with O. 17, R. 2, means "when the suit is first called on for hearing." 26 L. 7. [S. 101.] Where the Court has adjourned the hearing of the suit ex parte, and the defendant, at or before such hearing, appears and assigns good cause for his previous non-appearance, he may, upon such terms as the Court directs as to costs or otherwise, be heard in answer to the suit as if he had appeared on the day fixed for his appearance.

8. [S. 102.] Where the defendant appears and the plaintiff does not appear when the suit is called on for hearing, the Court shall make an order that the suit be dismissed, unless the defendant admits the claim, or part thereof, in which case the Court shall pass a decree against the defendant upon such admission and, where part only of the claim has been admitted, shall dismiss the suit so far as it relates to the remainder.

Procedure in case of non-attendance of one or more of several plaintiffs.

11. [S. 106.] Where there are more defendants than one, and one or more of them appear and the others do not appear, the suit shall proceed, and the Court shall, at the time of pronouncing judgment, make such order as it thinks fit with respect to the defendants who do not appear.

Consequence of non-attendance, without sufficient cause shown, of party ordered to appear in person.

O. 9, R. 13. SCOPE.—Applicability to an order under S. 53, Prov. Insol. Act. 103 I.C. 381=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 897. O. 9, R. 13 deals only with default in appearance and not in the doing of any act ordered by the Court. 105 I.C. 842=A.I.R. 1928 Nag. 75. Rule applies to every case in which a decree is passed ex parte against a defendant either by reason of his non-appearance at the first hearing, or by reason of his non-appearance at an adjourned hearing. 23 C. 738 (F. B.); 20 B. 380. The rule contemplates the case of a Court setting aside its own decree, and not that of another and higher tribunal. 4 C.W.N. 456. R. 13 is an enabling one which prescribes what is to be done in the ordinary course to get an ex parte decree set aside. 42 M.L.J. 344=1922 Mad. 10. The word "appearance" implies that the party is present at the trial either in person or through pleader for the purpose of conducting the case. 1922 Pat. 485=1 P. 188. The words "was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing" must be liberally construed to enable the court to exercise powers ex debito justitiæ. 4 O.W.N. 356=101 I. C. 632 (2)=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 173. See also 32 C. W. N. 10. The word "duly" does not mean personally. 102 I.C. 243=A.I.R. 1927 Mad. 507=52 M. L. J. 477. Mere misdescription of plaintiff in an application under this rule is no reason for refusal to hear the application on merits. 23 N.L.R. 71=102 I.C. 24=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 251.

APPLICABILITY TO ORDERS IN EXECUTION UNDER S. 47.—They are decrees as defined in S. 2 and hence ex parte orders are ex parte decrees. 37 Mad. 462=26 M. L. J. 189; to decrees passed under Sch. 11, para. 21 (2). 62 I. C. 927. O. 9, R. 13 does not apply to delivery proceedings under O. 21, R. 97 to 101 as they are execution proceedings. 23 L. W. 227=92 I. C. 533=50 M. L. J. 200=1926 Mad. 412. An application under O. 9, R. 13 to set aside an order passed in a preceding application of the same nature lies. 76 I. C. 583=1923 Cal. 552. Inherent powers of Court under S. 151 cannot be invoked to set aside an ex parte decree long after the limitation prescribed by Art. 164 has passed. 1 Pat. 277=65 I. C. 341; 53 I. C. 847; 78 I. C. 660=1923 Lab. 147 (1). But see also next case. There is no inherent power in a Court apart from O. 9, R. 13 to set aside an ex parte decree on an application made for that purpose. The scope of the inherent power of a court pointed out. See 43 Mad. 94=37 M. L. J. 599 (F.B.) (26 Mad. 599, overruled; 24 M. L. J. 235, affirmed.) An order refusing exercise of such powers by court is not appealable. 1 Pat. 277=65 I. C. 341. Where there is transfer of territorial jurisdiction after decree, the new court can entertain application to set aside ex parte decree. 42 M. L. J. 344=1922 Mad. 33. Though an appeal is pending against an ex parte decree, an application to set it aside should be made to the Court which passed the decree and not to the Court hearing the appeal. (30 Mad. 535, dist.; 27 Mad. 602; 39 All. 13 and 38 Cal. 394, foll.); 44 Mad. 731=41 M. L. J. 90. Proceedings under O. 9, R. 13 may go on ad infinitum. (44 Cal. 950, Foll.); 76 I. C. 583=1923 Cal. 552.

DECREE WHEN EX PARTE.—A decree passed owing to defendant's default of appearance in spite of the Court's direction to him to appear on that day, amounts to an ex parte decree. 27 I. C. 882=2 L. W. 105. The mere sitting in Court of the pleader of a party having no instructions but to ask for time is not an appearance. 3 Pat. L. J. 481=46 I. C. 488. An application to set aside a final decree in a mortgage suit passed ex parte is maintainable under O. 9, R. 13. 48 I. C. 71=35 M. L. J. 375. Where an application to set aside an ex parte decree is conigned to the record room in account of non-payment of process fee, it is tantamount to dismissal for default. 102 I. C. 754. Conditional order, when proper where there has been no default on the part of the party asking for re-hearing, e.g., where he has not been duly served it is inequitable for the Court to impose conditions. 57 I. C. 300=5 Pat. L. J. 420. A Court should not as a condition precedent to setting aside an ex parte decree require the deposit of a large sum of money. 74 I. C. 86=1924 Oudh 229; or order an unreasonably large compensation. 8 L. R. 176 (Rev.). An order giving time to pay the decree amount does not of itself operate as a stay of execution of the ex parte decree itself. 32 I. C. 731=3 L. W. 35. An order setting aside an ex parte decree under O. 9, R. 13 is not ultra vires if it does not impose any conditions as to costs. 32 I. C. 984. Where an ex parte decree is set aside on condition of defendant's furnishing security the Court must adjourn the case in order to take security and must pass final orders only after the party has tendered or failed to furnish security. 43 I. C. 1=6 L. W. 767. Where an ex parte decree is set aside, the defendant is entitled to be restored to his original position under S. 144. 72 I. C. 912=2 Pat. 277. A decree based on a compromise cannot be treated as an ex parte decree and consequently O. 9, R. 13 does not apply. 27 I. C. 227=19 C. W. N. 118. Ex parte decree against defendant.—Suit dismissed by consent against another.—Court cannot restore suit against that other while setting aside the ex parte decree. 104 I. C. 216=A. I. R. 1927 Sind 245. Ex parte decree cannot be re-opened except upon ground of fraud which must be alleged in particular form. 58 I. C. 317.

WHO CAN APPLY.—Heirs of a defendant against whom an ex parte decree is passed before his death, have a right to apply to set aside the ex parte decree. (27 All. 274, doubted.) 1923 All. 30. It is competent to executor of a defendant since deceased, to apply to set aside an ex parte decree against him. 38 Mad. 442.

REVIEW.—Application to set aside an ex parte decree cannot be altered to one for review, by merely changing the description, to avoid limitation. 57 I. C. 15.

LIMITATION.—TIME WHETHER CAN BE EXTENDED.—Under O. 9, R. 13 as amended by the Madras High Court, though time can be extended, still it should be extended on justifiable grounds. 42 M. L. J. 12=1922 Mad. 33.

PARTIES TO THE ORDER.—A Court has no jurisdiction to set aside an order, setting aside an ex parte decree, at the instance of a person not a party to the suit. 61 I. C. 534. A Court has no jurisdiction to set aside an ex parte decree at the instance of a person not affected by the decision and who has been expressly exempted from the decree. 61 I. C. 484. There can be no ex parte proceedings against a defendant who has entered appearance and filed his defence. 21 A. L. J. 495=45 A. 618. If the minor defendants were not represented there is sufficient cause for their non-appearance and the Court could set aside the ex parte decree. 21 A. L. J. 185=1923 All. 213. See contra 66 I. C. 460 (Nag.); 49 All. 123 (F. B.). See also 4 O. W. N. 356=101 I. C. 632=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 173. An application under O. 9, R. 13 if granted will re-open the suit only as against the successful applicant and not against other defendants. 9 I. C. 835=8 A. L. J. 364. Where there is an ex parte decree against one of the several defendants-mortgagors, and an application is made to set it aside, the better course would be to set it aside against all the defendants and direct the suit to be re-tried. 33 All. 264=38 I. A. 37=21 M. L. J. 1140 (P. C.).

COURT'S POWERS UNDER THE RULE.—A Court passing an ex parte decree is competent to deal with an application to set aside such a decree even if an appeal had been subsequently preferred. (12 C. W. N. 885; 30 Mad. 535; 13 C. W. N. 846; 38 C. 394, foll.); 26 I. C. 412; or even after an appeal therefrom has been dismissed. 26 L. W. 19=103 I. C. 146=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 722 (2)=53 M. L. J. 110. Court bound to decide whether summons was not duly served. 1926 Mad. 558=94 I. C. 420 (1)=23 L. W. 319. The trial Court cannot set aside an hearing, the Court shall make an order setting aside the decree as against him upon such terms as to costs, payment into Court or otherwise as it thinks fit, and shall appoint a day for proceeding with the suit :

Service on the son of pardanashin lady living in the same house is proper. 94 I. C. 228 = 1926 Cal. 845 (1). A Judge cannot set aside an ex parte decree against the judgment-debtor without also setting it aside as against the surety. 40 I. C. 400.

APPEAL.—Erroneous order accepting application to set aside ex parte decree—Appealability. 29 Bom. L. R. 925. An appeal lies against an order dismissing for default an application to set aside ex parte decree. 36 I. C. 798. Where an application to set aside an ex parte decree is dismissed for failure to pay process fee this is in substance a dismissal for default and an appeal lies from the order. (21 C. L. J. 628; 36 I. C. 798; 37 I. C. 835, Rel.) 69 I. C. 713. See also 51 Bom. 67 = 99 I. C. 384 = A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 1 = 28 Bom. L. R. 1245. See also 1926 A. 142 (2) = 48 A. 199; 1926 Oudh 118 = 90 I. C. 745. No appeal lies against an order refusing to set aside an ex parte decree made in a reference under the Land Acquisition Act. 94 I. C. 330 = 1926 Cal. 816.

POWERS OF APPELLATE COURT.—An appellate Court can set aside an ex parte order passed by the original Court against some of the defendants when an appeal by the other defendants is pending before it. (30 M. 535; 32 Mad. 416, foll.) 29 I. C. 458 = 2 L. W. 529. See also 42 M. L. J. 12 = 1922 M. 33. A pleader duly appearing in a suit is not obliged to file a fresh vakalatnama for the purpose of an application to set aside an ex parte decree in the suit. 24 Bom. L. R. 744 = 47 B. 11. Appellate Court cannot go beyond R. 13. 48 A. 175 = 1925 All. 610. Powers of appellate Court. See 1925 Pat. 534. Under R. 13, a defendant is entitled to have the ex parte decree set aside as against him if the summons was not duly served even when the defendants knew that the suit has been filed against him. 43 Cal. 447 = 23 C. L. J. 183. Power of appellate Court to go into sufficiency of order for substituted service. 52 M. L. J. 477. A Court can restore a suit only when it is satisfied that defendant was prevented by any sufficient cause from appearing. 64 I. C. 965 = 1 Pat. L. T. 69. Application to set aside ex parte decree—Dismissal of—Non-preferring of appeal—Final appeal against decree—Raising the same points—Validity. See 100 I. C. 553 (1).

EVIDENCE.—Where a summons has not been personally served, but served on the gumasta, the plaintiff has to prove that such service was valid since it was not so prima facie. (1913) M. W. N. 1028 = 21 I. C. 922. Burden of proof of sufficiency of service—Defective report of the process-server. 23 N. L. R. 166. In the case of a substituted service of summons the Court is not bound by the return of the process-server alone, but can declare the service good from other circumstances of the case. (21 Mad. 324, foll.; 17 C. W. N. 999; 24 All. 302; 29 Mad. 324, dist.; 6 A. L. J. 45 Diss.); 23 I. C. 14 = 26 M. L. J. 368. Under this rule the question to be considered is whether the defendant honestly intended to be present at the hearing of the suit and did his best to do so. 43 M. L. J. 632 = 46 Mad. 60. See also 5 Rang. 80 = 102 I. C. 379 = A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 150. REMEDIES.—Difference in procedure in an application under the section and appeal pointed out. 32 C. W. N. 101. The person against whom an ex parte decree is passed can apply to have it set aside under O. 9, R. 13, or he can appeal from the decree; but he cannot start a fresh proceeding to set aside the decree. 57 I. C. 551 = 22 Bom. L. R. 798. To impeach an ex parte decree on grounds other than fraud, the proper remedy is by an application under O. 9, R. 13 or an application for review or an appeal to a superior Court. A separate suit to set aside the decree will not lie. 1 Lah. 344 = 2 Lah. L. J. 622. A plaintiff whose application to set aside an ex parte decree has proved infructuous, can maintain a suit to set aside the decree on the ground of fraud or any other valid reason. (28 Cal. 475; 29 Cal. 395, Rel. on.) 15 C. L. J. 446 = 17 C. W. N. 219. A regular suit lies to set aside an ex parte decree obtained by fraud. 55 I. C. 412. A subsequent suit to set aside the decree, apart from fraud is not maintainable. 3 L. W. 522 = 36 I. C. 128. Suit to set aside ex parte decree on the ground of false claim and perjured evidence is not maintainable. 97 I. C. 879 = 31 C. W. N. 258 = A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 84. Where an appeal against an order under O. 9, R. 13 is dismissed for non-prosecution, second application under O. 9, R. 13 to restore the first application may be allowed subject to terms. 76 I. C. 583 = 1923 Cal. 552. After an appeal has been filed against a decree of the lower Court, the power to set aside the original decree becomes vested in the appellate Court. 30 M. 535. Where a suit is transferred without notice to defendant, the ex parte decree must be set aside. 1923 Lah. 444. When a decree of the lower Court is superseded by a decree of a superior Court, the former cannot alter or amend it, on the application of defendants against whom the ex parte decree was passed. 37 All. 208 = 28 I. C. 261 = 13 A. L. J. 283; but see 53 M. L. J. 110.

PROVISO.—The fact that the decree is the result of a compromise is no bar to the application of the proviso. (1927) M. W. N. 294 = 101 I. C. 98 = 38 M. L. T. (H. C.) 315 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 550. as against such defendant only it may be set aside as against all or any of the other defendants also.

[Madras] Make the following amendments to O. 9, R. 13 :—

Re-number Rule 13 as Rule 13 (1).

Insert the following as proviso to sub-rule (1) of Rule 13 of Order IX :—

“ Provided further that no Court shall set aside a decree passed ex parte merely on the ground that there has been an irregularity in the service of summons, if it be satisfied that the defendant had notice of the date of hearing in sufficient time to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim.”

Add the following as Sub-Rule (2) to Rule 13 :—

“(2) The provisions of Sec. 5 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, shall apply to applications under sub-rule (1).

[Allahabad] Add the following further provisos and explanation :—

Provided also that no such decree shall be set aside merely on the ground of irregularity in the service of summons, if the court is satisfied that the defendant knew, or but for his wilful conduct would have known of the date of hearing in sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim.

Provided also that no ex parte decree shall be set aside under this rule on the ground that the summons was not duly served, if the Court is satisfied that the defendant had information of the date of hearing sufficient to enable him to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim.

Explanation.—Where a summons has been served under O. V, R. 15, on an adult male member having an interest adverse to that of the defendant in the subject-matter of the suit, it shall not be deemed to have been duly served within the meaning of this rule.

[Bangoon] In Order IX, Rule 13 substitute ‘decree or order’ for the word ‘decree’ wherever it occurs in that Rule.

In Rule 13, add the following as second proviso :—

‘ Provided also that no decree or order shall be set aside under this rule merely on the ground that there has been an irregularity in the service of the summons, if the Court is satisfied that the defendant was aware of the date of hearing in sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer the plaintiff's claim.’

No decree to be set aside without notice to opposite party.

14. [S. 109.] No decree shall be set aside on any such application as aforesaid unless notice thereof has been served on the opposite party.

ORDER X.

EXAMINATION OF PARTIES BY THE COURT.

1. [S. 117.] At the first hearing of the suit the Court shall ascertain from each party or his pleader whether he admits or denies such allegations of fact as are made in the plaint or written statement (if any) of the opposite party, and as are not expressly or by necessary implication admitted or denied by the party against whom they are made. The Court shall record such admissions and denials.

2. [S. 118.] At the first hearing of the suit, or at any subsequent hearing, any party appearing in person or present in Court, or any person able to answer any material questions relating to the suit by whom such party or his pleader is accompanied, may be examined orally by the Court; and the Court may, if it thinks fit, put in the course of such examination questions suggested by either party.

Oral examination of party or companion of party.

O. 9, R. 14.—R. 14 is imperative and an ex parte decree against the defendant can be set aside only after notice has been served on the plaintiff. 24 M. L. J. 482 = 13 M. L. T. 344 = 19 I.C. 241 = (1913) M. W. N. 340. See also Notes under R. 13. “Opposite party,” meaning of. See 31 C. W. N. 906 = 103 I. C. 860 = A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 692.

O. 10, R. 1.—An admission on a question of fact made by a pleader binds his client. 9 W.R. 485. See also 2 M. I. A. 253. An erroneous consent of a vakil upon a mistaken view of the law cannot bind the client. 16 W. R. 246. A pleader cannot relinquish any portion of his client's case without express authority. 12 W. R. 279. Admissions made by a party under O. 10, R. 1 are conclusive against him. 49 All. 210 = 97 I.C. 176 = 1926 A. 710 = 25 A. L. J. 48. Under O. 10, R. 1 it is obligatory on the Court to examine them only when there is no clear express or implied denial of any statement of fact in their pleadings. 92 I. C. 1006 = 8 Lah. L. J. 67.

O. 10, R. 2.—The object of the examination is not to take evidence, but to see what are the matters in dispute. 15 I. A. 119. See 5 Bom. L. R. 687 and 1905 A. W. N. 170; 1926 All. 411 = 94 I. C. 1003. A statement made under O. 10, R. 2 for a person who appears with a pleader merely to prosecute a case or to look after it would not necessarily bind the party on whose behalf he appears. 1926 A. 411 = 94 I. C. 1003.

Substance of examination to be written.

3. [S. 119.] The substance of the examination shall be reduced to writing by the Judge, and shall form part of the record.

4. [S. 120.] (1) Where the pleader of any party who appears by a pleader or any such person accompanying a pleader as is referred to in rule (2) refuses or is unable to answer any material question relating to the suit which the Court is of opinion that the party whom he represents ought to answer, and is likely to be able to answer if interrogated in person, the Court may postpone the hearing of the suit to a future day and direct that such party shall appear in person on such day.

(2) If such party fails without lawful excuse to appear in person on the day so appointed, the Court may pronounce judgment against him, or make such order in relation to the suit as it thinks fit.

ORDER XI.

DISCOVERY AND INSPECTION.

1. [S. 121.] In any suit the plaintiff or defendant by leave of the Court may deliver interrogatories in writing for the examination of the opposite parties or any one or more of such parties, and such interrogatories when delivered shall have a note at the foot thereof stating which of such interrogatories each of such persons is required to answer: Provided that no party shall deliver more than one set of interrogatories to the same party without an order for that purpose: Provided also that interrogatories which do not relate

O. 10, R. 4.—The powers granted by this rule are discretionary, and its intention seems to be to enable the Court not only to get obscure points cleared up by getting information, but also to get admission to narrow down the issues. 5 Bom. L. R. 687. O. 10, R. 4 is a self-contained Code for cases where a party is ordered to attend because the Court desires to have his evidence. 63 I. C. 961 = 14 L. W. 15 = 1921 M. 417. The rule does not appear to provide for cases where party appears and refuses to answer. For such cases, see O. 16, R. 20. The parties to suits should not be required to attend the Court under R. 4 unless questions material to the case which are to be answered have first been put to their pleaders and they have been unable or have refused to answer them. 48 I. C. 269 = 21 O. C. 252. Court ordering plaintiff to appear on the challenge of the defendant—Validity of the order. 24 L. W. 757. The question required to be answered must be material. 2 Bom. H. C. R. 340 = 21 W. R. 44. Pleader merely applying for adjournment is not putting an appearance. 99 I. C. 717 = A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 46; 4 Rang. 408.

Cl. (2).—What is lawful excuse will depend upon the circumstances of each case. 18 W. R. 63. Before pronouncing judgment, the Judge should hear what the defaulter has to say, and adjudicate on the sufficiency of the excuse. 24 W. R. 314. An order under O. 10, R. 4 (2) against one of the parties is not appealable under O. 43, R. 1 unless that order amounts to a judgment. 39 All. 450 = 39 I. C. 151.

O. 11, APPLICATION OF THE ORDER.—Order 11 of the Code applies to proceedings in probate. 49 Cal. 300 = 23 C. L. J. 480. Under the Code interrogatories can be administered in the same manner as is done in England for discovering the facts in issue. 24 I. C. 765 = 41 Cal. 6 (7 Cal. 840, Dist.).

O. 11, R. 1. WHAT INTERROGATORIES MAY BE DELIVERED.—Question to extract information as to material facts in issue or for the purpose of obtaining admissions about them may be asked. The mere fact that the questions would be admissible in cross examination does not make them good as interrogatories. 17 I. C. 155 = 17 C. L. J. 66. Interrogatories must not be exhibited unreasonably or vexatiously or be prolix—unnecessary or scandalous, nor be obviously meant for the purpose of fishing information. (Ibid.) Thus defendant setting up the plea of wagering should not be allowed to interrogate his opponent generally as to his business transactions. (Ibid.) Interrogatories as to the amount of damages are relevant, though they may not be allowed until the question in action has been tried. See 14 C. at p. 706. Interrogatories should be disallowed if aimed at discovering the nature of the opponent's evidence. 69 I. C. 417 = 1923 Lah. 282 (2). Interrogatories on matters of opinion are not admissible. 23 C. 117.

'OPPOSITE PARTY'.—The party on the other side of the record to the applicant is an opposite party, and he may be ordered to give discovery if he is a necessary party to an action, although there may be no issue or matter in question at all between him and the applicant. Spokes v. Grosvenor & Co., (1897) 2 Q.B. 124. See also 17 B. 384. An ex parte defendant does not come within the words "opposite party." 61 I. C. 258. The plaintiff is not entitled to administer interrogatories to him; nor is he entitled to do so with defendants who have the same interests as he (the plaintiff) has in the suit. 63 I. C. 258. An objection to the relevancy of interrogatories must be adjudicated upon by the court. 46 I. C. 660 = 16 A. L. J. 762. An ex parte order giving leave to interrogate, can be set aside on the application of the opposite party. 5 C. 707.

to any matters in question in the suit shall be deemed irrelevant, notwithstanding that they might be admissible on the oral cross-examination of a witness.

2. On an application for leave to deliver interrogatories, the particular interrogatories proposed to be delivered shall be submitted to the Court. In deciding upon such application, the Court shall take into account any offer, which may be made by the party sought to be interrogated to deliver particulars, or to make admissions, or to produce documents relating to the matters in question, or any of them, and leave shall be given as to such only of the interrogatories submitted as the Court shall consider necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

3. [S. 123.] In adjusting the costs of the suit inquiry shall at the instance of any party be made into the propriety of exhibiting such interrogatories, and if it is the opinion of the taxing officer or of the Court, either with or without an application for inquiry, that such interrogatories have been exhibited unreasonably, vexatiously, or at improper length, the costs occasioned by the said interrogatories and the answers thereto shall be paid in any event by the party in fault.

Form of interrogatories.

4. Interrogatories shall be in Form No. 2 in Appendix C, with such variations as circumstances may require.

5. [S. 124.] Where any party to a suit is a corporation or a body of persons, whether incorporated or not, empowered by law to sue or be sued, whether in its own name or in the name of any officer or other person, any opposite party may apply for an order allowing him to deliver interrogatories to any member or officer of such corporation or body, and an order may be made accordingly.

And an order may be made requiring him to answer or answer further, either by affidavit or by viva voce examination, as the Court may direct.

Notice to produce.

17. The Court shall not make such order for inspection of such documents when and so far as the Court shall be of opinion that it is not necessary either for disposing fairly of the suit or for saving costs.

Any party may, by notice in writing, at any time not later than nine days before the day fixed for the hearing, call on any other party to admit, for the purposes of the suit only, any specific fact or facts mentioned in such notice. Any party may at any stage of a suit, where admissions of fact have been made, either on the pleadings, or otherwise, apply to the Court for such judgment or order as upon such admissions he may be entitled to, without waiting for the determination of any other question between the parties: and the Court may upon such application make such order, or give such judgment, as the Court may think just.

“(3) Whenever an order or judgment is pronounced under the provisions of this rule a decree may be drawn up in accordance with such order or judgment and bearing the same date as the day on which the order or judgment was pronounced.”

[Patna] Substitute the following for rule 6 in Order XII:—

6. Where admissions of fact have been made, either on the pleadings or otherwise, the Court may, at any stage of a suit, on the application of any party, or, of its own motion, without waiting for the determination of any other question between the parties, make such order or give such judgment, as it may think just.

Add the following as sub-rule (2):—

‘A decree or order passed under this rule may be executed at any time, notwithstanding that other questions between the parties still remain to be decided in the case.’

(2) The parties or their pleaders may also file, with the permission of the Court, either on the date of hearing or any subsequent date to be fixed by the Court for the purpose, a supplementary list of further documents on which they intend to rely, and such documents shall be produced by them within the time fixed by the court.

ORDER XIV.

SETTLEMENT OF ISSUES AND DETERMINATION OF SUIT ON ISSUES OF LAW OR ON ISSUES AGREED UPON.

Framing of issues.

1. [S. 146.] (1) Issues arise when a material proposition of fact or law is affirmed by the one party and denied by the other.

(2) Material propositions are those propositions of law or fact which a plaintiff must allege in order to show a right to sue or a defendant must allege in order to constitute his defence.

(3) Each material proposition affirmed by one party and denied by the other shall form the subject of a distinct issue.

(4) Issues are of two kinds : (a) issues of fact, (b) issues of law.

(5) At the first hearing of the suit the Court shall, after reading the plaint and the written statements, if any, and after such examination of the parties as may appear necessary, ascertain upon what material propositions of fact or of law the parties are at variance, and shall thereupon proceed to frame and record the issues on which the right decision of the case appears to depend.

(6) Nothing in this rule requires the Court to frame and record issues where the defendant at the first hearing of the suit makes no defence.

2. [S. 146, para. 6.] Where issues both of law and of fact arise in the same suit, and the Court is of opinion that the case or any part thereof may be disposed of on the issues of law only, it

O. 14, R. 1. OBJECT OF FRAMING OF ISSUES.—"We make it the occasion for insisting on the importance of defining with precision at the outset, the points on which a decision must turn. This no doubt requires thought and care, but the time is well spent; while vague and general issues for the most part mean that the case is approached without a clear idea of its essentials." 28 B. 424. See also 22 C. 324 (P. C.); 11 C. 111, 118 (P. C.). The duty of framing issues rests under the Code on the Court, and it would be unsafe to presume from the failure of the court to raise the necessary issues, an intention of the defendant to admit the facts which the plaintiff was bound to prove. 26 B. 360. See also 47 I. C. 589 = 35 M. L. J. 372; 51 I. C. 1007. It is the duty of court primarily to frame issues but the parties are entitled to be heard. 1925 Mad. 169; 60 I. C. 751. Court cannot raise points not raised by parties. 1923 All. 167; 21 M. L. J. 1008 = 12 I. C. 137. No issues arise where there is no averment or denial. 68 I. C. 106 = 2 Lah. L. J. 188. J. 321 (P. C.). This rule implies that issues may be settled whether there is a written statement or not, though it is not obligatory on the Court to frame issues when the defendant makes no defence. 11 C. W. N. 870. See also 29 B. 234. The Court is not bound to frame issues when the defendant does not appear. 15 W. R. 145. O. 14, R. 2. APPLICATION OF THE RULE.—The provisions of this rule, as to trying issues of law before those of fact only come into operation at the first hearing of the suit. 4 B. 578. O. 14, R. 2 does not apply to cases in which issues of fact have not been settled but applies to cases, where the Court has not postponed the settlement of issues of fact. 28 I. C. 813 = 19 C. W. R. 2 applies when on settlement of issues the Court thinks there are issues of law upon which the case or some part thereof may be disposed of, then those issues of fact may be postponed. 15 L. (b) allegations made in the pleadings or in answers to interrogatories delivered in the suit ;

(c) the contents of documents produced by either party.

4. [S. 148.] Where the Court is of opinion that the issues cannot be correctly framed without the examination of some person not before the Court or without the inspection of some document not produced in the suit, it may adjourn the framing of the issues to a future day, and may (subject to any law for

(b) some property specified in the agreement and in dispute in the suit shall be delivered by one of the parties to the other of them, or as that other may direct ; or

 Parties not at issue.
2. [S. 153.] Where there are more defendants than one, and any one of the defendants is not at issue with the plaintiff on any question of law or of fact, the Court may at once pronounce judgment for or against such defendant and the suit shall proceed only against the other defendants.

3. [S. 154.] (1) Where the parties are at issue on some question of law or of fact, and issues have been framed by the Court as hereinbefore provided, if the Court is satisfied that no further argument or evidence than the parties can at once adduce is required upon such of the issues as may be sufficient for the decision of the suit, and that no injustice will result from proceeding with the suit forthwith, the Court may proceed to determine such issues, and, if the finding thereon is sufficient for the decision, may pronounce judgment accordingly, whether the summons has been issued for the settlement of issues only or for the final disposal of the suit :

Provided that, where the summons has been issued for the settlement of issues only, the parties or their pleaders are present and none of them objects.

(2) Where the finding is not sufficient for the decision, the Court shall postpone the further hearing of the suit, and shall fix a day for the production of such further evidence, or for such further arguments as the case requires.

4. [S. 155.] Where the summons has been issued for the final disposal of the suit and either party fails without sufficient cause to produce the evidence on which he relies, the court may at once pronounce judgment, or may, if it thinks fit, after framing and recording issues, adjourn the suit for the production of such evidence as may be necessary for its decision upon such issues.

SUMMONING AND ATTENDANCE OF WITNESSES.

Where any party to a suit, to whom time has been granted, fails, without reasonable excuse, to produce his evidence, or to cause the attendance of his witnesses, or to comply with any previous order, or to perform any other act necessary to the further progress of the suit, for which time has been allowed, the court may, whether such party is present or not, proceed to decide the suit on the merits.

(Substituted by Oudh Chief Court) [Oudh] (3) Where any party to a suit to whom time has been granted fails without reasonable excuse, to produce his evidence, or to cause the attendance of his witnesses, or to comply with any previous order or to perform any other act necessary to the further progress of the suit for which time has been allowed, the Court may, notwithstanding such default, and whether such party is present or not proceed to decide the suit on the merits.

ORDER XVIII.

HEARING OF THE SUIT AND EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.

1. [S. 179 Expln.] The plaintiff has the right to begin unless the defendant admits the facts alleged by the plaintiff and contends that either in point of law or on some additional facts alleged by the defendant, the plaintiff is not entitled to any part of the relief which he seeks, in which case the defendant has the right to begin.

2. [S. 179.] (1) On the day fixed for the hearing of the suit or on any other day to which the hearing is adjourned, the party having the right to begin shall state his case and produce his evidence in support of the issues which he is bound to prove.

what they were directed to do. 41 Mad. 286 = 34 M. L. J. 24 (F. B.). The words "notwithstanding such default" in R. 3 clearly imply that the Court is to proceed with the disposal of the suit in spite of the default upon such materials as are before it. 51 M. L. J. 684.

SCOPE AND OPERATION OF THE RULE.—R. 3 merely authorises the Court to proceed to decide the suit forthwith and it does not authorise its dismissal summarily. 71 I. C. 862 = 1924 Lah. 404. R. 3 is an enabling and not a mandatory rule. 52 I. C. 292 = 150 P. R. 1919. Where there is no default by party, Court cannot proceed under this rule. 69 I. C. 665 = 1924 Lah. 272. Party's failure to request the Court to pass orders under O. 16, R. 10 (2) and (3) for getting the attendance of material witnesses, does not enable the Court to proceed under R. 3. 33 All. 690 = 8 A. L. J. 839 = 10 I. C. 903. A dismissal of suit for failure to amend plaint and pay costs of adjournment cannot fall under O. 17, R. 3. C. P. C. 96 I. C. 312 = 1926 Lah. 571. Plaintiff present on date of hearing but not present on date fixed for return of summons—R. 3 is not applicable—Dismissal of suit is illegal. 102 I. C. 289 = 1927 Lah. 484. Absence of defendant on date of hearing—Court should proceed under O. 17, R. 3. 9 O. L. J. 543 = 72 I. C. 394. Default in appearance is not covered by this rule. 1 P. 188 = 69 I. C. 837. Date fixed for final disposal of suit and for appointment of guardian. No steps taken by plaintiff for latter—Suit cannot be dismissed. 63 I. C. 570 = 2 Pat. L. T. 572 = 6 P. L. J. 650. Party not aware that he was to pay adjournment costs—Further hearing not conditional upon payment of costs—Time should be allowed. 1926 Cal. 1221 = 97 I. C. 172 (2). Plaintiff ordered to appear as a witness—Failure to appear—Dismissal of suit is improper. 100 I. C. 788 (1) = 1927 Lah. 388 (1). Production of stay order is not an act within the rule. 105 I. C. 30.

APPEAL.—Only an appeal and no revision lies against an order under O. 17, R. 3. 34 All. 123 = 8 A. L. J. 1265. This is so even if the Court wrongly acts under R. 3 instead of under R. 2. 84 I. C. 521 (1) = 1925 All. 252. A mistake in judgment stating the disposal was under R. 2 does not affect the right of appeal. 86 I. C. 356 = 1925 Oudh 495. A decision passed "forthwith" under O. 17, R. 3 is one on the merits as gathered from available facts. 31 I. C. 307 = 2 L. W. 1067. Decree passed on merits—Party cannot appeal against order setting it aside but must appeal against the decree. 103 I. C. 192 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 562 (1).

O. 18, R. 1.—The right to begin in a Small Cause Court—Preference is generally given to plaintiff. 13 B. L. R. 142. Restitution of conjugal rights, suit for—Marriage admitted but coercion and non-consent pleaded—Defendant should begin. 7 Bur. L. T. 129 = 23 I. C. 242. Applicant for mesne profits of property taken in execution of a decree reversed on appeal, must begin. 47 M. 800 = A. I. R. 1925 M. 145 = 48 M. L. J. 89. Where a defendant pleads minority he must prove his plea. 8 W. R. 371. Right of objector under Income-tax Act to begin. See 48 C. 161.

O. 18, R. 2.—"The day fixed for the hearing of the suit," see 82 I. C. 73 = 1925 All. 98. New pleadings cannot be introduced without leave of the Court. 103 I. C. 501 = A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 615 (1). Every party is entitled to have all the witnesses whom he desires to call, and is ready at the trial to produce, heard by the Court. 17 W. R. 172 = 6 C. 608 = 9 B. 146 = 2 M. I. A. 424. But see 6 B. L. R. Ap. 10. The omission of Counsel to argue a question of law, or his abandonment of it, is not sufficient to disentitle the Court to go into the question. The case is different when a question of fact is concerned. 11 C. W. N. 340 (342). Plaintiff accepting onus—Court not bound to hear defendant's case if plaintiff fails. 25 M. L. J. 281 = 21 I. C. 96.

(2) [S. 180, paras. 1 and 2.] The other party shall then state his case and produce his evidence (if any) and may then address the Court generally on the whole case.

[Madras] Explanation.—Nothing in this rule shall affect the jurisdiction of the Court, for reasons to be recorded in writing, to direct any party to examine any witness at any stage.

[Rangoon] Add the following as a proviso to sub-rule (2) of Rule 2 :—

“Provided that the Court may, in its discretion, call upon the other party to proceed under this sub-rule before the evidence of the party having the right to begin is complete if it considers that the other party will not be prejudiced by so proceeding and that unnecessary inconvenience and delay will thereby be avoided.

(3) The party beginning may then reply generally on the whole case.

some of which lies on the other party, the party beginning may, at his option, either produce his evidence on those issues or reserve it by way of answer to the evidence produced by the other party; and, in the latter case, the party beginning may produce evidence on those issues after the other party has produced all his evidence, and the other party may then reply specially on the evidence so produced by the party beginning; but the party beginning will then be entitled to reply generally on the whole case.

Witnesses to be examined in open Court.

4. [S. 181.] The evidence of the witnesses in attendance shall be taken orally in open Court in the presence and under the personal direction and superintendence of the Judge.

5. [S. 182.] In cases in which an appeal is allowed the evidence of each witness, shall be taken down in writing, in the language of the Court, by or in the presence and under the personal direction and superintendence of the Judge, not ordinarily in the form of question and answer, but in that of a narrative, and, when completed, shall be read over in the presence of the Judge and of the witness, and the Judge shall, if necessary, correct the same, and shall sign it.

[Rangoon] 5. In cases in which an appeal is allowed, the evidence of each witness shall be taken down in writing in the language of the Court or in English by or in the presence and under the direction and supervision of the judge, not ordinarily in the form of question and answer, but in that of a narrative, and when completed shall be read over or translated to the witness by such person as the judge may direct, provided that the judge may, if he thinks fit, require the evidence to be read over in his own presence.

O. 18, R. 3.—Suit for declaration and recovery of possession—Plea of benami in defence—Plaintiff has right to adduce evidence of rebuttal after the close of evidence of benami by the defendant. 93 I.C. 273=7 Pat. L. T. 445.

O. 18, R. 4.—Courts should in all cases exercise the powers entrusted by law in the examination of witnesses, if they see that they are not properly examined. 10 W. R. 280. A pardanashin lady should be admitted into Court in her palanquin, and her evidence taken after her being properly identified. 1 B. L. R. 5. Omission to administer an oath to a witness, or any irregularity in the form in which it is administered does not invalidate the proceedings. 24 W. R. 31. See S. 13 of the Oaths Act X of 1873.

O. 18, R. 5. SCOPE AND OBJECT OF.—Failure to comply with the provisions of this rule and R. 6 is an informality which renders the deposition inadmissible in evidence on a charge of giving false evidence based on such deposition. 6 C. 762. O. 18, Rr. 5 to 12 have no application to Small Cause Courts and the depositions need not be read over to the witnesses and they would be admissible in evidence in a prosecution for perjury. 89 I. C. 390 (2)=1925 Nag.

412. The object of O. 18, R. 5 is to ensure accuracy; non-compliance with it does not affect the admissibility but the weight to be attached to the evidence. (18 Mad. 308; 42 Cal. 240, Diss.); 27 C. L. J. 377=22 C. W. N. 646. See also 51 C. 236; 45 C. 825. Reading out the deposition to a witness in a room adjoining the Court-hall and at a distance of 30 feet from the Judge's seat is a sufficient compliance with O. 18, R. 5. (1918) M. W. N. 239=7 L. W. 435. Reading over of the deposition by the witness himself is a sufficient compliance with the rule. 46 Cal. 895=23 C. W. N. 661. S. 91, Evidence Act, bars the admission of secondary evidence in proving a witness's statement, where it was not read over to him according to requirements of R. 5. 1 Lah. 361=58 I. C. 830. Witnesses in civil cases are not legally bound to sign or thumb mark their depositions. Courts cannot order them to do so, nor could they be compelled to sign under S. 151. 8 P. R. 1912 (Cr.)=16 I. C. 521. When parties agree that evidence is to be taken in a particular way, and that evidence in one suit shall be treated as evidence in another suit, it is not a matter which affects the jurisdiction of the Court. 30 B. 109.

Interpreter or Clerk.

The Judge shall, if necessary, correct the deposition and shall sign it

6. [S. 183.] Where the evidence is taken down in a language different from that in which it is given, and the witness does not understand the language in which it is taken down, the evidence as taken down in writing shall be interpreted to him in the language in which it is given.

[Rangoon] "6-A. Where there are no interpreters paid by Government and it is found necessary to employ an interpreter in a civil case, he shall be paid such fee, ordinarily not exceeding Rs. 2 per diem, as the Court may fix. The fee shall be advanced by the party at whose instance the interpreter is required, and shall be treated as costs in the case. All payments of interpreters' fees shall be made through the Court and duly entered in Bailiff's Register II."

7. [S. 185-A, para. 3.] Evidence taken down under section 138 shall be in the form prescribed by rule 5 and shall be read over and signed and, as occasion may require, interpreted and corrected as if it were evidence taken down under that rule.

8. [S. 184.] Where the evidence is not taken down in writing by the Judge, he shall be bound, as the examination of each witness proceeds, to make a memorandum of the substance of what each witness deposes, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge and shall form part of the record.

9. [S. 185.] Where English is not the language of the Court, but all the parties to the suit who appear in person, and the pleaders of such as appear by pleaders, do not object to have such evidence as is given in English taken down in English, the Judge may so take it down.

10. [S. 186.] The Court may, of its own motion or on the application of any party or his pleader, take down any particular question and answer, or any objection to any question, if there appears to be any special reason for so doing.

11. [S. 187.] Where any question put to a witness is objected to by a party or his pleader, and the Court allows the same to be put, the Judge shall take down the question, the answer, the objection and the name of the person making it, together with the decision of the Court thereon.

12. [S. 188.] The Court may record such remarks as it thinks material respecting the demeanour of any witness while under examination.

13. [S. 189.] In cases in which an appeal is not allowed, it shall not be necessary to take down the evidence of the witnesses in writing at length; but the Judge, as the examination of each witness proceeds, shall make a memorandum of the substance of what he deposes, and such memorandum shall be written and signed by the Judge and shall form part of the record.

14. [S. 190.] (1) Where the Judge is unable to make a memorandum as required by this Order, he shall cause the reason of such inability to be recorded, and shall cause the memorandum to be made in writing from his dictation in open Court.

2. [S. 199.] A Judge may pronounce a judgment written but not pronounced by his predecessor.

3. [S. 202.] The judgment shall be dated and signed by the Judge in open court at the time of pronouncing it and, when once signed, shall not afterwards be altered or added to, save as provided by section 152 or on review.

But evidence could be taken to ascertain the boundaries, and the subject on which the decree operates. 16 W. R. 171; 22 W. R. 330. If the boundaries given are no longer in existence, evidence may be taken to ascertain the former position of the lands. 16 W. R. 191.

The Court which passed the decree is the Court which can postpone the execution of decree under O. 22, R. 11. 32 M. L. J. 13=40 M. 233 (F. B.). An order postponing execution of a decree or ordering payment by instalments is virtually an order amending the decree. 34 I. C. 393. Rule refers to order passed by the Court which passed the decree and not executing Court. 2 Pat. L. T. 80=58 I. C. 893. The trial Court has the power under O. 20, R. 11, C. P. LIMITATION.—When an order under this rule is made on an application filed after the expiry of the period of limitation, the order is invalid. 14 C. 348 (350). But an order under this rule is not a nullity because it postpones the period of limitation. 7 M. 152 (154). See also 12 B. 65.

- (ii) the relinquishment of possession by the judgment-debtor with notice to the decree-holder through the Court, or
- (iii) the expiration of three years from the date of the decree, whichever event first occurs.

(2) Where an inquiry is directed under clause (b) or clause (c), a final decree in respect of the rent or mesne profits shall be passed in accordance with the result of such inquiry.

[Madras] Add the following to O. XX, R. 12 :—

(3) Where an Appellate Court directs such an inquiry, it may direct the Court of first instance to make the inquiry; and in every case the Court of first instance shall, on the application of the decree-holder inquire and pass the final decree.

13. [S. 213.] (1) Where a suit is for an account of any property and for its due administration under the decree of the Court, the Court shall, before passing the final decree, pass a preliminary decree ordering such accounts and inquiries to be taken and made, and giving such other directions as it thinks fit.

INTEREST ON MESNE PROFITS.—See notes under S. 2, cl. (12). See also 35 C. 329 (Mesne profits shall carry interest unless expressly refused). See also 27 C. 951 = 4 C. W. N. 631 (P. C.); 6 A. L. On this point, see also 10 C. 785 (P. C.); 4 Pat. 57 = 84 I. C. 272.

PROCEDURE.—The enquiry as to mesne profits is a part of the proceedings in the suit consequent on the preliminary decree and is terminated by a final decree after the mesne profits are ascertained. 41 I. C. 231 = 2 Pat. L. J. 394. Suit for possession by heir—Enquiry into mesne profits from date of suit should be directed. 66 J. C. 494 = 2 Lah. 383. Where a Court by an order determines the principle for ascertaining mesne profits, such an order is one made in a pending suit and is therefore not appealable. 13 I. C. 186. (19 Cal. 132; 5 I. C. 272, Rel. on). A decree for mesne profits does not become operative till the amount has been ascertained by the Court and the Court-fee paid thereon under S. 11 of the Court Fees Act, 27 I. C. 300. The cases mentioned in O. 20 of the C. P. Code are not exhaustive of the orders which may form the basis of final decrees. 27 C. W. N. 989 = 38 C. L. J. 255. In the absence of a period for the calculation of mesne profits in a decree awarding mesne profits, the decree should be construed as awarding mesne profits for three years. 24 I. C. 484 = 1 L. W. 443. When a decree is passed both for possession and mesne profits, decree for possession only must be executed first. 2 L. W. 688 = 30 I. C. 246.

JURISDICTION—Jurisdiction is not taken away by the mesne profits ascertained by the Court exceeding the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court. 21 C. 550; 40 C. 56; 15 I. C. 252; 2 Pat. L. T. 143 = 6 Pat. L. J. 54. See also 2 Pat. L. T. 648 = 68 I. C. 903; 32 I. C. 788. Suit for mesne profits is cognizable by Small Cause Courts. 23 C. 884 (F. B.); 22 M. 196; 24 M. 118. But see 25 B. 85; 14 C. W. N. 1001. After an order has been finally made determining the amount of mesne profits due, a formal decree should be drawn up to give effect to the order which terminates the suit. 32 C. 175. See also 15 B. 416. Where a preliminary decree in a partition suit has omitted to direct an enquiry into mesne profits the final decree cannot award mesne profits or direct an enquiry as to mesne profits. 42 M. 296 = (1919) M. LIMITATION—Limitation for execution runs from the date of the final decree, that is, from the ascertainment of mesne profits. 4 C. 629; 8 M. 137; 14 C. 50; 19 C. 132 (F. B.); 25 C. 203; 14 A. 531; 25 A. 385; 32 C. 175; 25 A. 623. Under Art. 109 of the Limitation Act mesne profits can be recovered only for a period preceding three years next before the institution of suit. 10 C. 785 (P. C.); 8 C. L. J. 181 = 35 C. 996 = 13 C. W. N. 15; see also 5 M. 236. But see 33 C. 23 (P. C.). The period of three years has no reference to the time when the rents fall due. 24 C. 413; 32 C. 118.

COURT FEES.—As to the Court fees leviable on mesne profits ascertained subsequent to the decree, see under S. 11 of the Court Fees Act. See also 55 I. C. 24 = 1 Pat. L. T. 235. Fees are payable on the difference between the amount paid on the mesne profits claimed in the plaint and the amount ascertained to be due subsequent to the filing of the suit. 10 L. B. (2) Where the Court has adjudicated upon rival claims to pre-emption, the decree shall direct—

(b) if and in so far as the claims decreed are different in degree, that the claim of the inferior pre-emptor shall not take effect unless and until the superior pre-emptor has failed to comply with the said provisions.

15. [S. 215.] Where a suit is for the dissolution of a partnership, or the taking of partnership accounts, the Court before passing a final decree, may pass a preliminary decree declaring the proportionate shares of the parties, fixing the day on which

Court can inquire whether a decree for possession of lands has been satisfied. 25 M. L. J. 586=21 I. C. 439. Rule recognises discharge by operation of law. 23 I. C. 848. This rule does not debar a Criminal Court from recognizing an uncertified payment when the decree-holder is charged with fraudulently executing satisfied decree. 9 M. 101, 4 M. 325. This rule has reference only to proceedings in execution as between parties to the decree. 10 M. L. J. 213. This rule does not limit the operation of S. 47. A separate suit does not lie to declare that a decree has been satisfied. 8 C. W. N. 395. This rule covers a much larger ground than what is covered by S. 47. It deals with all adjustments arrived at between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor. 25 C. 718 (724). The executing Court can investigate the adjustment of a decree out of Court. 50 I. C. 443=135 P. R. 1919. (36 Mad. 357 ; 24 C. L. J. 462, Rel. ; 34 Bom. 575 ; 40 Bom. 333 Dis.) Agreement to give time to the judgment-debtor is valid. 24 I. C. 391. MEANING OF TERMS.—Receipts by a mortgagee in possession, after decree, will not be "money payable under the decree" and need not be certified. 28 M. 473, (478) (F. B.). See also 30 M. 255 at p. 265 ; 38 I. C. 675=39 Mad. 1026. As regards decree-holder, see 25 M. 431 (440) (F. B.). See also 28 A. 252 ; 26 A. 318, 29 M. 183 ; 26 A. 334 ; and 9 C. 831. "To show cause"—For the meaning of these words, see 11 C. 166. The words "of any kind" have been added after the word "decree" in the first paragraph to give effect to the ruling in 6 C. 786. See also 49 Mad. 716=50 M. L. J. 547. 8 C. W. N. 1028 and 22 M. 182 are not now good law.

"COURT".—An application for recording adjustment may be made to the Collector to whom a decree has been transferred for execution. 16 A. 228. Also to a Court to which a decree is sent for execution. 5 C. 448. The certificate of payment or adjustment should be filed in the Court which passed the decree or to Court to which it was sent for execution. 25 M. L. J. 586; 5 Cal. 448. Filing in the wrong Court and obtaining an order "recorded" from that Court cannot be treated as valid. 25 M. L. J. 586=21 I. C. 639. Court proceeding against surety is not strictly Court executing decree. 20 S. L. R. 362=96 I. C. 234=A. I. R. 1926 Sind 105.

WHAT ARE ADJUSTMENTS.—The adjustment referred to under O. 21, R. 2, C. P. C., is such an adjustment as completely or partly extinguishes the decree under execution and cannot mean an adjustment to give effect to the terms of which would be to create a new decree at variance with the decree under execution and which will again have to be executed. 32 C. W. N. 434. Services rendered by the judgment-debtor to decree-holder amounts to an adjustment. 12 I. C. 169=11 M. L. T. 380. An agreement whereby the rights under it should supersede the decree is an adjustment of it. 35 Mad. 75=21 M. L. J. 709. Rule 2 (1) covers an agreement extinguishing the right of execution. 12 I. C. 364=7 N. L. R. 136. An award on arbitration is binding upon the parties as an adjustment. A. I. R. 1927 Sind 66; 42 I. C. 467=3 Pat. L. W. 146. Agreement not to execute one decree if another is satisfied is a sufficient adjustment and satisfaction can be recorded for the former. 1925 Rang. 349=4 Bur. L. J. 179. But see 32 C. W. N. 434. A compromise at the time of execution must be treated as if incorporated in the decree itself. 57 I. C. 591. An incomplete inchoate contract cannot bar execution. Judgment-debtor cannot claim completion of such contract. 43 I. C. 537. An oral agreement not performed by either party cannot bar execution. 103 I. C. 86=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 537. Part payments towards money decrees can be certified by decree holder in execution application. 26 C. W. N. 534=35 C. L. J. 566. It is sufficient if the payment or adjustment is either certified or recorded. 30 I. C. 45=21 C. L. J. 362.

WHO CAN CERTIFY.—The holder of a decree that is attached may certify satisfaction of the decree after the attachment. 2 M. L. J. 288; 1 Luck. 428. See also 16 B. 522. The law casts on the decree-holder the duty of certifying payment 30 M. 545. See also 1 Bur. L. J. 207=1923 Rang. 88. Vakil's duty to report to Court payment of decree amount to him as early as possible. 105 I. C. 86=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 947=53 M. L. J. 901. A manager of a joint family can certify satisfaction of a decree so as to bind the other members. 35 All. 380=19 I. C. 645. So also one partner on behalf of a firm. A. I. R. 1926 Sind 167. Any one of joint decree-holders can report satisfaction so far as his own share goes and cannot bind others. 89 I. C. 195=1925 Pat. 822. See also A. I. R. 1925 Pat. 822. A decree-holder and his judgment-debtor can adjust their rights and liabilities and some of the judgment-debtors may be released. See 40 I. C. 1. (25 M. L. J. 586 and (1915) M. W. N. 225, Dist.) If an adjustment is not certified it is entirely the fault of the judgment-debtor. 1 Bur. L. J. 226=1923 Rang. 103. (See also same case as to fraud of decree-holder). A judgment-debtor is not bound to wait and see whether decree-holder applies or not. He can apply as soon as the payment or adjustment is made. 12 M. L. J. 94. Judgment-debtor can prove that he is discharged, even where an adjustment of a decree is not certified. 18 L. W. 453=1924 Mad. 189. Assignee or transferee of the decree cannot continue any proceedings nor can he institute any fresh proceeding for the execution of the decree. He must make an application under O. 21, R. 16 to the Court which passed the decree and the Court must order that execution may proceed at his instance. It is then open to the judgment-debtor to plead that the claim has already been satisfied. 47 Bom. 643=1923 Bom. 404. An uncertified adjustment between the assignee and the judgment-debtor before the former applies under O. 21, R. 16 can be validly pleaded as bar to execution. 31 C. W. N. 921=104 I. C. 4=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 694. Where a decree-holder attaches another decree without notice to the judgment-debtor and the latter pays money to his decree-holder, satisfaction should be entered in his decree notwithstanding the attachment. 61 I. C. 815=13 L. W. 34. A surety can apply. 49 Mad. 325=50 M. L. J. 584; A. I. R. 1926 Sind 105. Adjustment by surety with decree-holder may be proved. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 61. An auction-purchaser of property in execution of money decree has a right to apply for entering up satisfaction of a decree affecting that property. 50 I. C. 931=9 L. W. 596.

DUTY OF COURT.—If a Court is seized of an application to enter up satisfaction of a decree it must make an inquiry whether the decree has been satisfied. The application should not be allowed to be withdrawn. 51 I. C. 411=35 M. L. J. 252. Opportunity must be given to prove adjustment. 102 I. C. 753=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 544. The Court will not inquire into the truth of the decree-holder's statement. Certificates of satisfaction are not conclusive in any way and the judgment-debtor can show that no such payment was made and raise the plea of limitation. 47 I. C. 177=21 O. C. 161. See also 12 I. C. 580. In recording an adjustment out of Court, the Court must enquire into the factum of adjustment and if there is anything still due to the decree-holder. 41 All. 443=50 I. C. 65; 45 Bom. 91=59 I. C. 399. No appeal lies for dismissal of an application for default. 63 I. C. 855. No particular form is prescribed for certifying payment to the Court. No particular words are essential. The rule should be construed as not to defeat justice. 54 I. C. 257=55 P. L. R. 1919; 35 I. C. 70=31 M. L. J. 207; 30 I. C. 357=29 M. L. J. 219. The adjustment need not be in writing and the judgment-debtor need not have carried out all the terms for satisfying the decree. 102 I. C. 753=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 544. Enquiries in a suit or in execution proceedings should be confined to matters which could be taken advantage of by parties to the proceedings in the suit or execution itself. 28 I. C. 376=(1915) M. W. N. 225. The inquiry under sub-rule (2) can take place only

(2) The judgment-debtor also may inform the Court of such payment or adjustment, and apply to the Court to issue a notice to the decree-holder to show between persons standing in the relation of judgment-debtor and judgment-creditor. 19 M. 230 (232). The representative of a deceased judgment-debtor can apply. See S. 146. two or more persons, the interest of any decree-holder in the decree is transferred by assignment in writing or by operation of law, the transferee may apply for execution of

668. An application for partial execution is a step-in-aid of execution. 15 B. 242. The court can allow execution of cross-claims under the same decree providing safeguards for the rights of other parties. 44 I. C. 445. Similarity between the rights of each of the parties does not make partition decree, a joint decree in favour of co-sharers. 43 M. L. J. 379 = 70 I. C. 296 = 1922 Mad. 456. No appeal is provided against an order under O. 21, R. 15 or 16. (23 Bom. 620, referred to) 70 I. C. 329 = 1924 Mad. 518. Where in execution of a decree for sale in favour of joint decree-holders, one of them purchases the property with previous leave of the court to execute the decree on behalf of all, the other joint decree-holders have in equity a right to recover from him their share. 11 I. C. 517 = 33 All. 563. The decree can be executed by the decree-holder or the transferee as per S. 49 and O. 21, R. 16. Although portions of a decree can be legally transferred, the decree must be executed as a whole. 39 I. C. 654 = 15 P. R. 1917. See also 2 Luck. 259. An assignee of a portion of the decree amount must apply for execution on behalf of all. Where a certificate is issued on behalf of all the decree holders there is in fact a discharge of the decree and the other decree-holders cannot execute the decree. 49 I. C. 141 = (1918) M. W. N. 507. Where in a joint and several decree against B and C, they were individually awarded costs as against A. A is entitled to execute his decree against only one of the judgment-debtors without deducting the costs of both, but after deducting the costs due to that judgment-debtor alone. 34 I. C. 388 = 3 L. W. 267.

O. 21, B. 16. SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF RULE.—This rule supersedes. 9 Bom. 179 and 20 Cal. 388 at p. 395, 396 and gives effect to 19 Mad. 306; 17 Cal. 341; 17 M. L. J. 391. The rule does not mean that each time the assignee comes to execute the decree he should come in under this rule. 31 C. W. N. 921 = 104 I. C. 4 = A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 694. There can be no assignment of rights pending suit under this rule even though a decree is passed subsequently A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 406. The rule also applies to assignees of awards filed in court. 27 C. W. N. 666 = 1924 Cal. 117 and to assignees of part of a decree. 44 Mad. 919 = 41 M. L. J. 816 = 14 L. W. 287 (F. B.); 24 W. R. 11; 26 Mad. 101; 17 M. L. J. 475; 17 M. L. J. 503; 48 A. 432 = 24 A. L. J. 430 = A. I. R. 1926 All. 346. The transferee of a portion of an indivisible decree cannot execute it even partially. 35 All. 204 = 19 I. C. 304 = 11 A. L. J. 249. But unless the whole interest is exhausted there is not a transfer within the meaning of this rule. 66 I. C. 679 = 1922 All. 101; also 39 I. C. 654 = 15 P. R. 1917. A decree-holder succeeding as heir to part of the property attached of a deceased judgment-debtor can proceed against the property for the whole debt. 103 I. C. 911 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 937. The rule lays down how a decree has to be transferred in case the transferee desires to have it executed, and recognizes only two modes of transfer, vis., (1) transfer by assignment in writing, and (2) transfer by operation of law. An assignee under an oral assignment has, as such, no locus standi at all to apply for execution. 15 B. 307. Oral assignment is not valid. 43 Cal. 990 = 43 I. A. 108 = 31 M. L. J. 248 (P. C.); also 16 I. C. 807. An assignment of a decree by partition is not valid. 9 I. C. 349 = 13 Bom. L. R. 22. So an execution application based on an oral assignment cannot be a step-in-aid of execution. (1911) 2 M. W. N. 559 = 13 I. C. 78 = 10 M. L. J. 532. A release by the benami assignee to the real assignee does not amount to an assignment and the real assignee cannot then execute the decree. 8 Pat. L. T. 163 = 101 I. C. 616 = A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 170. Decree-holder of decree-holder does not become transferee by operation of law. 5 Pat. 511 = 7 Pat. L. T. 793 = 96 I. C. 446 = A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 320. The transfer of a decree made by an instrument in writing takes effect from the date of the instrument and not from the date of its recognition by the Court. 106 I. C. 54. The assignment of personal decree does not require registration. 106 I. C. 485 = A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 142. Assignee of a part of decree can apply for its execution. A. I. R. 1928 Lah. 70. Transfer of decree by a decree-holder after insolvency—Official Receiver can object to execution. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 360 (2).

APPLICATION.—The transferee should apply for execution of the decree, and cannot apply merely for recognizing him as transferee. 14 M. L. J. 393; 14 M. L. T. 513 = 21 I. C. 609; 105 I. C. 611 = 4 O. W. N. 1025. An application by an assignee, for notice to issue under this rule, is an application for execution. 29 C. 235. The assignee of the decree, and not merely of the transferee of the property forming the subject-matter of the suit, can apply. 66 I. C. 878 = 1922 All. 98; 3 Pat. L. T. 625 = 69 I. C. 959 = A. I. If a person obtains a decree for possession of certain property, and sells portions of it to others the vendees could not apply to execute the decree. 4 A. L. J. 759; 98 I. C. 856 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 240. As to whether the transferee of a pre-emption decree can apply under this rule, see O. 20, R. 14. A transferee of a decree for costs can apply. 7 A. 457. When a decree has been assigned by one assignee to another the second assignee can apply under this the decree to the Court which passed it ; and the decree may be executed in the same rule even though the first assignee has not applied. 9 A. 46. A creditor who attaches a decree is in much the same position as the transferee of a decree under this rule. 15 Cal. at p. 376. Assignment during pendency of execution proceedings dates back to the date of execution application. 9 I. C. 549=13 Bom. L. R. 22. The provisions of this rule are mandatory ; non-compliance renders all proceedings void. 3 Lah. L. J. 434=2 Lah. 230=63 I. C. 884; also 56 I. C. 461; 5 Pat. L. J. 390=57 I. C. 250; 54 Cal. 624. The transferee is entitled to the benefit of an attachment obtained by his transferor and can apply to execute for further sums becoming due under the decree, in addition to the sum originally sought to be executed for. 13 M. L. T. 145=18 I. C. 691. Where properties were sold 'with all arrears of rent', the purchaser should be treated as the assignee of the rent decrees as well. 57 I. C. 874=25 C. W. N. 863. The assignee of a decree pendente lite is entitled to execute the appellate decree. 35 M. L. J. 294=44 I. C. 849. If there is an assignment pending proceedings in execution taken by the decree-holder, there is nothing in the Code debaring the Court from recognizing the transferee as the person to go on with the execution. 26 C. at p. 253; see also 16 A. 133; 12 M. L. J. 348. The assignee of a preliminary mortgage-decree for sale cannot ask for execution, and for the passing of the final decree under this rule. He must first get a final decree. 32 I. C. 981. Regarding assignment of preliminary decree in partition suit, see 24 L. W. 392=97 I. C. 754=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1129. It is not necessary that the transfer should be effected before the death of the judgment-debtor. If effected after his death the transferee can take out execution against his legal representatives. 11 Bom. 727. If the assignor is dead the assignee will be required to produce a succession certificate. 15 M. 419. But it may be produced at any time during the pendency of the proceedings. 19 C. 482. When a minor succeeds to an estate which, up to the date it fell into his hands, had been in possession of the executrix there is a succession or transfer by operation of law. 16 C. at p. 349; 11 B. 368. See 4 C. W. N. 785 and 21 M. at p. 356. The assignee of a decree which has been attached can still execute it, but subject to the rights of the attaching creditor. 17 I. C. 323=13 M. L. T. 227. Till a transferee is brought on record he has no right to execute the decree. He cannot question attachment of the decretal amount deposited to the credit of his assignor if before that his assignment had not been recognised. 4 Rang. 426=99 I. C. 309=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 55. The assignee can enter up satisfaction without an execution application. 17 I. C. 617=12 M. L. T. 592. The assignee can execute the decree and his rights can be determined, even though he himself has not filed the execution application. 4 Lah. L. J. 250=1922 Lah. 396. Assignment of rights prior to decree, is not an assignment of the decree. 30 I. C. 831. Equities between decree-holder and judgment-debtor will be taken into consideration against a transferee. Plea of partial failure of consideration for assignment, if can be raised by the assignor as well as by the judgment-debtor. 54 Pat. 120=1925 Pat.

449. The judgment-debtor cannot question an assignment for inadequacy of consideration for assignment. 20 I. C. 685=18 C. W. N. 450. But he has got a right of appeal against an order recognising the transfer of a decree. 26 I. C. 944=2 L. W. 109. In the absence of an allegation of fraud, want of consideration is immaterial, if the transferor and transferee are agreed. 26 I. C. 685=18 C. W. N. 450, or unless the assignment is a sham transaction. 49 I. C. 141=(1918) M. W. N. 507. When a transferee applies under this rule the judgment-debtors cannot contend that the decree was obtained by fraud. 15 B. 307. But can contend that the transfer was fraudulent. 23 I. C. 951=1 L. W. 206. See also 28 C. W. N. 963=1925 Cal. 23.

TO WHAT COURT APPLICATION MADE.—The application can be made only to the Court which passed the decree. 25 A. 443; 27 C. 448. But an order by a Court to which the decree is sent for execution is not void. 17 M. L. J. 300. The legal representatives of the decree-holder can be brought on record even in the Court to which a decree is transferred for execution. 71 I. C. 409=1923 Nag. 105. The Court must enquire into the validity of an assignment if questioned. 23 I. C. 951=1 L. W. 206. See also 24 I. C. 766=1 L. W. 206; 28 C. W. N. 963=84 I. C. 68=39 C. L. J. 590=1925 Cal. 23. But should not enquire into the bad faith of the transferee, while recognising the transfer. 33 I. C. 71 (Doubting 19 M. 230). The decree-holder can always execute the decree if the transferee is not on record and has not applied for execution. 29 M. L. J. 658=31 I. C. 542; 34 I. C. 791=3 L. W. 521. The judgment-debtor cannot object on the ground that the decree has been assigned. 18 I. C. 97=16 O. C. 70. An auction-purchaser, purchasing certain decrees of his judgment-debtor, is a transferee of those decrees. 22 M. L. J. 161=13 I. C. 324.

NOTICE.—Where notice of assignment and warrant of attachment were issued, but the judgment-debtor objected, it was held that the attachment ought not to be allowed before hearing the objections. 12 I. C. 547=36 Bom. 58. The judgment-debtor cannot be said, to have acquiesced in an order of attachment, when no notice of assignment is served on him. (Ibid.) 39 I. C. 952=118 P. L. R. 1917. Omission to object to a notice of assignment amounts to ratification. 83 I. C. 142=1925 A. 206 (2); 8 Pat. L. T. 163=101 I. C. 616=A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 170. Substituted service of notice is good service. 28 I. C. 219=1 L. W. 351. The notice is not about the assignment but of the execution proceedings. 62 I. C. 30=6 P. L. J. 358. Therefore he can appeal against the order of recognition. 33 I. C. 71. When want of notice is not pleaded in prior execution proceedings, the judgment-debtor cannot do so in his application to set aside sale. 57 I. C. 707=5 Pat. L. J. 639. Sale held in execution of a decree by assignee without notice to assignor is nullity. 54 Cal. 624=105 I. C. 193=A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 781. If a decree was transferred by assignment, after the death of the judgment-debtor notice of the transfer may be served on his legal representatives. (Ibid.) See also 30 M. 541. The proper stage to object to a transfer is when the notice is served, manner and subject to the same conditions as if the application were made by such decree-holder :

Provided that, where the decree, or such interest as aforesaid, has been transferred by assignment, notice of such application shall be given to the transferor and the judgment-debtor, and the decree shall not be executed until the Court has heard their objections (if any) to its execution :

Provided also that, where a decree for the payment of money against two or more persons has been transferred to one of them, it shall not be executed against the others.

17. [S. 245.] (1) On receiving an application for the execution of a decree as provided by rule 11, sub-rule (2), the Court shall ascertain whether such of the requirements of rules 11 to 14 as may be applicable to the case have been complied with ; and, if they have not been complied with, the Court may reject

PROVISO.—The proviso refers to a decree for money personally due by two or more persons. It does not apply to a case in which nothing is due from the assignee of the decree, personally. 11 C. at p. 396. See also 5 All. 27. "Decree for money against several persons" is not restricted to personal decrees for money. 19 N. L. R. 151=1924 Nag. 41. But a mortgage decree for sale is not a money decree. 12 I. C. 70=16 C. W. But can sue for contribution. 20 I. C. 569=18 C. W. N. 113. But a transfer to the pleader for the judgment-debtor does not satisfy the decree, though assigned to him in trust for his clients. It called upon he is bound to assign the decree to them, but upon equitable terms only. 22 C. W. N. 491=44 I. C. 13. Transfer brought about by death is not excluded from the operation of the proviso. 98 I. C. 26 (2)=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1141=51 M. L. J. 443.

But where the transferee of a decree is found to be a benamidar for the judgment-debtor, the Court is bound to refuse execution. 32 I. C. 952=40 Mad. 296; also 35 M. 659=12 I. C. 657. Whether transferee is benamidar for judgment-debtor must be decided by court. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 666. This is so even though the assignee is benamidar for one of the judgment-debtors. (4 C. W. N. 534, foll.); 43 M. L. J. 761=1922 M. 510. Also 35 I. C. 624=4 L. W. 534. An arrangement between decree-holder and some of the judgment-debtors that they must pay the entire decree amount to him and that he must execute the decree against the other judgment-debtors and realise the amount due and pay it to this, is not prohibited by this rule. 99 I. C. 902=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 322=52 M. L. J. 59. The real transferee owner of a decree cannot apply for execution on the ground that the transferee was his benamidar and his agent. The rejection of an application for substitution in the place of the decree-holder does not operate as res judicata to a subsequent application under this rule. 1925 Oudh 417=12 O. L. J. 538. No suit will lie to establish a right to execute a decree, when an order dismissing an application under this rule has been allowed to become final. 28 A. 613. But see 20 A. 539; 16 M. L. J. 27; 1 A. L. J. 61. See also 7 A. 457. In such a case the assignee can sue the assignor for the recovery of the money paid. 16 M. 325; 20 A. 539. An appeal lies against an order refusing an application by the assignee. 1 A. L. J. 61=25 A. 443; 25 M. 383. See also 12 C. 610; 16 A. 483 and 27 C. 670. No appeal lies against an order dismissing an application to be brought in as the legal representative of a deceased judgment-creditor. 16 M. L. J. 27.

O. 21, R. 17.—Under S. 245 of the Old Code the Court was bound to reject an application not amended as per orders. Under the present rule time for amendment may be extended, or applicant can show that no amendment is necessary. 17 N. L. R. 179=63 I. C. 971. Also 23 Cal. 217. For the case-law under the old Act, see 16 M. 142; 17 C. 631 (F. B.); and 26 Mad. at p. 103. "As nearly as may be." For the meaning of these words, see 16 B. at p. 114. As to defects which could or could not be cured by an amendment, see 49 I. C. 982=32 P. W. R. 1919. Also 118 P. R. 1912=18 I. C. 516; 39 M. L. T. 371. The Court has power either to return for amendment or to reject, an application not complying with rules 11 to 14 of this order. 1 Pat. 149=69 I. C. 200. Decree-holder is not bound to proceed against properties of judgment-debtors first. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 110. An application to file a fresh list of properties against which execution is also prayed for, is not an amendment of the execution petition. 2 Pat. 787=74 I. C. 144. Where a vakil is duly authorized to present an application for execution, the fact that the vakalat was not dated, does not make the application one not in accordance with law. 26 M. 197 (198). Defects of form not affecting the merits, should be allowed to be remedied. See 17 C. at p. 636. When an amendment is not made within the time allowed, the application does not stand rejected unless an order is made to that effect. 8 C. 479. A rejected application under this rule is not a step in aid of execution. 37 I. C. 916=21 C. W. N. 835; also 8 N. L. J. 91; 28 C. W. N. 988=84 I. C. 747=1925 Cal. 102. When permission is granted with no time fixed, to file list of immoveable property, if the list is filed after the period

(2) Where an application is amended under the provisions of sub-rule (1), it shall be deemed to have been an application in accordance with law and presented on the date when it was first presented.

(3) Every amendment made under this rule shall be signed or initialled by the Judge.

(4) When the application is admitted, the Court shall enter in the proper register a note of the application and the date on which it was made, and shall, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained, order execution of the decree according to the nature of the application :

Provided that, in the case of a decree for the payment of money, the value of the property attached shall, as nearly as may be, correspond with the amount due under the decree.

of limitation, the execution application is barred. 22 I. C. 337=18 C. L. J. 538. A filing of a fresh list of properties sought to be attached and sold, should be treated as a continuation of the original application. 22 C. W. N. 540=44 I. C. 553. If the application is within 12 years but amendment is after 12 years, the application is not barred. 45 M.L.J. 651=1924 Mad. 367; the amendment will be deemed to have effect from the date of first presentation. 35 I. O. 21, R. 18. CROSS-DECREES AND CROSS-CLAIMS.—The rule deals only with cross-decrees and has no application to cross-claims under the same decree. 5 A. 272. To these R. 19 applies, and this rule and R. 19 apply only when a step in execution and a counter-claim have come into existence. 9 A. at p. 67. Before cross-decrees can be set off the one against the other it is necessary that they should be in the same Court for execution. 16 W.R. 303. See also 24 A. 481; 21 I. C. 32=11 A.L.J. 763. The decrees must also be under execution at the same time. 7 W.R. 535. A statute barred debt cannot be set off against the claim of plaintiff. 40 I.C. 816=21 C. W. N. 1147. When the decrees themselves lead to the construction of a set-off, execution applications under both the decrees are not necessary. 52 I.C. 746=1919 Pat. 372. The parties should not fill distinct characters in the two cases. 38 All. 660=36 I.C. 948. In order to admit of a set-off, the parties must be the same, and the sum due under each decree must be definite. 5 W. R. 12. A decree directing plaintiff to recover the decree amount by sale of properties, but not directing payment by defendant, is a decree for money, and the provisions of this rule apply to it. 29 M. 318; 16 W.R. 308; 5 W.R. 52; 14 I.C. 18 (P.C.). A judgment-debtor is entitled to set off a decree obtained by him against the decree-holder, although the latter is alleged to be a mere benamidar in respect of the decree obtained by him. 3 M.L.J. 220. When a pauper plaintiff obtains a decree for a portion of his claim, and the defendant is allowed proportionate costs the right to set off does not arise until the claim of Government is satisfied. 9 A. 64; 10 A. 188. (a) if the two sums are equal, satisfaction shall be entered upon both decrees; and

(b) if the two sums are unequal, execution may be taken out only by the holder of the decree for the larger sum and for so much only as remains after deducting the smaller sum, and satisfaction for the smaller sum shall be entered on the decree for the larger sum as well as satisfaction on the decree for the smaller sum.

(3) This rule shall not be deemed to apply unless—

(a) the decree-holder in one of the suits in which the decrees have been made is the judgment-debtor in the other and each party fills the same character in both suits; and

(b) the sums due under the decrees are definite.

(2) Nothing in the foregoing sub-rule shall be deemed to preclude the Court from issuing any process in execution of a decree without issuing the notice thereby prescribed, if, for reasons to be recorded, it considers that the issue of such notice would cause unreasonable delay or would defeat the ends of justice.

[Bombay] In R. 22 of O. 21 the words "two years" shall be substituted for the words "one year" wherever they occur.

[Allahabad and Oudh] (1) In O. 21, substitute the words "three years" for "one year" both in R. 22 (1) (a) and in the second line of the proviso to R. 22.

(2) O. 21, R. 22.—The following proviso is added in Allahabad and Oudh :—'Provided that no order for the execution of a decree shall be invalid by reason of the omission to issue a notice under this rule, unless the judgment-debtor has sustained substantial injury by reason of such omission.'

23. [S. 249.] (1) Where the person to whom notice is issued under the last preceding rule does not appear or does not show cause to the satisfaction of the Court why the decree should not be executed, the Court shall order the decree to be executed.

(2) Where such person offers any objection to the execution of the decree, the Court shall consider such objection and make such order as it thinks fit.

Process for Execution.

24. [S. 250.] (1) When the preliminary measures (if any) required by the foregoing rules have been taken, the Court shall, unless it sees cause to the contrary, issue its process for the execution of the decree.

(2) [S. 251.] Every such process shall bear date the day on which it is issued, and shall be signed by the Judge or such officer as the Court may appoint in this behalf, and shall be sealed with the seal of the Court and delivered to the proper officer to be executed.

(3) In every such process a day shall be specified on or before which it shall be executed.

[Allahabad and Oudh] Add at the end of Sub-Clause (3) of R. 24 of O. 21,—'and a day shall be specified on or before which it shall be returned to Court.'

25. [S. 343, includes latter part of S. 251.] (1) The officer entrusted with the execution of the process shall endorse thereon the day on, and the manner in, which it was executed, and, if the latest day specified in the process for the return thereof has been exceeded, the reason of the delay, or, if it was not executed, the reason why it was not executed, and shall return the process with such endorsement to the Court.

(2) Where the endorsement is to the effect that such officer is unable to execute the process, the Court shall examine him touching his alleged inability, and may, if it thinks fit, summon and examine witnesses as to such inability, and shall record the result.

[Allahabad and Oudh] O. 21, R. 25 (2).—Substitute the following for paragraph (2) :—

"(2) Where the endorsement is to the effect that such officer is unable to execute the process the Court may examine him personally or upon affidavit touching his alleged inability, and may, if it thinks fit, summon and examine witnesses as to such inability and shall record the result."

O. 21, R. 24.—The words "unless it sees cause to the contrary" do not confer any discretionary power on the Court. 10 C. 817. Seal of the Court is imperatively necessary. Without it the warrant is illegal and resistance to it will be no offence. 3 Pat. L. J. 636=49 I. C. 171; 7 Pat. L. T. 30=5 Pat. 216=93 I. C. 146=27 Cr. L. J. 418=A. I. R. 1926 Pat. 237. As to the effect to be given to a warrant which is not signed by the Judge, see 7 A. 507; 22 C. at p. 604. A warrant not specifying period within which to be executed is not a good one. It should be executed only by the person authorised to execute it. It is not an offence to resist a bad warrant. 1 Pat. L. J. 550=36 I. C. 871. The warrant cannot be executed after the period specified therein has expired. 10 C. 18. The period fixed may be enlarged. See S. 148.

[Madras] (1) Amend O. 21, R. 25 (2), as follows :—

Insert the words "or cause him to be examined by any other Court" after the words "examine him."

(2) Add the following proviso to R. 25 (2) :—"Provided that an examination of the officer entrusted with the execution of a process by the Nazir or the Deputy Nazir under the general or special orders of the Court shall be deemed to be sufficient compliance with the requirements of this clause."

Mode of Execution.

30. [S. 254.] Every decree for the payment of money, including a decree for the payment of money as the alternative to some other relief, may be executed by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor, or by the attachment and sale of his property, or by both.

31. [S. 259.] (1) Where the decree is for any specific moveable, or for any share in a specific moveable, it may be executed by the seizure, if practicable, of the moveable or share, and by the delivery thereof to the party to whom it has been adjudged, or to such person as he appoints to receive delivery on his behalf, or by the detention in the civil prison of the judgment-debtor, or by the attachment of his property, or by both.

(2) Where any attachment under sub-rule (1) has remained in force for six months, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, such property may be sold, and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree-holder, in cases where any amount has been fixed by the decree to be paid as an alternative to delivery of moveable property, such amount, and, in other cases, such compensation as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the judgment-debtor on his application.

(3) Where the judgment-debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing the same which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of six months from the date of the attachment, no application to have the property sold has been made, or, if made, has been refused, the attachment shall cease.

(3) Where any attachment under sub-rule (1) or sub-rule (2) has remained in force for one year, if the judgment-debtor has not obeyed the decree and the decree-holder has applied to have the attached property sold, such property may be sold; and out of the proceeds the Court may award to the decree-holder such compensation as it thinks fit, and shall pay the balance (if any) to the judgment-debtor on his application.

(4) Where the judgment-debtor has obeyed the decree and paid all costs of executing the same which he is bound to pay, or where, at the end of one year from the date of attachment, no application to have the property sold has been made, or if made has been refused, the attachment shall cease.

(5) Where a decree for the specific performance of a contract or for an injunction has not been obeyed, the Court may, in lieu of or in addition to all or any of the processes aforesaid, direct that the act required to be done may be done so far as practicable by the decree-holder or some other person appointed by the Court, at the cost of the judgment-debtor, and upon the act being done the expenses incurred may be ascertained in such manner as the Court may direct and may be recovered as if they were included in the decree.

A, a person of little substance, erects a building which renders uninhabitable a family mansion belonging to B. A, in spite of his detention in prison and the attachment of his property, declines to obey a decree obtained against him by B and directing him to remove the building. The Court is of opinion that no sum realizable by the sale of A's property would adequately compensate B for the depreciation in the value of his mansion. B may apply to the Court to remove the building and may recover the costs of such removal from A in the execution proceedings.

[Allahabad and Oudh] O. 21, R. 32.—In sub-clause (3) of O. 21, R. 32 read "three months" for "one year" and at the end of sub-clause (3) add the following:—"The court may for good cause extend the time": in Oudh add "and the Court may also, for good cause shown, extend the time for the attachment remaining in force for a period not exceeding one year".

[Oudh] In Oudh substitute "three months, or such further time as may have been fixed by the Court under the previous sub-rule" for "one year" in sub-rule (4) of R. 32, O. 21.

Rule 32 (1).—¹ The words "in the case of for an injunction" were inserted after the word "enforced" by Act XXIX of 1923, S. 2.

33. (1) Notwithstanding anything in rule 32, the Court, either at the time of passing a decree [against a husband]¹ for the restitution of conjugal rights or at any time afterwards, may order that the decree [shall be executed in the manner provided in this rule.]¹

Discretion of Court in executing decrees for restitution of conjugal rights.

(2) Where the Court has made an order under sub-rule (1) [* * * * *]² it may order that, in the event of the decree not being obeyed within such period as may be fixed in this behalf, the judgment-debtor shall make to the decree-holder such periodical payments as may be just, and, if it thinks fit, require that the judgment-debtor shall, to its satisfaction, secure to the decree-holder such periodical payments.

(3) The Court may from time to time vary or modify any order made under sub-rule (2) for the periodical payment of money, either by altering the times of payment or by increasing or diminishing the amount, or may temporarily suspend the same as to the whole or any part of the money so ordered to be paid, and again revive the same, either wholly or in part as it may think just.

(4) Any money ordered to be paid under this rule may be recovered as though it were payable under a decree for the payment of money.

34. [S. 261.] (1) Where a decree is for the execution of a document or for the endorsement of a negotiable instrument and the judgment-debtor neglects or refuses to obey the decree, the decree-holder may prepare a draft of the document or endorsement in accordance with the terms of the decree and deliver the same to the Court.

Decree for execution of document, or endorsement of negotiable instrument.

(2) The Court shall thereupon cause the draft to be served on the judgment-debtor together with a notice requiring his objections (if any) to be made within such time as the Court fixes in this behalf.

(3) Where the judgment-debtor objects to the draft, his objections shall be stated in writing within such time, and the Court shall make such order approving or altering the draft, as it thinks fit.

(4) The decree-holder shall deliver to the Court a copy of the draft with such alterations (if any) as the Court may have directed upon the proper stamp-paper if a stamp is required by the law for the time being in force; and the Judge or such officer as may be appointed in this behalf shall execute the document so delivered.

O. 21, R. 33 (1).—¹ The words "against a husband" were inserted after "passing a decree" and the words "shall be executed in the manner provided in this rule" were substituted for the words "shall not be executed by detention in prison" by Act XXIX of 1923, S. 3 (a).

(5) [S. 262.] The execution of a document or the endorsement of a negotiable instrument under this rule may be in the following form, namely :—

“ C. D., Judge of the Court of
(or as the case may be), for A. B., in a suit by E. F. against A. B.”, and shall have the same effect as the execution of the document or the endorsement of the negotiable instrument by the party ordered to execute or endorse the same.

(6) The Court, or such officer as it may appoint in this behalf, shall cause the document to be registered if its registration is required by the law for the time being in force or the decree-holder desires to have it registered, and may make such order as it thinks fit as to the payment of the expenses of the registration.

35. [S. 263.] (1) Where a decree is for the delivery of any immoveable property, possession thereof shall be delivered to the party to whom it has been adjudged, or to such person as he may appoint to receive delivery on his behalf, and, if necessary, by removing any person bound by the decree who refuses to vacate the property.

(2) Where a decree is for the joint possession of immoveable property, such possession shall be delivered by affixing a copy of the warrant in some conspicuous place on the property and proclaiming by beat of drum, or other customary mode, at some convenient place, the substance of the decree.

(3) Where possession of any building or enclosure is to be delivered and the person in possession, being bound by the decree, does not afford free access, the Court, through its officers, may, after giving reasonable warning and facility to any woman not appearing in public according to the customs of the country to withdraw, remove or open any lock or bolt or break open any door or do any other act necessary for putting the decree-holder in possession.

36. [S. 264.] Where a decree is for the delivery of any immoveable property in the occupancy of a tenant or other person entitled to occupy the same and not bound by the decree to relinquish such occupancy, the Court shall order delivery to be made by affixing a copy of the warrant in some conspicuous place on the property.

O. 21, R. 35. SCOPE OF RULE.—Under R. 35 (1) formal delivery is actual delivery. It is symbolic when under R. 35 (2), 36 or 96. (2) Where appearance is not made in obedience to the notice, the Court shall, if the decree-holder so requires, issue a warrant for the arrest of the judgment-debtor.

38. [S. 337.] Every warrant for the arrest of a judgment-debtor shall direct the officer entrusted with its execution to bring him before the Court with all convenient speed, unless the amount which he has been ordered to pay, together with the interest thereon and the costs (if any) to which he is liable, be

(2) Where a judgment-debtor is committed to the civil prison in execution of a decree, the Court shall fix for his subsistence such monthly allowance as he may be entitled to according to the scales fixed under section 57 or, where no such scales have been fixed, as it considers sufficient with reference to the class to which he belongs.

[Lower Burma] In Order 21, Rule 39, the following shall be inserted as sub-rule (2-A) :—

“(2-A) When a civil prisoner is kept in confinement at the instance of more than one decree-holder he shall only receive the same allowance for his subsistence as if he were detained in confinement upon the application of one decree-holder. Each decree-holder shall, however, pay the full allowance for subsistence, and when the debtor is released, the balance shall be divided rateably among the decree-holders and paid to them.”

(3) The monthly allowance fixed by the Court shall be supplied by the party on whose application the judgment-debtor has been arrested by monthly payments in advance before the first day of each month.

(4) The first payment shall be made to the proper officer of the Court for such portion of the current month as remains unexpired before the judgment-debtor is committed to the civil prison, and the subsequent payments (if any) shall be made to the officer in charge of the civil prison.

(5) [S. 340.] Sums disbursed by the decree-holder for the subsistence of the judgment-debtor in the civil prison shall be deemed to be costs in the suit :

Provided that the judgment-debtor shall not be detained in the civil prison or arrested on account of any sum so disbursed.

[Madras] O. 21, R. 39. Delete the present sub-rules (4) and (5) of Rule 39 of Order 21 and substitute the following :—

(4) Such sum (if any) as the Judge thinks sufficient for the subsistence and cost of conveyance of the judgment-debtor for his journey from the Court-house to the civil prison and from the civil prison, on his release, to his usual place of residence together with the first of the payments in advance under sub-rule (3) for such portion of the current month as remains unexpired, shall be paid to the proper officer of the Court before the judgment-debtor is committed to the civil prison, and the subsequent payments (if any) shall be paid to the officer in charge of the civil prison.

(5) Sums disbursed under this rule by the decree-holder for the subsistence and cost of conveyance (if any) of the judgment-debtor shall be deemed to be costs in the suit.

before the Court after being arrested in execution of a decree for the payment of money, and it appears to the Court that the judgment-debtor is unable from poverty or other sufficient cause to pay the amount of the decree or, if that amount is payable by instalments, the amount of any instalment thereof, the Court may, upon such terms (if any) as it thinks fit, make an order disallowing the application for his arrest and detention, or directing his release, as the case may be.

(2) Before making an order under sub-rule (1), the Court may take into consideration any allegation of the decree-holder touching any of the following matters, namely :—

(a) the decree being for a sum for which the judgment-debtor was bound in any fiduciary capacity to account ;

(b) the transfer, concealment or removal by the judgment-debtor of any part of his property after the date of the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed, or the commission by him after that date of any other act of bad faith in relation to his property, with the subject or effect of obstructing or delaying the decree-holder in the execution of the decree ;

(c) any undue preference given by the judgment-debtor to any of his other creditors ;

(d) refusal or neglect on the part of the judgment-debtor to pay the amount of the decree or some part thereof when he has, or since the date of the decree has had, the means of paying it ;

(e) the likelihood of the judgment-debtor absconding or leaving the jurisdiction of the Court with the object or effect of obstructing or delaying the decree-holder in the execution of the decree.

(3) While any of the matters mentioned in sub-rule (2) are being considered, the Court may, in its discretion, order the judgment-debtor to be detained in the civil prison, or leave him in the custody or an officer of the Court, or release him on his furnishing security, to the satisfaction of the Court, for his appearance when required by the Court.

(4) A judgment-debtor released under this rule may be re-arrested.

(5) Where the Court does not make an order under sub-rule (1), it shall cause the judgment-debtor to be arrested if he has not already been arrested and, subject to the other provisions of this Code, commit him to the civil prison.

[Madras] Add the following as a proviso to sub rule (5) of the Rule 40 of Order 21 :—

“Provided that, in order to give the judgment-debtor an opportunity of satisfying the decree, the Court before making the order of committal may leave the judgment-debtor in the custody of an officer of the Court for a specified period not exceeding ten days, or release him on his furnishing security to the satisfaction of the Court for his appearance at the expiration of the specified period if the decree be not sooner satisfied.

[Madras] Add the following as sub-rule (6) to Rule 40 of Order 21 :—

“(6) No judgment-debtor shall be committed to the civil prison or brought before the Court from the prison to which he has been committed pending the consideration of any of the matters mentioned in sub-rule (2) unless and until the decree-holder pays into Court such sum as the judge may think sufficient to meet the travelling and subsistence expenses of the judgment-debtor and the escort for the journey to and from the prison. Sub-rule (5) of Rule 39 shall apply to such payments.”

42. [S. 255.] Where a decree directs an inquiry as to rent or mesne profits or any other matter, the property of the judgment-debtor may, before the amount due from him has been ascertained, be attached, as in the case of an ordinary decree for the payment of money.

(1) Where the property to be attached is moveable property, other than agricultural produce, in the possession of the judgment-debtor, the attachment shall be made by actual seizure, and the attaching officer shall keep the property in his own custody or in the custody of one of his subordinates, and shall be responsible for the due custody thereof :

Provided that, when the property seized is subject to speedy and natural decay or when the expense of keeping it in custody is likely to exceed its value, the attaching officer may sell it at once, and provided also that, when the property attached consists of livestock, agricultural implements or other articles which cannot conveniently be removed and the attaching officer does not act under the first proviso to this rule, he may at the instance of the judgment-debtor or of the decree-holder or of any person claiming to be interested in such property leave it in the village or place where it has been attached—

(a) in the charge of the person at whose instance the property is retained in such village or place, if such person enters into a bond in the Form No. 15-A of Appendix E to this Schedule with one or more sufficient sureties for its production when called for, or

(b) in the charge of an officer of the Court, if a suitable place for its safe custody be provided and the remuneration of the officer for a period of 15 days at such rate as may from time to time be fixed by the High Court be paid in advance.

(2) Whenever an attachment made under the provisions of this rule ceases for any of the reasons specified in Rule 55 or Rule 57 or Rule 60 of this order, the Court may order the restitution of the attached property to the person in whose possession it was before attachment.

43-A. (1) Whenever attached property is kept in the village or place where it is attached, the attaching officer shall forthwith report the fact to the Court and shall with his report forward a list of the property seized.

(2) If attached property is not sold under the first proviso to rule 43 or retained in the village or place where it is attached under the second proviso to that rule, it shall be brought to the Court-house and delivered to the proper officer of the Court.

43-B. (1) Whenever attached property kept in the village or place where it is attached is livestock, the person at whose instance it is so retained shall provide for its maintenance, and, if he fails to do so and if it is in charge of an officer of the Court, it shall be removed to the Court-house.

Nothing in this rule shall prevent the judgment debtor, or any person claiming to be interested in such stock from making such arrangements for feeding the same as may not be inconsistent with its safe custody.

(2) The Court may direct that any sums which have been expended by the attaching officer or are payable to him, if not duly deposited or paid, be recovered from the proceeds of property, if sold, or be paid by the person declared entitled to delivery before he receives the same. The Court may

Attachment of agricultural produce. 44. Where the property to be attached is agricultural produce, the attachment shall be made by affixing a copy of the warrant of attachment,—

(a) where such produce is a growing crop, on the land on which such crop has grown, or

(b) where such produce has been cut or gathered, on the threshing-floor or place for treading out grain or the like or fodder-stack on or in which it is deposited, and another copy on the outer door or on some other conspicuous part of the house in which the judgment-debtor ordinarily resides or, with the leave of the Court, on the outer door or on some other conspicuous part of the house in which he carries on business or personally works for gain or in which he is known to have last resided or carried on business or personally worked for gain; and the produce shall thereupon be deemed to have passed into the possession of the Court.

[Bombay.] After R. 44 of O. 21, the following shall be inserted, as rule 44-A, namely:—

44-A. Where the property to be attached is agricultural produce, a copy of the warrant or order of attachment shall be sent by post to the office of the Collector of the District in which the land is situate.

45. (1) Where agricultural produce is attached, the Court shall make such arrangements for the custody thereof as it may deem sufficient and, for the purpose of enabling the Court to make such arrangements, every application for the attachment of a growing crop shall specify the time at which it is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered.

(2) Subject to such conditions as may be imposed by the Court in this behalf either in the order of attachment or in any subsequent order, the judgment-debtor may tend, cut, gather and store the produce and do any other act necessary for maturing or preserving it; and if the judgment-debtor fails to do all or any of such acts, the decree-holder may, with the permission of the Court and subject to the like conditions, do all or any of them either by himself or by any person appointed by him in this behalf, and the costs incurred by the decree-holder shall be recoverable from the judgment-debtor as if they were included in, or formed part of, the decree.

(3) Agricultural produce attached as a growing crop shall not be deemed to have ceased to be under attachment or to require re-attachment merely because it has been severed from the soil.

(4) Where an order for the attachment of a growing crop has been made at a considerable time before the crop is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered, the Court may suspend the execution of the order for such time as it thinks fit, and may, in its discretion, make a further order prohibiting the removal of the crop pending the execution of the order of attachment.

(5) A growing crop which from its nature does not admit of being stored shall not be attached under this rule at any time less than twenty days before the time at which it is likely to be fit to be cut or gathered.

[Bombay.] The following words shall be added to sub-rule (1) of Rule 45 of Order 21 after substituting a semi-colon for the full stop:—and the applicant shall deposit in Court at the time of application such sum as the Court shall deem sufficient to defray the cost of watching and tending the crop till such time.

[Rangoon.] After R. 45 of O. 21, insert the following rules as Rules 45-A and 45 B:—

45-A. (1) Before issuing a warrant for the attachment of moveable property which it will be necessary to place in charge of one or more peons, permanent or temporary, the Court shall satisfy itself that the attaching decree-holder has produced a receipt in Form 15-A, Appendix E, from the Bailiff that he has paid in cash as process fees under Rules 17 (1) (c) (ii) (2) of the Process-Fees Rules not less than Rs. 10, for each person whom the Bailiff considers should be employed.

(2) In sending the warrant for execution to the Bailiff the Court Clerk shall certify at the foot of the warrant that the receipt granted by the Bailiff for the necessary fees has been filed in the record, the Bailiff shall then endorse on the warrant the name of the process-server to whom it is issued for execution. If a temporary peon is employed for the custody of the attached property, the process-server shall state in his report of the attachment the name of the temporary peon employed and the date from which his duties commenced.

(3) At the time of granting the receipt in Form 15-A, for payments made by the decree-holder as required by sub-rule (1), the Bailiff shall state in the lower portion of the Form the date on which the fees paid will be exhausted, warning the decree-holder that the property will not be kept under attachment after that date, unless further fees are paid before that date.

If the further fees required are not paid, the attachment shall cease as soon as the period for which fees have already been paid expires. In such a case the amount paid prior to the cessation of the attachment shall not be allowed to the attaching decree-holder as costs.

(4) The payment of fees under sub-rule (1) shall be made in cash to the Bailiff and the amount shall be at once entered in Bailiff's Register in No. II. The Court Clerk shall on receipt of the Bailiff's acknowledgment (Form 15-A) file it in the record and make an entry to that effect in the diary.

(5) Temporary peons employed for the custody of the attached property shall be remunerated at the rate provided for in Rule 15 of the Rules regarding process-serving establishments provided that the total remuneration disbursed shall in no case exceed the amount of the process-fees actually paid under the foregoing sub-rules. Permanent peons shall be presumed to be remunerated at the same rate as temporary peons but if the services of the former are utilized, the fees paid shall be credited direct into the Treasury to "Process-servers' Fees" (XVI-A, Law and Justice—"Courts of Law"—"Court-fees realized in cash").

(6) The remuneration of temporary peons employed to take charge of attached property shall be paid direct by the Bailiff to them on the order of the Judge.

Before passing such order, the Judge must verify the name of the payee from the report of the attachment and must satisfy himself that the amount proposed to be paid does not exceed the amount of the fees deposited with the Bailiff, or, if any payments have already been made in the case of the unexpended balance of such deposits, and that all amounts previously drawn have been disbursed to the proper persons.

(7) When the order has been signed by the Judge, the money shall be disbursed by the Bailiff at once to the peon or peons concerned, whose acknowledgment of receipt shall be taken in Bailiff's Register II. If, however, the amount has been transferred to Bailiff's Register I, the Bailiff shall draw the amount necessary for payment from the Treasury as if it were a re-payment of deposit and shall then disburse the amount due to the peon or peons concerned, whose acknowledgment of receipt shall be taken in Bailiff's Register I.

(8) When the attachment is brought to a close or has not been effected, if the Judge finds, at the time of calculating the amount paid in and properly chargeable for peons, that the total amount of the fees actually paid under sub-rules 1 and 3 exceeds the total amount that is chargeable for peons including the amount of the last payment he shall direct that the excess be refunded to the payer.

(9) The Judge shall in all cases in which a refund is to be made, issue to the Bailiff an order, a copy of which shall be placed on the record, to make such refund. If a sufficient portion of the amount paid by the decree-holder to pay such refund is in the hands of the Bailiff that officer shall make the refund in the ordinary way prescribed in his Register II for repayments. If the amount has been credited into the Treasury, he shall prepare a bill for the amount to be refunded in the prescribed treasury form and shall lay it before the Judge for signature with the record of the case in the same way as a bill for the remuneration of temporary peons. Before signing the refund order, the Judge must satisfy himself that the amount is available for refund by examining Bailiff's Register I and the record. The bill when signed by the Judge will be given to the payee, with instructions to present it for payment at the Treasury or sub-Treasury.

45-B. (1) In addition to the fees payable before a warrant issues for the attachment of moveable property under Rule 45-A, the Bailiff shall require the attaching decree-holder to deposit a sum of money sufficient to cover the cost of attachment other than the pay of peons employed to take charge of it, for such period as the Bailiff may think fit.

Explanation.—The costs in question might be, for example, (a) rent of building in which to store attached furniture, (b) costs of conveying the attached property from the place of attachment to Court or to a secure place of custody, (c) cost of feeding and tending live-stock, (d) cost of proceeding to the place of attachment to sell perishable property.

(2) If the Attaching decree-holder fails to comply with the Bailiff's requisition, the warrant shall not be issued.

(3) Sums thus deposited shall be entered in the Bailiff's Registers I and II and any re-payments thereof shall be made according to existing orders. A receipt for such sums shall be granted by the Bailiff in Form 15-A, Appendix E.

(4) In the receipt given for the sums deposited, the Bailiff shall state the period for which such sums will last, and if the attaching decree-holder does not deposit a further sum before the expiry of such period the attachment shall cease when the sum deposited is exhausted.

(5) The officer actually attaching the property shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, give the debtor, or, in his absence, any adult member of his family who may be present, the option of having the attached property kept on his premises or elsewhere, on condition that a suitable place for its safe custody is duly provided. The option so given may be subsequently withdrawn by order of the Court. Where the attached property consists of cattle these may be employed, so far as is consistent with Rule 43, in agricultural operations.

(6) If no such suitable place be provided, or if the Court directs that the property shall be removed, the officer shall remove the property to the Court, unless the property attached is a growing crop, when Rule 45 applies. Whenever live-stock is placed at the place where it has been attached, the judgment-debtor shall be at liberty to undertake the due feeding and tending of it under the supervision of the attaching officer.

(7) Whenever property is attached, the officer shall forthwith report to the Court, and shall with his report forward an accurate list of the property seized.

(8) If the debtor shall give his consent in writing to the sale of property without awaiting the expiry of the term prescribed in Rule 68, the officer shall receive the written consent and forward it without delay to the Court for its orders.

(9) When the property is removed to the Court it shall be kept by the Bailiff, on his own sole responsibility, in such place as may be approved by the Court. If the property cannot, from its nature or bulk, be conveniently kept on the Court premises, or in the personal custody of the Bailiff, he may, subject to the approval of the Court, make such arrangement for its safe custody under his own supervision as may be most convenient and economical.

(10) If there be a Government pound in or near the place where the Court is held, the Bailiff shall be at liberty to place in it such attached live-stock as can be properly there kept, in which case the pound-keeper will be responsible for the property to the Bailiff and shall receive the same rates for accommodation and maintenance thereof as are paid in respect of impounded cattle of the same description.

(11) Whenever property is attached, and any person other than the judgment-debtor shall claim the same, or any part of it, the officer shall nevertheless unless the decree-holder desires to withdraw the attachment of the property so claimed, remain in possession and shall direct the claimant to prefer his claim to the Court.

(12) If the decree-holder shall withdraw an attachment or if it shall cease under sub-rule (2) or (4), the Bailiff's officer shall inform the debtor or, in his absence, an adult member of his family that the property is at his disposal.

(13) If any portion of the deposit made under sub-rule (1) or (4) remains unexpended it shall be refunded to the decree-holder in the manner prescribed for such refunds in sub-rule 9 of Rule 45-A. Any difference between the cost of attachment of moveable property (other than the costs referred to in Rule 45 A) and the sums deposited by the attaching decree-holder shall, unless the difference is due to the default of the Bailiff, be recovered from the sale-proceeds of the attached property, if any, and if there are no sale-proceeds, from the attaching decree-holder on the application of the Bailiff. If there is still a deficiency, the amount shall be paid by Government.

46-A. When a debt alleged to be due by a third party to a judgment-debtor has been attached under rule 46 and has not been paid into Court under sub-rule (3) of that Rule, the Court may, on the application of the decree-holder, issue a notice to such third party in Form Civil 74. A copy of such notice shall also, if possible, be served on the judgment-debtor. When at the hearing of such notice the third party shows no cause, and admits the debt to be due, the Court may intimate to him that he should pay into Court the amount admitted by him to be due, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy the decree, and that if he fails to do so he may be subject to a suit.

47. C. 94=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 428. This Rule is limited in its operation to the case of a partner who was living at the time of the decree.

87 I. C. 992=1925 Sind 298. Under sub-rule (1) and under English Law, partners not served and who have not appeared are not liable. 36 M. 414.=22 M. L. J. 109 ; also 30 C. W. N. 111. 52. [S. 272.] Where the property to be attached is in the custody of any Court or public officer, the attachment shall be made by a notice to such Court or officer, requesting that such property, and any interest or dividend becoming payable thereon, may be held subject to the further orders of the Court from which the notice is issued :

O. 21, R. 50 (2).—The provisions of Order 30 do not in any way militate against sub-rule (2). The Court which passed the decree as well as the Court to which it is sent for execution can enquire into as to who constitute the firm. 86 I.C. 1013=1925 Sind 293. Where in a suit by a firm a counter-claim was set up and a decree was passed and the solicitors of the firm closed the names of the partners, the fact of their being partners could be agitated in execution. 51 Bom. 794=29 Bom. L. R. 921=103 I. C. 256=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 447. No special leave is necessary as regards a person who has appeared in his own name under O. 30, R. 6 or who had admitted in pleadings that he is a partner, or who has been served with summons. 89 I. C. 401. Sub-rule (2) applies only in the absence of the conditions of sub-rule (1). 26 I. C. 866=19 C. W. N. 1008; also 28 I. C. 260=(1915) M. W. N. 180. Sub-rule (3).—Deputy Registrar empowered to grant leave under this rule cannot determine liability of a contesting party. 4 Bur. L. J. 116=1925 Rang. 317.

O. 21, R. 50 (4) does not affect sub-rule (2) 68 I. C. 627=1923 Bom. 66. Even though the firm is insolvent execution can proceed against partners personally when they have been served with notice. 7 Lah. L. J. 165=1925 Lah. 379. Sub-rule (4) does not mean that a person sought to be made liable ought to be served with summons in the suit itself. 30 C. W. N. 11.

O. 21, R. 52.—The order under this Rule is judicial not administrative. 1925 Cal. 354. There is no warrant in the C. P. C. for the practice prevailing in Bombay regarding charging orders. 29 Bom. L. R. 689=A. I. R. 1927 Bom. 405.

SCOPE.—The rule does not allow of an anticipatory attachment of money expected to reach the hands of a public officer, but applies only to money actually in his hands. 22 B. 39. Also 44 Cal. 1072=25 C. L. J. 595; 24 I. C. 617=26 M. L. J. 364. The Court has no power to refuse an application for attachment under this Rule. 8 C. L. R. 7. MEANING OF WORDS.—"Any Court" includes also the executing Court. A subsequent formal attachment does not render infructuous

Provided that, where such property is in the custody of a Court, any question of title or priority arising between the decree-holder and any other person not being the judgment-debtor, claiming to be interested in such property by virtue of any assignment, attachment, or otherwise, shall be determined by such Court.

53. [S. 273.] (1) Where the property to be attached is a decree, either for the payment of money or for sale in enforcement of a mortgage or charge, the attachment shall be made,—

(a) if the decrees were passed by the same Court, then by order of such Court, and

(b) if the decree sought to be attached was passed by another Court, then by the issue to such other Court of a notice by the Court which passed the decree sought a prior subsisting one. 28 I. C. 123=20 C. W. N. 412. Money with Receiver is supposed to be in Court's custody. 35 I. C. 589=1 Pat. L. J. 449. So also money with Official Assignee. 49 Bom. 638=1925 Bom. 344. The Court of a Deputy Collector is a 'Court' within the meaning of this Rule. 10 W. R. 43. See 21 A. 405. The Official Trustee is a 'Public Officer'. 12 M. 250. The interest which a judgment-debtor has, in property held by the Official Trustee, is not validly attached by a notice given to the Official Trustee under this Rule. 12 M. 250. 'Interest or dividend,' meaning of. See 39 Bom. 88=17 Bom. L. R. 133.

PRIORITY.—Priority of payment is in favour of those applying for execution by attachment of a fund, see 44 Mad. 100=39 M. L. J. 608 (F.B.) 42 Mad. 692=50 I. C. 925; also 29 I. C. 239=38 Mad. 221. A decree-holder attaching is entitled to complete payment, even though a prior attachment before judgment subsists in favour of a suitor. 37 All. 578=29 I. C. 622. Attachment of a decree debt when a prior order appointing a Receiver has been made is invalid. 102 I. C. 413=29 Bom. L. R. 409.

APPLICATION OF THE RULE.—An execution application and notice to judgment-debtor are necessary to effect an attachment. A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 1104=51 M. L. J. 436. When the money of a judgment-debtor who has not yet been declared insolvent is in Court, it should be made available to an attaching decree-holder. 33 I. C. 723=14 A. L. J. 236. APPEAL.—Where the order of payment is made by a Sub Court, an appeal lies to the District Court from that order. If presented in a wrong Court, it ought not to be dismissed but returned for presentation to the proper Court. 38 I. C. 772=5 L. W. 264.

O. 21, R. 53. SCOPE.—The rule does not render the decree attached under it permanently incapable of execution. It merely operates as a stay of execution. 13 M. L. J. 265. The rule applies only to cases where the right attached is a right expressly settled by the decree, and not a right arising from the decree by way of restitution. 24 M. 341. This rule applies where a decree for redemption has to be attached. 10 B. 444. Also to a mortgage decree. 12 I. C. 924=8 A. L. J. 1327. The decree of a Revenue Court cannot be attached under this Rule. 21 A. 405. R. 1926 All. 379.

Cl. (b).—If after receipt of order of attachment, a Court proceeds to execute the decree, and sells property in execution, the sale is invalid. 32 C. 1104.

RIGHTS OF ATTACHING DECREE-HOLDER.—The attaching decree-holder has the same remedies against sureties of the judgment-debtor as the decree-holder himself has. 44 P. R. 1919=46 I. C. 584. An attaching decree-holder will be liable in damages to his judgment-debtor if he allows the attached decree to lapse. 35 Mad. 622=21 M. L. J. 577. The attaching creditor can himself execute the decree even when the decree attached and the decree sought to be executed are decrees of one and the same Court. 15 C. 375. If it is found that the attaching decree-holder who has executed and realised the attached decree had no right he must be regarded as trustee of the person beneficially entitled to the profits of the decree. 5 Rang. 595=6 Bur. L. J. 221.

SALE OF ATTACHED DECREEES.—A decree for dissolution of partnership can be regarded as a money decree and can be attached but cannot be sold. 27 B. 556. [Allahabad and Oudh.] O. XXI, R. 53 (b) Add 'and to any other Court to which the decree has been transferred for execution' after the words 'such other Court' in sub-clause 1 (b) of R. 53, O. XXI.

[Allahabad and Oudh.] In Allahabad and Oudh add 'and to any other Court to which the decree has been transferred for execution', after the words 'such other Court' in sub-rule 4 of R. 53, O. XXI.

(5) The holder of a decree attached under this rule shall give the Court executing the decree such information and aid as may reasonably be required.

SAVING OF LIMITATION.—Since an attached decree can be executed, an application for execution even though dismissed will save limitation. 11 M. L. T. 144=13 I. C. 659.

O. 21, R. 53 (6) applies to attachment before judgment as well. 14 I. C. 285=22 M. L. J. 394. Attachment is complete without notice to judgment-debtor. Any adjustment after attachment Determination of attachment.

O. 21, R. 57. SCOPE.—Under the old Code attachment did not ipso facto cease as under the present rule. 23 C. W. N. 608=23 C. L. J. 411; also 36 Mad. 553=24 M.L.J. 545. The rule does not refer or apply to a case where the attachment ceases on account of an explicit order of Court. 66 I. C. 642. Object of the rule is to prevent continuance of attachment for an indefinite period by the practice of 'Striking off' for statistical purposes. 28 I. C. 62=(1915) M. W. N. 159. An order such as 'Striking off' is unknown to law, and its effect is to be determined according to circumstances in each case. It may amount to an adjournment sine die. 15 I. C. 406=(1912) M. W. N. 407. An order striking off the execution does not terminate the attachment. 107 I.C. 574. The rule is mandatory and will take effect in spite of an erroneous order continuing attachment. 38 Cal. 482=15 C. W. N. 428; but see 44 A. 274=20 A. L. J. 113. The rule operates even when the collector to whom the execution is transferred, dismisses it. 68 I. C. 643=1923 Nag. 18; also 18 N. L. R. 152=1922 Nag. 267. An attachment made under O. 38, i.e., an attachment before judgment does not cease on the dismissal of the execution application. 14 I. C. 345=16 C. W. N. 1097; also 42 Mad. 1=35 M. L. J. 387; also 22 I. C. 351=26 M. L. J. 215. But see 20 I. C. 149=19 C. L. J. 248; (1925) M. W. N. 887; 92 I. C. 833=A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 211=51 M. L. J. 172. 'Default' means want of prosecution and not merely default in appearance. Thus where a decree-holder admitted mistake in property sold, and agreed to adjourn the proceedings to a future date. Upon the dismissal of such application the attachment shall cease.

[Oudh] O. 21, R. 57 [substituted by Oudh Chief Court].—Where any property has been attached in execution of a decree, and the Court for reason passes an order dismissing the execution application, the Court must direct whether the attachment shall continue or cease. If the Court omits to make any such direction, the attachment shall be deemed to subsist.

[Bangoon] In O. 21, the following shall be inserted as Rule 57-A :—

“57-A. A judgment-debtor may secure release of his attached property by giving security to the value thereof to the Court.”

Investigation of claims and objections.

58. [S. 278.] (1) Where any claim is preferred to, or any objection is made to the attachment of, any property attached in execution of a decree on the ground that such property is not liable to such attachment, the Court shall proceed to investigate the claim or objection with the like power as regards the

T. 418=71 I. C. 881. Omission to apply for issue of notice under R. 66 is default. 38 Cal. 482=15 C. W. N. 428. There is no default by decree-holder when the Court strikes off execution proceedings to suit its own convenience. 48 All. 698=24 A. L. J. 901=97 I. C. 102=A. I. R. 1926 All. 734. See also 107 I. The presumption is that an attachment is subsisting. 31 I. C. 911. Where by way of caution a decree-holder applies for a second attachment, he does not abandon or waive the original attachment. 13 M. L. J. 221.

DISMISSAL OF EXECUTION APPLICATION.—Until the formal order dismissing the application, all executions are pending. 39 Mad. 570=29 M. L. J. 96. An attachment is not disturbed by an order for stay of execution. 46 Cal. 64=44 I. C. 249. When by mistake the execution application was sent to the records it does not amount to a dismissal. 23 O. C. 166=57 I. C. 509. An order “proclamation not filed” amounts to dismissal and the attachment ceases. 18 I. C. 441=17 C. W. N. 204. Whether an attachment ceases on the dismissal of an execution application depends on the facts of each case. 44 I. C. 566=(1917) M. W. N. 816; also 23 I. C. 155=7 I. W. 16; 38 I. C. 300=5 L. W. 204; 35 I. C. 240=3 L. W. 601; 46 Bom. 942=1923 Bom. 30. When an execution application is dismissed on the judgment-debtor's objection and an application for review of the order is pending, the attachment continues. 31 All. 490=15 I. C. 49.

REVIVAL OF ATTACHMENT.—Restoration of an execution application to file revives attachment. 18 N. L. R. 152=64 I. C. 420. On a sale being set aside, a fresh execution application revives the old attachment. 45 I. C. 589=3 Pat. L. J. 310. A revival of attachment on the revival of an execution application does not affect the rights acquired by third parties in the meantime. 14 C. L. J. 476=16 C. W. N. 332. But see 24 A. L. J. 901=97 I. O. 21, R. 58. SCOPE.—Rule of res judicata in execution proceedings. 26 L. W. 106. The rule is only permissive. Such a claim is never compulsory. 40 Cal. 598=40 I. A. 56 (P. C.); also 18 A. 410; 23 B. 266; 18 M. 13 (17); 4 A. L. J. 574; 20 B. 403 (407). A Small Cause Court can neither attach immoveable property nor investigate claim resulting therefrom. 28 C. W. N. 16=1924 Cal. 198. The rule does not apply in the case of a mortgage decree for sale. 1925 Nag. 185. See also 68 I. C. 271=26 C. W. N. 50; 18 I. C. 215; 55 I. C. 895=2 Lah. L. J. 343; 58 P. It does not apply to attachment before judgment. 41 Mad. 849=35 M. L. J. 231 (F. B.); also 42 I. C. 554=6 L. W. 518. Objection can be taken to an attachment after the decree even though an attachment before judgment was not objected to. 38 Cal. 448=10 I. C. 305. Court has no jurisdiction to enquire into question of title but should confine itself to determine the question of possession. A. I. R. 1928 Mad. 163; 103 I. C. 12=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 286. But see 98 I. C. 888=A. I. R. 1927 Sind 114. The words ‘possessed’ and ‘possession’ in these rules, include constructive possession or possession in law of debts and other intangible property. 27 M. 67 (F. B.). But see 22 W. R. 36 and 4 B. 323. The proviso regarding delay applies even to cases where the executing Court not having jurisdiction over the property, exercises it. 41 I. C. 446. In claim investigations, the court will enquire into who was in possession at the time of attachment and not whether such possession was fraudulent or void. 13 Bur. L. T. 214=64 I. C. 66. The Court is bound to decide the question of possession. 87 I. C. 189=48 M. L. J. 603; also 49 M. L. J. 706=1928 Mad. 163. The Court has no power to entertain an objection after sale of property. 4 P. L. T. 544=74 I. C. 87; 5 Rang. 751. See also 15 I. C. 53=16 C. W. N. 1023; also 87 I. C. 168 (1). Whether claim can be heard after sale. See A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 468. An investigation may be refused, but once it is made an order must be passed. 39 I. C. 345=11 Bur. L. T. 41; also 44 M. L. the Court cannot enquire whether the execution is time barred. 60 I.C. 375 = 2 Pat. L.T. 275. A direction to proceed with sale after simply notifying claim amounts to an adverse order. 1925 Mad. 368. But see contra 49 M. L. J. 706.

CLAIMS UNDER THIS RULE—WHO CAN BRING CLAIMS.—A person who has only a beneficial interest in property can prefer a claim. 11 M. L. J. 346. Also the assignee for value of a decree subsequently attached in execution of a decree against the assignor, and who seeks to have the decree released from attachment. 10 M.L.J. 116. A claim by a garnishee also comes within this rule. 38 Bom. 631 = 25 I.C. 375. Claim by a judgment-debtor as a trustee comes under this rule. 38 I.C. 152. See also 4 O. W. N. 102. Or by his legal representative as trustee. 75 I.C. 1053 = 1924 All. 183 (2). Purchasers after attachment cannot bring claim proceedings. 9 I.C. 194 = 16 C.W.N. 542. Transferee of property subject to a contract of a sale, prior to attachment comes under this rule. 38 I.C. 107 = 5 L. W. 234. A transferee of property attached in execution of a money decree can object under this rule. 123 P. L. R. 1912 = 13 I. C. 563. Also the Administrator-General when empowered to collect the assets of a deceased person. 23 B. 428. Also the Official Assignee, after a vesting order has been passed. 21 B. 205 (218). The claim of the Official Receiver under S. 34 of the Provincial Insolvency Act where the vesting was after attachment does not come under this rule. 41 M. L. J. 334 = 69 I. C. 326. In a decree for money with lien on mortgaged property, claims may be enquired. 101 P.R. 1915 = 32 I. C. 43. A usufructuary mortgagee in possession does not come under this rule but under R. 100. 70 I. C. 306 = 1 P. 159. But see A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 51; 10 Bom. H.C. R. 100; also 97 I. C. 255. Attachment of equity of redemption continues even though a usufructuary mortgagee applies for the release of the property. 1925 Cal. 296. A prior mortgagee cannot intervene under this rule, as it does not apply to cases where the property has not been attached. 27 A. 700; 18 B. 98; 14 C. 63. Petition by simple mortgagee for insertion of his mortgage in sale proclamation comes under this rule and its dismissal amounts to an adverse order. 25 A. L. J. 659 = 102 I.C. 792 = A. I. Money paid to avert an attachment, cannot be claimed back under this rule. 34 I. C. 492 = 9 S. L. R. 213. Objection by the judgment-debtor as being wakf property comes under this rule. 1 P. 637 = 67 I. C. 438. If the objection is raised by the judgment-debtor in his own behalf or in a representative capacity in which he has been sued, it is a question to be decided under S. 47. 15 C. 437 (443). But see 17 C. 711 (F.B.); 10 M. 117 (119); 10 M.L.J. 85; 2 A. 752; 23 M. 195 (F.B.). See also 6 P. L. T. 725 = 1925 Pat. 482. PARTIES TO CLAIM.—The judgment-debtor is not a necessary party to a claim. 22 B. 875 (882); 15 C. 674.

APPEAL.—Order of dismissal of objection by judgment-debtor stating that he has no saleable interest, is appealable. 28 O. C. 175 = 85 I. C. 997. See also 28 Punj. L. R. 121. Where a joint application was made by a party and another not a party, objecting to the attachment, and the parties acquiesced in the application being heard under this rule, an order on the application under these circumstances is appealable. 5 Rang. 110 = 101 I. C. 794 = A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 137.

AMENDMENT.—This can be allowed by substituting the name of the real claimant, where the Court is satisfied that the wrong name has been used through a bono fide mistake, and where the other parties are in no way misled or prejudiced. 21 B. at p. 210.

EFFECT OF ORDER.—See 45 Mad. 84 = 41 M. L. J. 393 = 1922 Mad. 176; A. I. R. 1926 All. 244.

LIMITATION for fresh suit begins to run from the time of refusal to investigate. Art. 11 of the Limitation Act applies. 45 A. 438 = 21 A. L. J. 342. But see 43 M. L. J. 467 = 45 Mad. 827. When once a claim order is made, limitation begins to run. The filing of a fresh execution application after dismissal of the prior one, does not give a fresh starting point. 66 P. R. 1916 = 35 I. C. 321. Where the order is an improper one and runs as follows:—"Whatever right the defendant has will pass by the sale. The claim put forward by the petitioner will be noted in the sale proclamation." Limitation for suit does not run from the date of the order. 44 M. L. J. 141 = 1923 Mad. 295. But see contra 93 I. C. 335 = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 593; also 49 M. L. J. 706. Where a claim is dismissed or struck off without any adjudication, a fresh claim may be entertained. 16 W. R. 59. See also 21 B. at p. 210.

RIGHT OF SUIT.—A suit is the only remedy against an adverse order. 89 I.C. 888 = 1925 Nag. 288. Unless a claim is put in under this rule a suit for bare declaration would be barred by S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act. 5 R. 699. A defeated claimant cannot reiterate his claim in a suit by the successful party. 1925 Mad. 368 = 92 I. C. 737. But if the attachment ceases later on account of the dismissal of the execution petition, he will not be precluded from raising the question of title in defence, even after a year. 1925 Mad. 1113 = 48 M.L.J. 616. Claim petition dismissed—Suit by defeated claimant—Burden of proof on the question of title is on the plaintiff. 10 Lah. L. J. 42. The right to suit is not affected by the sale of the property. 70 I. C. 332 = 3 P. L. T. 832.

REVISION.—A wrong order can be set aside in revision. 1925 Mad. 588 = 48 M. L. J. 603; 103 I. C. 12.

Provided that no such investigation shall be made where the Court considers that the claim or objection was designedly or unnecessarily delayed.

(2) Where the property to which the claim or objection applies has been advertised for sale, the Court ordering the sale may postpone it pending the investigation of the claim or objection.

Postponement of sale.

[Allahabad and Oudh] O. 21, R. 58 (2).—In Allahabad and Oudh add, "or may in its discretion make an order postponing the delivery of the property after the sale pending such investigation. And in no case shall the sale become absolute until the claim or objection has been decided" at the end of sub-clause (2) in R. 58, O. 21.

59. [S. 279.] The claimant or objector must adduce evidence to show that at the date of the attachment he had some interest in, or was possessed of, the property attached.

Evidence to be adduced by claimant.

60. [S. 280.] Where upon the said investigation the Court is satisfied that for the reason stated in the claim or objection such property was not, when attached in the possession of the judgment-debtor or of some person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of a tenant or other person paying rent to him, or that, being in the possession of the judgment-debtor at such time, it was so in his possession, not on his own account or as his own property, but on account of or in trust for some other person, or partly on his own account and partly on account of some other person, the Court shall make an order releasing the property wholly or to such extent as it thinks fit, from attachment.

Release of property from attachment.

O. 21, B. 59.—The rule does not mean that if the claimant establishes that he has some interest, he can succeed irrespective of the question of possession; nor should his claim be disallowed if he fails to establish the interest set up, irrespective of the question of possession of judgment-debtor. 24 I. C. 62. Ordinarily Court enquires into possession only, occasionally into title as well. 39 I. C. 275=10 Bur. L. T. 14. But the enquiry is not necessarily confined only to possession. 10 I. C. 994; also 48 I. C. 182=11 Bur. L. T. 118. But see 24 I. C. 62; also 59 I. C. 947=43 Mad. 760; 8 I. C. 117=35 Mad. 35.

EVIDENCE.—The applicant has a right to establish what the law requires, by any evidence sufficient for the purpose, and the Court has no power to require from him any particular kind of evidence. 22 W. R. 392. If no evidence of possession is adduced the Court should deal with the question of title only. 32 I. C. 34. When a judge refuses to receive evidence, any order passed by him is ultra vires. 22 W. R. 422; 27 All. 16 (F. B.). A revision lies if the Court acts with material irregularity. 76 I. C. 677=1 R. 276. See also 60 I. C. 616.

O. 21, B. 60. SCOPE OF RULE.—An order for release has not the effect of putting an end to an attachment duly made. 33 C. 1158.

NATURE OF INVESTIGATION.—The investigation under this rule should be confined to determining whether or not the property attached was in the possession of the claimant on his own account. 10 C. 1057; see also 18 C. 290. The Court should decide on merits when a claim is put in and not drive the claimant to a regular suit. 248 P. L. R. 1914=27 I. C. 256. The extent to which the investigation should be carried out depends on the circumstances of each case. 15

C. 521 (P. C.); 1 C. W. N. 617. See also 29 C. 543; 18 M. 265; 12 C. 108. When an intervenor claims a share of attached property the Court should determine the respective shares of the debtor and intervenor. 27 A. 464. See 29 M. 225. A conditional order on a claim should not be passed. 44 I. C. 1007. On this rule, see also 91 I. C. 414=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 355.

APPLICATION OF THE RULE.—A mortgagee in possession holds the property in trust for the mortgagor to the extent of his interest therein, and so far it must be released from the attachment. 10 I. C. 994.

IN TRUST.—These words apply to cases in which the possession of a claimant as a trustee, is of such a character as to be really the possession of the debtor, and not to cases in which very intricate questions of law may arise as to whether valid trusts may result in particular instances. 14 C. 617 (620). See also 21 B. 287. Transfer of property after release from attachment on claim is liable to be set aside if the order itself is set aside by a regular suit. 62 I. C. 348=25 C. W. N. 544. See also 2 Bur. L. J. 113=1923 Rang. 237. When in order to prevent the taking to Court of property attached, the claimant pays to the Amin the amount of the decree, he must, if he wants to have the money refunded, file a regular suit. The Court cannot direct a refund. 22 B. 473. An order in favour of a decree-holder does not enure for the benefit of the other decree-holders who are not parties to the proceedings. 18 A. 413.

APPEAL.—No appeal lies from an order passed under this rule. 28 B. 458. Whether appeal lies under S. 15 of the Letters Patent against order dismissing a claim. See 25 M. 555.

61. [S. 281.] Where the Court is satisfied that the property was, at the time it was attached, in the possession of the judgment-debtor as his own property and not on account of any other person, or was in the possession of some other person in trust for him, or in the occupancy of a tenant or other person paying rent to him, the Court shall disallow the claim.

62. [S. 282.] Where the Court is satisfied that the property is subject to a mortgage or charge in favour of some person not in possession, and thinks fit to continue the attachment, it may do so, subject to such mortgage or charge.

preferred, the party against whom an order is made may institute a suit to establish the right which he claims to

O. 21, R. 61.—The Court cannot merely on suspicion hold that the claim is untenable. 29 C. 543. Effect of order. See 17 Cal. 260. Possession of a claimant under a fraudulent and collusive sale must be deemed to be in trust for the judgment-debtor. 17 I. C. 12=16 C. W. N. 959. When a claim is disallowed but the attachment is raised, a suit for possession within one year under Art. 13 of the Lim. Act is not necessary. 45 Bom. 561=59 I. C. 774.

O. 21, R. 62. SCOPE.—The Code makes a distinction between a case in which property is sold subject to a mortgage and a case in which notice of an alleged mortgage is given in a proclamation of sale. The former is provided by this rule, the latter by R. 66. 28 A. 418 at p. 420. See also 41 Bom. 64=36 I. C. 627. Comparison of this rule with O. 23, R. 1. 20 N. L. R. 106=1925 Nag. 2.

APPLICATION OF THE RULE.—A mortgagee in possession can prefer a claim. 10 Bom. H. C. R. 100. A sale subject to a charge, on the application of a person in possession claiming a charge of maintenance on the property is valid. 44 Bom. 860=58 I. C. 217. See also 35 Bom. 275=10 I. C. 913. A purchaser under a sale subject to a mortgage, cannot dispute the mortgage. 47 Cal. 446=24 C. W. N. 269. See also 29 I. C. 690=21 C. W. N. 401; 50 I. C. 909; 15 N. L. R. 15=1923 Nag. 282; 30 I. C. 238; 2 O. L. J. 225; 50 I. C. 580; 12 Bur. L. T. 43. But where the Court did not direct the sale of the property subject to a mortgage, but the mortgage is simply declared at the time of sale, the auction purchaser is not precluded from questioning the validity of the mortgage. 36 I. C. 732=3 O. L. J. 422. A purchaser of property subject to a mortgage can plead limitation in a suit by the mortgagee. 23 I. C. 448=17 O. C. 38.

O. 21, R. 63. OBJECT AND SCOPE.—The object of the suit is to get rid of the attachment. Therefore no suit need be filed when the attachment is raised and a suit abates on the removal of attachment. (1917) M. W. N. 851=42 I. C. 683. But see 26 I. C. 532=26 M. L. J. 499. See also A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 197; 27 Punj. L. R. 408=8 Lah. L. J. 350=93 I. C. 997=7 Lah. 235=A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 348 (No suit where the decree holder himself withdraws the attachment). A regular suit is a continuation of the claim proceedings. 1925 Nag. 82. It is in the form of an appeal, because the summary investigation might not have furnished sufficient material decision. 90 I. C. 196. A suit can be instituted even when the attachment had virtually ceased the decree having been satisfied from other properties of the judgment-debtor. 9 C. 10; 18 B. 241; 21 B. 58; 31 C. 228; 29 M. 225. But see 27 C. 714; 16 A. 165 (169) (F. B.); 18 B. 260; 12 C. 696 (701); 17 C. 436; 1 A. L. J. 531=22 B. 640. When attachment before judgment ceases on the dismissal of a suit, it does not effect on abatement of a suit under this rule. 27 I. C. 800. Whether the suit decides the question of title arising in execution. 43 Mad. 760=39 M. L. J. 350 (F. B.), overruling 43 I. C. 651=33 M. L. J. 705=41 Mad. 612 (F. B.) and 34 I. C. 778=30 M. L. J. 565. The Court is not restricted to determine only the question of the attachability of the property but can also question the validity of the decree itself. 23 I. C. 755. The rule covers not merely a declaratory suit, but also one for consequential relief. 40 Mad. 733=31 M. L. J. 394. If an attaching creditor withdraws the attachment, a suit by him is maintainable not under this rule but under S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. 33 I. C. 124=9 Bur. L. T. 89; 29 M. 151 (F. B.). See also 34 I. C. 125=9 Bur. L. T. 199. See also 5 Rang. 699. A suit under S. 42, Specific Relief Act, before sale would be premature. 52 I. C. 157. Non-objection does not amount to consent, and suit under this rule is not one to set aside a consent order. 28 I. C. 536=(1915) M. W. N. 237.

NATURE OF ORDER IN A CLAIM.—The dismissal for default of a claim amounts to negating it. 26 C. W. N. 126=1922 Cal. 166. Also 15 I. C. 683=16 C. W. N. 882; 64 I. C. 209=24 O. C. 213; 97 I. C. 178=22 N. L. R. 94=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 423. But an order "not pressed, dismissed" is not one under the rule. 1925 Mad. 265=80 I. C. 233. Also the dismissal of a claim petition for want of jurisdiction does not come under this rule. 41 M. L. J. 198=63 I. C. 431. The order is conclusive even when the claim is rejected as no evidence is adduced to prove it. 32 C. 527. Also 17 M. L. T. 223=28 I. C. 244. An order for removal of attachment is final even though passed ex-parte. 2 Bur. L. J. 60=1923 Rang. 156. Order under this rule is conclusive. 66 P. R. 1916=35 I. C. 321; 8 N. L. J. 170=A. I. R. 1925 Nag. 390. The word 'conclusive' means final, i.e., not appealable. 1 R. 276=1923 Rang. 195. The order in a claim case is conclusive only with regard to the parties to the claim and the disputed property. 44 Cal. 698=21 C. W. N. 222; also 18 All. 413. The judgment-debtor when a party is bound by a claim order only to the extent of the adjudication. The purchaser takes it subject to rights as determined by the Court. 37 M. L. J. 547=34 I. C.

the property in dispute, but, subject to the result of such suit, if any, the order shall be conclusive.

530. Such an order would bind the judgment-debtor if he is a party to it, and the question whether he was a party to it will depend upon the circumstances under which it was made and the terms of it. 13 M. L. J. 367. Even an order passed without investigation is conclusive. 27 I. C. 944=2 L. W. 205; 104 I. C. 289=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 680. See also 6 N. L. J. 66=71 I. C. 404; 69 I. C. 522=1923 Nag. 69; 1 Rang. 481=2 Bur. L.J. 173. But see 22 B. 875 (882); also 27 C. 714 (722). Mere recording of objections without an adjudication does not amount to an order against the objector. 52 I. C. 938=(1919) M. W. N. 805. But see 37 M. L. J. 159=52 I. C. 720. An order that the allegation of the claimants will be notified to bidders is one made against the claimants and amounts to a rejection of a claim petition. 41 Mad. 985=35 M. L. J. 335 (F. B.). See also 1925 Mad. 365. This rule does not introduce an exception to the rule that the defendant is bound to set up every defence available to him. 17 M. 389. But see 10 B. 659. Attachment—Objection by lessee upheld—Subsequent suit by purchaser for ejectment—Lease objected to on the ground of S. 52, T. P. Act—Maintainability. See 8 L. R. 264 (Rev.)=104 I. C. 292=A. I. R. 1927 All. 657.

SUIT IS THE ONLY REMEDY.—An unsuccessful party must bring a suit to establish his right. He cannot be permitted to raise any defence in any other way. 1922 Cal. 164; 71 I. C. 45 (1). See also 6 L. W. 281=41 I. C. 684. On dismissal of an execution petition on an objection an appeal or a suit lies, but no revision. 38 I. C. 299. But if the claim is disallowed no appeal lies. 38 All. 537=35 I. C. 6; 38 I. C. 152; 34 I. C. 759=3 L. W. 377. Since no proper order without proper investigation can be passed, the findings are subject to question in second appeal being mixed questions of law and fact. 37 I. C. 92=19 O. C. 357.

APPLICABILITY OF THE RULE.—Where the attachment is raised within a year from the date of the order, no suit need be filed. 97 I. C. 178=22 N. L. R. 94=A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 423; 94 I. C. 120. A suit by a decree-holder under this rule against a reversioner claimant is not barred under S. 47, C. P. C. 71 I. C. 1012=1923 All. 192. A suit against the judgment-debtor for refund of consideration by an unsuccessful claimant is not a suit under this rule and need not be brought within a year. 46 All. 45=1924 All. 302. The rule applies even when a garnishee objects but his objection is overruled. If he does not bring a suit, to declare that nothing was due to the judgment-debtor the claim order would be final and conclusive. 44 M. L. J. 388=1923 Mad. 562. A suit for bare declaration under this rule would be barred by S. 42 of the Sp. Rel. Act unless a claim has been put in under R. 58. 5 Rang. 699. See also 103 I. C. 763=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 631.

LIMITATION.—The suit must be brought within one year from the passing of the order complained of. 15 C. 521 (P. C.); 22 B. 640; 20 B. 801; 11 C. 673 (678); 26 C. 778. Art. 11 of the Lim. Act does not come into operation until an adjudication on the merits of an objection is made, 3 Lah. 7=1922 Lah. 108. Also 44 M. L. J. 141=1923 Mad. 295. A mortgage suit more than one year after claim was disallowed, would be barred, even though, no actual attachment was made in pursuance of an order of attachment. 41 M. L. J. 594=45 Mad. 90. See 38 M. L. J. 397=56 I. C. 481. See also 37 M. L. J. 159=52 I. C. 720; A. I. R. 1927 All. 593. Where a suit in which an attachment before judgment was obtained, was dismissed, but on appeal, the decree was reversed, the reversal does not restore the attachment. The period of limitation therefore starts from the date of dismissal of a fresh claim at the time of executing the appellate decree. 87 I. C. 756 (2)=1925 Cal. 1147. Where the claim is disallowed but the attachment ceases under R. 57, the question of title can be raised even after a year. 1925 Mad. 1113=48 M. L. J. 616. See also 39 M. L. T. 108=104 I. C. 424=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 893.

FOR COSTS OF CLAIM PETITION.—See 20 L. W. 557=83 I. C. 89=1925 Mad. 233 (1).

JURISDICTION.—In a suit to establish a right to attached property the value of the subject-matter of the suit for determining jurisdiction will be the amount of the decree in satisfaction of which it is sought to bring the property to sale. 2 A. 799; 9 A. 140; 17 A. 69. The value of the declaratory suit is the value of the decree in execution of which the property was sold and not the value of the property sold. 40 All. 505=45 I. C. 494; also 38 All. 72=31 I. C. 879; 253 P.L.R. 1914=25 I. C. 180. But see 82 P.R. 1913=18 I. C. 820; 17 I. C. 196=41 P.R. 1913. The amount which settles jurisdiction is the amount which the execution creditor will recover if he is successful, and not the value of the property attached. 15 C. 104. The nature of the claim and the right sought to be enforced, determine the Court in which the suit has to be instituted. 7 C. 608.

COURT-FEE.—See 16 A. 308 (F.B.); 10 B. 610 (F.B.); 17 M. L. J. (P. C.) 618; 13 C. 162; 64 I. C. 49.

FRAME OF SUIT.—In a suit under this rule the attachment is the cause of action, and different purchasers of the attached property can be joined as defendants in the same suit. 27 M. 94; 28 A. 41; 16 B. 615; see also 17 C. 436 (P.C.); 23 B. 266; 4 M. 131; 13 B. 72; 10 B. 659; 17 M. 389; 7 C. 608. An ordinary creditor, much less an attaching decree-holder, need not sue in a representative character to set aside a fraudulent alienation. 42 Mad. 143=36 M. L. J. 231; also 59 I. C. 947=43 Mad. 760 (F.B.); 71 I. C. 20.

PARTIES TO THE SUIT.—When after a claim is disallowed, the claimant sells his interest in the property to a third person, the rule does not prevent the purchaser from bringing a suit. 26 A. 89. Auction purchaser in execution of decree can be added as party. 103 I. C. 763=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 631. The decree-holder is not a necessary party in a claim suit by a defeated claimant when the purchaser was a third party. 70 I. C. 168=1923 Mad. 58; 103 I. C. 763=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 631. A decree-holder is not a necessary party to a suit under R. 63, O. 21, C. P. C., by an unsuccessful objector. 105 I. C. 799. A judgment-debtor who throughout contested the claim is a party and can bring the suit under this rule. See Sale generally.

- 64. [S. 284.] Any Court executing a decree may order that any property attached by it and liable to sale, or such portion thereof as may seem necessary to satisfy the decree, shall be sold, and that the proceeds of such sale, or a sufficient portion thereof, shall be paid to the party entitled under the decree to receive the same.

Power to order property attached to be sold and proceeds to be paid to person entitled.

- 65. [S. 286.] Save as otherwise prescribed, every sale in execution of a decree shall be conducted by an officer of the Court or by such other person as the Court may appoint in this behalf, and shall be made by public auction in manner prescribed.

Sales by whom conducted and how made.

[Bangoon] In Order 21, the following shall be substituted for Rule 65 :—

65. (1) Sales shall be conducted by the Bailiff, or Deputy Bailiff, but the duty may be entrusted to a process-server when the property is moveable property not exceeding Rs. 50 in value. 22 I.C. 797=84 P.R. 1914; also 1 L.W. 772=25 I.C. 700. 1919.

PARTY AGAINST WHOM ORDER IS MADE.—A plaintiff to whom notice of the claim proceedings has not issued cannot be considered as a party against whom an order has been made. 25 M. 721.

THE BURDEN OF PROOF lies on the unsuccessful party. 13 I. C. 455=22 C. L. J. 380; 60 I. C. 751; 50 I. C. 884=47 P. L. R. 1919; 77 I. C. 50=1923 Nag. 334; 35 I. C. 427=19 O. C. 64; 53 I. C. 892=1919 Pat. 409; 37 I. C. 767=10 Bur. L. T. 238; 14 I. C. 813=5 Bur. L. T. 47; 41 Mad. 205=34 M. L. J. 295. The onus of proving that the property is the judgment-debtor's lies on plaintiff, and whether or not defendant has a title, the plaintiff must prove the title of the judgment-debtor. 17 B. 94 (99). Transfer to another creditor after decree but before attachment by itself is no indication of fraud. 100 I. C. 993 (1)=6 Bur. L. J. 8=A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 168. But if the plaintiff adduces evidence sufficient to raise a presumption that the alienation to defendant might be fraudulent, then the onus lies upon the defendant to prove bona fides. 67 I. C. 876=3 Lah. L. J. 198. Proof by unsuccessful claimant is required not only of execution of document but of the passing of consideration and delivery of possession. 4 O. W. N. 794=105 I. C. 208=A. I. R. 1927 Oudh 440. But see also 4 O. W. N. 926=32 C. W. N. 28=46 C. L. J. 349=105 I. C. 788=29 Bom. L. R. 1481=A. I. R. 1927 P. C. 237=53 M. L. J. 388 (P.C.). Regarding proof and shifting of onus, see A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 25. When passing of consideration and transfer of possession is proved, the onus is shifted on the defendant to show that a fraud was intended. 55 I. C. 72; A. I. R. 1926 Nag. 293; also 89 I. C. 953 (1). The onus of proving mala fides and want of consideration on the plaintiff's part is on those who resist the claim. 55 I. C. 205. Plaintiff can also show that there was no attachment or that it was invalid. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 450.

DEFENCES.—The defendant may impeach a transaction voidable as against him. 55 I. C. 752. A plea of fraudulent transfer is a good defence to a suit by a transferee. 57 I. C. 430=22 Bom. L. R. 743. Also 43 Mad. 760=36 M. L. J. 350 (F.B.) overruling 41 Mad. 612=43 I. C. 651 (F.B.) and 34 I. C. 778=30 M.L.J. 565. See also 59 I.C. 947=43 Mad. 760; 54 I.C. 798=16 N.L.R. 3. An auction-purchaser cannot question the title of the mortgagee when his purchase is subject to the mortgage. 51 I. C. 100=45 P. L. R.

PROCEDURE IN THE SUIT.—The question of title of claimant should be enquired into as on the date of claim. In a suit to set aside claim order, subsequent perfection of title is not a valid defence. 33 M. L. J. 316=42 I. C. 438. It is irregular to admit the depositions of parties in the claim investigation. The finding in the suit must be based on the evidence tendered and taken in the suit itself. 22 I.C. 676; 14 W.R. 95. In the suit, though the claim was with reference to the whole of the property, the Court can pass a decree declaring a partial interest. 28 I.C. 576=21 C.L.J. 302.

EFFECT OF DECREE IN THE SUIT.—The decree in the suit by a decree-holder revives the attachment. 48 I.C. 386=5 O.L.J. 647. A transfer of property pending a suit is lis pendens. 38 Mad. 535=26 M.L.J. 449. The decree that the property could not be sold, renders void all proceedings taken in execution. 20 I.C. 790=18 C. W. N. 910. Where a suit under this rule to declare a mortgage has been dismissed, a fresh suit to enforce the mortgage is barred. 44 Mad. 268=40 M.L.J. 7.

O. 21, R. 64.—A debt can be sold under this rule. 35 I. C. 469=10 Bur. L. T. 6. Court cannot sell property not attached. 42 I. C. 259; also 9 I.C. 918=13 C. L.J. 243. Moveable property need not be in the custody of the court at the time of sale. 28 I. C. 62=(1915) M. W. N. 159. Although an order absolute for sale of all the mortgaged property has been passed, the executing Court is not bound to sell the whole of the property. 27 A. at p. 265. Execution sale, when the decree is for larger amount than what was due, is not vitiated. 14 I. C. 839=15 C. L. J. 423. When property has once been sold in execution it cannot again be sold at the instance of another decree-holder. 12 C. 317. But see 30 C. 559 (F.B.). The Court cannot refuse to sell on the ground that a stranger to the suit impeaches the decree. 5 B. 532; 15 B. 98.

AN APPEAL will lie from an order passed under this rule. 4 C.L.R. 27.

O. 21, R. 66.—A sale should ordinarily be conducted at some place within the jurisdiction of the Court ordering the sale. 13 B. 22. In the absence of the Sub-Judge, it is not competent to the District Judge to perform the duties required by this rule. 12 W.R. 238. After the property is knocked down on a bid, the purchaser will not be permitted to withdraw his bid. 21 C.L.J. 174.=19 C.W.N. 633.

and when, in the opinion of the Court, for reasons recorded in the diary of the case, the Bailiff or Deputy Bailiff cannot personally conduct the sale.

(2) Subject to the terms of the proviso to rule 43 and of rule 74, some one day in each week shall be set apart and regularly observed for holding sales, in execution of decrees; and some well-known place in the vicinity of the Court-house or the public bazaar shall be selected for the purpose.

(3) Subject as aforesaid, and unless the Court is of opinion that for any special reason a sale on the spot where the property is attached or situated will be more beneficial to the judgment-debtor all property, whether moveable or immovable, attached in execution of decree shall be sold at the time and place selected.

The day to be set apart, and the place selected for holding the sales, and any changes therein shall be reported for the information of the High Court.

(4) The following scale is laid down as to the amount which may be deducted from the proceeds of the sale of property sold in execution of the decree, as the expenses of sale, and paid to the officer conducting the sale under the orders of the Court as his authorized commission:—

When the proceeds of sale do not exceed Rs. 500,—5 per cent.

Where they exceed Rs. 500 and do not exceed Rs. 5,000,—5 per cent. on the first Rs. 500 and 2 per cent. on the remainder.

Where they exceed Rs. 5,000—at the above rate on the first Rs. 5,000 and one per cent., on the remainder. The calculation of the commission shall be on the whole amount realized in pursuance of one application for execution.

(5) Subject to the provisions of sub-rule (13) of Rule 45-B, no further sum beyond this authorized commission and the costs of conveyance of property to the place of sale shall be deducted from the sale-proceeds.

Note.—As regards the travelling allowance of Bailiffs going out to sell property on the spot, see Article 1039 and item 29 of Appendix 20, Civil Service Regulations.

(6) When a sale of immovable property is set aside under the provisions of Rule 92 (2) below, no commission shall be paid to the Bailiff for selling the property.

(7) No officer of a subordinate Court shall receive any larger commission or fee in respect of any sale of property (mortgaged or otherwise) held in execution or pursuance of any decree or order of the Court directing or authorizing such sale than that allowed by sub-rule (4) above.

(8) The gross proceeds of sales shall be entered in Register II and in Bailiff's Register I and shall be paid into the treasury.

66. [S. 287.] (1) Where any property is ordered to be sold by public auction in execution of a decree, the Court shall cause a proclamation of sales by public auction. tion of the intended sale to be made in the language of such Court.

(2) Such proclamation shall be drawn up after notice to the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor and shall state the time and place of sale, and specify as fairly and accurately as possible—

(a) the property to be sold;

O. 21, R. 66.—The Court is entitled to presume that the provisions of this rule have been complied with. 9 A. 690. The words "part of the estate" mean aliquot part of an estate. 11 B. L. R. 56. Where a debt is to be sold, and the debtor says that no debt exists the court should satisfy itself that a debt exists, before ordering its sale. 4 B. 323. See also 10 M. 194; 28 A. 262. No duty is cast by this rule on the Judgment-debtor to help the Court by particulars. 105 I. C. 335.

PROCLAMATION.—The object of the proclamation is to give notice to intending purchasers and not to the judgment-debtor. 12 W. R. 438. See also 20 A. 412. Sale proclamation can be issued before objections are disposed of, but sale before the objections are disposed of cannot be held. 43 I. C. 450. Separate proclamations are not necessary, when properties are situate in different villages unless proper notice could not otherwise be given. 9 I. C. 698=13 C. L. J. 192.

NOTICE.—The provisions under this rule for notice are directory and not mandatory. They are not for the benefit of the judgment-debtor but with a view to ascertain exact rights. 44 I. C. 252. Omission to issue notice on a fresh execution application for settlement of terms of proclamation does not constitute an irregularity. 65 I.

C. 988=24 O. C. 391 also 90 I. C. 351=A. I. R. 1926 Oudh 76. Omission to give notice of sale to the judgment-debtor renders the sale void. 38 I. C. 98=11 Bur. L. T. 40. But see contra 99 I. C. 515=A. I. R. 1927 Lah. 84. So also want of notice to L. R. of judgment-debtor. 49 A. 830=102 I. C. 239=25 A. L. J. 507. An ex parte order settling the terms of a proclamation does not operate as res-judicata in an application for release of property which had been attached without notice to him, 46 M. 768=45 M. L. J. 346.

TIME AND PLACE.—No sale can take place except at the time advertised. 16 C. at p. 798. The date of proclamation is the day on which the public are made known of its subject-matter. The Court can fix another date when the due date has already expired. 39 I. C. 715=4 O. L. J. 115 (note). Non-mention of time of sale is a material irregularity. 51 I. C. 864=15 N. L. R. 125. Also 28 I. C. 184=18 O. C. 1. A proclamation which does not state the place of sale is irregular, 9 A. 511. See also 5 Bur. L. J. 183. The sale should ordinarily be held at some place within the jurisdiction of the Court ordering the sale. 13 B. 22.

Clause (a).—Absence of plan of house does not vitiate sale. 1925 Oudh 150 (1).

(b) the revenue assessed upon the estate, or part of the estate, where the property to be sold is an interest in an estate or in part of an estate paying revenue to the Government ;

(c) any incumbrance to which the property is liable ;

(d) the amount for the recovery of which the sale is ordered ; and

(e) [S. 237, last para.] every other thing which the Court considers material for a purchaser to know in order to judge of the nature and value of the property.

Provided that no such notice shall be necessary in the case of immoveable property not exceeding Rs. 500 in value.

(3) Every application for an order for sale under this rule shall be accompanied by a statement signed and verified in the manner hereinbefore prescribed for the Clause (b).—Omission of statement of revenue assessed, in a sale proclamation is an irregularity on which a sale can be set aside, 45 M. L. J. 403=28 C. W. N. 593=75 I. C. 546=1923 P. C. 93 (P. C.).

Clause (c).—It is the duty of the Court to obtain from all available sources, a list of existing encumbrances, but the Court does not and cannot guarantee that the list published contains all existing encumbrances, or that the incumbrances notified are valid, 27 A. 97 (110); (F.B.) See also 30 C. at p. 606 (F.B.); 13 M. L. J. 227; 23 I. C. 871=1 O. L. J. 50; 50 I. C. 145=6 O. L. J. 67. Non-mention of restrictive clauses in the matter of redemption, in the case of mortgages which were mentioned in the sale proclamation, does not render the sale liable to be set aside, 13 L. W. 444=62 I. C. 735.

Clause (e).—Omission to mention income from the property does not vitiate the sale, 39 I. C. 59=11 P. L. R. 1917=106 I. C. 138. Value cannot be put by the Court before day fixed for hearing of the parties, 3 Pat. L. T. 342=65 I. C. 360. Undervaluation, when resulting in material injury is a good ground for setting aside a sale, 13 I. C. 337=14 C. L. J. 541. Also 9 I. C. 693=13 C. L. J. 192; 24 I. C. 468=7 Bur. L. T. 64. Value of property is a mere estimate but it must be a fair estimate, 1 P. 214. See also 48 I. C. 141=3 Pat. L. J. 518; 2 Pat. L. J. 130=37 I. C. 872. A sale can be set aside on the ground that a valuation other than one put by the Court was inserted in the sale proclamation, 73 I. C. 317; also 49 I. C. 195=4 Pat. L. J. 39. When the valuation given by both the parties had been inserted in the sale proclamation, See 83 I. C. 430=1924 Cal. 589. The estimated value of the property and its income need not be stated, 8 C. W. N. 264. But see 8 C. W. N. 257. The property must be described with reasonable accuracy. Ibid. Omission to mention value of land is not a serious irregularity, unless it has a prejudicial effect, 1922 Cal. 93. Clause (e) does not require the Court to make an investigation into the question as to the value of the property to be sold, 31 C. 922; but see 105 I. C. 212=A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 943. In order that a plea of undervaluation should be upheld it must not only be shown that there was undervaluation in fact but also that it prejudiced the judgment-debtor, 32 C. W. N. 309.

Sub-Rule (3).—Verification by a person acquainted with the facts is enough, 59 I. C. 282=1 P. L. T. 647. Non-filing of verified statement is mere irregularity, 105 I. C. 335.

RIGHT OF PURCHASER.—All that the Court sells is the right, title and interest of the judgment debtor, as these existed at the date of sale and as these could have been honestly disposed of by the judgment-debtor himself, 27 A. 684. But where a mortgage is simply notified at the time of sale, but the sale is not subject to mortgage, purchaser can question validity of mortgage, 44 All. 714=20 A. L. J. 722=1922 All. 443. See also 36 I. C. 732=3 O. L. J. 422; 28 I. C. 360=2 O. L. J. 140; 18 I. C. 461. But see 12 I. C. 855=4 Bur. L. T. 142. ESTOPPEL.—A judgment creditor is not estopped from raising plea of error in statement of decretal amount in sale proclamation, unless the judgment-debtor is prejudiced thereby, 12 I. C. 97=10 M. L. T. 94. See also 64 I. C. 763=43 All. 703. Failure to serve sale proclamation does not vitiate the sale when the judgment-debtor knows of it, 1922 Cal. 93. A decree-holder cannot subsequent to sale, set up an encumbrance in his own favour, not set up in the execution proceedings, 47 Cal. 446=24 C. W. N. 269. (3) Where property is divided into lots for the purpose of being sold separately, it shall not be necessary to make a separate proclamation for each lot, unless proper notice of the sale cannot, in the opinion of the Court, otherwise be given.

68. [S. 290.] Save in the case of property of the kind described in the proviso to rule 43, no sale hereunder shall, without the consent in writing of the judgment-debtor, take place until after the expiration of at least thirty days in the case of immoveable property, and of at least fifteen days¹ in the case of moveable property, calculated from the date on which the copy of the proclamation has been affixed on the court house of the Judge ordering the sale.

REVISION.—An order under this rule can be set aside on revision. 5 C. 878.

- 69. [S. 291.] (1) The Court may, in its discretion, adjourn any sale hereunder to a specified day and hour, and the officer conducting any such sale may in his discretion adjourn the sale, recording his reasons for such adjournment :

Adjournment or stoppage of sale.

Provided that, where the sale is made in, or within the precincts of, the court-house, no such adjournment shall be made without the leave of the Court.

(2) Where a sale is adjourned under sub-rule (1) for a longer period than seven days, a fresh proclamation under rule 67, shall be made, unless the judgment-debtor consents to waive it.

(3) Every sale shall be stopped if, before the lot is knocked down, the debt and costs (including the costs of the sale) are tendered to the officer conducting the sale or proof is given to his satisfaction that the amount of such debt and costs has been paid into the Court which ordered the sale.

[Allahabad and Oudh.] 69 (2)—Substitute 'fourteen days' for 'seven days' in Sub-clause (2) of Rule 69. O XXI and add the following proviso to the same sub-cl. (2) :—Provided that the court may dispense with the consent of any judgment debtor who has failed to attend in answer to a notice issued under rule 66.

- 71. [S. 293.] Any deficiency of price which may happen on a re-sale by reason of the purchaser's default, and all expenses attending such re-sale, shall be certified to the Court or to the Collector or subordinate of the Collector, as the case may be, by the Defaulting purchaser answerable for loss on re-sale.

O. 21, R. 69. SCOPE.—The rule has no application to a case where the sale is postponed on the ground that the decree has been satisfied. 4 Pat. L. T. 495 = 75 I. C. 676. This rule applies to sales held in virtue of an order absolute for sale under S. 89 of the T. P. Act (O. XXXIV, R. 5) 19 A. 205 ; 20 A. 354. But see 31 C. 373. When a sale is adjourned under this rule its provisions must be followed with exactitude. 20 Mad. 159.

ADJOURNMENT.—Bidding by decree-holder—Sale kept open for some days to get higher bids—Does not amount to adjournment but is a continuous sale and not fresh proclamation is necessary. 6 P. 432 = 104 I. C. 215 = 8 Pat. L. T. 796 = A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 312. The sale should be adjourned to a specified day and hour, and omission to specify this a material irregularity. 31 C. 815 (818) ; 29 A. 196 (P. C.) ; 7 Cal. 34. See also 13 I. C. 337 = 14 C. L. J. 541. 49 All. 402 = 25 A. L. J. 302 = 99 I. C. 926 = A. I. R. 1927 All. 241. Adjournment sine die is irregular and sale is liable to be set aside. 41 I. C. 68 = 3 Pat. L. W. 357. As to whether a sale can be adjourned to a holiday, see 3 A. 333. When a Court adjourns a sale, but the information not reaching the Nazir in time, the sale is concluded, the sale is void. 12 A. 96 ; 12 M. L. J. R. 97 see 17 C. 152. Where an execution sale is not conducted within the precincts of the Court house the officer conducting it has a discretion to adjourn the sale to the next day. 107 I. C. 274.

Sub-rule (2).—Non-issue of a fresh proclamation under R. 69 (2) is a mere irregularity and in the absence of proof of substantial injury the sale cannot be set aside. 38 I. A. 200 = 39 Cal. 26 = 16 C. W. N. 1 (P.C.) also 43 All. 433 = 19 A.L.J.

262. 2 Luck. 490 = 100 I. C. 787 = 4 O. W. N. 273. But see 25 I. C. 17. Even though the judgment-debtor consents, the Court must issue a fresh proclamation in case the judgment-creditor so requires it. 24 M. at p. 316. A fresh proclamation is essential. 2 Bur. L. J. 54 = 1923 Rang. 154. A waiver of fresh proclamation on postponement of sale, does not amount to waiver of objections to the previous one. 14 C. L. J. 346 = 16 C. W. N. 704.

Sub-rule (3).—A bid may be retracted at any time before the hammer is down. 14 M. 235. The sale of a third lot is not vitiated by irregularity under Sub-rule (3) when the money due under the decree is paid only after knocking down of the first two lots. 26 I. C. 273 = (1914) M. W. N. 873. A payment made under this rule cannot be called a voluntary payment. 18 W. R. 503. When a sale is so held, the person holding the equity of redemption can, at any time before sale pay the decretal sum and costs and stop execution proceedings. 26 A. 28 = 31 C. 863 ; 11 C. W. N. 495.

O. 21, R. 71. SCOPE.—Intended to minimise hardship from purchaser's default. It applies unless the defaulting purchaser would be substantially prejudiced. Omission of time and place of sale, and date of re-sale are mere irregularities. 21 L. W. 232 = 87 I. C. 1 = A. I. R. 1925 Mad. 631. The rule is not exhaustive. Other remedies are also open. 50 I. C. 59 = 1919 Pat. 210. The judgment-creditor is not bound to proceed under this rule, and may proceed against other property belonging to the judgment-debtor. 8 C. 291. See also 21 W. R. 149 and 2 B. 562. The provisions of this rule extend to all sales, whether of moveable or immoveable property officer or other person holding the sale, and shall, at the instance of either the decree-holder or the judgment-debtor, be recoverable from the defaulting purchaser under the provisions relating to the execution of a decree for the payment of money.

Decree-holder not to bid for or buy property without permission.

72. [S. 294.] (1) No holder of a decree in execution of which property is sold shall, without the express permission of the Court, bid for or purchase the property.

(2) Where a decree-holder purchases with such permission, the purchase-money and the amount due on the decree may, subject to the provisions of section 73, be set off against one another, and the Court executing the decree shall enter up satisfaction of the decree in whole or in part accordingly.

Where a decree-holder purchases, amount of decree may be taken as payment.

(3) Where a decree-holder purchases, by himself or through another person, without such permission, the Court may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the judgment-debtor or any other person whose interests are affected by the sale, by order set aside the sale; and the costs of such application and order, and any deficiency of price which may happen on the re-sale and all expenses attending it, shall be paid by the decree-holder.

and also to re-sales held under Rr. 77, 84 and 86. 7 C. 337. The rule applies as well to sales under the Prov. Ins. Act. 62 I. C. 307=17 N. L. R. 49. The rule applies when there is default, either in the initial deposit under R. 84 or of the balance under R. 85. 44 A. 266=20 A. I. J. 105 (F.B.) As to the effect of permission to bid given to decree-holder, when a heavy up set price was fixed. See 83 I. C. 379=1924 Bom 515. Only the decree-holder or the judgment-debtor can apply under this rule. Attachment of the deposit by the defaulting decree-holder enures for the benefit of all who are entitled to rateable distribution. 49 Mad. 570=97 I. C. 86=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 872.

RE-SALE.—The re-sale contemplated by this rule must be of the same property that was first sold, and under the same description, 16 C. at p. 58; 16 W. R. 14. The property resold must be substantially the same, and any difference will not matter, if that would occur in the ordinary course of things, or was brought about by the first purchaser's default, 41 Mad. 474=34 M.L.J. 156. The re-sale must be held forthwith and no fresh proclamation is necessary. The auction-purchaser is not liable to pay deficiency when the re-sale is after 6 months. 32 I. C. 907. See also 28 O. C. 327=1925 Oudh 397.

DEFAULTING PURCHASER.—A purchaser of property who fails to pay the deposit directed to be paid by R. 84, is a defaulting purchaser. 5 B. 575. The decree holder may himself be the defaulting purchaser. 12 M. 454. The purchaser is liable only for the deficiency of price and the expenses attending the re-sale and is not liable to pay interest. 9 W. R. 500; 3 W. R. 3; 16 W. R. 14; 14 M. 454. The real and not the ostensible purchaser is liable. 20 W. R. 80; 12 W. R. 236.

O. 21, R. 72. SCOPE.—The rule does not apply to purchases made before its enactment. 8 Bom. L. R. 873. Leave contemplated by this rule should be very cautiously given. 16 Cal. 132; 7 Cal. 346. A permission to bid and an order to set off decree debt is subject to the rights of other decree-holders, having right to rateable distribution. 59 I. C. 86=12 L. W. 328. The purchase by a decree-holder is subject to the final result of the litigation between him and judgment-debtor. 27 M. 98. Delay by the decree-holder purchaser in deposit of money is not a material irregularity and the sale is not vitiated. 2 Bur. L. J. 166=1924 Rang. 81. The Court can refuse to confirm a sale on failure to fulfil conditions subject to which the permission to bid was given. 1 P. 235=69 I. C. 872 also 15 I. C. 888=10 O. C. 86.

[Allahabad and Oudh.] In Allahabad and Oudh delete Sub-rules (1) and (3) of Rule 72 and read Sub-Rule (2) as Rule 72; and in the rules so read substitute for the words "with such permission" "property sold".

[Oudh.] Substituted by Oudh Rule, 72 (1)—The holder of a decree in execution of which property is sold, shall be competent to bid for, or purchase the property, provided that the judgment-debtor may by application, supported by an affidavit, apply to the Court to debar the decree-holder from purchasing the property; and the Court may, on such application, either debar the decree-holder from purchasing the property, or grant permission to do so on such terms as may seem just.

(3) Where the moveable property to be sold is a share in goods belonging to the judgment-debtor and a co-owner, and two or more persons, of whom one is such co-owner, respectively bid the same sum for such property or for any lot, the bidding shall be deemed to be the bidding of the co-owner.

78. [S. 298.] No irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale of moveable property shall vitiate the sale; but any person sustaining any injury by reason of such irregularity at the hand of any other person may institute a suit against him for compensation or (if such other person is the purchaser) for the recovery of the specific property and for compensation in default of such recovery.

Irregularity not to vitiate sale, but any person injured may sue.

[S. 301.] (3) Where the property sold is a debt not secured by a negotiable instrument, or is a share in a corporation, the delivery thereof shall be made by a written order of the Court prohibiting the creditor from receiving the debt or any interest thereon, and the debtor from making payment thereof to any person except the purchaser, or prohibiting the person in whose name the share may be standing from making any transfer of the share to any person except the purchaser, or receiving payment of any dividend or interest thereon, and the manager, secretary or other proper officer of the corporation from permitting any such transfer or making any such payment to any person except the purchaser.

80. [S. 302.] (1) Where the execution of a document or the endorsement of the party in whose name a negotiable instrument or a share in a corporation is standing is required to transfer such negotiable instrument or share, the Judge or such officer as he may appoint in this behalf may execute such document or make such endorsement as may be necessary, and such execution or endorsement shall have the same effect as an execution or endorsement by the party.

Sale of Immoveable Property.

What Courts may order sales.

82. [S. 304.] Sales of immoveable property in execution of decrees may be ordered by any Court other than a Court of Small Causes.

83. [S. 305.] (1) Where an order for the sale of immoveable property has been made, if the judgment-debtor can satisfy the Court that there is reason to believe that the amount of the decree may be raised by the mortgage or lease or private sale of such property, or some part thereof, or of any other immoveable property of the judgment-debtor, the Court may, on his application, postpone the sale of the property comprised in the order for sale on such terms and for such period as it thinks proper, to enable him to raise the amount.

(2) In such case the Court shall grant a certificate to the judgment-debtor authorizing him within a period to be mentioned therein, and notwithstanding anything contained in section 64, to make the proposed mortgage, lease or sale:

Provided that all moneys payable under such mortgage, lease or sale shall be paid, not to the judgment-debtor, but, save in so far as a decree-holder is entitled to set off such money under the provision of Rule 72, into Court:

Provided also that no mortgage, lease or sale under this rule shall become absolute until it has been confirmed by the Court.

A Court of Small Causes must proceed under S. 39 in all cases where execution is sought against the immoveable property of the judgment-debtor. 7 M. 592; see also 8 M. 8.

O. 21 R. 83.—Sub-rule (3) is new and follows the ruling in 6 M. L. J. 187. See also 33 C. 335. The provisions of this rule are in applicable to a decree for sale in a mortgage suit. 55 I. C. 816 = 5 L. L. J. 67. Extension of time for redemption to enable the mortgagor to raise the amount by private sale is prohibited by the Code and no appeal lies from a refusal order, 46 M. L. reasonable short period. 21 W. R. 146. In 15 W. R. 322 six months' time was given. Sanction must be given by the Court which passed the order for sale. The sanction of any other Court is of no use. 23 B. 287. Where a property is purchased on the basis of the Court's certificate granted before an attachment by another decree-holder, the purchaser gets a good title. No formal confirmation is necessary. Order to pay the money to the creditor amounts to confirmation. 21 I.C. 210. See also 19 B. 539. The guardian of a minor also cannot alienate property of the minor without the sanction of the Court. To have such a transfer set aside, the guardian must return the consideration. 36 C.L.J. 326 = 49 Cal. 911. Where the decree was against two divided brothers, and the elder alone obtained permission to sell by private sale, he could not sell the younger's share as well. The younger on payment of half the purchase money could get back his half share from the purchaser. 11 L.W. 213 = 52 I.C. 956.

(3) Nothing in this rule shall be deemed to apply to a sale of property directed to be sold in execution of a decree for sale in enforcement of a mortgage of, or charge on, such property.

84. [S. 306.] (1) On every sale of immoveable property the person declared to be the purchaser shall pay immediately after such declaration a deposit of twenty-five per cent. on the amount of his purchase-money to the officer or other person conducting the sale, and in default of such deposit, the property shall forthwith be re-sold.

(2) Where the decree-holder is the purchaser and is entitled to set off the purchase-money under rule 72, the Court may dispense with the requirements of this rule.

[Oudh] O. 21, R. 84 (2) [added by Oudh].—The Court shall not dispense with the requirements of this rule in a case in which there is an application for rateable distribution of assets.

85. [S. 307.] The full amount of purchase-money payable shall be paid by the purchaser into Court before the Court closes on the fifteenth day from the sale of the property :

Time for payment in full of purchase-money.

Provided that in calculating the amount to be so paid into the Court, the purchaser shall have the advantage of any set off to which he may be entitled under rule 72.

86. [S. 308.] In default of payment within the period mentioned in the last preceding rule, the deposit may, if the Court thinks fit, after defraying the expenses of the sale, be forfeited to the Government, and the property shall be re-sold, and the DEPOSIT.—The deposit is to be made only after the bid is accepted and the person bidding declared to be the purchaser. No deposit can be required from intending bidders. 9 M. I. A. 328. An offer may be retracted at any time before it is accepted. 14 Mad. 235. The sale is complete not on the acceptance of the deposit by the officer conducting the sale, but when an order accepting the bid is made by the presiding officer. 2 P. 548 = 76 I. C. 113. If the deposit is not made under this rule, the sale is not null and void. It is a mere irregularity. 67 I. C. 427. But see 9 I. C. 66 = 15 C. W. N. 350. The officer conducting sale cannot extend time for payment of deposit and failure to deposit immediately annuls sale. 30 I. C. 230 = 2 O. L. J. 216. But see 67 I. C. 427. The decree-holder can withdraw the deposit only after confirmation of sale and is entitled to interest. 25 I. C. 859.

RE-SALE.—The word "forthwith" indicates that no fresh proclamation is necessary. 12 M. 454. As to whether the sale can be adjourned, see 16 C. 33 (38); 12 M. 454. When property is put up again forthwith and sold under this rule, it is re-sold within the meaning of R. 71. 12 M. 454. If the re-sale is held after a fresh proclamation, the sale is not held 'forthwith' and the bidder cannot be held liable for the deficiency. 107 I. C. 274 = 1928 Lah. 249. The defaulting purchaser is not absolved from liability for want of bidders at the re-sale. 95 I. C. 865 (2) = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 739 = 51 M. L. J. 658. APPEAL.—An order setting aside sale on default to deposit purchase-money is not appealable. 58 I. C. 597.

O. 21, R. 85.—The words "into Court" have been added to remove the distinction which was drawn in 20 B. 745 between days on which the Court and those on which the Court's office, respectively, is closed or open. When the time for payment expires during the recess, the money may be paid on the day the Court re-opens. 13 M. L. J. 271. The sending of a postal money order by the purchaser does not satisfy the rule. He is bound to see that the money reaches the Court in time. 22 B. 415; 7 M. 211. See 7 C. 337. The 15 days time does not apply, on confirmation of sale by Appellate Court, to repayment of money which had been withdrawn on sale being set aside by the Lower Court's order. 42 I. A Hindu widow holding by inheritance her deceased husband's share in a village is also a co-sharer. 1 A. 452. But possession by her for life of a share in a village, in lieu of maintenance, does not make her a co-sharer. 6 A. 17. See also 7 A. 860.

BID THE SUM.—There must be a distinct bid by the co-sharer in the ordinary manner of offering bids. 3 A. 827. See also 2 A. 850.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—The conditions of pre-emption under the Mahomedan Law do not apply to claims under this rule. 6 N. W. P. 289. If the claimant has fulfilled the conditions of sale and his rights are clear, the Court executing the decree is bound to give effect to the right. 6 N. W. P. 272; 7 N. W. P. 97. APPEAL.—No appeal lies against an order passed under this rule. 3 A. 674; 5 A. 42. Also from an order refusing to restore to file an application under this rule, which has been dismissed for default. 29 A. 596.

O. 21, R. 89. SCOPE.—Proceedings under this rule are execution proceedings. O. 9 does not apply. 28 Bom. L. R. 686 = 50 Bom. 457 = 96 I. C. 411 = A. I. R. 1926 Bom. 377. The right conferred by this rule is not an absolute right which can be enforced by suit against any particular person. 18 C. 481. The rule must be strictly construed. One judgment debtor is not entitled to take advantage of any deposit made by his co-judgment-debtor, independently made. 42 M. L. J. 71 = 65 I. C. 983. Also 39 Mad. 429 = 28 M. L. J. 262. A part purchaser before sale cannot apply on the ground that the decree amount has been paid by himself and other purchasers of the rest of the property. 52 I. C. 641.

FORM OF APPLICATION.—It need not be in writing. 63 I. C. 140; 13 I. C. 404=9 A. L. J. 12; 14 M. L. T. 534=22 I. C. 291. But mere deposit does not amount to an application. 66 I. C. 44=1922 Mad. 83; also 9 I. C. 33; 43 Bom. 735=53 I. C. 135; 32 I. C. 45. Lodgment schedule does not amount to an application. (1926) M. W. N. 297 (1)=23 L. W. 757 (1)=95 I. C. 128 (1)=A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 620; at least an oral application is necessary. 32 I. C. 783=3 L. W. 174; 86 I. C. 493 (1)=1925 Mad. 909. In a written application no specific prayer to set aside sale is necessary. 4 P. L. T. 295=58 I. C. 629. As to defective applications, see 1925 Nag. 17. When a prior application to pay decree amount after attachment is dismissed, it does not operate as res judicata to an application under this rule. 44 M. L. J. 325=1923 Mad. 487 (2). An application to set aside sale is not invalid because of the absence of prayer to that effect. 106 I. C. 333.

PARTIES TO THE APPLICATION.—The purchaser and the decree-holder are necessary parties to an application under rule. 15 A. 407. But see 4 P. L. T. 491=2 P. 800; also 1923 Cal. 394.

FORUM.—Though sale was in execution by a revenue court, application under this rule must be made in the Civil Court. 44 Bom. 50=54 I. C. 670.

DEPOSIT "FOR PAYMENT TO THE DECREE HOLDER."—The words mean that the decree-

(b) for payment to the decree-holder, the amount specified in the proclamation of sale as that for the recovery of which the sale was ordered, less any amount which may, since the date of such proclamation of sale, have been received by the decree-holder.

[Allahabad and Oudh] 89 (1).—For the words 'any person . . . such sale' in sub-rule (1), substitute 'the judgment-debtor, or any person deriving title through the judgment-debtor, or any person holding an interest in the property'.

(2) Where a person applies under rule 90 to set aside the sale of his immoveable property, he shall not, unless he withdraws his application, be entitled to make or prosecute an application under this rule.

holder is the person solely entitled to the money paid into Court. 30 C. 262. If the decree-holder be the purchaser he is entitled to the 5 per cent. on the purchase-money. 26 C. 449 (F. B.); 22 M. 286; 10 M.L.J. 228. If the decree is joint in favour of two, but one alone gets permission and is purchaser, he alone is entitled to the profits. 6 P. 386=103 I. C. 724 (2)=A. I. R. 1927 Pat. 288. A mere payment of the sale proceeds into Court does not satisfy the requirements of the rule. 23 B. 723; 8 C. W. N. 355; 7 Bom. L.R. 263. As to what amounts to a valid deposit, see 1 P. L. J. 459=35 I. C. 779. The deposit must be in the Civil Court and not in the treasury. 40 All 425=45 I. C. 773. A deposit by a stranger other than a vakil or attorney is not valid. 12 I. C. 404=9 A. L. J. 12. A deposit under O. 21, R. 89, C. P. C., is a voluntary deposit and the person making the deposit cannot maintain a suit to have the sale set aside and for refund of the money deposited. 7 Pat. 30. Deposit by auction-purchaser under sale, before confirmation, cannot be taken advantage of by any person to support his application under this rule. 31 I. C. 913. 'Any amount' means what actually was received by the decree-holder and does not include sale proceeds. 25 Bom. L. R. 446=73 I. C. 454. No cash payment is necessary. Agreement to set off decretal amount amounts to payment. 14 I. C. 326=(1912) M. W. N. 756; also 24 M. L. J. 205=18 I. C. 579. But not by cheque. 27 I. C. 656=8 Bur. L.T. 80. Where a short amount was paid, having been misled by an officer of Court, on payment of balance sale should be set aside. 22 I. C. 842, see also 18 Cal. 481. The order setting aside sale and entering satisfaction when the amount was deposited, the order is valid and not ultra vires, merely because the creditor did not include interest in the execution petition. 41 C. L. J. 391=1925 Cal. 948. The extent of deposit is the amount of decree in execution of which the sale was made, and not those of other decree-holders claiming rateable distribution. 17 I. Money once paid to set aside sale cannot be recovered from the decree-holder after sale on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in the property. 45 Bom. 1094=23 Bom. L. R. 455. See also 13 I. C. 144=16 C. L. J. 156. When the mortgagor pays the amount, it has the effect of redeeming the properties. 60 I. C. 560=

Two deposits by both the judgment-debtor and a mortgagee after sale, each portion of sale amount and two applications by them, can be treated as one proceeding and the sale be set aside. 49 A. 839=25 A. Sub-rule (2).—When an application under R. 90 is dismissed for default, the applicant is not precluded from applying under this rule. 43 I. C. 340=20 O. C. 339; 106 I. C. 568. Where an application under R. 90 is made before the sale is concluded, its existence is no bar to an application under this rule. A. I. R. 1926 All. 754. An applicant under this rule cannot impugn the sale on grounds set out in R. 90. 28 C. 71. When a judgment debtor is allowed to apply under this rule, the Court cannot entertain objections to the sale. 21 A. L. J. 340=1923 All. 503. See also 47 All. 850=1925 All. 778.

If it can do so with the consent of parties, see 36 I. C. 809. Even with the consent of parties time cannot be extended. 39 I. C. 664=2 P. L. J. 164. 90. [S. 311.] (1) Where any immoveable property has been sold in execution of Application to set aside sale on ground of irregularity or fraud.

a decree, the decree-holder, or any person entitled to share in a rateable distribution of assets, or whose interests are affected by the sale, may apply to the Court to set aside the sale on the ground of a material irregularity or fraud in publishing or conducting it :

APPEAL.—No appeal lies against an order setting aside a sale. 27 A. 263. But see 31 B. 207 ; 6 C. W. N. 57 ; 30 M. 507 ; 5 C. L. J. 204. But against an order refusing to set aside, an appeal lies. 12 I. C. 169 = 12 M. L. T. 380. See also 36 I. C. 809. No appeal lies on an order refusing stay, when the sale itself was not confirmed. 3 Rang. 132 = 1925 Rang. 271. No second appeal lies under this rule. 44 Bom. 472 = 56 I. C. 597 ; see also 38 Cal. 339 = 15 C. W. N. 844 ; 17 I. C. 884 = 8 N. L. R. 177 ; 36 I. C. 769.

REVIEW.—Whether a restoration of an application under this rule, dismissed for default, is possible, is doubtful. But a review petition lies. 22 M. L. J. 148 = 12 I. C. 351.

REVISION.—A revision lies when the lower Court improperly refuses to set aside sale. 21 A. L. J. 162 = 1923 All. 315. But see 40 All. 425 = 16 A. L. J. 433.

O. 21, R. 90. SCOPE OF RULE.—Proceedings under this rule also come within the scope of S. 47. 34 I. C. 829 = 30 M. L. J. 611. But is not a proceeding in execution. 62 I. C. 608 = 6 Pat. L. J. 253. But see 87 I. C. 413 = 1925 Mad. 1142. See also 53 Cal. 679 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 773. The addition of words "or fraud" takes the case out of Sec. 47 and brings it under this rule. 4 Lah. 243. A sale can be partially set aside under this rule. 44 C. L. J. 167 = 98 I. C. 206 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 1219.

MEANING OF TERMS DECREE-HOLDER.—This expression is not limited to the decree-holder at whose instance the property was first attached. 10 M. 57. The 'interest' contemplated is interest at the time of sale and not at the time of application. 87 I. C. 94. "Interest" means interest in the property sold. The general creditors expecting a higher dividend have not such an interest as is contemplated by the rule. 39 I. C. 932 = 10 S. L. R. 189. But see contra 103 I. C. 499 = A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 783 = 53 M. L. J. 229 ; (1928) M. W. N. 216.

APPLICABILITY.—The subsequent setting aside of an ex parte decree, after sale in pursuance of the decree, does not affect the title of the purchaser. 38 Cal. 622 = 15 C. W. N. 875. The rule does not apply when a sale of one decree sold in execution of another is sought to be set aside. 64 I. C. 388. The rule applies when the ground of setting aside sale is fraud. 1 L. W. 1033 = 26 I. C. 369 ; also 66 I. C. 220. Fraud after publication of sale proclamation is covered by this rule. 48 I. C. 560 = 3 P. L. J. 645. A question of jurisdiction cannot be raised in an application under this rule. 3 A. L. J. 140. See also 18 A. 141 (144). When setting aside the sale, the Court has power to order interest on the purchase-money as well to be paid to the purchaser. 48 I. A. 24 = 40 M. L. J. 141 = 25 C. W. N. 366 (P. C.). An objection that the property attached and sold is not by law saleable, cannot be entertained under this rule. See 7 A. 641 ; 7 A. 365 ; 21 B. 463 ; 6 M. 237 ; 20 C. 8 (P. C.) ; 7 C. 63 ; 24 M. 311 (315). See also 6 C. W. N. 42 ; 6 C. W. N. 48 (57) ; 30 C. at p. 152 ; 8 C. 932 ; 25 M. 244 (F. B.) ; 6 C. W. N. 5 ; 1 P. L. T. 742 = 57 I. C. 261. An objection that a minor was not properly represented does not come under this rule. 9 I. C. 252 = 9 M. L. T. 260. But see contra 64 I. C. 25 = 35 C. L. J. 9 ; also 29 I. C. 211. The rule applies to receivers appointed by the Court. 6 Bom. L. R. 1140. An application to set aside a sale held by a Collector cannot be entertained under this rule. 11 A. 94 (F. B.). This rule will not apply if the sale itself is a nullity. 35 I. C. 404. A sale held even on the face of an injunction to stop it, is a nullity. 88 I. C. 532 = 1925 Oudh 424.

INVALID SALES.—See 10 C. 410 ; 7 A. 676 ; 12 A. 96 ; 16 A. 5 ; 11 A. 333 ; 21 A. 311 ; 10 A. 506. A sale conducted at a time and place other than that notified, is not a sale at all. 7 A. 676. So also is a sale held before the expiration of the 30 days required by R. 68, and without the consent of the judgment-debtor. 11 A. 333. But see 65 I. C. 363 = 2 P. 207. Effect of a sale held without the property being attached. 5 A. 86 ; 21 A. 311 ; 10 A. 506. See also 32 C. 296 at p. 314 ; 68 I. C. 843 = 1923 Nag. 18 ; 18 C. 188 ; 34 C. 787 ; 1 R. 533 = 1924 Rang. 124 ; 21 I. C. 46 ; 36 I. C. 292. A summary rejection of an application under this rule without an investigation is improper and will not be sustained. 85 I. C. 779 = 1925 Nag. 289.

NOTICE.—When no notice is given under R. 150 of the Civil Rules of Practice (Mad.), the sale is void. 16 M. L. J. 9 ; also when no notice is given under O. 21, R. 22. 91 I. C. 711 = A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 539.

LIMITATION.—The application must be made within 30 days of the date of sale. The period might be extended under S. 18 of the Lim. Act on the ground of fraud. 14 C. 679. See also A. I. R. 1926 Cal. 229 ; 30 C. at p. 153. But not under S. 4 of the Lim. Act. 92 I. C. 839. See 29 C. 626, as to what day is to be taken as the "Date of sale". Time runs not from the date of sale, but from the date of knowledge of fraud. 60 I. C. 801 = 48 Cal. 119. But see 48 I. C. 970 ; also 60 I. C. 529 (Pat.). It is sufficient if the application is in time. It does not matter if the particulars of the irregularities are filed more than 30 days after sale. 48 All. 286 = 92 I. C. 567 = 24 A. L. J. 286 = A. I. R. 1926 All. 305. Where the real purchaser was included as a party after 30 days, while the application was within time against the ostensible purchaser, the application is within time, if the applicant did not know of the existence of a real purchaser at the time of the application. 76 I. C. 507 = 1023 All. 462. As to whether an application by a bona fide

Provided that no sale shall be set aside on the ground of irregularity or fraud purchaser on the ground of fraud is barred, see 27 C. W. N. 587 = 1923 Cal. 538. When a purchaser can apply, see 38 M. L. J. 228 = 55 I. C. 333; 47 All. 479 = 1925 All. 459; also 18 N. L. R. 98 = 1922 Nag. 113; 5 Pat. L. T. 41 = 74 I. C. 760 (2); 107 I. C. 494. But see 47 C. L. J. 62 contra.

FORM OF APPLICATION.—A formal array of parties is not an absolute necessity in an application under this rule. 25 I. C. 907 = 17 O. C. 306. See also 7 Pat. L. T. 532 = 1926 P. H. C. C. 83 = 94 I. C. 31 = A. I. R. 1926 P. 266. It is not the duty of the judgment-debtor to name in his application all the auction-purchasers. 49 A. 788 = 25 A. L. J. 524 = 102 I. C. 126 = A. I. R. 1927 All. 513. Separate applications by different judgment-debtors can be consolidated and heard together and the whole sale set aside. 14 C. L. J. 346 = 16 C. W. N. 704. The Court cannot set aside a sale upon other grounds not pleaded by the applicant. 21 A. 140. See also 53 I. C. 794. Absence of application bars defence of invalidity of sale in a suit by non-transferable occupancy tenant. 28 C. W. N. 821 = 1925 Cal. 81.

PARTIES TO THE APPLICATION.—The decree-holder is a necessary party to an application under this rule. 15 A. 407. A beneficial owner is not a necessary party. 29 A. 682. The purchaser is also a necessary party. A. W. N. (1891) p. 121; also 50 I. C. 5; 8 L. R. 199 (Rev.); but see contra in 39 Cal. 687 = 16 C. W. N. 570; see also 62 I. C. 61 = 2 Pat. L. T. 386. Auction-purchaser is not a necessary party.

WHO CAN APPLY.—(1) The decree-holder, (2) any person entitled to share in a rateable distribution of assets, and (3) any person whose interests are affected by the sale. Under S. 146 any person claiming under any of the persons aforesaid can also apply. 3 A. 554 (559) (F.B.). See also A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 67. Authorised vakil of the judgment-debtor can apply. A. I. R. 1926 Lah. 514. As to whether an attaching creditor can apply, see 84 I. C. 119 = 1924 Cal. 386. See also 51 M. L. J. 661. Other co-sharer landlords can apply under this rule, when a defaulting tenure is sold. 50 I. C. 329 = 23 C. W. N. 619. When a minor was not represented by a guardian ad litem in execution proceedings, his mother can apply to have the sale set aside as natural guardian. 40 Cal. 635 = 40 I. A. 140 = 25 M. L. J. 140 (P. C.). The auction-purchaser himself may apply. 105 I. C. 405 = A. I. R. 1927 Rang. 301 = 5 R. 516. Also a person who has purchased the property at a prior execution sale, such prior sale not having been confirmed. 8 C. 367. A purchaser from the judgment-debtor prior to attachment. 15 C. 488 (F. B.). A person claiming to be a co-sharer in undivided immoveable property. 5 A. 42. The judgment-debtor who sold the property prior to execution sale can apply where the properties are sold as his. 22 L. W. 872 = 92 I. C. 597 (1) = A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 217. The following persons were also held entitled to apply. A mortgagee who holds a mortgage on the property sold. 13 C. 346. A person claiming to be the beneficial owner of property which has been sold as the property of the ostensible owner. 20 C. 418. See also 19 M. 107. A person claiming to be a purchaser of a tenure prior to attachment. 22 C. 802. The real owner of property that has been sold in execution of a decree against the benamidar. 6 M. L. J. 24. A transferee of a portion of non-transferable occupancy holding can apply to set aside a rent sale by the entire body of landlords. 23 I. C. 839 = 19 C. W. N. 326. An interim receiver appointed under S. 20, Prov. Insol. Act, can apply under O. 21, R. 90, C.P.C. (1928) M.W.N. 216. A mortgagee purchaser of an entire non-transferable holding can apply under this rule to set aside a sale in execution of a subsequent rent decree. 31 I. C. 359 = 22 C. W. N. 143. See also 86 I. C. 612 = 1925 Cal. 925; 6 P. L. T. 295 = 1925 Pat. 461. A Hindu reversioner can apply. 4 Pat. L. J. 360 = 1919 Pat. 303 = 51 I. C. 359. See also A. I. R. 1926 Mad. 959.

WHO CANNOT APPLY.—A stranger cannot apply. A. I. R. 1927 Cal. 82 = 97 I. C. 757 (2). A judgment-debtor duly served cannot apply under this rule. 1925 Cal. 552. A person claiming by title paramount to that of the judgment-debtor cannot apply. 1 Bur. L. J. 234 = 70 I. C. 900. An adjudged insolvent whose property has vested in the receiver cannot apply. 35 I. C. 530. A person obtaining an attachment before judgment cannot apply. 16 C. L. J. 566 = 17 C. W. N. 80; also 42 C. L. J. 37 = 1925 Cal. 1103. A fortiori a person obtaining an attachment before judgment of properties other than those sold is not entitled to apply. 27 M. L. J. 302 = (1914) M. W. N. 871. A person who has filed a declaratory suit regarding the property ordered to be sold cannot apply under this rule, while his suit is pending. 38 All. 358 = 34 I. C. 272. A person not a party to a mortgage suit cannot apply. 20 I. C. 16. A decree-holder for money against the mortgagor cannot set aside a mortgage sale. 1925 Sind 101. Objection to a purchase without leave of Court cannot be raised by strangers to the suit. 17 I. C. 126. Judgment-debtors or sham alienees from them who knew but kept quiet at the time of sale that the property was not attached or that the property was not within the Court's jurisdiction, are estopped from objecting to the sale. 24 M. L. J. 70 = 18 I. C. 498. Non-appearance of judgment-debtors after notice at the time of fixing of terms of sale proclamation will bar them from raising objections later on. 22 I. C. 780. Where the judgment-debtor has knowledge of irregularities and stands by without raising any objection at the time, he will not be permitted to take advantage of them in an application under this rule. 32 I. C. 990. Where the purchaser is the decree-holder himself, he will be deemed to have notice of the charges to which the property is subject. 57 I. C. 1004 = 48 Cal. 93. Where a judgment-debtor having knowledge of irregularities gave an undertaking not to question the sale later, he will be bound by his undertaking. 47 I. C. 831; 9 I. C. 698 = 13 C. L. J. 192. The rights of the purchaser cannot be affected by any compromise between the judgment-debtor and the decree-holder. 88 I. C. 534 (2) = 1925 Oudh 693.

MATERIAL IRREGULARITY.—The word "irregularity" is wide enough to include an illegality. 11 A. 342, and connotes want of conformity to some recognized rule of procedure. 5 M. L. J. 70. Irregularities appearing during the course of investigation as well as those alleged in the application are to be taken into consideration. 103 I. C. 532=A. I. R. 1927 Nag. 319. Sale in contravention of terms of decree is a material irregularity. 33 I. C. 692=(1916) 1 M. W. N. 256. There is no basis for making a distinction between a material irregularity and an illegality in the conduct of a sale. In one sense whatever is irregular is also illegal. 5 M. L. J. 70. As to irregularities in conducting the sale, see 7 A. 641. Sale will be set aside if there is (a) collusion between judgment-debtors and decree-holders, (b) when the value of property is grossly inadequate, and (c) when price fetched is very low. 6 Pat. L. T. 295=1925 Pat. 461.

unless upon the facts proved the Court is satisfied that the applicant has sustained

WHAT ARE IRREGULARITIES.—On proof of irregularities sale must be set aside, though the property would be worth less than the decree amount, and the decree-holder had since allowed the decree to be barred by limitation. 15 I. C. 728=16 C. W. N. 1022. An omission in a sale proclamation must be very material one. 53 I. C. 143. The question of valuation can be raised in an application under this rule, though it has been decided at the time of settlement of proclamation. 105 I. C. 689 (2)=6 P. 588. Where the sale proclamation mentions only annual net income but not an adequate price, there is material irregularity. 21 I. C. 592. An understatement of the value of the property in the sale proclamation, calculated to mislead bidders, is a material irregularity. 20 A. 412 (P. C.); 23 M. 568. See also 52 I. C. 23; 14 C. L. WHAT ARE NOT IRREGULARITIES.—There is no irregularity in the conduct of sale in case the officer conducting the sale sells the property twice over. 2 A. 111. Where the date for sale is not mentioned, see 40 C. L. J. 311=84 I. C. 700=1925 Cal. 201. The use at a sale, of language by an intending bidder in disparagement of the property, is a "material irregularity". 5 C. 308; 7 C. 346; but such remarks made by bystanders or by purchasers other than the decree-holder do not constitute such an irregularity. 17 C. 152. See also 23 M. 227 (P. C.). As to the purchase of property by the decree-holder without the permission of the Court, see 11 C. 732. As to omission to give notice to the judgment-debtor under O. 21, R. 22, see 3 A. 426; 6 M. 237; 15 I. C. 506=40 Cal. 45; also 37 I. C. 387=20 M. L. T. 479; 17 I. C. 126. Effect of a guardian of a minor judgment-debtor not having been appointed, see 39 I. C. 765. A sale is not invalid if the attachment has been made under a wrong section. 18 A. 469. The sale on a closed holiday is not always an irregularity. 3 A. 333. When a Court sells property without having jurisdiction to sell it, this does not amount to an irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale. 18 A. 144. Omission to state value of property is not material irregularity. A. I. R. 1927 Mad. 1009 (1). Though there was an under-valuation yet if the price fetched was adequate, the sale cannot be set aside on the ground of under-valuation. 57 I. C. substantial injury by reason of such irregularity or fraud.

892; 16 I.C. 394; see 10 I.C. 475=15 C. W. N. 577. Where in a sale proclamation a certain property was included in a wrong lot by mistake, it is not such an irregularity as to entitle the sale to be set aside. 32 I.C. 990. Where an entire holding is sold, the giving of wrong numbers of lots is not a sufficient irregularity. 41 I.C. 282=2 P.L.J. 623. A compromise, in which all persons affected by the sale, are not parties, and which is not recorded by the Court, does not result in setting the sale aside. 85 I.C. 529 (2)=1925 Cal. 779. The sale of property consisting of numerous plots of land situated in various villages in one lot does not by itself constitute a gross irregularity. 107 I.C. 295.

GROUND FOR SETTING ASIDE SALE—WHAT ARE NOT.—Waiver of irregularities, see 91 I.C. 407=A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 577. Mere suspicious circumstances about sale and low price in the absence of fraud. 20 L. W. 736=1925 Mad. 202. An objection that the attachment and sale was time-barred. 2 P. L. J. 157=38 I.C. 876. Dissuading bids. 102 P.L.R. 1911=9 I.C. 816. Where the price fetched is below that fixed by consent in sale proclamation. 1 P. 214=1922 P. 550; also 21 L.W. 521=1925 Mad. 729. Also where the property is sold for a price which subsequently appears to be too low. 8 B. 424. Irregularity without loss is not. 4 Pat. 696. Fraud of decree-holder in bringing to sale property, after satisfaction of decree, is not. 10 I.C. 625. Irregularities in proclamation of sale not objected to, cannot be grounds for setting aside sale. 49 All. 788.

FRAUD.—Fraud is different from irregularity. As to what amounts to fraud, see 85 I.C. 622=1925 Pat. 521; also A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 229. Fraud antecedent to sale proceedings—Evidence of. See 93 I.C. 870=A.I.R. 1926 Cal. 829. A person alleging fraud must prove that the existence of his right to set aside the sale was concealed by fraud. 87 I.C. 555. Low price does not raise a presumption of fraud. 89 I.C. 107=A.I.R. 1926 Oudh 45. Purchase by decree-holder's vakil's clerk without informing the decree-holder amounts to fraud. 2 O.W.N. 297=1925 Oudh 381. Auction-purchaser must be a party to the fraud, and the fraud must come to the judgment-debtor's knowledge subsequent to the confirmation of the sale. 20 M. 10; 8 C.W.N. 230; 5 C.L.J. 328; 23 M. 227 (P.C.); 24 C. 546. See 30 C. at p. 153. It is not necessary that the purchaser should be a party to the fraud. 4 P.L.T. 306=72 I.C. 625; also 18 I.C. 715; 99 I.C. 946=44 C.L.J. 565. Mere want of diligence is not fraud. Facts must be stated. 2 P.L.T. 401=6 P.L.J. 319. The mis-statement of value in a sale proclamation does not necessarily amount to fraud; but in particular circumstances may justify the inference of fraud. 2 Pat. L.T. 501=2 P. 65. Where the decree-holder colludes with strangers in purchasing the property for much less than the decretal sum, it amounts to fraud. 15 I.C. 888=16 O. C. 86.

INJURY.—The word "injury" means loss which is wrongful. When a man loses what he had been in the habit of wrongful gaining, it is not substantial injury. 7 O. W. N. 439.

Substantial injury is essentially necessary. 83 I.C. 1028=1924 All. 698. See also 20 Cal. 599; 7 Cal. 730; 12 Mad. 19; 18 All. 37; 7 Cal. 466; 20 Mad. 159; 24 Cal. at p. 295; 30 Cal. at p. 9; 104 I.C. 196=A.I.R. 1927 Cal. 873; 7 Pat. L.T. 468=93 I.C. 935=A.I.R. 1926 P. 202; 96 I.C. 196=A.I.R. 1926 Lah. 587. Party must prove such an irregularity as resulted in substantial injury. 25 I.C. 18; 45 I.C. 212; 5 L. L.J. 30=1923 Lah. 213; 37 I.C. 964=(1917) M.W.N. 89; 33 I.C. 692=(1916) 1 M.W.N. 256; 32 I.C. 990; 70 I.C. 900=1 Bur. L.J. 234. See also 39 Cal. 26=38 I.A. 200=16 C.W.N. 1 (P.C.). Although the price realised is grossly inadequate, the Court must be "satisfied upon the facts proved" that it was caused by material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale. See 20 M. 159; 30 C. at p. 9; 18 A. 37; 18 A. 141. But see also 31 C. 815 (818). See also (1926) M.W.N. 631=24 L.W. 406=97 I.C. 574=A.I.R. 1926 Mad. 959 and 6 C. W. N. 836. An adjournment of sale by bailiff without the Court's sanction and the absence of a fresh proclamation is not a sufficient ground in the absence of substantial injury. 20 I.C. 192=6 Bur. L.T. 65. Absence of publication of sale is not a sufficient ground without proof of loss. 5 Pat. L.W. 15=46 I.C. 84. Mere omission of publication in the Gazette is not ground to set aside sale in the absence of proof of substantial injury. 53 I.C. 794. Where only a part of the property advertised was sold without a fresh proclamation proof of substantial loss is necessary to set aside the sale. 11 L.W. 477. Mere omission to state value is not a serious irregularity. Proof of substantial loss in addition is necessary. 4 Lah. L.J. 441=1922 Lah. 35.
